Apartment, House Complex Proposed

A large subdivision development program was presented to Council Monday night when Ernest Oliver, local businessman, explained a project now contemplated for 46 acres, just north of Burt St.

He told city officials that the development would include multiple dwellings and single family homes in what would be the second addition to Goodacre Gardens.

Construction development alone is estimated to run between $1 and $2 million. Other costs would include construction of streets, sewers, water mains, and curb and gutter.

His plans have been before the Planning Commission twice with city officials asking for some changes in the overall plat.

The area is currently zoned for single family homes and Mr. Oliver is seeking a change of zoning for some 17 to 18 acres for apartment construction. At the present, the plan calls for a series of apartments surrounding a large park area.

New single family homes would back up to homes now on Burt St. and also surround the apartment complex. A public hearing for the zoning change has been set for July 7.

One street leading into the subdivision is Vanetta, already dedicated. Another street would be located further east on Burt.

Two Toledo builders and one from Detroit are interested in the project.

The 46 acres are owned by Mr. Oliver and Joseph Conklin, local attorney.

ARCHITECT'S RENDERING — Preliminary plans of a new, large apartment for Waskin Subdivision was shown at Council Monday night by Dean Cunningham, developer. Two-story, brick apartment features a cupola-type roof which is now popular in many apartment complexes.

Board 'Giving' in Negotiating TEA Contract

An impasse between the Tecumseh School Board and the Tecumseh Teachers Association could well be a short one.

Monday night, the Board agreed to further negotiations — next session is Tuesday evening — granting some leeway to two of the three TEA requests.

The Board approved a request that the TEA president be notified when a teacher has been released.

The TEA also has requested that teachers on sabbatical leave and furthering their education be granted a half-year's pay. The Board decided to make a counter proposal at next Tuesday's meeting.

The sabbatical leave request at half pay would be limited to two teachers a school year. Cost to the schools could amount to about $12,000 annually.

Board refused to give in to a request that the TEA president be allowed release time — time off from teaching to devote to TEA business.

School officials did not reach their decisions unanimously. Some wanted to be firm in their stand with the teachers, as their negotiating team had been at past sessions.

Although TEA representatives had been invited to Monday night's meeting, none of the negotiating team attended. However, Fred Birdsall, junior high teacher, did attend and apparently served as an observer.

Two Board members, Aden Mead, president, and Dr. Fred Freeman were absent.

Exchange's Dawn Patrol On June 29

Tecumseh Exchange Club will sponsor its 16th annual Dawn Patrol here at Meyers Airport on Sunday, une 29.

Highlighting the day will be the old Meyers OTW planes, built during WWII. Mr. Meyer's first plane, "Old Gray Mare", built in 1936, plane rides over Tecumseh and nearby areas, and the annual breakfast served by members of Exchange.

Plans are underway to serve 90 ham and egg breakfasts, starting at 7 a.m., in the hangar. Advance ticket sales are available from club members at a reduced price, according to Doug Dunn, chairman.

It will mark the third year in a row that the old Meyers biplanes or OTWs have gathered for the Dawn Patrol. The 1936 model is coming from Des Moines, Ia.

An Adrian radio station will broadcast live at the hangar from 9:00 to 9:30, and Robby Robbins and the Nomads will entertain with country and western music.

Exchange Club holds the event each year to raise money for community service projects.

School Bonds Of $260,000 Up For Sale

School Board voted to sell $260,000 in bonds Monday night to raise funds for the completion of the Sutton elementary school, purchase of a high school site at M-50 and Rogers Hwy., and purchase of property near the present high school.

The Board acted under regulations provided in a Third Class School District, of which Tecumseh is classified.

Sale of the bonds is not expected to alter the present 1.62 mills now collected for school debt. Officials expect it to remain the same, or at the most, an increase of a tenth of a mill.

The $260,000 bond sale will be deducted from the $9,900,000 bond issue, proposed earlier this year for a new high school and expansion at the present high school.

Officials still have not set a date when the high school proposal will go before the voters, but it likely will be sometime next fall.

Zoning Changed Despite Protests

Between 15 and 20 residents of the Waskin Subdivision, or Indian Hills, protested to Council Monday night about a proposed change in zoning to permit multiple dwelling in their area.

Their protests failed, however, as Council approved the zoning change which will permit Dean Cunningham and his Ann Arbor partner to erect a single 27-apartment building on Waskin Drive.

Mr. Cunningham, of Ayling-Cunningham Asphalt & Paving Co., showed a rendering of their initial plans. Twenty-four two-bedroom apartments and three three-bedwroom units are planned for the site, located on the east side of Waskin Dr., next to the railroad tracks.

Off-street parking, an allowance of two stalls per apartment, would be located behind the building.

Council's transfer to multiple dwelling involved seven lots.

Several residents of the area, notably Dr. Graham Foster, Mrs. Thomas Rudd and Mrs. Ambrose Clay, protested at one time or another during the lengthy public hearing.

Their questions concerned parking congestion, type of construction, rent, cost of the building, recreation facilities, depreciation of the value of homes in the subdivision, plans for other apartments there, and other, similar related questions.

Mr. Cunningham, as did several Councilmen, pointed out to the residents that present zoning allows for cheap construction of small homes. Minimum requirement for houses there is 900 square feet.

Many of the homes on Stacy, Murray and Blanchard have 1,000 square feet or less. First homes built there in 1957 were frame, and afterwards the developer, Ted Templeton, used brick facing but with same floor plans for most houses.

Two streets are still to be developed. They are Spafford and Sutton and will extend east off Adrian St. to Waskin Dr. Mr. Cunningham owns most of the remaining vacant lots in the area, which adjoins the Tecumseh Acres elementary school.

Councilman Don Sunderland moved the zoning be changed, Dr. Carlton Cook seconded it. The vote was unanimous.

LT. DUANE LANDWEHR

Lt. Landwehr Rites Today

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Everiss Funeral Home, Adrian, for Lt. Duane Henry Landwehr, Jr., of Clinton, who was killed in action in Vietnam on June 6.

Born in Tecumseh, June 8, 1945, Duane Landwehr graduated in 1963 from Clinton High School, where he was active on the football and basketball teams. He attended Ferris State College was on the freshman football team there.

He was a member of the Clinton United Methodist Church and participated in the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

He is survived by his wife, the former Frances Reeck of Palmyra, whom he married Nov. 27, 1965; and one son, 18-month-old Michael Duane.

Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bunney, 2905 E. Church St., Clinton, and his grandmother, Mrs. Julia Landwehr, of Chelsea.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts.

Following basic training with the Army at Ft. Knox, Ky., he attended drill instructor school there and on Feb. 27, 1967, he was selected as outstanding cadreman of Company D of the 16th Battalion of the armor training center.

On Aug. 22, 1968, he graduated from Officers Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he was cited for superior leadership and academics, ranking 13th in his class.

He became a qualified instructor at the Infantry School, successfully completing the Ranger Course, March 25, 1969, and placed seventh among his classmates.

He arrived in Vietnam on May 1, 1969.

Burial will be at Reynolds Corners Cemetery with the Rev. David Liscomb of the Clinton United Methodist Church officiating.

Fund Organizing

An organizational meeting for the 1969-70 Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive was held Friday with Merlyn Downing, general chairman, familiarizing division chairmen with their work and direction of this year's campaign.

This being the 10th anniversary of the local Foundation, an all-out effort is being made to assure that this year's drive is the most successfull yet.

Those working with Mr. Downing are:

Harry Farrell—industrial.

Vern Manwaring, Ray Dollison—commercial.

Robert French—professional.

Mrs. Joseph Galazzi, Mrs. William Steele, Jr.—residential.

Robert Duhan—schools.

William Groover—hospital.

Mrs. Steele will handle the publicity for the campaign, and George Heeman will serve as treasurer.

Tecumseh Box Building Again

Tecumseh Corrugated Box has started an expansion at its Van Wert, O., plant to increase facilities there from 21,000 to 42,000 square feet.

James Robideau, company president, says a growth in business has necessitated an addition to the plant, which was built less than two years ago.

The new expansion will be completed in early fall. Al Kroll, formerly with the home office here, is plant manager of the Van Wert branch.

Traffic Lights Are Installed

New traffic lights were installed on N. Evans St., at its intersection with Brown and Herrick Park Dr., Tuesday evening.

Power to the lights is expected to be completed Thursday or Friday.

Police Chief Murell Clark says the two lights will be used as flashers for the weekend, and then switched to the usual traffic control lighting next Monday.

The new lights, including installation, cost approximately $1,700, Cal Zorn, city manager, reports.

Burglar Alarm Is Frustrated By Rain, Too

The alarm rang from the Sutton Rd. branch of the United Savings Bank at shortly before 6 p.m., Sunday and two cars from the city police raced to the scene. The only culprit of the afternoon appeared to be the rain, which was reported as being the cause of a short in the burglar alarm.

8th Year Now for the 'Hills'

Next week, with the June 26th issue, The Herald will mark its eighth straight year of distributing the local newspaper to vacationing folks in the Irish Hills.

Since most of the cottages around the various lakes do not receive mail service, The Herald is dropped off by carriers.

The annual distribution serves two purposes:

Provides the vacationers with news of the Irish Hills, its resorts and attractions.

And, provides these same folks with information about Tecumseh retailers and businesses, their merchandise and advantages of shopping here in Tecumseh, closest city to the area.

The Irish Hills news section includes two complete pages of features, pictures and ads of the different attractions of that particular area.

Next week, The Herald will jump its press run of about 4,500 to 5,500, enabling it to distribute 1,000 papers free in the lake area. Lake distribution includes Wamplers, Sand, Wolf, Evans, Killarney, Timber, Kelly, Allen and Meadow.

Two drivers and six carriers leave the newspaper shop each Thursday morning, usually by 7 a.m., and deliver the papers usually before the local mail delivers to the subscribers here.

SILVER BOWL — Perpetual award and plaque were earned by a grand champion ewe shown by Ken Bortel, Bo-Mar Farms, at the National Corriedale Sheep Show and Sale at Cloverdale, Calif. The ewe was sold to a buyer from Teneton, Idaho. Mr. Bortel's partner, Walter Marshall, Maumee, O., drove the Bo-Mar show flock of four sheep to California, and Mr. Bortel flew there.

Contracts OK'd For Low Bidders

Wes Haeussler and Selders Excavating were awarded construction contracts by Council Monday night.

Haeussler was low bidder at $21,800 for new curb and gutter, and Selders was low with a bid of $19,825 for storm sewer.

Curb and gutter is planned for Burt St., S. Evans and S. Pearl St.

Storm sewer is scheduled for Burt, S. Evans, and on Hiawatha, between S. Evans and Pearl. This construction is expected to start before July 1.

5 Applications For Rec. Position

Five applications have been received by the city for the director's position of parks and recreation.

Don Moffatt, who held the position here for the past five years, has resigned, effective June 23.

Cal Zorn, city manager, has several interviews scheduled and has already talked to some. Applicants are from Tecumseh, Adrian, Kalamazoo, Brighton and Northport.

Salary is between $8,000 and $9,000. Total parks and recreation budget is $73,000.

Owners Thanked

A letter of appreciation to William Wright and James Beardsley was authorized by Council Monday night for the owners' decision to remove several old garages near the fire barns.

Employees of Brady Sand & Gravel tore down the single building last week and graded the area Monday.

OBITUARIES

● LOUIS PHILIPP

Services were held Saturday at the Niblack Home For Funerals for Louis Philipp, 61, of 108 Cairns St., who died Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient since June 5.

He had been in failing health for five years.

Born Aug. 31, 1907, in Detroit, he had been employed 22 years as a timekeeper for the Motor Products Co. there.

He moved to Tecumseh in 1965. His wife, the former Gladys Oliver, whom he married March 30, 1936, survives.

One brother, Russell, of Cayucas, Calif., and one sister, Mrs. Lucille Newby of Myrtle Beach, S. C., also survive.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

Petitions Out For Evans Creek Cleaning Project

Council authorized City Manager Cal Zorn Monday night to sign a petition to the Lenawee County drain commissioner for cleaning up Evans Creek from Occidental Rd. to No. Evans St.

Mr. Zorn explained that no cost had yet been derived but a special assessment against adjoining property owners would probably be the method of financing.

Two petitions are believed to be circulating.

Fine Residents Dumping Trash In City Streets

Some folks in Tecumseh who are still using the streets for dumping trash, branches, grass clippings and other refuse will be ticketed and fined in the future.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the city has warned many residents for the past six years about disposing of their refuse in the streets. Since the warnings have failed, the city ordinance pertaining to the problem will be enforced.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Council Was Right

Although many folks in Indian Hills, or the Waskins Subdivision, will not agree, it is difficult to dispute the decision that Council made Monday evening in favor of a zoning change.

Multiple dwelling or an attractive apartment unit is certainly better looking than some close by railroad tracks, or unkempt lots grown high with weeds.

Many residents at Council's session were relative newcomers to the area and are not aware of the situations there some 10 and 12 years ago. Fortunately for Indian Hills and the community, the environment has improved greatly.

Possibly being partial, we consider Indian Hills a pretty good place to live, own a home, and bring up the kids. In fact, it's a darn good place and should remain so for a long, long time.

This, however, does not mean that an attractive apartment unit next to the practically idle railroad tracks means an end to such an utopia. It doesn't mean an end to stable or rising house valuations.

Instead of the end, it could be the beginning for an even better Indian Hills. We'd much rather see the rest of the subdivision developed in tasteful apartment units than cheap housing, one which would eventually erode the entire neighborhood.

Indian Hills has much going for it — good housing, nearby recreation facilities for the youngsters, an elementary school, light street traffic in comparison to other areas — and a future apartment unit which should boost the area.

Council has been wrong in some instances, perhaps, in our opinion only, but Monday night it was right in looking beyond the protests and to that which was best for the area and community.

No Half Pay

Although final action has not been taken yet as to half-pay for a teacher on sabbatical leave, both the School Board and Tecumseh Teachers Association should give some thought to repercussions of the taxpayer.

Although only two teachers at a time during a school year can receive half of their salary while furthering their education, two factors should be considered that affect the schools and the taxpayer.

Should the schools take tax monies, voted to finance and maintain the schools, out of educational funds for the students and spend it on a teacher or teachers' education?

We think not, and that's where the taxpayer enters the picture.

It's doubtful that John Doe is interested in bettering the education and personal earning power of a teacher through his tax dollar. He could well be more reluctant to approve millage at the polls, if he knows some of his monies are being spent at the University of Michigan, Michigan State or some other university for a teacher's education.

More education means more income for a teacher, and it should also, mean a better teacher for the students. But, this general improvement should not be financed by an already over-taxed property owner.

Tax dollars should be devoted to educating our youngsters, not to a teacher who is striving for a master's or special education degree.

The TEA has gained much in recent years but it could lose considerably if its representatives insist—and receive—subsidization for a teacher's education.

ADIOS POLLY AND ANNE — Polly Fielder, right, and Ann Curran will leave July 13 for Mexico on the Michigan Baptist Youth Mission Observation Tour. They will spend about two weeks learning about the people and places there.

Will Tour Mexico With Baptist Youth

Polly Fielder and Anne Curran have been selected with 15 other girls and nine boys to go to Mexico on the Michigan Baptist Youth Mission Observation Tour, July 13 - 26.

The girls have earned their own money for the trip, raking lawns, baby sitting and doing other jobs this spring.

Polly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fielder, 503 Parkway Ct., and Miss Curran is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Curran, 9531 Newburg Rd.

The young women have studied Spanish in school and hope to learn more about the Mexican people.

Anne spent some time in Saltillo, Mexico, last summer and looks forward to the return trip.

Lunch will be served aboard the plane as the girls fly from Metropolitan Airport to San Antonio, Tex., where they will spend the first night. By chartered bus, they will continue to Monterrey, Mexico, for a two night stay, meeting youth of the church and community and visiting some historical sites.

They will go to Ciudad Victoria, Ciudad Valles and Tampico and then on to Mexico City where the remainder of the time will be spent taking side trips from the Romano Hotel.

On the agenda is the Mazahua Indian Field at Tlachichipl near San Pablo. The group will go by bus as far as they can and then walk for an hour and one-half to the church from where they can look down and see the Indians coming to worship with them.

One day will be spent in touring the Baptist work in Mexico City including the Theological Seminary.

Polly and Anne will arrive back in Detroit July 26.

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of Act 62 of the Public Acts of 1956, State of Michigan, the Uniform Traffic Code for cities, townships and villages was adopted by reference by the Board of the Township of Ridgeway on the 3rd day of June, 1969.

The purpose of such Code is to regulate the operation of vehicles, to provide for the regulation and use of streets, highways and alleys and other public and semi-public places within the Township of Ridgeway and to provide penalties for the violation of said Code.

Complete copies of the Uniform Traffic Code are available at the office of the Township Clerk for inspection by and distribution to the public at all times.

No further or additional publication of the Uniform Traffic Code is required or contemplated.

/S/Arlyne Banks
Township Clerk.
Dated: 3 June 1969

ORDINANCE NO. 1001

An ordinance to adopt by reference the Uniform Traffic Code for Michigan Cities, Townships and Villages.

The Township of Ridgeway ordains:

Sec. 1 CODE ADOPTED.

The Uniform Traffic Code for cities, townships and villages promulgated by the Commissioner of State Police on February 14, 1958 and published in Supplement No. 13, and as amended both on February 14, 1961 and published in Supplement No. 25, and on February 26, 1968 and published in Supplement No. 54, to the 1954 Michigan Administrative Code, in accordance with Public Act 62 of 1956, State of Michigan, is hereby adopted by reference as in this ordinance modified.

Sec. 2. REFERENCES IN CODE.

References in the Uniform Traffic Code for Michigan Cities, Townships and Villages to "governmental unit" shall mean the Township of Ridgeway.

Sec. 3 NOTICE TO BE PUBLISHED.

The Township Clerk shall publish this ordinance in the manner required by law and shall at the same time publish a supplementary notice setting forth the purpose of the said Uniform Traffic Code and of the fact that Complete copies of the Code are available at the office of the Clerk for inspection by and distribution to the public at all times.

Sec. 4. CONFLICTING ORDINANCES REPEALED.

Any ordinances relating to traffic in said Township is hereby specifically repealed.

Sec. 5. WHEN EFFECTIVE.

The Uniform Traffic Code will be in effect in this governmental unit 30 days after the passage of this adopting ordinance.

Adopted this day of June 1969.

NEWCOMERS

Recently Moving to Community

Mr. and Mrs. David Bailey have purchased a home at 703 Wenonah and moved here from Clinton. Mr. Bailey is an electrician at Ford Motor Company, Saline. Mr. Bailey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey of Britton and his wife, Shirley's mother is Mrs. Ward Perso, of Tecumseh. There are two daughters, JoHanna, 3, and Deborah, 1. The family attends the United Methodist Church.

Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Albert Vredeveld have purchased a home at 212 W. Chicago Blvd., and moved here from Ft. Walter, Fla., with their three children. Staff Sgt. Vredeveld, previously stationed at Egland AFB, Fla., left for duty in Vietnam in February. A career serviceman, for 20 years, he expects to retire in December, and plans to remain in Tecumseh. The family was stationed in North Africa twice, and two years ago was forced to evacuate during the Arab uprising, leaving all their possessions behind. "I know just how the refugees feel," Mrs. Vredeveld said. Their children are Mary, 6, in first grade at Patterson School, Paul, 4½, who attends Tecumseh Nursery School, and John, 20 months. Mrs. Vredeveld grew up in the Onsted area and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sparks, reside in Brooklyn. The family maintains membership in the Springville Methodist Church, but the children attend the Church School at Tecumseh Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Dunmore moved from Dundee and purchased a home at 3048 Pleasant Dr. Mr. Dunmore is the manager of the Tecumseh Crop Service. Their children are David, 10, in fifth grade and Lisa, 7, in second grade at Patterson School. The family has joined the Tecumseh Missionary Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hedley moved from Toledo to their home at 9366 Newburg Court. Mr. Hedley has been employed with D. S. T. Industries, Inc., Clinton, for the past year, and they decided to move here to avoid the distant commuting. His wife, Mikell Lynn, teaches science at St. Elizabeth School and is a trainer for adult Girl Scout leaders. She'll be the Director of the Girl Scout Day Camp being held June 23-27 at Osburn Woods. There are three children, Mary Lynne, 6, in first grade at St. Elizabeth School and Mark, 5, in kindergarten at Patterson School. The family attends St. Elizabeth Church. Mrs. Hedley said that she and her husband are "avid readers" and he also likes golfing.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Graf came from Wisconsin, last December, and purchased a home at 2774 Coachlight Dr. Mr. Graf is a cheese maker at the Driggs Dairy Company, Palmyra. Though his trade is a bit unusual in this area, it was a more familiar one in Wisconsin, and in Switzerland, the homeland for both Mr. Graf and his wife, Martha. There are three sons, Steven, 13, in seventh grade; Peter, 12, in sixth grade; and David, 9, in third grade, all at St. Elizabeth School. The family attends St. Elizabeth Church. The family's favorite sport is snow skiing, however, Michigan's hills and snowfall seem a little small compared to their own Swiss Alps.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kobel moved from Milan and rented an apartment at 501½ W. Pottawatamie. Mr. Kobel is employed at Les Dallas automobile agency. Mrs. Kobel, who is infanticipating, does some painting and Mr. Kobel builds automobiles, rebuilds lamps and furniture. They are Baptist.

Mr. and Mrs .Richard Handley moved recently from the Macon area to their new home at 2452 Taylor Rd. Mr. Handley is employed at Tecumseh Products. The family includes three daughters, Rita 4, Shelley 17 months, and Barbara Ann two months.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sword have purchased a home at 706 Ternes Rd., and moved here from Adrian, with their daughter, Angella Sue, one month old. Mr. Sword is employed at Uniloy Co., Saline. The family attends Raisin Center Friends Church. Leisure time interests include bowling and water skiing.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Davidson have moved recently from Wetmore to their home at 503 Blanchard. Mr. Davidson is employed at Stauffer Chemical Co. Their son, and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Davidson, reside at 1002 Sunset Dr. They have attended Baptist and Methodist churches.

Mr. and Mrs. John Varner have moved from Adrian and rented a home at 511 W. Pottawatamie. Mr. Varner is employed at H. W. Tuttle Co. The family includes four children, John 7, in second grade; James 5, in kindergarten, at Tecumseh Acres School; Cindy 3, and Constance, nine months old. They are Methodists.

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Weekly of Adrian, moved into an apartment at 6922 Green Hwy., just after their marriage a month ago. Mr. Weekly is employed at Stauffer Chemical Co. The couple attends St. Elizabeth Church. They are looking forward to some camping trips this summer.

DOUG'S COMMERCIAL BUILDING — Douglas Rader completed the drawings and made a model of the commercial building shown as a part of his requirements in Drafting II. Doug cut each individual shingle for the roof of the building, which was constructed on a scale, ¼" to the actual foot. A required 25 to 50 hours are spent by students on the models and sometimes even more. Doug is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rader, Staib Rd.

DONNA'S HOUSE — Donna Purkey, senior in Drafting II, designed and made a solid presentation model to fulfill requirements for drafting students in the Industrial Education Department of Tecumseh High School. Miss Purkey has enrolled in the Kendall School of Design in Grand Rapids for the fall term. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Purkey, 525 N Occidental Hwy.

Twins are Selected For Foreign Study

Jill and Joyce, twin daughters of Mrs. Laine R. Holden, 208 South Union St., were selected by the American Language and Educational Center of Michigan State University to participate in its Humanities study course in London, England, this summer term.

JILL HOLDEN

JOYCE HOLDEN

Both Jill and Joyce Holden are students of Michigan State University. They are freshmen taking a general university no reference course.

The Humanities program is designed to immerse the student in the cultural and historical background of the English speaking people. The classroom studies in history, literature, philosophy and religion will be enlarged upon by the student's own experience and reaction to his personal examination of Western man's artistic endeavors.

The Humanities students will have planned activities, tours and excursions to museums, art galleries, architectural monuments and historical sites.

SHOULD MINISTERS BE INVOLVED IN DEMONSTRATIONS

A reader asks this question which is of immediate concern.

Let us note the Biblical standards as pertain to governments. Romans 13 states that the government is ordained of God and we are to be in subjection to it. A careful consideration of this chapter reveals the following items. God installs rulers. They have power, given by God to rule and to overrule. Rulers can take up the sword — that is, go to war. Taxes are to be paid. Rulers should be paid, obeyed, respected and honoured.

A minister surely should demonstrate God's Will and program. For him to be involved in public, anti-government demonstrations is for him to contradict the teachings of the Bible.

The Apostle Paul told the young minister, Timothy, to "be thou an example of the believers". I Timothy 4:12. A minister should demonstrate God's power at work in his own life. If his actions are no different, his talk as vile and profane, his habits as harmful as his non-religious community — how can he ever expect these folk to desire what he obviously does not possess himself.

Men of the cloth, let us demonstrate what God can do with a sinner like us.

4 Accidents Are Minor

Only four accidents were investigated by the Tecumseh police during the [illegible] and all were minor.

A resume is:

June 10 — Raelen Potts, 1573 E. Valley Rd., cut in sharply on Bruce Costigan, 17, of 711 W. Pottawatamie St., and hit the front of the Costigan car.

June 14 — Gary E. Naugle, 23, of 4601 Macon Rd., reported that a deer ran into the side of his car. He then swerved and struck a small gas pipe.

June 13 — Keith Schmidt, 20, of 208 W. Cummins, backed into Pamela Grace Eggleston, 18, of 610 Outer Dr., in the House of Pizza parking lot.

June 16 — Harold H. Robinson, 32, Adrian, operating a tractor, backed into James Halasz, 44, of 1251 E. Monroe Rd., at Les Dallas Dodge-Rambler.

The engagement of Sandra Thornberry of Brookfield, Ill., to Leon Zaffer, of Chicago, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley, 904 Shady Lane. Sandra is employed at St. Luke's Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago. Leon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zaffer, 5104 Newport, Chicago. He is an auditor for the U. S. government. An August 9 wedding date is set.

YOU TOLD US

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Herald Society Editor

The late Jane McConnell Routson was a member of the Class of 1919 of THS who will celebrate their 50th anniversary as seniors Saturday. Excerpts from her diary, carefully treasured by her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell, are most interesting. On Feb. 10, 1918, she wrote — "Oh, they've sunk the Lusitania, at first we heard that 1100 soldiers were lost but by today's report all but 100 had reported, but Garland Gove wasn't among them. Daddy said, 'I wouldn't give one of Garland's old shoes for 50 dirty Huns.' (sounds like Grandad Leoline McConnell). He was the only Lenawee County boy on the ship and the first Michigan boy to be lost. Oh, I do hope he isn't." Later that day she wrote, "Garland is all right! They haven't received particulars but they told his folks that he was alive."

Any of you 1919 "kids" who would care to borrow Aunt Jane's writings complete with some pictures are welcome to do so. It's a certainty you will enjoy her account of the night that the late Perry Hayden scared the "living daylights" out of Jane and Elizabeth Comfort, now Mrs. Perry Hayden. All we ask is that you use care in handling the yellowed sheets that have recently come to rest at The Tecumseh Herald.

Two Wins FOR VFW

Pony League openers saw the VFW team take two wins, 9-5, over G & J, and 8-7, over TPW.

Dennis Dermyer, VFW pitcher, had 15 strikeouts in the first game, two men every inning with the side in the second.

Leading hitters Al Sellers, Mark King, Dennis Dermyer and Gary Agnew, who each had singles; Phil Otter with two singles and Dick Smith with a double and single all contributed to the score.

The winning run was scored by Gary Agnew in the third inning.

Bob Beevers and Greg Cote were included on the losing battery. Mike Clement went in to pitch in the third inning and finished the game.

The TWP game was a little closer. Jim Freshcorn started and pitched 6 2/3 innings and his 10 strikeouts gave a good base for the winning battery.

Leading hitters included Jim Freshcorn with two singles, Alan Sellers a double, Denny Dermyer with a double and Dick Smith, a triple.

Winning run was scored by Mike Murphy who connected with the bases loaded in the bases loaded in the seventh inning.

Race Track Mark Set

By NANCY MARTIN

Friday, the 13th, was a wild one at Manchester Speedway. First off, Louie Jay broke the track record with a time of 18:94. The old one was 19:00, set just last week. There were 68 cars timed in.

The first races run were remaining from last week's rainout. First was the pursuit which saw Bill Kopka celebrate his birthday anniversary by taking the checkered flag over Don Taylor, Bill Younkin and Jim Steman.

The semi-final had several cars closely bunched at the finish line with Gary Rhoades slightly ahead of Hebert Holbrook, Jim Martin and Larry Blaisdell.

The feature win went to Taylor, followed by Younkin, Jay and Stemen.

Races for Friday, June 13, suited the date, there was bad luck, and some good. The only race that did not see a caution flag was the pursuit.

The first heat was bad luck for the new record-holder, Jay, as his car was towed off the track, unable to run. Don Taylor quickly took command for the win over Jack Sharp, Sam Hensen and Kopka.

In the second heat, Dick Slade took first place, followed by Butch Moull, Junior Gary and Doug Harvey. Don Lyon took the win in the third heat, with Paul Whitaker, Holbrook and Larry Gray trailing.

In the fourth heat it was Jim Shook, first; Blaisdell, second; Rex Krieg, third; Ken Kulikowski, fourth. Marvin Carmen came the back of the pack to win the fifth heat over Rhoades, Wayne Luckhart and M. Updike.

The pursuit saw Doug Harvey jump into the lead but Jay quickly passed every car to win with Harvey second, Kopka third and Sharp fourth.

In the semi, Bob Paul won a close one over Rhoades, Kulikowski and Shook.

Taylor took the feature for his third win of the evening. Jay was pushing hard but had to settle for second, third was Stemen, fourth, Hensen and fifth, Ray Barnard.

Indians 17 Eagles 4

The Pony League's regular season got under way Monday night with an Indian victory over the Eagles, 17-4. Winning pitcher Mike Schneirla allowed four hits and four runs with Dan Gunder doing the catching. Mark Murphy getting relief from Don Cox in the 4th, was the losing pitcher. Fred Sisty performed the duties behind the plate.

Brian DesErmia and Mike Eggleston led the Indians' hitting attack driving in 4 runs each. Kevin Mack, Terry Pearson and Mike Schneirla also got hits for the Indians. Gaylord Long, Don Cox, Paul Lynch and Mark Murphy picked up hits for the Eagles.

Indian pitcher Mike Schneirla had six strike-outs while Mark Murphy and Don Cox combined for 7 in a game shortened to six innings under Pony League rules due to the score.

Eagles' catcher, Fred Sisty, played an outstanding game, throwing out 4 Indian runners. Terry Pearson made some fine plays at shortstop by robbing the Eagles of sure base hits.

The Indians went ahead in the third inning on successive base hits by Mike Eggleston and Brian DesErmia.

Student Now Touring Japan

JIM LAWSON

(Editor's Note — Melissa Mattis, junior at Western Michigan University, is presently touring Japan. Occasionally The Herald will publish Miss Mattis' personal accounts of the trip. She is a graduate of Clinton High School.)

Monday, all of us went downtown in Tokyo for some sightseeing and shopping. Every place I go, everything I see is all new and exciting. The main area is very modern with 4 to 6-lane highways, curb, sidewalks and tall, modern buildings. Traffic is congested like downtown New York or Detroit.

The restaurants have no printed menus, but display their choices of foods in the window, with each dish numbered to identify it plus the price listed. Your order is given as soon as you walk in or when you are seated. I've had little opportunity to eat Japanese food, but thus far I have had asushi which is quite the thing here. Whenever one goes on a picnic or wants a snack this is what he eats. Asushi is raw fish rolled in a blanket of rice and wrapped in sea weed. It is about 1½" in diameter and about 3" long. I must admit it has a distinctive taste, but I managed to devour one! With a few more attempts I think I will come to like it. Another popular dish is fried or barbecued eel. It is very greasy and I don't particularly care for it. Japanese rice is delicious. It's different than ours at home. Mrs. Benson has many ways to fix it.

Food from restaurants can be delivered to homes like our carryout service, but not in cars. Bicycles are used and the delivery boy balances trays full of food, sometimes stacked 2-3 feet high, down the streets filled with heavy traffic.

Mail is also delivered by bicycles with large bamboo or wicker baskets on the back. Their mail boxes are painted fire-engine red and are located on nearly every block.

In the public restrooms, I was surprised that hand towels, paper or cloth kind, were not available. Mrs. Benson told me that in Japan it is proper to carry with you, your own toilet tissue and hand towels. Only recently toilet tissue has been adopted here to be supplied in public rest rooms, but paper towling isn't. In fact, school uniforms are designed with two pockets on the jacket and this is what they are for, one for tissue and the other for towels.

Women carry small children on their backs with a harness called "ombu". It is made of sturdy cloth that the child sits in with legs, arms and head free. The straps criss-cross in front and I think, brought back and tied. If a child falls asleep, his neck and head falls backward with no support. It doesn't look very comfortable.

Everyone, men, women and children, carry their belongings in a "furoskiki" which is simply a square piece of material tied together. This seems to be convenient for them. A few carry purses, brief cases, etc.

With the Bensons, I visited the Grand Heights Air Force Base. 3,000 families from all branches of the service live here. A lot of Japanese people appear to disapprove of American bases in their country. Evidently they feel they no longer need our defense protection. If I remember correctly we are under a treaty to stay for a certain length of time. It is not unusual to see people on street corners protesting American occupancy. Today, several young people were passing out flyers, getting petitions signed, etc. We were going to get a couple to read but our bus came and we had to leave.

Women still walk a few steps behind the men, but the younger generation is getting away from that. Once in a while you will see a couple walking hand in hand which is frowned upon by the older generation. It is improper even to touch someone else. That is why one bows when meeting someone instead of shaking hands.

The young people are trying to become more westernized. The men have long hair but nothing in comparison to some of the sights on our college campuses. A beard is seldom seen.

When we go to Sendai, I will have the opportunity to visit in many Japanese homes and eat their native foods. When we travel, I will be staying in hostels for about 50c a night in our money. When we stay in Japanese hotels we will be eating and sleeping on the floors. The expense of a Japanese hotel is about $5. If I stayed in an American one of equal quality it would be about $40.

This far, I really like it here. People are so hospitable and gracious. I am anxious to leave the big city and travel around to see the country as it really is and learn more about their customs.

The Bensons are a wonderful family and make me feel right at home.

Jim Lawson Is Alma Graduate

James Lawson graduated cum laude from Alma College Sunday. His degree, bachelor of arts, is pending on one term of student teaching to be completed during the summer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lawson, Jr.

While attending Alma, he played on the college basketball team and directed the Intramural Program.

Jim has signed a contract with the Perry Public School system for the coming academic year and will be teaching Junior High science and coaching football and basketball.

Guests attending graduation were his parents and brother, Bob, paternal grandmother, Mrs. Victor Lawson, Sr., and great-aunt, Alice Anderson of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Don Purkey and family.

Laidlaws Here From Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw arrived Wednesday noon from Ft. Meyers, Fla. They spent 10 days coming by way of Williamsburg, Va., and the Skyline Drive. Eight or nine days of the 10, guess what— it rained.

Mumaw-Miller Vows At College

The Adrian College Chapel was the setting for the marriage of Marilyn Mumaw and David Miller Saturday evening. Dr. Howard Emrick, Adrian College chaplain, performed the double ring ceremony. The soloist was Mrs. Bernard Wolcott, accompanied by Mrs. Roger Richards on the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mumaw of Rogers Hwy. Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller of Trenton.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta, accented with pearls and re-embroidered lace. The floor length gown was fashioned with a scooped neckline, princess style bodice, and a semi-bouffant skirt.

Twin bows and double panels of lace in the back flowed into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a headpiece of lace petals trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white daisies and trailing ivy.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Larry Gould, of Morenci, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of yellow organza over taffeta.

Her bouquet of daisies with velvet ribbon streamers matched her headpiece of fresh flowers.

Greg Kingdon of East Lansing, was best man. Seating the guests were Joseph Galvin and Michael Kalapos, both of Trenton.

Following the ceremony a reception for 125 guests was held in the Tobias Room of Ritchie Hall on campus.

Mrs. Jay Osburn was in charge of the guest book. The cakes were cut and served by Mrs. Joseph Galvin, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Greg Kingdon of East Lansing. Nancy Kennel served punch.

The bride received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Education from Michigan State University. She is teaching in the Tecumseh Public Schools.

Mr. Miller received a Bachelor of Science degree in Police Administration from Michigan State University, and is employed with the Ann Arbor Police Department.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will be at home in Saline.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller entertained at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Rock Inn.

MRS. DAVID MILLER

The engagement of Roxanna Fern Pilbeam to James A. Kotts is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Pilbeam, 216 Sunset Dr., Clinton. Roxanna is a graduate of Clinton High School and of the Alexandra School of Cosmetology in Ann Arbor. She is the manager at the Chic-Tress Beauty Salon, Clinton. Mr. Kotts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kotts, Sr., of 10615 N. Adrian Hwy. He is a graduate of a truck-driving school in Kentucky and is employed as a truck driver at the Budd Company, Clinton. A fall wedding is being planned.

Golden Anniversary For the Peotters

In celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peotter, of 6875 Rogers Hwy., will honor them with an open house Sunday, June 29, in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church. Friends and relatives are invited to call from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. to extend congratulations. It is requested that gifts be omitted.

Lodica B. Allison and Ralph Peotter were married in Adrian June 30, 1919, by the Rev. Frederick Perry. Mr. Peotter was born in Tecumseh and they have been residents here most of their lives.

They are the parents of six children, three daughters, Mrs. Stanley (Virginia) Kruse, 407 Center Dr., Mrs. Wesley (Rodah) Luckhardt of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Richard (Lorissa) Elinski of Erie: three sons, Ralph of Marshall, Minn., Dale of Northridge, Calif., and Dean, 915 River Acres Dr.

There are also 14 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. RALPH PEOTTER

Four Enlist In U. S. Navy

Four men from Tecumseh were enlisted in the U. S. Navy last week according to Navy Recruiter Tom Konwinski. They are Paul Velandra, 2857 Russell Rd. and John Wanzeck, 603 W. Chicago Blvd.

These men will leave for Recruit Training at Great Lakes, Ill., on Aug. 19.

James Osburn, II, 517 Seminole Dr., and Douglas Haeussler, 701 Brook St., were enlisted as Third Class Petty Officers in the Seabees and will leave for a five-week indoctrination course at Gulfport, Miss. They are both Equipment Operators.

Farewell Dinner For Don Moffatt

Senior Citizens met Thursday afternoon for the regular meeting followed by a "Farewell" dinner for Don Moffatt, former director of the Parks and Recreation Committee who is leaving for Wheaton, Ill.

An invitation to Brooklyn brought an additional 42 guests, a grand total of 88 Senior Citizens. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peotter and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Adams hosted the affair. Greeters were Mrs. Burt Warren and her committee.

Mr. Moffatt, who struck the match to light the fire behind the organization here, and who has been meeting with the group every Thursday since the beginning of April, 1964, assisted by a four-year veteran with the city parks and recreation committee, Sherry Dicks, served the meat furnished by the committee.

"I'm sorry to leave them. I regard every one of them as if they were my mother and father," Moffatt said. And the Citizens showed their appreciation by surprising him with a gift.

After dinner, Zell McCarty, president, presided over a short meeting. Tables were arranged for cards and bingo with prizes awarded.

The engagement of Carolyn A. Sebring to Ronald F. George is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Sebring, 708 Inner Dr. Mr. George is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Valtine George. Miss Sebring graduated from Michigan State University June 8, and has accepted a teaching position in Fowler this fall. Her fiance graduated from Michigan State University in March of 1969. He is presently working for Farm Bureau Services as an auditor in Lansing. A summer wedding is planned.

Corn Flakes On Brownie Menu

Twelve Brownies of Troop No. 130 took a train ride from Jackson to the Battle Creek Kellogg cereal plant last Thursday afternoon.

Accompanied by Brownie leaders, Mrs. Douglas Dunn and Mrs. Duaine Murphy, and Brownie mother, Mrs. John Robinson, an hour's tour revealed to them the complete corn flakes production process, from a grain of corn to the final flake.

Mrs. Robinson stated her amazement with the spraying of the flakes with vitamins. "We thought it was sugar, but is was vitamin B-1."

They also saw the packaging of Kellogg Variety Packs. The boxes were packed and sealed at the rate of 58 little boxes a minute. With 20 products being manufactured all told, that's a lot of cereal!

The Brownies were each given Snack Packs as a token of their tour.

Melvin - Porteous Nuptials Are Spoken

Before the flower-bedecked altar in the garden of the country home of the bride's parents, Patricia Ruth Melvin became the bride of David Paul Porteous. The Rev. Donald C. Porteous, father of the groom, officiated at the ceremony Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Melvin, 8533 Winchester Rd., Carroll, O., are the parents of the bride. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Porteous, 404 Seminole Dr., are the parents of the groom.

The bride wore a lace over white gown with a daisy floral headpiece. She was attended by Sandra Lee Morrow of Detroit and Kathy June Porteous, sister of the groom. Serving as best man was the groom's brother, Donald Porteous, II. Tim Ngare of Nairobi, Kenya, Africa, was the groomsman. Dr. John Melvin, brother of the bride, ushered the guests.

A buffet luncheon was served following the ceremony. Guests were present from Detroit, Farmington, Tecumseh, Albion, and Camden, N. J.; Washington, D. C., East Peoria, Ill., Ashtabula and Columbus, O., and Nairobi, Kenya, Africa.

MRS. DAVID P. PORTEOUS

The former Miss Melvin was graduated from Albion College June 8, with a major in psychology. Mr. Porteous was graduated on the same day from Albion College with a major in religion. Both plan to enter graduate school in their respective fields in September at Hartford, Conn.

They are presently residing at 204 E. Porter St., Albion, where they are employed for the summer.

Communion Date Set for June 22

Through My Window

WHERE THE CATBIRDS ARE LIVING

Now that the hectic pace of warbler watching has eased up for another year, there is time to take a close-up look at the birds who come our way. The springtime migration is great fun, in fact it is probably the most exciting time of the the year. But all of the north-bound travelers, and I should not just confine it to warblers, pass through at such a fast and furious clip that my head is literally spinning at day's end. Although these quick glimpses are thrilling, there is truly more satisfaction in being able to have a second or even a third and maybe a fourth look at a bird.

A case in point. It happened on a Saturday afternoon, a beautifully sunny and warm Saturday afternoon. A short ride was in order — no particular destination, just a relaxing back-road drive. I was in the car, Dad was getting his camera and gadget bags, and Mom had just gone into the house to help Gram out to the car.

The telephone rang, someone wanted Mom, and Dad decided to change the lens on the camera, so it was a few minutes before anyone joined me in the car. I was glad for the no-door-shutting-or-people-appearing short wait.

That sounds anti-social, Marda, hurry and explain that you were watching a bird. A pretty bird and it was the first sighting of the season. Cat birds are great favorites and all of us had been wondering where they were. While waiting for the folks, I was finding out.

*

A CAT-LIKE meowing first attracted my attention but, before even having a chance to start worrying, I realized that it was not a cat. None of our birds were in danger, there was no one prowling around looking for a late lunch, the cat-like noise I was hearing was being made by a bird. A very trim and sleek catbird.

He or she, they both look alike, came from somewhere in the east yard, perched on one of the outer branches of the big honeysuckle bush, gave the car a "quick once over", then hopped deep into the bush and disappeared. The bird was out of sight about long enough to check and see that everything was all right in the nest and out it came.

This honeysuckle is an old sprawling bush so thick that to find out whether it really does shelter a nest or not would require much pulling away of branches and anyone living there would be thoroughly upset and probably frightened away. Therefore we shall just keep our distance and hope. Catbirds like to hide their homes in such tangles, they are ideally protected spots for their rather bulky but well-made nests.

When the bird popped out of the bush, it flew to the sawhorse standing in back of a small barberry. This was only a few feet in front of the car and, as I was twisting and turning my head trying to peer through the barberry for a good look at the catbird, I suddenly realized that it was doing the same thing, ducking and bobbing his head trying to figure me out. Apparently I passed inspection because it soon took the short flight, about three wingbeats, to the top of the barberry. There he stood—perfect.

*

AS MENTIONED earlier, catbirds have always been favorites. This was a handsome one, such a pretty dark gray, and, running true to form, every feather was smooth and in place. Never are catbirds disheveled or unkempt. As the bird stood in silhouette, I had ample opportunity to enjoy his black bill, snappy black eye, black cap, and, a flick of the tail, even gave a glimpse of the russet patch at the base of the tail.

As an almost too perfect ending for my catbird watching, the front door slammed shut, my bird jerked his head towards me, gave a couple of sassy meows and flew away.

So it is that the mystery is solved, as a result of this Saturday afternoon encounter, we now know that the east yard is where the catbirds are living.

NEXT WEEK: "Cuckoo."

Birthday Jaunt For 7-year-old

CLINTON — Gary Houghton, whose seventh birthday anniversary occurred Saturday, was treated to a birthday celebration Friday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Houghton. Five boys and girls spent the afternoon at Prehistoric Forest and returned to the Houghton home for birthday cake.

Four Plays Highlight Croswell Bill

Historic Croswell Opera House presents its 1969 Repertory Season Thursday, July 3, through Sunday, Aug. 10. Six performers are returning from the '68 season to be part of the 11 professional actor-technician group.

Glenn Harbaugh will again be the season's director.

Featured this season are "Gypsy", Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple", Lawrence and Lee's "Inherit the Wind", and "Don't Drink the Water", by Woody Allen.

Other new additions are the Edwin Booth Room, a historic monument to the founder of the Croswell, an ice cream social after each performance in the Stage Door Ice Cream Parlor supplementing the art exhibit in the upstairs lobby.

Reserved seats are available for memberships or adult season tickets for the coming performances.

Gail N. Lister was graduated Saturday from Cleary Business College with a legal secretarial degree. She plans to take up legal work in Bowling Green, O., where she will be living after her marriage in September. Gail is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Lister, 162 College Ave., Britton.

Hayden Film Will Be Shown

"God Is My Landlord" will be shown June 27 and 28 at the National Threshers' Association meeting. The 25th annual reunion will be held June 26 - 29 at the fairgrounds located on State Route 108, north of Wauseon, O.

Log sawing, grain threshing and hill climbing will be demonstrated. Model steam engines, gas engines, oil pulls, Prony brakes, Baker fans and other types of engines and antique equipment will be displayed and in operation.

Since this is the silver anniversary year, souvenir booklets, plates and commemorative watch fobs will be available.

A Peerless engine from Vanceburg, Ky., and a Sawyer-Massey engine from Sarnia, Canada, will be displayed for the first time.

Additional highlights of the reunion are a horseshoe tournament, antique car swap and sell, and swapping of yarns and tales about those threshing days of yesteryear.

TO THE EDITOR:

This is an open letter to the party who found it necessary to steal a bicycle from the residence at 616 Chicago Blvd. My nephew lives there and I thought that there were a few things you should know.

This boy has been without a father for nearly a year and a half. He lives with his mother and younger sister and brother. His mother has been going to school since his father left so that she would be able to get a better job to support the family. Therefore, it is quite obvious that there have been many things that they all have had to do without.

This boy has wanted a bicycle since I can remember. He has been saving his money for the past four years to buy one. Four years is a long time for a boy who is only nine years old. He did odd jobs, saving every penny he earned. He received money for birthday gifts which he saved for the same purpose. He looked with envy on all the boys in school because they had a bicycle. Finally, only two months ago, he had enough money to pick out the bike he wanted. It was a very pretty lavender color with chrome markings and a sparkling silver banana seat—just what he had pictured during all that time. He took his entire savings and bought the bike. Could you have accomplished that at age nine? He knew that they didn't have a garage, but he thought that if he kept the bike right next to the house, it would be safe enough especially since they lived right on the boulevard.

Then, you come into the picture. You took the bike for some reason or another. He cried so hard that Monday morning that he was unable to even go to school. I just hope that you needed and wanted that bike more than my nephew, because you have destroyed his faith in people and honesty, as well as mine.

Just in case you have a change of heart, just leave the bike anywhere where it can be found. We have the serial number and there are a few distinguishing marks on it. We'll find it.

Sherry Henning.

Charles R. Wilson of Lansing has been appointed new Executive Director of the Lenawee County United Fund effective June 2. He was formerly Associate Director of the United Community Chest of Ingham County, Inc., for six years. Mr. Wilson was graduated from the University of Wichita, and has done graduate work at Denver University and the University of Wichita. Mr. Wilson, 37; his wife, Danda, and their children, Clarke, 8; and Katherine, 7; will make their home in Adrian.

HOLLOWAY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jaqua spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fisher of Seneca, and Saturday night with Mrs. Joe Brown and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Curtis of Alverton, O.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bower attended a funeral of Mrs. Charles Clark of Romulus Saturday.

Graduation open house was held for Danny Hare at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Norlene Lister and his mother, Mrs. Arthur Hare.

Barbecued chicken and all the trimmings, a white loaf cake, decorated with a graduate on top holding his diploma, and a chocolate cake, punch and ice cream were served.

Among the guests were Robert Hare and a friend of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hare, Jr., and family, of Fairfield; Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Sweet and family, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Barrow and daughter. Ron Jorran and several friends attended from Tecumseh, also Mr. and Mrs. William Gatt and son, Gloria Sweet and David Boozer, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Sweet and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Barrow and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Judson and family of Adrian.

The gift table had a miniature graduate in the center. Danny opened many gifts.

David Smith Is Injured In Fall

David Smith, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Smith, 202 E. Pottawatamie St., suffered back injury Tuesday night while he was accompanying his older brother, Craig, who was working out for football.

Mrs. Smith said that as near as she could determine, David was pushed over the side of the cement on the small public wading pool. He couldn't move and was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital where he remained overnight.

'Sell The Sizzle' Dairymen Told

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Dairymen haven't "sold the sizzle" in their products, Elton Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau — told Lenawee County dairymen at the first all-dairy banquet arranged by the Lenawee Farm Bureau Women, June 3.

It was attended by more than 100 dairymen and members of the farm organization.

Mr. Smith, who operates a large dairy farm in Kent County, noted that dairymen "haven't done much to fit dairy foods into modern times." While today's affluent consumer is often undernourished, he is hungry for new and different foods and ready to pay well for them. Dairy foods should be glamorized, he suggested.

Dairy cheese confections, and many other dairy novelties, recently developed, might someday replace the hot dog and pop as the teenagers' favorite lunch, he predicted.

Noting that Michigan Farm Bureau is celebrating its golden anniversary this year, he remarked on its close cooperation with a fellow cooperative, the Michigan Milk Producers Association, in dairy promotion and setting of industry standards.

Harold Calhoun, of Clinton, president of the county organization, extended the welcome to guests, and recognized roll call chairman, Lowell Eisenmann, for helping the county go over its membership goal this spring. Elwin Marks was also recognized for signing up the most members — 14 — in the county.

Wayland Hart, master of ceremonies, introduced the guests.

Special recognition was given Clarence Heimerdinger, Sr., of Clinton, one of the oldest dairymen in the county. In a tribute by his son, David, it was noted that the most successful element of dairy farming is complete cooperation of the family working as a unit.

Roger Wolf, a member of the Kellogg Young Farmer Program, expressed the prediction of a "bright future in dairying for the young man who is willing to work," in view of the fact that the cow population has decreased by 25 percent in Michigan in recent years.

Mark Reister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Reister, gave a teenager's view of dairying, describing his experience with a 4-H heifer that has been the foundation of his seven-cow herd. He has learned the value of good management and records, and he plans to further his education with a short course at Michigan State University.

Sharon Stout reported on the 4-H Dairy Foods Conference she attended at Kellogg Center.

A clarinet solo by Debbie Rieve and group singing, led by Kenneth Emmons, concluded the program which was arranged by Mrs. Wilson Sawyer of Palmyra, and her committee of County Farm Bureau Women.

A feature of the dining table place settings was the red-handled "milk pails", contrived from styrofoam cups filled with rhubarb crush.

tPYsits Needed

A few more students are needed to insure the personal typing class at Tecumseh High School this summer, Neville Hart, principal, said Monday.

An enrollment of 20 is necessary if the class begins June 23 as scheduled.

The fee is $15 for the six weeks course to be held each morning from 8 to 10 a.m. in Room 4.

Registrations should be made as soon as possible.

Presbyterians Invite Candidate To Pastor

The session of the First Presbyterian Church at the request of the pulpit nominating committee, has invited the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins, pastor of the Joslyn Ave. United Presbyterian Church of Pontiac, to candidate for the Tecumseh pulpit on Sunday, June 29 at 9:30 a.m.

A congregational meeting will be held immediately following the worship service to vote on Mr. Watkins' candidacy to fill the pulpit.

Mr. Watkins, who was born in Lake, in central Michigan, received his bachelor of arts degree at Sterling College, Kan.; bachelor of divinity degree at Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary, and his masters degree in theology at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, also in Pittsburgh, Pa.

He has attended the marriage and family consultation program for Oakland County during the study seminars for the years of 1964 thru 1967.

At the present time the Rev. Watkins is president of the Pontiac Council of Churches, an active member of Pontiac Schools' Division of Human Relations; chairman of Detroit Presbytery Committee of Chaplains and Service Personnel and is on the nominating committee of Detroit Presbytery.

The Rev. and Mrs. Watkins have four sons, Larry, married and studying for the ministry in Virginia; John will be a senior at Michigan State University, studying religion; Donald, a recent graduate of Pontiac High School; and Stephen, who will be in the eighth grade in the fall.

Mrs. Watkins is active in Sunday School; Junior High advisor; Womens Association; Cub Scouts; PTA; Christian Women's Club and Keniockety (a Presbyterian ministers' wives fellowship).

Following voting on his candidacy June 29, a coffee hour will be held in the kindergarten rooms so that the congregation may meet the Rev. Mr. Watkins and his family.

Susan Vanderbush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Vanderbush, of Britton, graduated cum laude from Michigan State University with a bachelor of arts degree in education, June 8. She returned Sunday to resume studies for her masters degree at MSU.

Newspapers Are Food For Thought

An excerpt taken from The Tecumseh Herald Feb. 3, 1887, given to the local newspaper office by Mrs. G. Miller of Monroe:

"The boy or girl who is a regular newspaper reader will grow up on intelligence, and will use good language, both in speaking and writing, even with a limited education. It is news, science, literature, grammar, history, geography and spelling combined. Sometimes it is a little difficult to get children interested in newspapers but after they once get started, their intellectual cravings are as sure as the desire for food and it is as necessary to feed the minds as the bodies. The local newspaper, above all, will interest them and it has become a necessity in all well-regulated homes."

Members of the sixth grade at Patterson School, taught by Mrs. Norman Bless, have been reading The Herald regularly all year.

Mrs. Bless picked up a paper for each of her students Friday morning and part of the schedule included the perusal of the newspaper.

Mrs. Bless agreed with the 1887 writer.

Three Are Accepted By GMI

F. W. vanWestrenen, plant manager, Fisher Body-Tecumseh Plant, announced that the three area graduates selected for sponsorship to General Motors Institute, by the local plant, will commence their affiliation with the plant beginning June 16.

The new GMI appointees, Dennis C. Lewis, 501 Herrick Park Dr.; David L. Fairbanks, 360 N. Main St., Britton; and Thomas E. Wilcox, 163 Main St., Dundee, will be working in various departments through the summer, prior to their entry into cooperative phase of alternate terms of academic study and work experience between the Institute and sponsoring unit, Fisher-Tecumseh.

Of the cooperative education programs offered by General Motors Institute, David Fairbanks and Dennis Lewis have chosen the Industrial Administration Program, both of which lead to a Bachelor of Science degree.

General Motors Institute, located in Flint, is the only accredited undergraduate college maintained by an industrial corporation. Fully accredited as a bachelor degree-granting institution by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, it also provides a Bachelor-Masters Plan whereby outstanding students, before completing their undergradute program, select and enroll in a graduate school with the tuition and living expenses paid by General Motors.

Dennis Lewis, a June graduate of Tecumseh High School, was active in sports, a member of the Varsity Club, Spanish Club and National Honor Society. He served as freshman and sophomore class president, was a member of the Student Council, junior, senior year; the Board of Directors, intramural basketball, senior year, and a Wolverine Boy's State representative.

David Fairbanks, a graduate of Britton-Macon High School, was active in sports throughout high school, a member of Varsity Club, Student Council, the school paper and yearbook staff, and served as class president, last three years. In addition, he was student director and a cast member of senior play.

Thomas Wilcox, who graduated from Dundee High School, was active in sports, Varsity Club, Optimist Club and the National Honor Society. He served as freshman class president, on the Annual staff (business manager) and participated in the Wolverine Boy's State; and was awarded the "Young Citizen Award".

The plant's new GMI students will be among approximately 3,000 students presently enrolled in General Motors Institute this, the 50th anniversary year of the Institute.

Hit the Trail For the Rockies

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Thirty teenage boys and girls departed Friday for 10 days in the Colorado Rockies. Their jaunt is just one of several trips for youth which are being conducted by Overlanders, Inc., of Onsted.

Itinerary for this trip includes a visit to several ranches, camping in Rocky Mountain National Park and Monument Valley, touring the Air Force Academy and climbing Pike's Peak.

Overlanders is a newly-incorporated, non-profit organization with an educational purpose and is licensed with the state.

An innovation by Thomas Thiery, 29, art instructor and coach in the Onsted schools four years ago, the first tours were undertaken as extended field trips for students in his art classes.

Using school buses, several trips were taken to art museums, Civil War battlegrounds in Virginia and other national shrines.

After the first trip or two, staying in motels and dining in restaurants proved financially disastrous. Then two huge circus-size tents were used and Mr. Thiery admits there were some difficulties until they learned a few tricks of camping organization. The big tents took too long to erect and strike camp, and have since been exchanged for 22 pup tents.

"We show the kids how to set up the tents their first night out — then they're on their own — and they can sleep in them or on them after that", the tour director explained.

Ten-day trips for high school age boys and girls have included Expo-67 in Montreal, East Coast art galleries, New Orleans, and Pensacola, Fla., and the Kentucky Derby last month.

Besides Tom Thiery, directors of the fledgling organization include:

- Richard Minier, another teacher at Onsted, who has gone along on all but one of the trips.
- Murray Richardson, Adrian, a representative of Universal Clerical Co.
- Leon Neeb, Brooklyn, a professor of education at Eastern Michigan University.
- Mrs. Ross Onsted, who has only missed one trip, and has volunteered as chief cook for the enterprise.

Mrs. Onsted's cooking domain is a large gas grill, securely lodged in the tent-camper headquarters, which is drawn by a station wagon. She's been busy for days now cooking and freezing the gallons of sauces for spaghetti and barbecues, to be taken along on the Colorado trip this week.

Costs of the trip are kept to a minimum for the young campers, and average approximately $5 per day. Entirely self-supporting, the tour directors have never asked for financial assistance. The only suggested way for interested individuals or groups to lend a hand would be to sponsor a needy child who might benefit from a trip.

More than 1,000 students have traveled three-quarters of a million miles so far, and about five percent of them had never been out of Michigan previously.

Mr. Thiery has a degree in sociology and his wife is a nurse. They have three young children. He was formerly employed at Starr Commonwealth, and a children's home in Indiana. For a while he was engaged in Federal social welfare work.

Thiery expressed the main objective of the camping tours is to establish a greater communication between students and adults. The "generation gap" simply doesn't exist on trips like these, he said.

Although strictly non-denominational in concept, the directors feel "a personal commitment to Christ is essential". The campfire fellowship each evening has consistently been reported by youngsters as the "most meaningful" experience of their trips.

Self-styled as a "rebel", Thiery is a coach who thinks the people in America place too much emphasis on spectator sports and not enough in participation activities for youth or adults.

Overlanders, Inc., is an effort to create a stimulating educational activity for area youth. Trips are now open to all Lenawee County youth.

There's still room for about 15 more boys and girls for the trip to Nova Scotia and the return through Boston area and New York City, Aug. 17-25.

A canoeing trip in the Big Manistee River near Cadillac, scheduled for three days last week had to be postponed until later in the summer, because high water was a hazard in that area, leaving 40 Onsted junior high youth high and dry.

Since school buses are no longer available, tours will use two new 14-passenger vans and station wagons.

Somehow, this past year, the energetic Mr. Thiery found time to teach art at Siena Heights College, study for his masters degree at Eastern Michigan University and to paint a breathtakingly beautiful collection of 50 landscapes and abstracts, which he packed off to a street fair at Kalamazoo, last weekend.

"The sale of my art makes all this possible," he explained.

Overlanders, Inc., stresses a traveling program that is not tightly scheduled, and its director expressed his pride in the youth who have participated, when he concluded "We've never had a discipline problem."

STOW AWAY — Tom Thiery, moving force behind Overlanders, Inc., Onsted, finds a place for the mountain of camping gear in preparation for this week's jaunt to the Colorado Rockies, by 30 high school age youth.

Philip Hendershot was graduated magna cum laude in commencement exercises at the Capital Institute of Technology in Washington, D. C., receiving a bachelor of science degree in electronics. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hendershot, 7723 Hendershot Hwy., the honor student has accepted a position as assistant design engineer with Link Division of General Precision Systems, Inc., at Silver Springs, Md. While at Capital he was a member of the student council, an assistant instructor in computers, on the school bowling team and assistant editor of the school paper. Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hendershot accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendershot of Garden City, celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary making the trip to attend the ceremonies.

Court's Progress Told Rotary

Yale L. Kerby, Lenawee County District Judge, introduced by Fay Whelan, program chairman, spoke to the Tecumseh Rotary Club this week.

Responding to a question about the financial condition of the Lenawee District Court and the judges roles, Kerby explained that according to statute, the full-time judges could not practice law.

It was also explained that the Courts are not a money-making enterprise and that under the present system of fines and costs, they are self-sustaining. The Lenawee District Court is breaking even and under the existing schedules, there is no burden on the taxpayer, said Kerby.

Mr. Kerby pointed out that both the Lenawee and Hillsdale schedules are lower than those of Washtenaw, Monroe and Jackson counties.

Also noted was the changed judicial system in which, throughout Michigan all arraignments must be before a judge and a record made. Under the new system, the accused is protected and their case is reviewed before a conviction is entered by a judge.

Revision has replaced probably eight full-time justices of the peace with Judge Kerby and Judge Glaser. The two judges, under the new system have been able to keep the docket current and eliminate the 800-case backlog inherited from the old system.

To a question concerning holding court in Tecumseh, Kerby stated that it was mandatory under statute for judges to hold court once a month. This has been done and the desire was expressed to expand Tecumseh court services. Suitable quarters for the court are dependent upon the Board of Supervisors to be agreed upon after the system has been in effect for a period of time.

Lake Drive-In To Feature Film With Latin Theme

"Lucia", is the feature film at Devil's Lake Drive-In June 21 and 22. There is more to "Lucia" than the fiery gaucho folk music, the color of teeming Buenos Aires and the unmatched scenic grandeur of South America.

While filled with natural beauty, this is not a travelog but a probing, dramatic story of one woman with all the pathos and poignancy that transcends its Latin setting to embrace needs common to every culture.

Saturday programs begin at 8:30 and Sunday programs at 9:15 p.m. The Devil's Lake Drive-In is located on the south end of Devil's Lake. There is no admission charge.

Annuals Here

THS Annuals will be distributed Friday, June 20, at the high school refreshment booth during the hours 9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., and 6-8 p.m. A few books will be available for sale.

Honored Guest At Open House

TIPTON — Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen of Taylor Rd., Tecumseh, was the honored guest at an open house Sunday. About 100 friends, relatives and neighbors attended.

Refreshments were served from a linen-covered table, featuring a beautifully decorated open book cake. Her sister, Mrs. Ron Andrews, cut the cake and Sharron Dull helped with the punch.

Guests were present from Morenci, Blissfield, Seneca, Brighton, Detroit, Clinton, Tipton, Manitou Beach, Adrian and Tecumseh. Shirley received many useful gifts that she will be able to use when she enters Alpena Junior College this fall.

Shirley was a member of the Tecumseh graduating class.

WSCS Meeting Studies Bible

BRITTON — The WSCS members of the Grace Methodist Church met Thursday evening with Mrs. Robert Malloch.

President, Mrs. George Forsyth opened the meeting by reading an account of the origin of Flag Day. June 14 was officially proclaimed Flag Day by President Woodrow Wilson in 1916.

Mrs. Forsyth assisted by Mrs. Robert Gibson recited the Pledge of Allegiance as recorded by Red Skelton.

Financial and committee reports were given, officers training dates noted and discussion was held on both old and new business.

Mrs. Clay Croll, program leader, was assisted by Mrs. Fred Schober. Mrs. Croll gave an interesting report on the study of the Bible, which they are currently studying in Sunday School. Mrs. Schober read prayer excerpts from the Layman's Bible Encyclopedia.

Prior to adjournment, Mrs. Forsyth read several short humorous selections, each containing a message for the young.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Paul Hamilton.

FFA Leaders Attend Camp

BRITTON—June 7-8, six Britton FFA officers and their advisor, Paul Marks, atended the Region II Leadership Camp. Held at Camp Palmer, Fayette, O., the following boys attended. Dick Schroeder, president; Bill Rowe, vice-president; Doug Wielfaert, secretary; Rick Brown, treasurer; Bob Gilbert, reporter; and Rodney Taylor, sentinel.

April elections chose those members to lead the chapter during the school year. They attended leadership camp to gain more information about office responsibilities and how to better serve their chapter.

Dick Schroeder, Britton Chapter, was elected secretary from Region II for the next year, when the officers will meet again.

In view of the potential chaos which could result from each cabin containing 9 to 13 boys, a special award was awarded to that cabin kept the neatest. This year Rick Brown and his cabin members, all from different parts of the region, won the award.

Registrations started the first day followed by general session, cabin meetings and group discussion. The first officer training session, organized recreation and officer interviews were held, culminated with speeches by guests to the future officers.

Sunday morning church services were held, arranged by the six Britton FFA officers.

Britton officers were able to enjoy such activities as volleyball, football, softball, swimming while also trading ideas and holding discussions with students from Waldron, Ida, Chelsea, Whiteford, Sand Creek, Saline and six other schools.

Visits the West and Daughter, Too

BRITTON — R. G. Below visited several western states last week while on a business trip.

While in Los Angeles, he flew to Victorville, Calif., to visit his daughter and husband, Sgt. and Mrs. James Conrad and infant son, James Michael.

Mr. Below spent 1½ days enjoying his first grandchild for the first time. Baby James was born in February.

Sgt. Conrad is stationed at George Air Force Base with the 434th Tactical Fighter Squadron.

FANTASTIC!

Frost-free Refrigerator WITH Automatic Ice Maker

Willie Imudluk, who recently visited Michigan, really lives on the edge of the Arctic. Even though his family enjoys the convenience of a modern refrigerator, Willie nearly flipped his harpoon when he discovered the new frost-free model with the automatic ice maker. We know you will, too. The convenience of no more ice tray filling and spilling — the luxury of a never-ending supply of ice cubes, every man will appreciate. And what woman wouldn't like to forget that dreaded defrosting chore — the chopping, slopping and mopping — with a refrigerator that defrosts itself automatically? See the new frost-free refrigerator with the automatic ice maker today. You'll agree with Willie — it's fantastic!

Mrs. Austin Is 90 Years Young

Mrs. Lavern S. Austin was the surprised guest of honor at a family gathering June 8. The occasion was her 90th birthday anniversary. The party was held at 607 West Logan where Mrs. Austin makes her home with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duncan, and granddaughter, Marda Gene.

Also helping Mrs. Austin celebrate were her other daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rogers of Detroit and a granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Wysong, and their three children, Bill, Jim and Carol, of Livonia. Unable to attend were a third granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Rogers, and their daughters, Melinda and Karen, of Pigeon. Throughout the afternoon friends dropped in to offer Mrs. Austin congratulations and best wishes.

A life-long resident of this area, Mrs. Austin was born in Newburg and later moved to Tecumseh. In 1903 she and the late Mr. Austin were married. Although unable to be an active participant, Mrs. Austin is proud to be one of the oldest members of the United Methodist Church.

Sunday Services at Gloria Dei

On the last two Sundays in June the regular worship service will be in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church at 10:30 a.m.

Sunday, June 29, a guest pastor will occupy the pulpit because Dr. Laszlo Gero will be out of town. The Rev. Ivan O. Miller will substitute for the pastor. Pastor Miller is from Reading and has served a Lutheran Church for 15 years in the Detroit area. He is now retired from active service.

During July and August the worship services start at 9 a.m., instead of 10:30 a.m., each Sunday.

Michelle, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mullins will be baptized July 6 and the Holy Communion will be administered by the pastor.

During summer months, the Sunday School will be discontinued giving the students and the teachers some time for relaxation and more opportunity for attending church services in the early morning.

The real activities of the church school will start Monday, Aug. 18, with the Bible Vacation School at the Lake Killarney Lutheran Camp.

Mrs. Ted Todd, superintendent, and Mrs. Dean Sheldon, assistant, accept registrations from now on for children in grades kindergarten to 8th grade.

God Is My Landlord

The sun came up brightly, foretelling a perfect day. Out of the seventeen official ceremonies since the conception of this project five years earlier, only one was partially marred by rain. Even that day cleared in the afternoon.

The crowd started arriving before the Haydens had their breakfast. The first was Dann Runnells of the Grand Rapids Press, who came for advance information for a story that he was writing for the Farm Journal of Philadelphia. Rev. and Mrs. Worthy Spring of the Cleveland Bible College and Rev. Clifton Robinson come for breakfast soon after Runnells left. The program was scheduled to start at 9:15 a.m., and long before that time, the church was packed to the doors. Margaret Comfort gave an organ prelude prior to the official starting time. From here on the program was scheduled to the minute. Everyone was asked to adhere to the exact time allotted, so all of the many hastily arranged features could be included without prolonging the services.

Promptly at 9:15, Pastor Edward Escolme, in whose church the services were being held, stepped to the platform and introduced Rev. Blair Bashore of the Baptist Church to officially open the service with prayer. Mayor J. Floyd Elliott of Tecumseh, a local blacksmith, was given one minute to extend the official welcome. He drew applause when he sat down within the sixty seconds. Scripture was read by Rev. John Scarlett, Rector of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

From 9:18 to 9:25, Davis Martin formerly in charge of the religious activities of the Ford plant at River Rouge, but now the Michigan representative of the Bible Meditation League, led the audience in singing some of the old favorite hymns used at the various Dynamic Kernels ceremonies throughout the past five years.

The singing was followed by a short presentation of Rev. Worthy A. Spring, President of the Cleveland Bible College. Rev. M. Spring introduced Rev. Clifton Robinson, who preached the sermon in 1940 which inspired this colorful event.

Promptly at 9:30 a.m., WJR of Detroit took over the program for a fifteen-minute broadcast. Announcer Larry Payne, introduced their Farm Editor, Marshall Wells. He interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Hayden on their five years' experience with the renowned Biblical Wheat experiment.

For the next forty-five minutes, many prominent people who had come from all parts of the country, were called upon for brief comments — and not one had to be "given the gong" to stay within the time limit.

Some of those who responded were Rachel Chilson, Field Representative of the American Friends Mission in Urundi, Belgian Congo, Africa; Mrs. Charles Cowman, President of the Oriental Missionary Society; Joseph C. Satterthwaite, first secretary of the American Legation and Charge d Affaires in Damascus, Syria; Mrs. Aileen Kenrick French, Missionary from China; Waldo Yeager, President of the Christian Business Men's Committee of Toledo; Leon Sullivan, investment banker from Philadelphia, Pa.; Coach Fielding H. Yost, Director Emeritus of Athletics, University of Michigan; Victor Wintermantel, flour broker from Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Bernice M. Curtiss, Chaplain of the Michigan State Grange; C. D. Finkbeiner, who furnished the first cubic inch of wheat to start the experiment; Charles Figy, Michigan State Commissioner of Agriculture; Vernon F. Brown, Lieut. Governor of Michigan; Senator Elmer Porter, who read a letter of greetings from Gov. Kelly; Rev. James Cameron Murdoch, who spoke on the subject, "Why I Believe in Tithing;" Dr. Don R. Falkenberg, President of the Bible Meditation League, who gave a talk on "Stewardship"; Phil Bauer, Manager of Industrial Sales, of the Allis-Chalmers Company; Dr. Harry Myers, Secretary of the United Stewardship Council; Ormann R. Keyser, Agricultural Agent from Canton, Ohio; Rev. Elmer L. Ritzman of Millerstown, Pa.; Rev. William Rex, formerly of the Tecumseh Presbyterian Church; Henry Glass, flour miller of Williamstown, Kentucky; Dr. Charles F. Weigle, Evangelist and song writer; and many other visitors who were pointed out in the audience.

The enthusiasm of everyone present was certainly heartening after all of the discouraging events of the past few months. The event took on more of a deeply spiritual atmosphere than that of an "advertising stunt," as was feared by some who saw Mr. Ford breaking more and more into the headlines.

At this point in the program, the new plan for finishing the final harvest was presented and explained publicly for the first time. It was received with overwhelming enthusiasm and hearty applause. No one doubted, after this spontaneous demonstration, that the project would be carried on to completion. The spirit of a reception like this was bound to spread throughout the country and the newspaper boys were there to tell the story.

A number of rousing talks were given by Agricultural and Religious leaders. It was pointed out, that aside from the purely religious significance of the project, it would bring Lenawee County and the state of Michigan favorable publicity throughout the nation. One speaker called attention to the fact that Chambers of Commerce spend "millions" to get less publicity than this project would bring the community without a cent of cost.

Elizabeth Hayden, Perry's wife, was presented with a new title and honors . . . She had been selected by the Golden Rule Foundation, as the "Michigan Mother of 1945."

Rev. G. Arthur Valentine of Adrian, President of the Lenawee County Ministerial Association, brought the meeting to a close right on schedule, 11 a.m. o'clock.

The audience adjourned to the churchyard where the "token plot" of wheat, which was planted by the twelve children of Tecumseh, was cut as a symbol of the Fifth Dynamic Kernels Harvest. To carry out the Biblical numerology, three people from four different representative groups, making a total of twelve, wielded a sickle while flash bulbs popped and the movie cameras ground away. The four groups represented were the Grange, the Churches of Lenawee County, the County Board of Supervisors, and the 4-H Council.

The bundle of wheat was tied by Senator Elmer Porter and handed to W. G. Armstrong, Grange Master of Michigan, who dedicated it to Mrs. Bernice Curtiss of Charlotte and "Herby" Hood of Adrian who both had been members of the Grange for fifty years.

After this symbolic cutting service, the whole group formed a parade of cars, over a mile long, and circled the Ford fields where the 230 acres of Dynamic Kernels were awaiting the "go ahead" from The [illegible] Company . . . The famous Biblical Wheat experiment went right on without them!

When the caravan returned to Tecumseh, most of the crowd went to the Methodist Church for a lunch prepared by the women.

An extemporaneous meeting was kept going at the Friends Church most of the afternoon. Prominent people from all parts of the country talked and praised the spirit which refused to allow the Lord's experiment to die.

Rev. Don Falkenberg was one of the most enthusiastic of this group. He asked for the shock of wheat, which had been dedicated to the two "old Grangers," to take back to Columbus, Ohio. He placed it in the window of the national headquarters of the Bible Meditation League. He later launched a campaigned to distribute thousands of little packages of wheat, for others to carry on this tithing lesson as communities around the world.

The papers carried elaborate stories of the services to all parts of the country. The substitute ceremony was a great success. The project cast off all aspects of a commercial venture, and took on a strictly religious significance. The future was now reassured.

The following Tuesday, the Ford workmen suddenly appeared in the field without notice, and rushed through the most spectacular harvesting job ever seen in Michigan. Forty huge modern Allis-Chalmers combines cut and threshed the wheat in one operation.

They kept twelve trucks busy hauling the grain to the many bins on the Ford farms. It required two gasoline tankers, two water trucks and 67 men to keep the big battery of combines going.

Many Ford people regretted the unavoidable complications which denied them one of their finest opportunities for creating a piece of favorable publicity, which would bring "good will" from every corner of the globe.

All of the "test plots" which George Parsons had laid out were overrun in the sensational harvest. Therefore, no comparative records could be established regarding the success of the theory of plowing, discing and fertilizing, as advanced in Faulkner's book, "Plowman's Folly." However, the Ford people were impressed with his theory and many individual farmers enthusiastically endorsed it.

Ed Clark had just returned from the hospital with his leg in a cast, and personally was as friendly toward Hayden's project as ever. He informed Perry that if he furnished the bags, that the wheat was to be delivered to him and invoiced, "No charge." When it was weighed, it totaled 5,555.5 bushels.

Here is another set of figures for Biblical numerologists to "jostle with:" "Five" is said to be symbolic of Grace. Grace has five letters. All of the figures in the total harvest are fives. The 10% tithe was 555 bushels. This was the "fifth" harvest. Wheat sold for $1.55 per bushel . . . (There are five fingers on the hand. Benjamin had five changes of raiment . . . Five loaves fed the 5,000 . . . Five wise and five foolish virgins . . . Five pillars in the Temple . . . The altar was five cubits long . . . There were five wounds on the Lord's body) . . . thus the numeral five appears many times in this project and in the Bible.

A little mathematical calculation by Jens Touborg of Tecumseh, brings an interesting observation. If the 1945 crop of Biblical Wheat kernels were laid down end to end, it would make a belt on the 42nd meridian, circling the globe through the state of Michigan. Henry Ford had remarked on several occasions, "This project will reach entirely around the world." Here's wheat enough in one harvest to actually form a belt around the world . . . so, in more ways than one, Mr. Ford was right . . .

The tithe from the fifth crop was sold and a check for $861.03 was given to the Friends Church. They voted to give this year's tithe to the Tecumseh Hospital. Mrs. Naomi Sallows, Treasurer of the Church, presented the check in a fitting service the following Sunday.

CHAPTER 17

Sixth Planting Involves the Farmers

After Ed Clark had the wheat cleaned and put back in the bins, I. A. Capizzi, Attorney for The Ford Company, wrote to Perry again. He made it clear that the Ford people would not participate with him further in connection with the planting or harvesting of his wheat. He advised Perry that he could have the wheat, without charge, but requested that he immediately make arrangements to remove it from the Ford property.

Perry was "back in the hot soup" again, as he expressed it. He was scheduled to make an appearance in Iowa and attend his Annual Church Meeting in Ohio within a few days, and here was the stupendous job of sacking and moving all this enormous amount of wheat. First, he had to find a place to store it, and then he had to find manpower enough to undertake the big job.

The New York Central Railroad offices at Toledo granted him permission to store the wheat temporarily in their abandoned passenger station in Tecumseh. This made an ideal place for distribution, when the farmers called to pick it up for the fall planting.

The faithful Tecumseh Grange came to the rescue with the labor. Perry offered the Grange $500 to do the work and 4 cents per bushel for the hauling. Master Ernest G. Harris set August 30th as the day to do the job, and they completed it in one great day of community effort.

As many farmers as possible were asked to come directly to the "Froelich farm" for their seed, where the wheat had been stored and was now being sacked by the Grange, in order to save double handling.

The whole plan for distributing the 5,000 bushels of seed, for replanting the sixth crop, looked fine on paper. In fact, it looked so easy that no one could foresee any trouble in getting it out. Everyone seemed enthusiastic and highly endorsed the plan of selling the seed to the farmers at market price, and of having them agree to give a 10% tithe to their own churches. However, when the call went out for the farmers to come for their wheat, they just did not respond in sufficient numbers to indicate whether the seed could ever be distributed in time for the fall planting. Some took only small amounts; others lost interest; still others did not want to be bothered with keeping the records.

Will it be Enough?

John 16:1-15 • Acts 2:1-13 • Acts 2:14-21 • Acts 3:1-10 • Acts 3:11-26 • Acts 4:1-12 • Acts 4:13-22

Scriptures selected by the American Bible Society

Today it's just a skeleton against the sky. But tomorrow people will live in it, and it will become a home. Within its walls, the pattern of life will be carried out.

But will this be enough? As a home, will this house stand or fall as the years pass? Will the people who live in it develop into better, stronger human beings? Or will they acquire selfishness, greed, indifference, conceit?

Remember the foolish man who built his house on sand, only to have the rains wash it away, and the wise man who built his house permanently on a rock? The future of this house—the future of a home—depends upon its foundation.

In the story, the "rock" symbolizes the Church. Those who build their faith upon its foundation will take into their homes the strength to keep them standing, regardless of what life may bring.

GIFT PANORAMA — The unique and fanciful in handicrafted gifts from around the world will be displayed at the Lock, Stock and Barrel boutique, 141 W. Michigan Ave., Clinton, by owners, Mr. and Mrs. Al Vandegriff of Onsted, at their grand opening Saturday and Sunday.

Gift Center Open House

CLINTON —.The grand opening of Clinton's newest gift center, Lock, Stock and Barrell, 141 W. Michigan Ave., will be held Saturday and Sunday.

The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Al Vandegriff, of Kelly Lake, Onsted, have assembled a collection of boutique gifts, including Mexican native crafts, wicker children's chairs, imports from Ecuador and Japan, wrought iron lanterns, paper flowers, imported hand-made dolls, and other collector's items.

The family, which includes two sons, Jay 12, and Hugh 10, moved to the area from California four years ago, and Joan Vandegriff has since become known hereabouts for her own handicrafts. She said she expects she will have little time for her own "thing" because she will be devoting full time to the new venture for the present.

The gift center will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Monday, and from 1 to 5 p.m., Sundays.

St. Dominic's Host Parish Family Picnic

CLINTON — Plans were made for a church picnic to be held Sunday, at the recent meeting of St. Dominic's Altar Society.

The picnic for all parish families will be held, Sunday, with an afternoon potluck dinner. The committee in charge is Mrs. Fred Schultz, Mrs. George Brunner, Mrs. Walter LaSovage, Mrs. William Kroger and Mrs. Leonard Rochowiak.

Attending the potluck dinner meeting last Monday, were 17 members and the Rev. Fr. Leon Kennedy.

Mrs. Joseph Busch was named chairman of a bake sale to be held Saturday, from 9:30 a.m. until noon at Driscol Bros. Motor Sales. There will also be a bakeless bake sale, Aug. 3.

Mrs. Walter LaSovage won the Lucky Lady prize.

The Altar Society recessed until September.

Bruce Grossman Is Honored

CLINTON — Bruce Grossman, a graduate of Clinton High School, June 8, was honored at a reception Sunday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Grossman.

Attending the smorgasbord supper were more than 100 guests, including his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jacob, and George Grossman, Sr., of Manchester; and Kenneth Geiger, godfather, and others from Jackson, Ann Arbor, Grass Lake, Vandercook Lake, Manchester, Chelsea, Tecumseh and Clinton.

Bruce's sisters, Debbie and Kay, and Sylvia Gray assisted with the serving and JoAnn Grossman passed the guest book.

Bruce will attend Michigan Technological University, Houghton.

Adieu "Chips," Clinton Style

CLINTON — Farewell gifts were presented to members of the faculty and staff at the annual luncheon prepared by cafeteria staff members at Clinton Community Schools, last Monday.

Those who are leaving the system are Mrs. William Neblo and Mrs. Casper Powell, retiring; Kathy Person, Mrs. Louis Caterina, Marie Woszczynski, Douglas Decker, Reginald Smith, William T. Hirschlieb, Richard Perkins, all teachers, and Jack Miller, principal.

Tool Thieves Are Plaguing Area Farmers

CLINTON — —Clinton State Police were called to investigate the theft of an estimated $120 worth of small tools from a milk house at the Gerald Thomas farm, 4655 Clinton-Macon Rd., Saturday.

Just three weeks ago, a similar entering of a shop at the neighboring farm, owned by LeRoy Brugger, resulted in the theft of a quantity of tools valued at more than $180.

According to Mrs. Brugger, the thieves apparently knew just what they wanted, leaving an electric drill, and taking wrench and socket sets and a heavy-duty jack. They also discovered their car hood up and doors opened, as if the thieves had attempted to hot-wire the car, and tampered with their pickup, both in the garage.

Just a few days before the Brugger's dog had been injured with what appeared to be a gun shot wound, which left him paralyzed.

It was about the same date three weeks ago, that Gerald Munger, 2170 Munger Rd., Tecumseh, reported a quantity of socket sets and small tools were taken from his property.

Clinton Chatter

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tallman, Sr., and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Tallman, are vacationing for two weeks in the Upper Peninsula, near Moran. Mrs. James Tallman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eddy, and son are spending some time at their cottage there.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Fero have returned from a two weeks' trip to Quereto, Mex., where they attended a family reunion with Mr. Fero's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fero and son, Kelly; another son, Michael, recently discharged from service in Vietnam, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fero of Laurel, Md. This was the first time the whole Fero family has been together in eight years. They are former Tecumseh residents.

√

Mrs. Clarence Follis, who spent last week at home after a month's stay in the hospital, returned to Herrick Memorial Hospital, Friday, for further treatment.

√

Mrs. Viva Riker entertained the visiting members of the class of 1909, who were observing their 60th anniversary of graduation from Clinton High School, Saturday afternoon, at her home. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kemp, Jr., of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hoxie, Adrian; and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Halliday. Later the group attended the alumni banquet at the high school.

√

The Harold Calhouns are still "up in the air" over the novel Father's Day "flight-seeing" trip arranged by their daughters, Mrs. John Seay, Tecumseh, and Pam, of Westland. The whole family, including son, Terry, had a 30-minute astro-jet ride from Metropolitan Airport over Detroit and Windsor, Sunday afternoon. Similar flights are available only for the next two Sundays.

Cleary Graduate

CLINTON — Donald Houghton received his bachelor degree in business administration at Cleary Business University, Ypsilanti, Saturday. He is a shipping-receiving foreman at Hoover Ball and Bearing Co., Manchester.

He plans to continue study on his masters degree. He is a graduate of Plymouth High School. Mr. Houghton resides at 125 W. Church St., with his wife, Mary, and two sons, Gary 7, and Steven 5.

275 Alumni Return For CHS Reunion

CLINTON — Marked by an unusually good attendance of 275 persons, the Clinton Alumni Association held its 92nd annual reunion, Saturday night at Clinton High School.

The roast beef dinner was served by the Macon United Methodist Church members at tables colorfully decorated with bouquets of spring flowers.

Dean Schneirla, president, welcomed the class of 1969. Ronald Hintz, class president, introduced the 14 members of the recent graduation class.

LuAnn Rhoades, '66, sang selections from "My Fair Lady", and Jerry Porter, '69, played a trumpet solo, accompanied by Carolyn Girbach, '65.

Mrs. Henry Louwerens reported for the nominating committee and the following officers were elected:

President — Clarence Heimerdinger, Jr.

Vice-president — Steve Halchisak.

Treasurer — Tracy Zick.

Co-secretaries — Mrs. Milton Grossman, Mrs. Nick Karapas and Mrs. Norman Randall.

Nominating committee — Mrs. John Thomas and Mrs. James Moore.

Master of ceremonies William Warner, '41, of Tecumseh, presented gifts to the oldest member present for the dinner, Mrs. Clara Martiny Connor, '03.

Mrs. Robert Frick, nee JoAnn Ayres, '59, was recognized for coming the greatest distance — from Alaska.

The oldest class, celebrating its 60th anniversary, was introduced with four members present, who had been entertained at an afternoon reunion at the home of Mrs. Viva Riker.

Other classes holding special reunions included the 50-year class, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoyt and the 25-year class hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Grossman.

A late arrival, Mrs. Edith Cotton Smith of Manchester, class of 1894, brought along a copy of the commencement exercises held June 14, 1894, in the Clinton Town Hall. Mr. Warner read the program which recalled many familiar names among the graduates who gave essays and readings and included a song written by Mrs. Smith.

The speaker, "Red" Jones, who was an umpire with National League baseball for 25 years, reminisced about the all-time greats of baseball fame, which he had known, including Bob Feller, Ted Williams, Louis "Bo bo" Newsome, Joe DeMaggio, and others, and answered questions from the audience.

Learn To Swim At County YMCA

ATTENTION BOYS AND GIRLS who do not know how to swim: Again this summer, Adrian Exchange Club and YMCA are co-sponsoring a "Learn to Swim" campaign for all kids in the county who would like to cool off and learn to swim during the FUN recreational-instructional swim periods.

Term will be held June 23 thru 26. Registration fee is 50c per child. The five lessons are free. There is a limit of 30 kids so it is important to send in registration soon.

Summer Fun Club is another project featured by the Y. Hiking, kite flying, overnights, boating and fishing, and canoeing trips are directed by adult and college-age directors and senior high helpers.

Meeting Monday through Thursday for two weeks, it is a good way to begin and end the summer. Sessions are from June 16 to June 26 and August 11 to 21.

Summer Fun Clubbers need only to bring sack lunches and swim suits daily.

For the whole family, summer membership provides all summer swimming, use of the gym, handball and paddleball courts and a number of other activities.

Membership and registrations for swimming and Summer Fun Club can be obtained through the YMCA, 638 W. Maumee St., Adrian. Its "happening" at the Y.

George Roumell, Caterer, Dies

CLINTON — Funeral services were held Wednesday in Detroit, for George T. Roumell, 67, founder and president of Detroit's largest catering company, who died Saturday while dining in a Detroit restaurant.

Besides his brother, Louis Roumell, of Clinton, he is survived by his wife, two sons, and a daughter, two brothers and a sister.

At the time of his death, Mr. Roumell's company held the food concessions for Cobo Hall, Ford Auditorium, the Veterans Memorial Building and several industrial firms, and for 20 years he owned the Latin Quarter in Detroit.

Vandals Get Away

CLINTON — A witness reported to Clinton State Police that he saw someone slash the top of a convertible parked in the alley south of E. Michigan Ave., in downtown Clinton, about 1:30 a.m., Sunday. However, the perpetrators of the vandalism escaped before the witness could get to them. The automobile was owned by Mrs. Richard Dillon, 12705 N. Adrian St.

UCC Congregation Has New Pastor

CLINTON — The new pastor of the United Church of Christ, Lay Minister Earl Lawrence and family moved from Owosso, last week, to the W. Franklin St. parsonage, which has been redecorated for them.

The couple has two sons, Terry 16, and Randy 14, and a daughter, Tina 12.

Mr. Lawrence was born in Dexter, Mo., and graduated from high school in Flint.

For several years he was a tool and die maker at General Motors Institute and in 1968, he received his BA in humanities and psychology at Michigan State University, where he is doing his graduate work in counseling.

EARL LAWRENCE

Mr. Lawrence and his wife, Madeline, have an active interest in working with youth and have served as youth counselors in the Montrose and Flushing areas before serving as a student pastor in the Owosso circuit.

While in Owosso, Mr. Lawrence and a Catholic priest, the Rev. Fr. Loeher initiated an ecumenical youth group called CA in which several hundred young people participated at various times.

As a lay minister, Mr. Lawrence has been granted temporary privileges of the church to perform the sacraments, by the Ann Arbor-Jackson Association of the United Church of Christ.

Last Sunday, while assisting Dr. Frank Stevenson with the worship service, Mr. Lawrence announced the topic for his initiatory sermon, Sunday will be "Christ and Company", and he issued a challenge to each member of the congregation present to bring along five other persons to church next Sunday.

Interim pastors have been supplied by Adrian College since the resignation of the Rev. Paul McKenna in August.

Apprentice Is Congratulated

CLINTON — A buffet luncheon, Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Brugger, honored their son, Richard Brown, who recently completed his apprentice tool and die training at Jackson Community College. He will be employed at Uniloy, Inc. Several relatives and friends attended the reception.

It's A No-No

CLINTON — Seven-year-old Bryan Winder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Winder, 211 Clark St., received injuries to his right eye, when an old firecracker, which he had found and lit, exploded in his face. He was treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Alumni Tickets Still Available For Banquet

Tickets are still available for the Tecumseh Alumni banquet June 21 from the United Savings Bank, Eggleston's Jewelry and Wright's Drug Store at $4 per person.

Coffee hour from 6:30 to 7:30 in the Tecumseh High School Cafeteria followed by a country style chicken dinner, served by the Baptist ladies.

The class of 1939 urges all alumni to get tickets early and to relay the invitation to others who may not have received a personal invitation.

Mrs. Gerald Eaton will play dinner music.

Fireworks for July 4 Scheduled

One of Tecumseh's biggest single attractions will be held here July 4th when the Chamber of Commerce holds its annual fireworks display at the high school athletic field.

Delbert King, Chamber president, reports $500 of fireworks have been purchased for the display, which will get underway at beginning of darkness.

Handling the fireworks and in charge of igniting them will be James Fielder.

Prior to the display, three parachute jumpers will compete for a $25 prize. They will jump onto the football field with the closest coming to a marked spot winning the prize.

Parents are being urged to watch their youngsters closely before and during the display. In the past, some youngsters have lighted sparklers and have narrowly missed burning other spectators when dispensing with the hot wires.

Breakfasts for 1,000

Upwards of a 100 airplanes are expected to fly into Meyers Airport Sunday for the Exchange Club's annual Dawn Patrol.

Most of the festivities will get underway about 7 a.m. when the Exchange begins serving breakfasts in the hangar. The club is set up to serve 1,000 breakfasts, and many Tecumseh and area families have taken advantage of the "husky" ham and egg feast.

Advance — and cheaper — tickets for breakfasts may be purchased from Exchange members.

Sunday will also feature plane rides about Tecumseh and area for local folks.

Some of the planes flying into Tecumseh include the old Meyers OTWs, built here during World War II and as early as 1936.

Proceeds from the Dawn Patrol are used by the Tecumseh Exchange Club for community service projects.

Station Wagon Burns Tuesday

Tuesday Mrs. Carlton Cook had the hottest Pontiac in town. The 1967 station wagon, with Mrs. Cook driving, was traveling north on Evans St near the Brown St. stop light when her car suddenly burst into flames.

The Tecumseh Fire Department was summoned to put out the flames which had completely burned out the electrical wiring and destroyed the air conditioner as well as other power equipment on the vehicle.

The damage was estimated at $1,500 or a complete loss. The exact cause of the fire was undetermined.

'Bon Voyage' Dinner Sunday

A "bon voyage" potluck dinner will be held Sunday at 1:00 p.m. at St. Peter's Episcopal Church for the Rev. and Mrs. Francis Outram.

Mrs. Outram will leave Tecumseh here July 10 for England, in order to attend her son's graduation from college, and the rector will depart on the 20th.

The Rev. Mr. Outram has served as pastor here since last fall while the church's regular pastor, the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, served in England.

Swimmers (brrr)

Seventeen swimmers braved the elements Tuesday afternoon for a dip in the city pool. The number was a disappointment after the biggest days so far this summer when 300 took part in the splashing antics.

A total of 280 youngsters are taking lessons this first session.

Wet, chilly weather is responsible for the off-days. If one were to judge by the number of goose-bumps on 16 swimmers, Tuesday, summer is hopefully just around the corner, a few days late.

DOCTOR'S FAMILY — Dr. Jimmy Mistry, Tecumseh's new obstetrician and gynecologist, started moving Tuesday into his new home at 706 River Acres Dr. A native of India, he will begin his practice here July 1, sharing office facilities with Dr. Larry Burch. Here with him Tuesday were his wife, Marion, and three sons, Jamie, in his arms, and Zubin and Sherwyn, standing.

Teacher-Board Contract Talks in Stalemate

Another stalemate has developed in negotiating a master contract between the Tecumseh School Board and the teachers' association.

The Tecumseh Education Association's negotiating team met with the Board's representatives for approximately two and a half hours Tuesday night and solved only one issue.

Two issues remain on the table but no future negotiation sessions are currently scheduled.

Without approval of a master contract, the Board is unable to officially contract with teachers for the 1969-70 school term. No teacher in the system has a new contract.

Supt. James McDowell reports the two negotiating teams reached an agreement of a modification of the TEA's request to have its president be notified when a teacher is released.

Remaining two issues involve half-salary for teachers on sabbatical leave and furthering their education, and allowing the TEA president release time from his teaching duties to devote to association business. No progress was reported.

Since negotiation session are not open to the public, it's not known whether TEA representatives will stick to their requests that these two issues be included in a master contract.

Since the Board has refused to budge on these issues, it has become quite apparent that a change in mind or a compromise is not forthcoming. This somewhat refutes a general discussion at the Board's regular meeting last week.

If the TEA sways the Board into allowing half-salary for two teachers at a time on sabbatical leave, it could cost the district about $12,000 a year.

Members of the TEA negotiating Tuesday evening were Gary Lovett, TEA president; Jerry Nelson, chief negotiator, and Raeola Laskey. Robert Kelty was absent.

William Raeburn, president-elect, observed the proceedings.

Representing the Board included Supt. McDowell, Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent; Dr. Harold Ocamb and Aden Mead, Board president.

ROSES AND DINNER — There's a certain lady in Tecumseh (she wishes to remain anonymous) who deserves a bunch of roses and an evening out. She came to the rescue of nine-year-old Barry Barnhart, a youngster who had worked and saved for a new bike — only to have it stolen. We have hippies, demonstrators, racists, etc. — and then there are folks like her who will buy a strange boy a new bike and restore faith in people.

New Course Opens July 1

Newest golf course in the area will open here next Tuesday, July 1, when Bill and Frances Porter open their new nine-hole layout to the public — weather permitting.

For two years they've been working on the Raisin Valley Golf Club and usually in the most difficult conditions. Twice, floods have wrecked part of the course and inclement weather this spring has hampered their efforts to put the finishing touches on the greens, fairways and a new lake, being constructed for the ninth hole.

Tecumseh's new course, just outside the southern city limits on Comfort Rd., is an "executive type," short and somewhat tricky.

The course will play to 34 par and measure 2,151 yards, considerably shorter than most nine-hole courses. A second nine, being considered for next year, will be just the opposite — lengthy for the long ball hitters.

Since construction on the course started in 1967, many golfing leagues have expressed interest in holding their play there. Some are expected to begin this summer and others have indicated interest in obtaining dates and times.

Raisin Valley already has a new pro shop and is presently well stocked with golf clubs, balls, bags, sporty clothing and other equipment. Golfers will be able to use the shop's dining area for food and drink.

As most local folks know, the course was constructed on rolly land, just west and adjoining River Raisin. A couple of greens are practically on the banks of the river.

Greens, tees and fairways are completely watered, the first in this area. Some areas of the course, such as a new lake now being put in just in front of the ninth green, are still in the developing stage, but are not expected to hamper those playing the course.

While the men's course will measure 2,151 yards, the ladies' will play from the white tees and at 1,929 yards. Both the ladies and men will play at 34 par, with seven par fours and two par threes.

This is the first golf course development here in several years. The last was when the Tecumseh Country Club expanded from nine to 18 holes. Just before this, the Macon Golf Club built nine holes.

Both the country club and Macon are heavily played.

Less than two years ago, Clay and Chris Greenwald started construction on a driving range, about four miles west of Tecumseh on M-50. They included a putting course plus a large green for participants using the range.

McCarty's Market B&E Is Charged To Young Boys

Six youngsters, possibly eight, were involved in a breaking and entering last Thursday night at McCarty's Market on W. Chicago Blvd.

Gary Greene, investigating Tecumseh police officer, says the boys entered the market by pushing in a rear basement window fan.

Police have recovered 46 cans of beer, and Dick McCarty, owner, discovered another 20 cans along a bank of nearby Evans Creek.

Four of the juveniles reportedly have admitted entering the building and stealing the beer Tuesday. They sought the beer in hopes of selling it.

SPORTY PRO SHOP — Frances and Bill Porter are justly proud of their new pro shop and golf course, which will open next Tuesday. Mrs. Porter here has loaded the shop with golf's finest — pro-type clubs, balls and bags, plus stylist golf clothing for men and women. Green fees will be only $1.75 and pull carts are available. Food and beverage will be served in the opposite end of the new building from the pro shop.

New Bike, Big Grin for Barry

A purple sting-ray bicycle was nine-year-old Barry's first real long shot in life.

To Barry Barnhart of 616 Chiago Blvd., the happiness of summer vacation was centered around a purple sting-ray bicycle. Barry lives with his mother, Mary, a hairdresser at Evel's Coiffures and sister, Sherry, five, and brother, Mike, three. His father is gone.

He bought the bicycle himself from money he received for his birthday, Christmas and earned at various odd jobs. He saved and kept wishing for his purple dream. Two months ago it came true.

Then it happened, two weeks ago, someone stole the bike and the smile from the face of a nine-year-old. Every morning and night he looked for it, but it was nowhere to be found. Every morning he expected it to be returned, but it never was. Many tears were shed over a purple sting-ray.

Last week, his aunt, Sherry Henning, wrote a letter that was published in The Herald. Several people read the letter and offered to buy the bicycle of Barry's dream to replace the one that was stolen.

Monday he was reunited with his two-wheeled purple dream. Barry's long shot. It was quite an accomplishment for a nine-year-old and several people admired him for it and were not about to let him down.

The new bicycle is a purple sting-ray with all the trimmings and a padlock to keep it a little more safe.

There was more restored Monday than a bicycle, things like a smile to the face of a little boy and faith in people returned to a nine-year-old and his mother.

Complex Plans Are Criticized

Tecumseh's Planning Commission Wednesday of last week rejected a plan for an apartment-single dwelling complex in Goodacre Gardens by Ernest Oliver, local businessman.

In a statement regarding the plan, the Commission reported:

"Recognizing the trend toward and need for multiple family construction in the City of Tecumseh, the Planning Commission generally agreed that Mr. Oliver's request, while it has merits in meeting these needs, cannot be considered favorably without being part of a well-planned community involving the total area under construction.

"It is felt that this type of mixed housing could be considered favorably if planned using the planned neighborhood guidelines."

Planning consultants for Tecumseh had concluded that the proposed re-zoning request — a change of about 19 acres from residential to multiple dwelling — —was contrary to sound planning practices and differed with the development guidelines, as established in the city' future land use plan.

Six points were given by the consultants in their disagreement.

Prior to the Commission's meeting last week, Council had set a public hearing for a zoning change on July 7. At this hearing, Council may accept or ignore the Commission's recommmendation concerning the zoning change.

Mr. Oliver's overall plan includes a $1 to $2 million construction program for 46 acres, just north of Burt St. Two Toledo builders and one from Detroit are involved.

The plan involves a series of apartment buildings, surrounded by single dwelling houses. Two streets into the area off Burt St. are planned for traffic.

Mr. Oliver and Joseph Conklin, local attorney, own the site.

In other action at the Commission's meeting, the planners voted to work with their consultants on the development of planned neighborhood areas in the city.

Next scheduled session is Sept. 9.

DEFT FINGERS — Evel Garrido, couture designer of Exclusives Evel-Dean demonstrates still another talent, hair-styling, in his new enterprise, Evel's Coiffures, which is now open at 128 E. Chicago Blvd.

Mrs. Goller Honored; Family Moving East

At the June meeting the American Legion Auxiliary honored Mrs. Larry Goller with a potluck dinner and small gift before she and her family move to the eastern states where Mr. Goller has been transferred by the Tecumseh Products Company.

Mrs. Charles Howe and her nominating committee submitted the following slate of officers which were accepted and will be installed at the September meeting: President, Mrs. Truman Rentschler; first vice-president, Mrs. Byron Goodman; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lamar Rufner; historian, Mrs. Larry Kanous; chaplain, Mrs. Roger Williams; executive board member, Mrs. Vern Manwaring; and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge.

Mrs. Rentschler and Mrs. Clarence Natterstad were elected delegates to attend the American Legion Convention in Detroit July 17, 18, 19 and 20 and Mrs. Louis Schneider and Mrs. Charles Howe were elected as alternates.

The membership voted to donate $5 to the Cancer Fund and $10 towards decorating the Escort Volunteer Rooms at the Veterans Hospital. Members were requested to donate something more valuable — TIME. Anyone able to go to VA Hospital the second Thursday of the month, please contact the president and she will inform them of the arrangements to be made. The Charter was draped in honor of Mrs. R. K. Anderson, a recently deceased charter member of Underwood-Orr No. 34.

Friday evening at 8 p.m., June 27, at the American Legion Home Building the Auxiliary will be hostess for the convention delegates and alternates. Mrs. Clarence Natterstad will be refreshment chairman.

32 Gather For Anniversary

Thirty-two friends and relatives gathered Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Johnston, 114 N. Oneida St., to help with the 35th wedding anniversary of the couple.

A potluck cookout highlighted the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston have three children, Richard Johnston and Mrs. Ernest Jeschke of Adrian and Vicki at home and four grandchildren.

Doris Munger and Ronald Johnston were married June 23, 1934, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Munger, in Clinton. The Mungers were present for the party and celebrated their own 57 anniversary this spring.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. ALBERT JONES

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. (same time as Tecumseh's) at the McComb and Son Funeral Home in Fort Wayne, Ind., for Mrs. Albert Jones, the former Martha Jane Kempf who died Tuesday at a hospital there.

She had been in ill health for 10 months.

Mrs. Jones, 41, was born March 8, 1928, in Tecumseh, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kempf, 319 N. Maiden Lane.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Charlene Bhonke and Rebecca Jones; three sons, Robert, Thomas and Scott, all of Fort Wayne.

A brother, Theodore, of Cheyenne, Wyo., and her parents also survive.

The funeral home is at 1140 Lake Ave., Ft. Wayne and burial will be there in the city.

Shower Honors Saturday Bride

Mrs. Charles O. Butler, Mrs. Frank Purcell, Mrs. Karl Schneider, Sr., and Mrs. Jens Touborg entertained at a luncheon and recipe shower at Tecumseh Country Club June 12 for Cathy Brown who will be married to Russell Blanden Saturday, June 28, at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Safety Award Presented City

Tecumseh is one of 23 Michigan communities receiving Pedestrian Safety citations in the 29th annual AAA National Pedestrian Safety Program.

The citation is awarded to cities competing in the program which record no traffic fatalities for at least one year, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. There have been no pedestrian deaths in Tecumseh for the past four years.

In addition to the no-death requirement, cities must have an effective pedestrian education program.

Plaques will be presented by Automobile Club of Michigan to all cities winning awards in this year's competition at times to be announced later.

Barbara Carson Is New President

TIPTON — The Franklin Hobby Club met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Reed with a potluck dinner served to 11 members and two guests. Election of officers was held.

New officers are:

President — Barbara Carson.

Secretary - treasurer — Mrs. Walter Bale.

Barbara Carson brought items of interest.

Next Wednesday at 1 p.m., the club will tour Hidden Lake Gardens.

Two poems were read by Mrs. Howard Luce and Harriet Gleason.

Some members modeled hats made last month. They also discussed a display at the fair.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Richard Eisenminger.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD JOHNSTON

Gail Murdock-Robert Bennett are United in Marriage

Gail Murdock and Robert Bennett, Jr., were united in marriage June 14 in the St. Peter's Episcopal Church in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Francis Outram, exchange priest from England, and the Rev. Fr. Melvin Blanchett, a Roman Catholic priest from Livonia.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Donald C. Williams, 822 Waskin Dr., and Sherry Murdock of Britton.

Mr. Murdock gave his daughter in marriage. Her attendants were Mrs. Ned Rosacrans, matron of honor, Mrs. James Campbell, the bride's sister, and others from Livonia. Ned Rosacrans served as an usher.

"To the best of my knowledge, this is the first time in the history of St. Peter's Church that a Roman Catholic priest has taken part in a wedding here," the Rev. Russell Cooper stated.

"We hope this will aid in our relationship with the Roman Church," he continued. "We are happy to see this ecumenical action within the church."

Couple Wed In Bride's Home

A dinner-reception at Bauer Manor, Evans Lake, followed the June 20 wedding of Margie P. Parrett and Victor Terry Lawson.

The service was read by the Rev. Malcolm MacCubbin of Westminster Presbyterian Church, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald N. Parrett, 4995 Maple Dale Rd., Jackson. Mr. Lawson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor D. Lawson, 7338 Billmyer Hwy.

The attendants were Linda Gilbert of Kalamazoo and Ronald A. Lawson, brother of the groom.

The bride chose a daytime dress of white crepe and lace and she carried a nosegay of white rosebuds.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will reside in Kalamazoo, where they will resume studies for their senior year at Western Michigan University. They will reside on campus.

The bride is a graduate of Jackson High School, and the groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Nancy Mead received her bachelor of arts degree at Eastern Michigan University, June 14, in elementary education. She is a member of Cappa Delta Pi, an honorary scholastic society and Alpha Xi Delta, social sorority. She is a graduate of Tecumseh High School. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Aden Mead, 128 W. Brown St.

TIPTON — Tipton Grange will meet Friday, June 27, for a cooperative supper at 7:30. Election of officers will be held and a program will be presented.

Kristina Bowls To Scholarship

Kristina Schmitz won a $500 scholarship and will represent Michigan in the All-America Youth Bowling Championships in Washington, D. C., Aug. 1-4.

The Tecumseh High School June graduate is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schmitz, of Crestview Dr.

Mrs. Ronald Barrett is her bowling instructor.

Miss Schmitz finished highest of any senior girl in the state singles and All-American Youth Eliminations.

She entered the tournament with 142 average, rolled games of 155-167-123-128-209-157 for a total of 929 pinfall.

She received 276 pins in handicap for a grand total of 1205.

Her trip to Washington is expense-paid and will give her the opportunity to try for the $21,000 in scholarships to be awarded winners of the national event, sponsored by the National Bowling Association.

The winner of the state singles bowling championship has been accepted at the Hamilton Business College in Ann Arbor for the fall term.

Those bowling with Kristina on a team in the state competition in April are Connie Anderson, Vicki Raymond and Vivian Williams. The girls were accompanied by their parents and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cunningham, owners of the Airport Bowl. The team is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The Underwood-Orr Post sponsors a boys team.

KRISTINA SCHMITZ

Couple Attend Midwest Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Strong attended the Midwest Field Trip of the Federation of Mineralogical and Geological Society in Murdo, S. D., recently. The couple were delegates from the Stateline Gem and Mineral Society and were presented a merit award for the Club's outstanding activities during the year.

They attended the luncheons and banquets but Mrs. Strong said that most specimens were found by trading or swapping since the weather was so rainy there.

Mrs. C. B. Brock Entertains Club

Mrs. C. B. Brock entertained nine members of the Board of the Monday Club at her home Tuesday afternoon to plan programs for the club year of 1969-70.

The annual tea to be held in September will be at the home of Mrs. E. J. Aebersold.

The fall luncheon will be Oct. 6 at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Brock served cake, coffee and tea.

Dr. Freeman Heads Rotary

About 60 Rotarians and wives gathered at the Country Club Tuesday evening for dinner and the changing of officers.

Dr. Fred Freeman assumed the duties of president with other officers.

The SPEBSQSA Chorus presented music and songs with audience participation for the amusement of the members and their guests.

Paul Roekle was program chairman.

Sidney Arams will present Sgt. Robert Howard of the Lenawee County Sheriff's Lake Patrol at the July 1 meeting.

"Gypsy" Opens Season July 3

By BILL SANFORD

Peg Geiger of Clinton will be in the lead role of Rose July 3 when the Croswell Summer Repertory Theatre orchestra strikes up the opening refrains of one of the most tuneful and nostalgic plays to open on Broadway, "Gypsy", written by Arthur Laurents with lyrics by Stephen Sondheim and music scored by Jule Styne. The musical is a composite of the last fading years of vaudeville on the American scene. Performances are held in the Croswell Opera House in Adrian.

Styne and Sondheim created a score that was fresh and imaginative, this was during a stretch when the American theatre saw some of its best musicals, all running at the same time up and down the Great White way. "My Fair Lady", "West Side Story" and "Gypsy".

Along with Mrs. Geiger in the cast is another local talent familiar with the Tecumseh Players, J. Craig Collicott, of Jackson. Collicott, who has been studying drama at Siena Heights College, has directed and acted before the local footlights.

Mrs. Geiger will be remembered as Annie Oakley in the Players' "Annie Get Your Gun'. Darcy Snyder of Clinton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snyder, is also in the cast. Mrs. Geiger is re-creating the role she performed a couple of years ago at Clark Lake.

Collicott plays Herbie, the eager, whom Gypsy's mother (Rose) convinces to handle their vaudeville act. Baby June, Gypsy Rose Lee's sister, (June Havoe), is played by Ann Smith, 10 years Wentz of Adrian, Baby Louise, is plyaed by Ann Smith, 10 years old and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith also of Adrian. Deborah Schrock of Eaton Rapids is June and Diane Frank of Cleveland, Louise, in their teens.

Some of the hits that came out of the original musical were "Everything's Coming Up Roses", "Small World", "Wherever You Go", "You'll Never Get Away From Me", and "All I Need Is the Girl".

Of all the musicals to open on Broadway, "Gypsy" received probably the best reviews in many a year. Typical of its reception before the big four, was Walter Kerr, then critic on old New York Herald Tribune, when he published a rave review with a six-column head, "Gypsy—Best D . . . Musical Ever." Quite a compliment for the oft-venomous Mr. Kerr.

Later when he joined the New York Times and lectured on drama around the country, it was "Gypsy" that he would point to as one of the all-time greats.

Performances of the musical will be July 3, 4, 5 and 6 with three dates scheduled later in July and August.

The direction of the play is under Glenn Harbaugh of the theatre department of Adrian College. This will be the second season for the renovated Croswell Opera House summer theatre.

The other plays to be produced this season will be "The Odd Couple" by Neil Simon, "Inherit the Wind" by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee and "Don't Drink the Water", by Woody Allen.

Season subscription price is being offered to patrons as well as season passes to performances to those people who purchase a membership in the Croswell Opera House Association.

Nancy Swaney received her bachelor of science degree in education from Eastern Michigan University June 14. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Swaney, 202 N. Wyandotte. Nancy was on the dean's list every semester and was affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She was chosen for Adabi, one of the 20 outstanding women in her class. Her parents and sister, Kay, and Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Dickinson and Tom, attended commencement ceremonies.

"What We Preach" Candidate's Topic

"What We Preach" is the topic to be used Sunday by the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins at the First Presbyterian Church as he candidates to serve as minister during the worship service at 9:30 a.m.

The scripture lesson will be taken from I Corinthians 1:21-23.

A congregational meeting will be held immediately following the service.

Bible School Ends with Review

MACON—Friday evening the closing of eight days of Vacation Bible School was reviewed.

The processional hymn: "Holy, Holy, Holy"

Rev. Edwin Mueckler gave the invocation. The older children chanted The Venite. The Nicene Creed was recited by the older children. The smaller children gave the doxology and sang "Let Them Learn of Jesus", and "I Am Trusting Thee, Lord Jesus".

The entire congregation repeated the Lord's Prayer, The Apostle's Creed.

Closing with the singing "O God of Mercy, God of Might".

Rev. Mueckler pronounced the benediction.

Refreshments were served and a tour of the various displays were viewed.

Mrs. George Green, Sr., is recovering from a broken upper arm and hip at Herrick Memorial Hospital. She was injured in a fall at her home June 11. Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Jr., have returned to Pentwater after spending some time here last week.

Anne and Gregg Curran are spending this week at Lake Louise Baptist Camp at Boyne Falls. Anne is a counselor this year.

Big Bang-up Ends Camp Fire Year

Mrs. Jorge Galindo's Blue Birds of Ridgeway finished up the year with a bang! After marching in the Tecumseh Safety Day Parade, 11 of the girls became Camp Fire Girls on June 3. The new Camp Fire Girls emerging from the Macon United Methodist Church include Jamie Browne, Maureen Galindo, Lisa Goll, Kathy Harris, Karen Kapnick, Coleen Kopka, Suzanne Long, Wendy Moore, Pam Palmer, Suzanne Sanchez, and Susan Wegner.

"Big Sisters" from Mrs. Russell Cadmus' fifth and sixth grade group assisted them in tying their Camp Fire ties for the first time. Mrs. Galindo was awarded a tie from Tuckabatchee Council director, Mary Hansen, to signify she is a specially trained Blue Bird leader.

The girls enjoyed a trip to Bob-Lo Island in Detroit June 14 which was won during the Council candy sale when the girls sold an average of 36 boxes each.

Misses Goll, Browne, Wegner and Galindo attended the Day Camp at Camp Tuckabatchee in Adrian the week of June 16 with their assistant, Mrs. Richard Birdwell, camp counselor.

Friday, Mrs. William Mason, Mrs. Dennis Goll, Mr. and Mrs. Jorge Galindo and family and Nancy and John Birdwell attended a program at the camp in which the girls showed what they had learned during the week.

Chicken Dinner

Macon Troop 276 Boy Scouts will have a charcoal chicken broil dinner June 28 at the VFW Hall in Tecumseh.

Serving begins at 4 until all are finished. Children under 14 can eat all they want for $1. Adults are $1.75. The group will also have carry-out service.

Area Youth Attend Workshop

Four area youth represented Lenawee County at the "Economics and You" workshop which was held on the Michigan State University campus June 11-14.

Robin Anderson of Blissfield, Charles Cole of Sand Creek, Martha Osburn and Barbara Vincent of Tipton were included.

This new pilot program was designed to acquaint youth with the impact of economics on their lives and to develop skills to lead others in the economic project, according to William Walter, Extension 4-H Youth Agent and included trips to the Oldsmobile plant, radio station WJIM, Schafer Bakers, MSU Food Stores and the MSU Brody dormitory complex.

Another 4-H sponsored program being held the same week was Youth Week. Meetings and discussions with the theme, "the world needs youth" were presented primarily for "getting acquainted".

Area youth who took part were Connie Irwin, Nancy Pitcairn, Sally and Nancy Vreeland, and Dan Bush of Britton, Lori Brown of Tecumseh. Also included was IFYE student from Ceylon, Dharamawardhana Rajapaksa.

The students had free time to meet others from all over the state and to enjoy the campus.

Further 4-H developments on June 10 gave Martha Osburn and Ray Gentz of Onsted membership in the State 4-H Service Club.

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Herald Society Editor

Happy Birthday, Tecumseh! It was on June 26, 1824, that Musgrove Evans registered the completed plat of ground for the town at the county office in Monroe. Four pieces of land marked "Public Ground" were registered that day, donated by the Tecumseh Company. They are the present post office site, the public library grounds, Elliott Park and the city hall land.

Clara Waldron remarks in her book, "that none still serves the original intention" indicates the ever-changing interpretation of the "public good".

Someone else remarked that "a lot of water has gone over the dam in the past 145 years" since Mr. Evans and his friends decided to name the community for the Shawnee Indian chief, one of nature's noblest specimen of a red man.

Better read that book, "One Hundred Years — A Country Town". It's fascinating.

√

Mrs. Percy Bowen entertained employees of the Post Office and their families Sunday for a cook-out at her Wamplers Lake cottage. Dinner was completed just before the rain and those attending, about 40, enjoyed the fireplace, cards and games inside.

√

Mrs. Sally Pope entertained a large group of classmates Sunday for a boating, swimming, ski party Sunday at her Sand Lake cottage for the pleasure of her son, Ed, a member of the 1969 THS graduating seniors.

The Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee are back at their own home on N. Maiden Lane after a rush trip home from Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Don Brazee had flown down to accompany them home and to see her father, Walter Frey, who was hospitalized in Eustis. They did visit Mr. Frey on Tuesday evening, finding him much improved and recuperating from two serious operations. His death the following morning was unexpected.

√

Mr. and Mrs. William Steele, Jr., and family were in Evanston, and Santa Claus, Ind., last week, following a visit on Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. William Brandstadt, Jeff and Jill, of Lima, O. As soon as they arrived home they met the plane at Metropolitan Airport bringing Mrs. Betty Bergman of Vermillion, S. D., a friend of many years of Mrs. Steele. "Real fine timing, eh?"

√

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cornell moved last week to their new mobile home at Lee Villa Motor Court after selling their River Acres place to Dr. and Mrs. Jimmy Mistry.

Mrs. C. O. Baily and Mrs. Blair Bashore are at the Michigan Baptist Association Women's Conference at Grass Lake this week. Mrs. Llewellyn Sisson and Mrs. Richard Carter were there Wednesday.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt were called to Lockport, N. Y., last week by the death of her sister's husband, Rymond E. Griffin. Services were held Tuesday morning and the Hunts returned to Tecumseh late that night. While they were away, their daughter, Mrs. Charles Anderson of Ypsilanti, stayed in the home with her brother, Cortland.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McConnell of Mason arrived Wednesday to visit his mother, Mrs. E. H. McConnell, who is recovering rapidly at the hospital from a heart problem. Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell are expected the latter part of the week from Burnsville, Minn., where they have been visiting a son, Larry.

√

Mrs. Maude L. Creger accompanied her grandson, Gene Creger, and his family to Tipton Sunday to attend the Handy family reunion, which was held at the home of Mrs. Creger's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Handy, and family. There was a large attendance. The reunion will be held at the same place on the third Sunday in June, 1970.

Koselka Fights Marsh Decision

Prosecutor Harvey Koselka has filed a brief with the Supreme Court of Michigan appealing a lower court order reversing a murder indictment against a former Tecumseh resident, Fred Marsh.

Marsh, who was indicted 25 years ago in the death of Herman Burger of Adrian, has served since 1944 in the state prison at Jackson.

Marsh's attorney, James Beardsley, was notified two weeks ago of Koselka's appealing of the decision to the state's highest court.

Currently Marsh is serving a term for a conviction he received in Detroit while on parole. That term in prison ends in a few months.

It is not known at this time whether or not Marsh will be freed at the end of the term which he is now serving. No precedence has been found for such a case and it's reported no actual disposition will be made until he has finished serving his present term.

Marsh was an itinerate laborer at the time he allegedly killed Burger. The late Circuit Judge G. Arthur Rathbun at that time accepted a plea of guilty of murder in the first degree.

Beardsley has contended, and been upheld by the appellate court, that he had not been informed of his constitutional rights and therefore was denied the right to confess to the lesser crime, murder in the second degree. No premeditation was ever proved against Marsh in the original trial or a later trial granted by the supreme court.

If it were upheld that he was guilty of second degree murder, the maximum sentence he would have received is 15 years. He has, Beardsley contends, served his time.

Since he has by now served 25 years in prison the question of whether or not Fred Marsh will go free in a few months at the end of his sentenee, still unknown from both Koselka's and Beardsley's point of view.

New Rules FDA Lists

New rules were listed in the Food and Drug Administration regulations on May 17 which revised the labeling of antibiotics and withdrawal periods necessary prior to slaughter of food-producing animals.

The county extension office was informed of these changes:

Injectable antibiotics not now permitted in food-producing animals:

- Chlortetracycline and tetracycline products.
- Chloramphenicol and basitracin products.
- Penicillin in oil or wax.
- Benzathine penicillin preparations.
- Penicillin G hydriodide and Chloroprocaine penicillin O preparations.

The extension agents say that although some of these may still be left on the shelves of veterinary supply sources, livestock men should not use them and should consult a veterinarian for advice on suitable alternative drugs. Be sure to read the withdrawal statement on the label.

New Alumni

TIPTON — Mr. and Mrs. Latham Dewey held an open house June 15 for the pleasure of their son, John, a 1969 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

A buffet dinner was served to approximately 65 relatives and friends from Port Huron, Holly, Adrian, Tecumseh and Clinton.

Robert Wilt Earns Degree

Robert L. Wilt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilt, graduated from Ferris State College with a bachelor of science degree in accounting. At the present, he is employed as an auditor for the Bendix Corporation in South Bend, Ind.

A family open house was given last Saturday in his honor. Bob's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon (Ruth) Lee, sister and brother-in-law, and Joanne Langham attended commencement ceremonies last Sunday.

Hunt Reunion Held

The 43rd annual reunion of William and Harriott Hunt was held Sunday at the Lenawee School Services with 32 in attendance.

A chicken potluck dinner was served.

Farrell Jarrett conducted the business meeting with no births or deaths reported and five marriages.

Mrs. Robert Hunt read the secretarys report.

Election of officers was held with Robert Hunt as the new president; Bernard Wolcott, vice-president and Mrs. Jim Gr secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Russell Loveland agr to be responsible for the flow for the graves of William Harriott.

Each family is to bring an to-date history of their famil be placed in a history book year.

The meeting was adjour and the remainder of the spent socially.

The reunion will be held year on the fourth Sunday June at 1 p.m. at the same pla

In Gaylord For Graduation

Myrna Tingley traveled to Gaylord for her grandson, Brett Baird's graduation from Gaylord High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Baird, nee Nancy Tingley.

Mrs. Baird, daughter, Laura, and Irene Oberdorf, a German exchange student who is residing with the Bairds, returned for a week's stay with Mrs. Tingley. Their visit coincided with Mrs. Baird's 25th graduation anniversary to which Mr. Baird accompanied her.

Richard Reunion Attracts Seventy

The 54th annual Richard Reunion was held Sunday at the IOOF Hall on Green Hwy., with 70 relatives and guests coming from Fort Wayne, Ind., Lima and Lyons, O.; Morenci, Jasper, Onsted, Saline, Clinton, Parma, Rives Junction, Lansing and Garden City.

A potluck dinner at noon was followed by pony rides and games for the children while the adults reminisced and visited.

No decision was made as to where the reunion would be held next year. Pop, ice cream and cake were served before those attending left for their homes.

Annual Picnic Held June 23

The annual picnic of the Business and Professional Woman's Club was held June 23, at the cottage of Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger at Vineyard Lake.

Twenty-two women enjoyed a potluck dinner, with the meat furnished by the hostess.

Mrs. Albert Todd gave the devotions.

A short meeting was held with the new president, Mrs. Ruettinger, presenting her plans for the coming year.

A letter from the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council was read, thanking the club for its contribution in sending a girl to camp.

Lois Watson was in charge of the program, with everyone telling of her plans for the summer, real or fictional.

The Club closed for the summer recess with group singing.

Visit Kellogg's

Girl Scout Troop 100 recently took a trip to the Battle Creek Kellogg Center. The scouts were driven to Jackson by their leaders, Mrs. Carl Albaugh, Mrs. Howard Kronberg and Mrs. Allan Barrett.

They boarded a train at Jackson for Battle Creek where they toured the Kellogg cereal plant.

Dawn Patrol Is Sunday

Dawn Patrol planes are expected to start landing about 6:30 a.m., Sunday at Meyers Airport. Pilots and early risers will find scrambled eggs and ham, sweet rolls and butter, orange juice or tomato juice, milk or coffee, ready to eat at 7 a.m.

For those who want to get a bird's-eye view of the Tecumseh area, airplane rides will be available. For the "rather stay on the ground" people there will be Stage Coach and Wagon rides. Robby Robbins and the Nomads will entertain those who would "rather sit and listen".

Airplane buffs may see a "live" broadcast from the Airport Hangar starting at 9 a.m., with a master of ceremonies from radio station WTEN-FM, Adrian.

Advanced sale tickets for the breakfast will be on sale thru Saturday at 25c off the regular price, at Garno's Barber Shop or from any Exchange Club member.

Exchange Club committee suggest: "Have breakfast with all your friends at the Dawn Patrol this coming Sunday morning."

Go Bob-Lo'ing

Tipton Campfire Girls, Mary Manley, Sharon Jones, Sheryl Bater, Teresa Miller, Lori Gamber, Becky Buell, Shelley Thompson and Darlene Whelan accompanied by Mrs. Leroy Bater, Mrs. Wesley Whelan, sponsors, and Mrs. Ray Buell enjoyed a fun-filled day at Bob-Lo Island. The highlight of the trip was a boat ride to and from the island.

Top Salesmen At Conference

James Freckelton and John Sussex, representatives of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will be in St. Charles, Ill., Friday for a business conference with officials of the company at the Pheasant Run Hotel.

Mr. Freckelton, 124 Brown St., and Mr. Sussex, 1301 Southwestern, had exceptional sales and service records last year, and are among the top-ranking members of Metropolitan's staff of 30,000 field representatives in the United States and Canada.

Love; Nets; Racquets

Adult tennis lessons will be given at the Tecumseh tennis courts behind the library every Thursday afternoon from 3-5 p.m.

The instructor for the lessons will be Bruce Campbell, Adrian High School tennis coach. Classes are limited in size to any adult or high school student.

More information may be obtained by calling Mr. Campbell at 265-6641 or by going to the tennis courts at 1 p.m. Thursday.

Dunbars Fete Daughter, Diana

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dunbar held an open house at their home on W. Logan St. June 8, for their daughter, Diana, who graduated from Tecumseh High School that day.

The home was decorated in the class colors of dark green and white and featured a large vase of green and white giant mums.

Guests were registered by Elizabeth Henson, Diana's aunt. Her cousins Vicki and Rita Loar, of Delta, O., Melinda Bishop of Adrian and her sister, Darlene, served from the dining table which was covered with a hand-embroidered linen cloth made by Mrs. Mamie Henson, Diana's grandmother.

Refreshments featured a large decorated cake, baked by Mrs. Delbert Dunbar, paternal grandmother.

Diana received many nice gifts and congratulations from friends and relatives from Tecumseh, Adrian, Onsted, Blissfield, Clinton, Lyons, Delta, Sylvania, Toledo, Lima and Swanton, O.

Diana is employed as a secretary at All Metals, Inc., in Adrian.

County Mishaps Claim 3 Victims

Although Lenawee County had more than its share of recent traffic accidents — two of which involved three fatalities — Tecumseh streets were comparatively quiet.

Local police investigated just one mishap, a rarity for a week's period in the city.

This accident occurred Monday on N. Evans St., at Ottawa when Carma L. Allshouse, 16, of 5741 Sheppard Rd., Adrian, made a left turn in front of Gail A. Hohenstein, 17, of 915 Red Mill Dr.

Both drivers were headed south on the one-way street when Miss Allshouse, injured slightly in the mishap, attempted a turn. She was cited for an improper turn.

Both automobiles were towed away by wreckers.

One of Sunday's traffic deaths, occurring about 12 miles west of Tecumseh on M-50, was 11-year-old Jerry Agosta of Onsted. The fourth grade pupil was a passenger in an auto driven by Edward Rollins, 16, of Birmingham.

Rollins and two other passengers, David Deutschman, 14, Onsted, and David Kelley, 14, Adrian, were taken to Herrick Hospital.

Young Rollins suffered cuts and bruises; Deutschman, lacerations, bruises, broken right leg; and Kelly, cuts and bruises. The Adrian boy was treated and released.

Other fatality in the same mishap was Mrs. Charles Bobo of Jackson. Her husband suffered severe injuries in the collision and was transferred from Herrick to St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Funeral services for the Onsted lad were held Wednesday at St. Joseph's Shrine in the Irish Hills. Internment was in the church's cemetery.

Third area traffic victom Sunday was Arthur Dorfe, 56, of rural Brooklyn. He was killed in a headon collision with Bruce Howard of Adrian in Woodstock Township at the Penn-Central railroad crossing.

Vacation School Goes Over Big

An average daily attendance of 400 children participated in the Vacation Bible School last week at the Adrian Church of God, many of them from Tecumseh.

The theme was "The Church That Jesus Built" with Tom Craig, chairman of the committee, assisted by Lester Allen, minister, Bernice Strickland, Calvin Lolly, Curtis Green, Jr., and Bobby Bacus.

A program Saturday evening climaxed the school activities.

Awards were presented to Betty Carter, Kim Avery, Junior Gerth and John Scott for bringing the most visitors.

Members of the church school officers invite interested persons to attend any of the regular services Sundays — Bible Study at 10 a.m., worship at 11 a.m., and devotional at 6 p.m., followed by worship at 6:30 p.m. Bible Study is held Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Indians 14 TPW 2

In a game shortened to 5½ innings under Pony League rules, due to the score, Indian pitcher, Brian DesErmia, teamed up with catcher, Dan Gunder, to pick up his first league win of the year by striking out 13 TPW batters, while allowing only 2 hits and 2 runs.

Starter, Dave Biscupski, along with six other TPW pitchers, hampered by a drizzling rain, gave up 14 runs by allowing 6 hits and issuing 15 free passes. Tom Tilton caught the entire game.

Mike Eggleston, Brian DesErmia and Dan Gunder picked up RBI's for the Indians while Dave Biscupski and Keven Osburn got hits and scored runs for TPW.

Al Schaffer, TPW's centerfielder played an outstanding game as he pulled in a couple of long drives off Indian bats. Indian shortstop, Terry Pearson, checked off an early TPW rally with a third out over the shoulder catch in short left field.

TPW pitchers had a combined total of 5 strikeouts.

Won Ci Ku Girls Have Cook-out

The Won Ci Ku Camp Fire Girls met Wednesday, June 11, at the home of their assistant leader, Mrs. James Thomas, for a cook-out and nature hike. The afternoon was devoted to working on the requirements for the "Fagot Finders" — the first in the Outdoors Program for Camp Fire Girls.

These basic skills of outdoor living will prepare the girls for more difficult camping tasks ahead. Bird, tree, and wild flower identification was stressed, with special emphasis on how to use various field-guide books by the beginning "Naturalist".

Next activity of the group will be to attend the Tuckabatchee Day Camp on Lake Adrian, June 23-27. There will be a cook-out, an overnight and a field trip to Hidden Lake Gardens in store for the girls. Other activities and field trips are being planned by the girls throughout the summer. Among those from Macon area attending Day Camp at Lake Adrian are Judy Thomas, Sherry Hover, Melinda Bortel, Meg and Debbie Moore.

By LINDA YOUNG

The playgrounds got off to a slow start last week. Rainy weather prevented some of the playgrounds from opening on Wednesday. But on Thursday everyone was ready for fun and games. With only two days left during "Get Acquainted Week", the children made name tags, met old and new friends and played under the supervision of the girls in charge of the playgrounds.

At Shady Lane, Kay Gove and Diane Lake led the children in a coloring contest. The young artists were so good that a winner could not be determined, so a paint set was awarded to every person. The children also made purses from paper plates and a kickball game was played on Friday, with the boys defeating the girls, 9 to 7.

Sylvia Steele, in charge of the group at West Branch, and Sue and Carol Allen at Tecumseh Acres, entertained their gangs with crafts and coloring books.

At Herrick Park where Debbie Swift and Marsha Perrin reign, a contest was held for the best name tag made. Mary Ann Warner received the award for the most unique name tag.

Sherry Dicks and Dulce Robinson, at Patterson, tried something a little different last week. About 20 children participated in stunts such as the duck walk, the measuring worm, and the dog trot. Debbie Hamilton did a very good job on all the stunts, as did Judy McVay.

Mothers are reminded of the picnics every Friday. The children are to bring their own lunches; kool-aid will be furnished by the playground girls.

The Craft Center began Wednesday, but due to the weather, only a few girls attended. It will be held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 10 til 2 for children over five years old.

Exchange 19 Credit Union 4

The Exchange Club bombed the Credit Union in Little League action last Friday in a make-up game, 19-4. Dave Spillman limited the Credit Union to two hits in going all the way on the mound.

Lawrence Johnson started and was relieved in the fourth by Doug Bunch. Jeff Tilton relieved Bunch in the sixth. Johnson took the loss.

David Kauffman, Billy Carothers, Tim Belcher and Larry Henry each gathered a pair of singles to lead the hitters.

Spillman struck out eight, Johnson four, Bunch and Tilton one each.

The Credit Union committed eight errors and the Exchange Club was guilty of four miscues.

Exchange 2 Lenawee Fuels 0

Roger Calzoda tossed a no-hitter for the Exchange Club little leaguers last week. He struck out 13 in pitching the no-hit, no-run win, 2-0, against Lenawee Fuels.

Dave Spillman backed up Calzoda on the offensive part of the game, singling and doubling at the plate. Larry Henry also contributed a double while Calzoda and David Kauffman each singled to account for the five hits picked up by the winners.

Calzoda threw a strong game and was in trouble only twice. He walked the lead-off man in the second and another walk followed by an error in the fifth, set the stage for the youngster to strike out the side and work his way out of trouble.

Lenawee Fuels 7 Jaycees 6

Lenawee Fuels scored a one-run victory, 7-6, over the Jaycees in Little League action last Thursday. Mike Connors toiled on the mound for the winners and Greg Williams worked behind the plate.

Kent Jacoby suffered the loss in relief of Mike Corley who was having control trouble in the sixth.

Mike Duhan collected the two hits that the Jaycees were able to muster from the offerings of Connors. George Harvey and Greg Williams each had a pair of hits for the winners.

Corley struck out 13 in his six innings of work and Connors fanned 10.

G & J 6 VFW 1

G & J retaliated with a 6-1 victory over VFW. Losing pitcher, Dennis Dermyer, threw 11 strikeouts, three more than Mike Clemente and reliefer Bob Beevers, winning pitchers, but his team just could not top those five runs scored by G & J in the third, to which Jack Van Riper and Beevers contributed. Greg Cote did the honors behind the plate for G & J and Mike Murphy for VFW. Rainy Butler scored the winning run when he stole home on a wild pitch. Dermyer scored VFW's only run.

Churches Unite Through Young

CLINTON — The 135 youngsters who have been attending the Community Vacation Bible School, will show parents and friends what they've accomplished during the past two weeks, at a program in the United Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

This Bible School was singularly unique since it is the first time that all four churches within the village have joined in such an ecumenical project. The churches participating are St. John's Episcopal, United Methodist, St. Dominic's Catholic, and the United Church of Christ, with buildings of all but St. Dominic's being used for classes.

Theme for the study material was "Our Family in the Community," and the staff of more than 25 teachers and assistants, taught Bible verses, and stories and conducted open prayer and offering services.

The Rev. Charles Sturm of St. John's led folk singing and the Rev. Fr. Leon Kennedy, of St. Dominic's, conducted discussion sessions on youth problems with the 19 junior-high age boys and girls.

There were refreshment breaks provided for the children each day.

The offering will be used for the materials, and any remainder will be given the Michigan Migrant Ministry.

Melissa Mattis is expected home this week after spending five weeks in Japan with a classmate from Western Michigan University, Jan Benson, and her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Ben Benson. On her way home, she stopped over in Hawaii and toured the island with another classmate, who is studying there for the summer.

When Melissa reached Los Angeles last weekend, she visited Vicky Bugbee, a former Clinton resident, and was shown about Chinatown by a friend, who is a missionary there.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keller attended the graduation of their great-niece, Sandee Drake, as a registered nurse from the Riverside Nursing School, Toledo. The graduation was held in The Episcopal Church, Toledo, and afterwards, Miss Drake's parents entertained at an open house at their home in Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keller attended the funeral of their son-in-law, Raymond E. Griffin, at Lockport, N. Y., June 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Corwin and daughter, Linda, have returned from Clovis, N. M., where they flew for a two-week visit with their son, Airman 1/c Gary Corwin. The other children remained with friends.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Judge and family are expected within a few days to spend several weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Greenfield, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Judge of Wamplers Lake.

√

Eight members of the Friendly Gals Club met for luncheon at the Rock Inn, Adrian, Thursday. Afterward they returned to the home of Mrs. Thomas Pence for a social afternoon. The group will resume meetings in September.

√

Mrs. Janet Welch, Clinton Township librarian, attended the Librarians' Workshop at Higgins Lake Conservation Camp, for the past week, and at its conclusion she was granted her librarian's certificate.

√

Ivan McKenna has returned to the home of his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Paul McKenna. For the past semester from Kalamazoo College, he has been participating in a sociology work-study project in Jamaica, N. Y.

He was a recreation director for a group of ghetto children, mostly Negroes and Puerto Ricans. He found it such a rewarding experience, that he stayed on an extra week to take the youngsters on their first camping trip.

Farmer Spends 3 Months in Europe

CLINTON — David Bristle, 16000 Van Tuyle Rd., has just completed an orientation and briefing session for FFA's "Work Experience Abroad" program at the National FFA Center, Alexandria, Va. He, along with 23 other selected FFA members, will spend three months abroad gaining experience in European agriculture and international living.

The group departed June 16 for London, Copenhagen, Hamburg and Zurich from Dulles International Airport and will be traveling to their host families by train and car from the city of arrival. David will be living for the summer with H. D. Barlocher-Finsler, Tannacker, 9306 Freidorf, Switzerland.

During a two-week "summer vacation" he will participate in a special agricultural tour of Denmark, Holland, Germany and Sweden. This tour is organized by the International Agricultural Exchange Association in cooperation with FFA. The tour will join for several days another group of FFA members who will be participating in a three-week study tour of Europe.

Participating in the briefing at the National FFA Center were William Paul Gray, National Executive Secretary; Coleman Harris, FFA Program Specialist; Wilson Carmes, Editor, The National Future Farmer; and E. J. Hawkins, Manager, Future Farmers Supply Service. Guest participants included agricultural attaches and representatives from the Embassies of Austria, Denmark, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland and the United Kingdom.

In charge of the orientation and the "Work Experience Abroad" program is L. H. Gamage, Manager, International Programs, for the National FFA organization. David is the son of Mrs. Carl Bristle.

He will return to the United States Sept. 15.

A member of the Clinton FFA Chapter, his agriculture teacher is John Jansen.

UCC Women In Olivet

The Women's Fellowship Conference of the Michigan United Church of Christ, held Thursday at Olivet College, Olivet, was attended by Mrs. Arthur Hill, Mrs. Charles Steffens, Mrs. Roy Porter, Mrs. Paul Dunham, Mrs. Martin Hoelzer and Mrs. E. John Hoelzer.

4 New Courses To Be Offered

CLINTON — Several new high school courses will be offered at Clinton High School, the board of education has announced. They are Spanish IV, Mechanical Drawing II, Journalism II, and Business English.

The Home Economics course will be semesterized to include a basic course in foods, leading to the food preparation and handling program suggested by the county. There will also be a semester of child care which will relate to the county's domestic worker program. This course will permit an open door policy for students, both male and female, to participate.

Senior math will not be offered this year, due to a lack of interest in the course.

4 New Teachers Are Hired Here

CLINTON — The Board of Education accepted the resignations of four teachers at their regular meeting June 17. They are Richard Perkins, Douglas Decker, Reginald Smith and Mrs. Charlotte Simmons.

Four new teachers have signed contracts to teach in the Clinton School this fall. They are:

Karen Kishpaugh, who will teach elementary Spanish. She received her BA from Adrian College in May, in Spanish and English. She was a student teacher in Spanish this spring at Clinton.

Carl H. Terry will be the industrial arts instructor. He received his BS degree at Eastern Michigan University, with a major in industrial education and a minor in industrial drawing. He [illegible] and has six children.

Mrs. Donald Houghton will teach second grade. She taught in the Clinton Elementary School from 1965 to 1967. A Clinton High School graduate, she has a BS degree from Eastern Michigan University and she has a State Elementary Permanent Teaching Certificate.

Mary Williams will assume the part-time position teaching elementary music. She is a Clinton High School graduate and is studying at Eastern Michigan University.

In other action, the board discussed curriculum matters and decided to employ a part-time elementary counselor to work with students who have social and educational problems, furnishing guidance at early age levels.

The board discussed school insurance with Fred Tyson and Lois Lancaster, representatives of North American Insurance, and it was voted to increase the insurance coverage according to the latest valuations.

Michael Walls and Gina Green have been employed to serve as lifeguards for open swimming during the afternoon and evening.

A special meeting of the board of education will be held June 30, to conclude the business of the present school year.

Navy AWOL Has Trouble Ahead On B & E Charge

CLINTON — Norman Kelley, 19, whose home address is 11780 Ford Hwy., and is listed as AWOL from the Navy, was arrested by Clinton State Police June 16, and charged with a breaking and entering of the Hunt Service Station in Clinton, June 9.

At that time a sum of between $30 and $38 in change was reported stolen.

Arraigned in District Court, Kelley, waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court.

Music Returned To Tractor

CLINTON — A local minor has been charged in District Court with the theft of a farm tractor radio, owned by Edsel Brooks, 2154 Monroe Rd., Tecumseh.

The theft occurred about a month ago, and the radio has been recovered, Clinton State Police reported.

Methodist Minister Moves Family Here

CLINTON — The new pastor of the Clinton United Methodist Church, the Rev. Dean W. Parker, and family moved from Dearborn Heights to the E. Church St. parsonage, last week, and he preached his first sermon in the local church, Sunday.

He has served for the past two years at the Warren Valley United Methodist Church and prior to that, at Trenton and Vassar churches.

THE REV. DEAN PARKER

The Rev. Parker received his BA at Eastern Michigan University and was a graduate of the school of Theology at Oberlin University in 1940. Te taught for two years at Suomi College, Hancock.

He has served as president of several Methodist Ministerial Associations and has been a conference trustee for six years.

Besides his wife, Thelma, the family includes one son, Roy, a recent graduate at University of Michigan, at home, and a married son, Dean W., who resides in Livonia. There is also the fally's poodle, "Mr. Bud".

Both the Rev. and Mrs. Parker are amateur naturalists having been active in an Audubon Society chapter at their former residence, and they're "avid campers", according to Mr. Parker.

He explained his ministerial emphasis will be largely generalized, however, he is interested in maintaining the traditional liturgical forms.

Is Hospitalized In Cycle Mishap

CLINTON — Tracy Matthews, 22, was admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital shortly after 3 a.m., Thursday, with a severe forehead gash and concussion. He was injured when his motorcycle upset on a hill near Norvell.

The mishap occurred just after his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Matthews, Washington St., returned home from a vacation trip to the western states.

THE REV. ARTHUR MANN AND FAMILY

New Minister is Ordained

By ALMINA HUNT

BRITTON — The Bethel Baptist Church was the setting June 17 for the ordination service into the ministry of Arthur Mann of Bridgewater.

Arthur, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mann of Evans Lake, married Patsy Petee of Sand Lake in July, 1948. They are the parents of five children, John of the U. S. Air Force; Art, Jr., of the U. S. Marine Corps; Gwen, 16, Kenneth, 11, and Lorretta, 10, at home.

A decision for Christ was made in January, 1964, at the local church and since that time Art has devoted many hours in prayer and study of the scriptures for the Lord's will in his life.

Tuesday was the culmination of five years of preparation when Art recounted his conversion and call to the ministry.

A council of pastors, E. G. Riely of Berlin Heights, O., Guy King of Escanaba, Tom Dolph of Byron, Robert Barto of Brooklyn, Paul Collins and Thomas Hicks of Manchester, Bruce Stine of Brighton, Harold Stineman of West Rome and two missionaries Bob Howder of Japan and Aaron Dumas of Trinidad with Pastor Duane McNeil began the questioning of the candidate concerning his doctrinal position on the Bible, God, Trinity, Christ, Holy Spirit, Man Angels; Satan, salvation, church and last things.

After the 2½-hour questioning period, Mrs. Mann told of the calling of the Lord in their lives.

Dinner was served in the church dining room by the Ladies' Missionary Society.

The evening session was opened with prayer by the Rev. McNeil.

The Rev. Dolph read the Council recommendation. Upon its acceptance, the ordination proceeded.

The Rev. Howder read from the scriptures and the Rev. King gave the charge to the church. The charge to the candidate was given by the Rev. Collins.

An offering was taken and presented to the candidate to aid in the purchase of books for a personal library.

"The laying on of hands" constituted an impressive part of the ceremony with Lauren Gall offering prayer.

The right hand of fellowship was extended to the candidate, led by Pastor Hicks, and the Rev. Arthur Mann was presented his certificate. Appropriate to the occasion, Howard Bishop sang "Make Thy Petitions Deep".

Pastor McNeil delivered the ordination sermon, speaking from the book of Acts beginning with the key verse in chapter one, verse eight. He continued in Acts telling, "what it is not" and turning to Zechariah finished with, "what it is".

The closing prayer was given by the newly-ordained Pastor Mann.

The Manns have been accepted into the Hiawatha Baptist Mission and will be in the service of the Lord this fall in Woodruff, Wis. Pastor Mann will speak here Aug. 17 and show slides of the work confronting them.

"I can't praise the Lord enough for delivering me from a life of sin and through His grace giving me a new life and new hope and assurance of being with Him forever," said Pastor Mann. "My prayer is that in all things I say and do, I may do these only to glorify Him." He concluded with James 1:5, "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him."

Miss Teresa's Birthday Party

BRITTON — Teresa Faust was the honored guest at a birthday anniversary party given June 18 by her mother, Mrs. Terry Faust at their new home on Centennial Rd.

Eleven little girls joined in the games and fun and wished Teresa happiness on her sixth birthday.

There were eight little classmates, two neighbor girls and, of course, little sister, Pam.

Attendance Good at UCC Bible School

BRITTON — The Vacation Bible School was held in the Congregational Christian Church last week from 9 to 11:30 each morning with a daily average attendance of 105 pupils. Friday noon a picnic lunch was held at the church and parsonage lawns, with games and contests. The 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grade chorus participated in the Sunday morning worship service.

* * *

The Senior High School Class, with their teacher, William Raeburn, will conduct the worship service next Sunday in the Congregational Christian Church. The service begins at 10 a.m.

The Baraca Philathea Class will meet Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at Glen Gripton's cottage at Wamplers Lake.

Merchants Split Slo-Pitch Games

BRITTON — Britton Merchants Slo-Pitch Team split a pair of games in last week's action in the Deerfield Recreation League, getting by Petersburg Pure Gamble, 6-1, and losing to Deerfield Tavern, 16-1.

In the first game, Tom Cadmus, Mike Prochaska and Larry Ivan had 2 hits each while Tom Komon had a pair of singles in the second contest.

The team has a 1-3 over-all record. Leading hitters are:

Tom Cadmus	.571
Larry Ivan	.555
John Korican	.500
Tom Komon	.461
Mike Prochaska	.400

Gals Win One

BRITTON — The Britton girls' softball team won its first game of the season Thursday night as it overpowered the Blissfield girls' team by a score of 27 to 7. Brenda Tubbs was the winning pitcher.

The Britton team now has a record of 1-3, losing two games to Adrian and one to Blissfield. The girls will travel to Milan Thursday night and will host the Adrian team Monday night, June 30 at 6 p.m. at the Britton Park field.

Attends ITT In Indiana

BRITTON — Archie M. Miller left Saturday for Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he is enrolled at ITT Electronic and Engineering School. His classes started Monday and he plans to attend for 2 years with classes 50 weeks each year. Archie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, 230 College Ave.

He was a member of this year's high school graduation class and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Spohr, held an open house in his honor at their home Sunday following graduation.

Mrs. Miller received a letter from her daughter, Bridget, Monday stating that she would start working in the office of a publishing firm Monday.

Bridget and Pat Germond of Adrian plan to spend the summer in Anaheim, Calif. They have been there two weeks.

27-5, Wow

BRITTON — The Britton Congregational Church won their opening ball game, 27-5, Tuesday evening when they played the Manchester Faith Baptist Church at Britton. Winning pitcher was Ned Brown.

The newly-organized team, under the managership of Terry Faust, had 20 players signed up over age 14. Fifteen games are scheduled with church teams in the surrounding area.

BRITTON BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Neil returned recently from a week's vacation. They drove around Lake Superior and also visited Dr. and Mrs. Fred Holland and children at Midland.

Jeannine and Brian Holland are spending the week with their grandparents while their parents are visiting friends in Newfoundland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowlands and Donald of Lorraine, O., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands.

Mrs. Cecil Servoss, Phil and Michael spent a few days in Mt. Pleasant recently. While there they attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Bufford, of Gaylord.

Mr. and Mrs. William Swift and Sandy of San Angelo, Tex., were recent house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lavaun Mann and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benedict became parents for the sixth time with the arrival of a baby girl Friday, June 20 at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Leslie Jo weighed 8 lbs., 12 ozs. The happy grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bruce of County Line Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Benedict of N. Britton Hwy.

Proclamation

Passed by Board of Supervisors at their regular meeting on June 11, 1969

WHEREAS this County has for many years been graced with the presence of CLARA WALDRON, a person of whom any Community would be proud to claim as a resident; and

WHEREAS said CLARA WALDRON has further en- [illegible] her persis[illegible] work- ing reconstruction of the history of this area, in which research she has been intensely occupied for the past quarter century; and

WHEREAS the ancestors of said CLARA WALDRON first arrived in this area in 1825 and have also distinguished themselves in civic affairs with Miss Waldron's book — "100 YEARS — A COUNTRY TOWN" coming as a fitting capstone to the achievements of a century and a half.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE LENAWEE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS do hereby acknowledge and recognize the debt of gratitude all citizens of this County and each of us owes to those persons who sacrifice so much of their lives to make Lenawee County a better place in which to live.

Recovery, Inc., Meets Tonight

The public is invited to a panel demonstration to be presented by members of Recovery, Inc., Thursday evening, June 26, at 8 p.m., in the fellowship room of First United Presbyterian Church, 156 E. Maumee, Adrian. Recovery, Inc., is a national organization devoted to the prevention of relapses in former mental patients and chronicity in nervous people.

Through a demonstration of this kind, the organization not only explains its systematic method of self-help, but demonstrates the method in action. Preceding the actual panel discussion, a brief history of the organization will be presented and the basic concepts which govern its operation will be explained.

The only authorized Recovery group in Lenawee County meets Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m. in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, 213 N. Evans St., with Katherine Hazen as leader.

New President For Garden Club

Thirteen members of the Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Marshall Coulter Friday afternoon when three officers were installed by Mrs. Arch Wray. They are:

President — Flora Smith.
Treasurer — Laura Smith.
Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Coulter.

The July picnic was discussed.

Mrs. Owen Merrill of the Little Garden Club showed colored slides taken at the Holland Tulip Festival this spring. They included flower arrangements, the Dutch windmill, the street washing and dancers and the parade with the floats and many marching bands.

Mrs. Edward McClain and Mrs. Coulter served strawberry shortcake and tea.

S/SGT. WILLIAM J. STARKEY

Bronze Star Winner

U. S. Air Force S/Sgt. William J. Starkey, son of Mrs. Margaret I. Starkey, 307 E. Logan St., has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal at Charleston Air Force Station, Me., for meritorious service while engaged in military operations against Viet Cong forces.

Sgt. Starkey was cited for his performance as a control technician with the 619th Tactical Control Squadron, Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam.

He is now at Charleston in a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command.

The sergeant, a 1953 graduate of Tecumseh High School, served during the Korean War.

His wife, Joan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Whelan of Tipton.

Stationed In Vietnam

U. S. Air Force Sgt. Paul W. Kruse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Kruse, 407 Center Dr., is on duty at Binh Thuy AB, Vietnam.

Sgt. Kruse, a radio operator, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Vietnam he served at Eglin AFB, Fla.

The sergeant, a 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School, attended Stautzenburger Business College, Toledo, O.

Employees Cited For Participation

Employees of Peerless Gear Division of Tecumseh Products Company at Clinton, were honored June 17 for outstanding achievement in a recent promotion of the payroll savings plan for the purchase of United States savings bonds and Freedom Shares.

Participation in the bond/Share buying program among the divisions 436 employees was boosted to 58 percent with the enrollment of 176 men and women.

Kenneth Kimpel, division manager, accepted a Treasury citation for the employees at ceremonies in his office.

Herbert Morden, personnel manager for the division, and Sam Davis, superintendent, and chairman of the payroll savings campaign, attended. Both commended organized labor for strong endorsement of the promotion and support throughout the drive.

Judy Garland is Dead; A Generation Grows up

Sunday morning when Judy Garland died, a generation of Americans grew up. Judy Garland has been around for what seemed much more than her years. She was a legend in our times, a mocked, pitied and ridiculed image in legend. But she was also adored and loved by another gathering just as large, just as vociferous.

Judy Garland possessed something that few entertainers in our time, or any other, possessed. She treated it badly, perhaps she even hated it and wished it to be removed.

Her life was ironic, the people who adored her as Dorothy on the Yellow Brick Road with the Cowardly Lion, Tinman and the Scarecrow never wanted her to grow up.

Her adventures in the land of Oz, that never-never land of make - believe, haunted her throughout her life. What she was and will be to the future chronicles that will come out of our time, is still open for conjecture.

She performed a couple of times in Detroit in the not-too-distant past. "Judy, Judy, Judy" that was what the people shouted at her and she loved it or so it seemed. She smiled with a smile that welled up out of her personal tragedy and torment. She lived on stage, but off stage in attempting to transgress life as best she could, - she died from moment to moment for 35 years.

A female writer, not the kindest of the lot, Jacqueline Susann, gave a cruel, four-letter word testimonial account of Garland in the book "Valley of the Dolls". The talentless Miss Sussan never met Garland in her life. She denied it but it was there in black and white and made her a fortune.

Garland evoked something out of people that is rarely seen, a genuine emotion, a soulful allegiance, a faithful following that rarely wavered.

It would not be hard to shed tears over the death of Judy Garland. At last she is at peace. The voice is on celluloid and wax. She is here to stay in her rightful place as an entertainer.

It is quite possible that in the future a cult will form to idolize the girl who never wished to be an idol. She only wanted and needed what every human being with any feeling at all knows, the need to be loved.

The cult will keep alive what she started with the first strains of Harold Arlen's "Over the Rainbow".

She lost herself somewhere in an alien jungle. She went wrong and never knew how to right it. But then she isn't really any different than any of us. What was personal became public. Her personal tragedy became the doormat of publicity and everybody needing copy wiped their feet on it.

* * *

It is difficult to write about the death of a famous person. There aren't any words for what might have been or even was. Like an old adage, you can never tell or know of another's life until you have walked around in his shoes for 24 hours.

She made comeback after comeback, more than any other entertainer before. But then she sank down more than any other. She is dead now but it can always be said that she held a magic over her audience.

She held rein on the stage unmatched by anyone. When she walked onstage something happened. There wasn't a mass of hysterical teenagers cheering on a long-haired bippy, whose name will be hard to come by in five years, they were middle-aged America basking in the sun of nostalgia and the warm presence of "somebody".

There was rapport between audience and singer. Garland sang and as if guided by hidden response, the audience applauded, loud and boistrous.

To those who cried "Judy, Judy, Judy", it didn't matter that she had had her share of problems or failures. It didn't matter that she wasn't 16 anymore, but in her 40's and overweight.

The black dress, straight in line: the face, white and stark, peering out over the footlights. She smiled and sang, she belted and she mourned. They came for nostalgia and she gave it to them in spades.

Too much pills, too much alcohol, too much weight, too much living, they were all written there in the songs, on that face, in the life of Judy Garland.

It's sad, Ray Bolger must feel lonely now. With Jack Haly, Bert Lahr, Frank Morgan, Margaret Hamilton and now Judy Garland, he remains the sole survivor of a fantasy that has enraptured children over 30 years, "The Wizard of Oz".

On Sunday a generation of Americans grew up. Other generations of Americans and kids from other countries will make that enchanted trek down the Yellow Brick Road each year with Dorothy and Toto. In their own fantasies they will relate to a young girl named Judy Garland or Dorothy. To the generation who grew up, they will still relate to the tragic life and times of Judy Garland.

She sang, "Somewhere over the rainbow bluebirds fly, birds fly over the rainbow, why, oh, why can't I?" The question remained unanswered as the headlines read Monday, "Singer Judy Garland, Dead at 47".

Area Obituaries

● MRS. WILLIAM R. KUSTER

Services were held Monday at Niblack Home For Funerals for Mrs. William Kuster, 79, who died Friday afternoon at the Wirick Nursing Home, Adrian, where she had been living since April 1. She had been in ill health for the past two months.

Hazel Kuster was born March 20, 1890, in Chicago. She came to Michigan as a child and married Mr. Kuster Dec. 20, 1913, in Adrian.

They had lived in Britton since June, 1921. For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Kuster had operated a grocery store there.

Mrs. Kuster was a member of the Congregational Christian Church of Britton and the Dorcas Class of the Sunday School. She was a member of Chapter 51 of the OES and of the Lenawee County Historical Society.

Besides her husband she is survived by a son, Robert of Cape Girardeau, Mo.; and three grandchildren; a brother, Coe Smith of Adrian; and a sister, Mrs. Louis (Marie) Hagen of Rochester, N. Y.

The Rev. G. O. Hannevik officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

● EMMA SCHNEIRLA

Funeral services were held at Spokane, Wash., June 20, for Emma Schneirla, 80, of Oakland, Calif.

Born in Clinton, her parents were Christian and Regina Schneirla, and the family farmstead was on Kehoe Rd. Besides her parents, she was preceded in death by seven brothers and four sisters.

Local survivors include a nephew, Dean Schneirla, 624 Union St.; a niece, Mrs. Wayne Kaiser, 204 N. Wyandotte and other relatives.

● FRED J. TIRB

Services were held Monday at the Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton, for Fred J. Tirb, 81, of 12480 Hogan Rd., who died Friday at 4:35 p.m. at his home. He had been a farmer all of his life.

Mr. Tirb was born Jan. 28, 1888, in Freedom Township, Washtenaw County. He had lived in the area all his life.

Mr. Tirb formerly was a member of the Bridgewater Farm Bureau. He had been in declining health for the last six months.

He married Amanda Ernat in 1909. Mrs. Tirb died in 1938.

He later married Mrs. Ida Kibble who died in 1961.

Mr. Tirb was a member of the Emmanuel United Church of Christ, Manchester, where he was confirmed in 1902.

Survivors include a son, Leroy of Clinton; three daughters, Mrs. Harry (Edna) Withrow of Tipton, Mrs. George (Jeannette) Wismer of Clinton, and Mrs. Robert (Virginia) Richardson of Jacksonville Beach, Fla.; his daughter-in-law, with whom he made his home, Mrs. Paul Barbour; two brothers, Clarence of Clinton and Alvin of Manchester; three sisters, Mrs. Herman (Frieda) Wiedman of Clinton, Mrs. Amanda Hseussler of Manchester and Mrs. Theodore (Julia) Grossman of Jackson; 17 grandchildren, and 24 greatgrandchildren.

He was preceded in death by a son, Lawrence, and two brothers and a sister.

The Rev. Ralph Kuether officiated and burial was in a Manchester cemetery.

Truck Overturns, 3 Thrown Clear In Sat. Accident

Three teenagers, all of Detroit, were thrown clear of a pickup which crashed and burned, in a mishap at 8:10 p.m., Saturday, on US-12, ½ mile west of Monagan Hwy.

William Grice, 16, the driver, was admitted to Bixby Hospital with minor injuries, and his passengers were, Michael Moss, 13, and Walter Harvard, Jr., 15.

Grice was westbound, when he lost control of the pickup on a curve, and it slid across the highway, striking a tree. All were thrown clear of the wreckage.

Grice was given a summons for no operators license and for careless driving.

Send Camper

TIPTON — The Pythian Sisters met Monday night. Plans were made to send a girl to camp. It was voted to recess during July and August. Cards were signed and sent to the sick. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lamont Simmons and Mrs. Lloyd Burnett.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Peeks, 419 S. Evans St., will observe their 25th anniversary Saturday, June 28, at an open house at the Eagles Hall at 1 p.m. J. D. Peeks and Dovie Crawford were married in Johnson City, Tenn., June 30, 1944, and have lived in Tecumseh for three years. He is employed at Tecumseh Products. The couple has two children, Ralph 16, and Elizabeth Ann 14.

Alumni Reminisce The Good Old Days

One hundred seventy guests gathered in the high school cafeteria for the Tecumseh High School Alumni Banquet, hosted by the Class of 1959.

A coffee hour preceded the country-style chicken dinner, served by the women of the First Baptist Church. Organ music was provided by Mrs. Gerald Eaton, of the Class of 1951. Dennis Farley, of the Class of 1955, gave the invocation and benediction. David Hohenstein, of the Class of 1959, acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Lowell Wise, both of the Class of 1944, welcomed the Class of 1969 and their son, Gregory, of the Class of 1969, gave the response. Mrs. Naomi Sallows, of the Class of 1921, gave the Memoriam.

Presentation of awards went to Mrs. Alice Satterthwaite Wood and Wilfred Waldron, both of the oldest class represented, 1905. Mrs. Wood was also honored for coming the greatest distance, California.

Robert Moore, of the Class of 1919, introduced the members of the 50-year class of 1919. All 17 living members were present and Mr. Moore gave each one of his classmates a rose provided by the host class. This was the first time the 1919 class had had 100% attendance at the alumni event.

Mr. and Mrs. John Underwood hosted the class of 1949 at their home before the banquet. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Costigan entertained the class of 1944 and Jim Temple the classes of 1928, '29 and '30 at the Country Club.

Past Chief's Club Met Wednesday

TIPTON — The Addie Kemp Past Chiefs Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Platt, assisted by Mrs. Garrett Linger. Cards were sent to the sick and new mystery sisters' names were drawn. Ten dollars was voted towards expenses for a girl at camp.

At euchre, Mrs. Howard Kronberg received high prize, Mrs. Donald Mukensturm won low prize and Mrs. Lyle Whelan won the lone hand prize.

The mystery gift was won by Mrs. John Jones. Refreshments were served.

Chit and Chat Tiptonaires

TIPTON — The regular meeting of the Chit and Chat Tiptonaires was held June 12 at the home of Mrs. Earl Knickerbocker on Pawson Rd. There were 12 members present.

Election of officers was held with Mrs. Tim Baker elected president.

Vice-president — Mrs. Wallace Wilkin.

Secretary — Mrs. Knickerbocker.

Treasurer — Mrs. William Every.

Reporter — Mrs. Rodney Bird.

Final plans were made for dinner at the Hathaway House and a trip to Toledo to Cinema 1 to see "Sweet Charity".

Church Holds Celebration

The 10th anniversary of the Grace Bible Church was observed with a special service Sunday, June 22.

The church had its beginning with a mid-week service held in a home on June 17, 1959. On June 28 of that year, services were held in the former Pink School, located on M-50 at Carson Hwy. This property was purchased and the interior of the building remodeled.

In 1964, a Sunday School unit including six class rooms was erected. Following the destruction of the school building in the Palm Sunday Tornado, a new construction was begun.

A basement was erected just east of the former building. This has an auditorium 72' x 36' and has been used for church services since that time. In April of this year the top structure, including a 72' x 36' sanctuary, was erected by Unified Church Structures of Mt. Clemens.

Work nights have been held each week for the past two months when members have been working toward the finishing of the interior of the sanctuary. When completed, there will be a seating capacity of 250.

Along with the anniversary and dedication services, there was a special offering received for the building fund.

The Rev. David M. Holly is pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Mason spent last week at Fort Sill, Okla., as guests of their son and family, Capt. and Mrs. Greg Mason and son, Jim.

Third New Track Record

The weather was cool but the races were sizzling at Manchester Speedway Friday night. The thing to do this year is break the track record and Louie Jay did it again this week with a time of 18:91. That's three weeks in a row it has gone down.

The first heat was fast and furious with Bill Younkin jumping into the lead until the fifth lap when Duane Valentine took over and held on for the win over Younkin, Jay and Jack Sharp. In the second heat, Junior Gary took the lead on the sixth lap and took the checkered flag, followed by Dick Slade, Fred Saltenright and Jerry Johnstone.

The third heat had a few spinouts when Buck LoPresto came thru for the win over Jerry Evilsizer, Larry Gray and Jim Martin. In the fourth, it was Gary Rhoades, followed by Jim Shook, Larry Schuback and Jack Worth.

The pursuit was a real close race, with Dick Crup nosing out Jim Stemen at the finish line. Sharp and Jay were right on the leaders' bumpers for third and fourth.

There was little trouble until the semi, and that was something else. On the first lap several cars came together with Jim Martin's car going into the air, but coming down on all four wheels. Jerry Tryon and Lincoln Hall were also bumped badly. Luckily no one was injured.

While the wreckers were still busy with the first three, three more spun on the front stretch, holding the caution flag until the track was cleared.

When the green flag was out again Jerry Evilsizer jumped into the lead, but Paul Whitaker came up fast to take the win with Evilsizer second, Shook third and Rhoades fourth.

The feature was another seesaw battle between Duane Valentine and Dick Crup. Crup spun out on the last lap and Valentine was victorious on his first full night of racing here this year. Don Earles took second, followed by Howard Woodman, Jim Stemen and Junior Gary.

July 11 is the date for all Destruction Derby fans.

Mrs. James Hickok entertained guests last Sunday at her home on West Chicago honoring her niece, Nancy Swaney. It was a bridal shower and games were played with prizes given to Mrs. Olin Swaney, Mrs. Douglas Goldsberry and Kathy Dunbar, who presented them to the bride-to-be. Mrs Earldean Roe and Mrs. Robert Dunbar assisted in serving. Miss Swaney opened many kitchen gifts. She will become the bride of F. Thomas Dickinson Aug. 9.

Bible School Ends Sessions

MACON — The Vacation Bible School of the United Methodist Church, closed Friday evening with a program at 7 p.m. Mrs. Paul Davey, the administrator, announced the program.

Opening with the group of 66 singing "Tell Me The Story of Jesus", accompanied by Mrs. Carl Thomas and under the direction of Mrs. Robert Marks. The 13 kindergarten members met at the home of Mrs. John Swanston, with Mrs. Gerald Miller and Mrs. Donald Everett assisting, they sang "Jesus Loves Me".

Mrs. Terry Ross opened her home to the 19 first and second graders. Mrs. Truman Jordan helped the group learn about "our family in the community". They visited the Clinton State Police station Thursday.

Mrs. Thomas Badley and Mrs. George Osborne were in charge of third and fourth graders. They present a playlet "Why Was This Night Different?" based on the Feast of the Passover.

The fifth and sixth graders, under the guidance of Rev. Thomas Badley and Mrs. Edward Clark studied Paul, A Man with A Mission. They gave a play, "One Night In Jail".

Mrs. William Gorton took her four junior high members to the St. Joseph Shrine, in the Irish Hills on Friday. They studied the disciples and their symbols.

The program closed by the entire group singing "Noah's Ark". Miss Gloria Osborne was a very valuable helper throughout the week. Mrs. Robert Kollar served refreshments each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guy are the parents of a little girl, Laura, 5 lbs., 7 ozs., born June 23 at Bronson Methodist Hospital, Kalamazoo. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Danforth have again joined the grandparents club.

Carmen Fergus-Thomas Love are Wed

Carmen Rochelle Fergus and Thomas Robert Love were united in marriage June 21 at the Immanuel Lutheran Church, Blissfield, by the Rev. Daniel Mathes.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Fergus, 9289 Britton Hwy., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Love, of Grosvenor Hwy., Blissfield.

Richard Wegner accompanied the soloist, William Hetrick.

The bride wore an empire gown of silk organza over taffeta with fitted bodice, A-line skirt with detachable train accented with lace appliques and high neckline trimmed with pearls and sequins.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion was secured to a Camelot cap and she carried gardenias.

Mrs. Donald Stoddard of Adrian was matron of honor in a floor length gown of yellow chiffon over satin with empire waist and A-line skirt, rounded neckline and puffed sleeves.

Her picture hat was accented with daisies and she carried purple asters. Nancy Kondrat of Pittsburg, Pa., was maid of honor attired as Mrs. Stoddard.

Mrs. Randy Fergus, Sandwich, Ill., Nofa Frye of Blissfield and Roberta Love, sister of the groom, were the bridesmaids, all wearing orchid gowns designed the same as the matron of honor and Miss Kondrat's. They carried yellow asters.

Ralph Love served as his brother's best man and Randy Fergus, brother of bride, Donald Stoddard, Dale Sommers and Clotus Laollette, brother of the groom, seated the guests.

A reception for 700 guests was held at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall with Patricia Love, sister of the groom, serving beverages.

The bride, a graduate of Britton-Macon High School, attended Eastern Michigan University and is employed by the Ford Motor Co. in Saline.

Her husband, a graduate of Blissfield High School, is employed by Blissfield Co-operative Co.

The couple will take a week's trip to the Horse Shoe Falls in New York.

The rehearsal dinner was given at Hathaway House by the groom's parents.

MRS. THOMAS LOVE

Barbara Truesdale-John Basinger Recite Nuptial Vows

CLINTON — Barbara Emily Truesdale and John Warren Basinger recited their nuptial vows in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Tecumseh, Saturday evening before the Rev. Charles Sturm, of St. John's Episcopal Church, Clinton.

The double-ring ceremony took place at an altar enhanced with bouquets of white carnations and baby breath.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Truesdale, 115 Tyrell St., and the groom's parents are Mrs. Paul Aho, 209 E. Church St., and Kenneth Basinger, Adrian.

Laurie Robinson, of Saline, was the organist and accompanied the decantor, Dr. W. C. Vandervacht of Saline.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white silk organza, inspired by the classic dress worn by Spanish women in the late 1700's, was designed especially for her by EvelDean of Tecumseh. Hand embroidered white roses accented the bodice and the softly-tailored bolero jacket, and a train of circular ruffles was attached high at the back of the princess-line gown.

A mother of pearl "Goya" comb held the bride's rose embroidered silk mantilla, and she carried a cascade of traditionally Spanish flowers, white orchids, white carnations and baby breath, accented with lace and crystals.

Mrs. Dennis Drazie was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mary Jo and Margaret Truesdale, the bride's sisters, and LuAnne Rhoades.

The bride's attendants wore identical princess style gowns of turquoise blue silk duppioni, with sleeveless white coats of tiny, tiered lace, edged with ruffled lace at neckline and extending down the front.

The bridesmaids' headpieces were white carnations held in Spanish combs, and they carried bouquets of white orchids and carnations highlighted with crystals.

James Englehart was the best man and the ushers were John Hoyt, Ronald Hintz and Carl Schwab.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Dannells, uncle and aunt of the bride, were hosts at the reception attended by 300 guests at the Tecumseh Country Club. Among the guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. M. L. Dannells, of Clinton; and the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. L. Dannells, Jr., of Decatur, Ill. A feature of the reception decor was the arrangements of white carnations centered with tall ivory nuptial candles decorated with wedding-couple figurines.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Clinton High School. She is participating in Michigan State University's early elementary internship program and will begin teaching this fall in the Lansing School system.

The groom graduated from Olivet College, June 15, and he will begin teaching speech and coaching football at Charlotte High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Basinger will reside at 541 Lansing St., Apt. 1, Charlotte.

Through My Window

CUCKOOO

To use an expression which is still very much in vogue these days, this article has really bugged me. I wanted to do it, I have tried to do it for the past umpteen weeks but something or somebody has always flown by and changed my mind. Today I take a firm stand, there will be absolutely no deterrence. I hope.

It happened so long ago that I am ashamed to name the date. But it was on a Saturday, shortly before noontime, that Dorothy Rundell and two cute grand daughters brought in a bird, a bird book, and three quest[illegible] faces. That they could not pin a name tag on the bird accounted for the puzzled expressions: the bird book was the National Geographic's "Song and Garden Birds of North America", which, although usually good in this instance was no help at all: the bird turned out to be a black-billed cuckoo. It had become a picture window statistic by thumping into one of Rundell's windows.

Even though dead, it was a beautiful bird. The feathers looked exceptionally soft and smooth — the colors were lovely. The top of the bird was almost mustardy tan or brown, with strong overtones of either an iridescent or burnished sheen. The underparts were a true, almost pearly white.

The bird was 11 or 12 inches long, had a fairly large bill and an oversized tail. This tail, by the way, proved to be an identification clue. Its underside was gray and crossed in three places by evenly spaced, horizontal stripes of black and white.

The black bill was decurved which strongly suggested a kind of thrasher but this was ruled out by the solid color breast. Thrashers are either heavily spotted or streaked. The cincher was in the eye area. This bird had red eyelids. A black-billed cuckoo!

★

NOW CAME THE fun — and, as it turned out, the exasperating part. I say fun because it always is interesting to get out the bird books and learn about a new bird: I add the word exasperating because, every time I started reading about the cuckoo, all sorts of interruptions popped up. Finally, though I made it, stick-to-it-tiveness paid off, determination prevailed, or something.

Seriously, these truly are fascinating birds. First of all, they are not listed in every bird book. The ones, such as the National Geographic, which specifically deal with the backyard type of song birds, ignore them.

By way of compensation, however, the "Audubon Bird Guide" should sooth any hurt feelings because their colored picture of a black-billed cuckoo could not more perfectly match the bird itself.

Fortunately, our cuckoos are completely unlike their European cousins. Whereas the Old World cuckoos are parasitic and shirk their family duties, a la the cowbirds, the black-billed cuckoos seldom violate another bird's nest. Of course, the nest it does build is nothing much to brag about — it is a rather flimsy affair with a very shallow egg-holding cup. But at least they do build a nest and furthermore, they take care of their own youngsters.

The young cuckoos that hatch out of the blue-green eggs are completely naked and coal black in color. At the end of six days they bristle with "quill-like feather tubes". Once these are pulled off, the young birds have the usual soft and fluffy baby bird feathers.

★

THE ADULT cuckoos are rather secretive birds and seldom make their presence known. They show a marked preference for deep tangles of second growth or even quite heavy woodlands. Often they are most active at night. Even their voice does not give them away as it is rather soft and low-pitched.

There has been some criticism, and apparently it is slightly justified, of the cuckoos as egg stealers. What few songbird eggs they take is more than counterbalanced by the rest of their diet. They are ravenous eaters of caterpillars and not just the smooth, slippery, easy-to-swallow kind either. The black-bills eat the bristly ones, in fact they actually show a preference for them.

So it is that I enjoyed seeing the Rundell's bird but trying to read about him and trying to get him into an article almost drove me cuckoo.

Boy Scouts Paddle Away

Birdsall's Boy Scout Troop 32 traveled a distance of 60 miles by canoe this past weekend down a section of the Manistee River.

This was the fifth annual trip taken by the group but many were new scouts, thus they again traveled the river from Frederic to Sharon. Not one canoe tipped over though many close calls were experienced, making it a record-breaking trip.

This year Assistant Scoutmaster Chuck Skinner, aided by Assistant Scoutmaster Cliff Pifer, was in charge of the trip due to the Jamboree commitments of Scoutmaster Dick James.

The weather, while cool, was good and the rains brought the river up to a good rapid floating level. In most places it was only necessary for the sternsman to guide the canoe while all enjoyed the panorama of green lush forests, clear stream, blue skies and fluffy white clouds overhead with a number of wild animals sighted that are native to the area.

The group was met Saturday night at C. C. Bridge by the Scout parent group who ferried the cars down river to the take-out point. The campsite at C. C. Bridge has been greatly developed since three years ago, with many improved facilities. Numerous other groups and individuals were also making trips down the river but due to the bends and curves it was possible to drift along at times in absolute silence hearing only the sounds of nature.

It was sad, however, to see the havoc a rather severe recent storm had caused along the banks in places. Many big birch and pine had fallen into the water and trees had fallen on several homes along the bank. In several cases huge trees were uprooted entirely.

Part of the 18-member Scout parent group went the final 10 miles downriver with the Scouts and after cooking dinner on the river bank at Sharon, the group headed home caravan style for Adrian.

Members of the troop and the fathers making the trip were: Bob James, Rusty Hiser, Richard Cook and David, Jerry and Jack Elliott, Kevin and Kerry Skinner, Ron Pierce, George Gartee, Steve, Scott and Gary Griewahn, Wayne Sprow and Danny, Warren Frank and Bob, Buford Johnson and Carter, Wayne Reno, Harley Wilt, Steven, Doug, and Stewart Schneider, Joe Sprow, Glen Richard, John Porter, James Dart, Bud Blohm and Charles and Joe Kauffman.

Highlight of the trip for a carload of the women was the sighting of a yearling bear crossing the roadway as well as a deer and several whippoorwills, all in the same evening.

The Scout parent group going were Mrs. August Breckel, Mrs. Wayne Griewhan, Linda Breckel, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hiser and Steve, Mrs. Jim Dart, Frances Shaffer, Mrs. Glen Griewahn, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sprow and Carol, Mrs. Richard James, Mrs. Buford Johnson, Mrs. Charles Skinner and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh and son, Mike, who would have been on the Canoe trip if he had not fractured his foot in a fall just prior to the trip.

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHERE DO BABIES GO THAT DIE?

Parents have always been concerned with this important question. The Bible gives the answer.

David, the Old Testament King, sinned by adultery with Bathsheba. The baby born died only seven days after birth. This baby had three strikes against him. First, it was an illegitimate child. Secondly, it was not named. Jewish children are named by their parents when they are eight days old. Thirdly, it was not circumcised. This rite is the sign of entrance into the covenant of the Jewish people. Despite all these things, at the child's death, David said, "I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me". II Samuel 12:23. Plainly, David expected at his own death to join the child in Heaven.

In Matthew's gospel, Jesus tells of God's concern for children many times. We read that He blessed them and invited them to come unto Him. He warned men not to harm one of them, particularly about Spiritual matters, unless one is prepared to face God's judgment. Matthew 18:10 tells us that children go to Heaven. Matthew 19:14 says Heaven is populated with children and the childlike in Faith.

Jesus healed little children even raising one little girl from a bed of death. Luke 18:17 "whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter in."

Little children shall be in Heaven. Adults will only be there by Faith in Jesus Christ. Ephesians 2:8, 9.

JOE AND ELLEN O'DONNELL LAUNCH THEIR NEW ENTERPRISE, JO-EL'S BARN, AT CLINTON

Nostalgic Journey In Hayloft At Jo-El's Barn

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Early in May, Joe and Ellen O'Donnell opened their new enterprise, Jo-El's Barn, located at 520 E. Michigan Ave., Clinton.

Their large assortment of antiques is displayed in the dormered hayloft of the bright-red, simulated barn, which was recently constructed from the former one-story drive-in building on the site. Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell and their 15-month-old daughter, Jennifer, moved to Clinton a year ago, and their living quarters are downstairs.

The collection of what the O'Donnells call "olde tyme interestinge thynges" was begun three years ago, while they still resided in Washington, D. C. Mrs. O'Donnell began collecting lamps, and Joe picked up a lot of things from other countries. Before long they had filled an eight-room house in Pennsylvania, and since then, the conglomeration has filled several barns in the Clinton area.

Their large array of lamps includes signed Tiffany and "Richard" lamps, a variety of hanging colonials and lanterns.

Just like a visit to grandma's attic, a stroll through Jo-El's "hayloft" is a nostalgic journey into yesteryear. There's Shaker benches, Early American furniture, a quaint hobby horse on a swing, parasol-topped wicker baby buggy, a rare curly-maple cradle, and a charming miniature goat-wagon, complete with a buckboard, and much, much more.

There's parts for Model 'T's and other antique automobiles.

is currently restoring one of their most treasured he rare, revolving, circular display cases, composed hy, pie-shaped drawers, which held bolts and screws 00-year-old Pennsylvania hardware store. "It would for a coin or button collector," Joe suggested.

t Joe O'Donnell, handsomely bearded at 47, has an interesting background, as an official photographer government, stationed at the White House for the years until his retirement in 1967.

ing his 20 years as a White House photographer, he nder four different presidents from Harry S. Truman on B. Johnson. He visited 87 countries and traveled with more than 132 foreign heads of government, averaging about 50,000 miles a year.

His accumulation of autographed photographs of presidents, and his gifts from world-famous personages form the nucleus of a mini-museum on display in the loft.

There's a cigarette case from the president of Thailand; an ivory sword from former President Sukarno of Indonesia; and a clock from the late Konrad Adenauer, first chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany.

A display case holds his retirement gift from the staff at the White House — a life-size bust of President John Kennedy.

Joe says he's "been everywhere and seen everything" and he's contented now to settle down in Clinton.

He has an exciting past to reminisce about in his office, which is cozily appointed with rocking chairs, roll-topped desk, and an ancient clanking cash register.

"Folks are welcome to browse," Joe says and Jo-El's Barn is open daily, except Sunday, Monday and holidays, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Michigan Farmer's Sophisticated Pigs

Michigan pigs have a right to be "snooty' about the "company they keep" these days and it's not just because of their high price. It's because there has been an outbreak of hog cholera in northern Indiana that endangers Michigan's cholera-free designation.

Edward C. Miller, Michigan State University swine extension specialist, says there is no cause for alarm and no danger to human health, but that feeders and breeders of swine should use every precaution to keep the disease out of the state.

"Our cholera-free status has meant thousands—perhaps more than a million dollars — to Michigan swine producers in the two years we have enjoyed it," commented Miller. "So swine breeders and feeders should use every means possible to avoid return to the cost of a dollar an animal for vaccination and ofttimes bigger costs in slaughter of entire herds."

The swine specialist says any sudden sickness or death loss in herds should be countered by a call to a veterinarian. "Shotgun type home treatment has no place in swine management today with this danger so close,' Miller explained.

He said swine producers should:

1. Isolate any new animals brought to the farm for 30 days even though the new owner knows exactly where they originated.
2. Allow no trucks or cars that have been in the Indiana problem area into the swine-growing area.
3. Buy feeder pigs or breeding stock from people you know. Handle them in your own trucks or be positive the truck that hauls them is disease-free.
4. Keep people away from the swine-growing area or disinfect their boots or provide them with plastic boots.

Swine shipments into Michigan without a Michigan Department of Agriculture permit is illegal. The department is not allowing any shipments from Indiana at present. Inspectors are guarding the border and checking all incoming vehicles that may be transporting hogs, officials report.

"There is no real reason for undue alarm, but livestock men should be cautious and use every precaution to keep our state's hog-cholera free designation," said Miller. "Michigan was one of the first major hog producing states to gain this recognition, and it is worth some special safety measures at this time."

Further Adventures in Japan

By MELISSA MATTIS

My first week in Japan has truly been a most fascinatinfg and enjoyable one. We have been busy every minute.

Last night, I lived through my first earthquake. I was sleeping and all of a sudden my bed began to shake. I waited for it to stop but it kept going. It must have lasted 2-3 minutes. Of course, I was a little shook, but on the average Japan has three to four of them a week, so I better get used to it. Even today, downtown shopping, the dishes on the shelves began to shake. People went on with their business as if nothing were happening.

Talking with the Bensons a little more about the people here, I learned that there is 100% employment in Japan. Everyone works and as long as I'm here, I will never see a beggar on the street.

The women still do the harder labor in this country. Women who live on the farm work the land completely on their own. Possibly their husbands, who work in the city, will take off a day for harvest or planting, but often times the women will do it alone so their husbands do not lose the day's income.

Almost all women work either on farms or in factories, polishing shoes in the streets, etc. Children, when coming from schools, go directly to their homes and remain there until dinner time when their parents arrive. No school children have jobs.

If they go to school, that is it. One can find very few university students with jobs also. The children go to school full days and a half day on Saturday. A tremendous amount of home work is given daily. I'm anxious to visit a Japanese school to compare academic standings, social aspects, etc., with our American schools.

I must mention that field work is still done by hand, even grass cutting. Lawn mowers, the hand-push kind, are just being introduced, but are very expensive, so the women cut the grass with sickles.

Today, on my way to Tokyo about 10 a.m., I stopped to take a picture of a woman cutting grass and when I came back around dinner time, she was still at work. Working all day from dawn to sunset is a common sight in Japan. Many older women are so bent over and crippled that their backs are parallel to the streets. This is caused by the many hours of hard work in the fields.

Thursday, we boarded a train at 5 p.m. and started our journey northward to Sendai. The countryside is beautiful with snow-covered mountains, rolling, forest-covered hills, scattered clusters of different colored wild flowers and rice paddies. Sendai is the fourth largest city in Japan with a population of 1,300,000. It is located about 300 miles north of Tokyo, still on the Pacific coast.

I never imagined all the rice paddies that exist here. For the first time I actually saw the labor done by hand and the perfection of their work.

Several families work a plot of land, sharing the long hard hours of back-bending, along with the profit. A single paddy is comparatively small in size, varying in shape from squares to paralelograms, to triangles, etc. Yet they all fit so well to form an interesting network of patterns.

Narrow grassy paths divide the paddies from each other enabling the farmer to work about easier. It was quite a picture. Every rice shoot is planted by hand and the rows appear so perfect that if I measured the distance between each one I have no doubt that it would be precise every time. Not once did I see anyone sitting down or resting and I saw plenty of fields in those 300 miles — truly fascinating.

A lot of the mountain sides are being cleared and cut away to allow more room for building. It is hard to picture all the different levels of land upon which homes are built. The land around their homes is usually planted into lovely gardens. The Bensons live in a new residential area on a mountainside, where most of the homes are two stories, however, don't be misled by the "two stories" term for all the houses are built on a smaller scale than what we are familiar with.

Tuesday thru Thursday, Jan and I will be traveling farther north to Kitakami to visit a girl friend who went to school with her. She lives in the mountains, which will be a new experience for me, along with an opportunity to see another section of the country.

ESKIMO WILLIE IMUDLUK SAYS:

A NICE IDEA!

Frost-free Refrigerator WITH Automatic Ice Maker

Willie Imudluk, who recently visited Michigan, really lives on the edge of the Arctic. Even though his family enjoys the convenience of a modern refrigerator, Willie nearly lost his cool when he saw the new frost-free model with the automatic ice maker. We know you will, too. Every man will love the luxury of a never-ending supply of ice cubes, the convenience of no more ice tray filling or spilling. And wouldn't you like to forget that dreaded defrosting chore — the chopping, slopping and mopping — with a refrigerator that defrosts itself automatically? See the new frost-free refrigerator with the automatic ice maker today. You'll agree with Willie—it's a very nice idea for you and your family!

Heart of the O-I Milan Box Plant is this football field-long corrugator. In one continuous operation, this machine combined containerboard into corrugated board at speeds up to 700 feet per minute. The corrugator is just one of many interesting machines you will see in action during your tour of this new plant.

We're rolling out a red carpet for you and your family to visit our new Milan corrugated box plant.

Official dedication ceremonies begin 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, June 26. The plant will be open for tours by the public following the dedication ceremonies on Thursday until 4:00 p.m. and again on Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Chamber Putting on Show Friday Night

For the youngster, July 4th is the day of fireworks and Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce has promised not to disappoint them.

July 4th is also our "Declaration of Independence" date, and a splendid time to display old glory and to show our patriotism to the country which has given us so much.

Friday evening, at the beginning of darkness, the Chamber will ignite some $550 worth of fireworks at the Tecumseh High School athletic field. Jim Fielder will again be in charge of handling and setting off the displays.

In the past, hundreds and hundreds of folks have lined the bank surrounding the field and many more have taken positions below the bank and on the ball diamonds.

Just prior to the fireworks display, three parachute jumpers will vie for a $25 award by jumping onto the football field. The Chamber will establish a target for the jumpers and the closest one landing to the target will win the prize.

Parents are being reminded this year to keep an eye on their youngsters and prevent them and others from being hurt. In the past, some youngsters have lighted sparklers prior to the display and then pitched them over the crowded banks.

SPILLMAN, HENRY AND CALZADA — The New York Yankees of old had Eddie Lopat, Vic Rashi and Allie Reynolds and the Exchange Club little league team has Dave Spillman, Larry Henry and Roger Calzada. Roger tossed a fine no-hit, no-run game against Lenawee Fuels on June 17, while walking only two during the six-inning stint. On June 25 he came back, with the help of David and Larry, to hurl the second no-hitter for the Exchange Club. Roger poses for a picture with the same concentration that he faces enemy sluggers.

New Plant Coming, Another Expanding

A new Tecumseh plant and expansion of one already here will begin this summer on Tecumseh-Area Industrial Association property on S. Maumee St.

Although name and details of the new plant are being withheld, it will be located on about four acres, next to the telephone building now going up and across from Faraday.

The plant will consist of approximately 6,000 square feet and employ between 10 and 30 to begin with. Plans for the building are currently being drawn and the site surveyed.

Construction is expected to start in August. Additional information about the new plant is expected to be released about that time.

Local plant expanding is Tecumseh Woodworking, owned by Harry Beland of 111 Wildwood Circle.

Mr. Beland is planning between 5,000 and 6,000 square feet to start with, and anticipates an addition in the future. His site on S. Maumee will consist of three acres.

At the present, Tecumseh Woodworking is located on S. Occidental Rd., and has an average employment of about 25. This plant will continue to be operated and is included in future plans.

The local industrial association still has approximately 10 acres left on S. Maumee for future developments.

STARTS PRACTICE — Dr. Ferenc Fabok, internal medicine specialist, started his practice here Monday morning, sharing an office with Dr. Harold Ocamb. Here with him are his daughter, Birgit, 8, and wife, who will begin practice here in the fall. Professionally she will be known as Dr. Elli Moeller, her maiden name.

Negotiators in Agreement

An agreement has been reached by the negotiating teams of the School Board and the teachers' association for a master contract.

Settlement between the two was attained Wednesday of last week. Before the agreement is finalized, however, both the Board and Tecumseh Education Association must ratify it.

Jerry Nelson, chief negotiator for the TEA, says teachers will be contacted via mail yet this month.

It's not known whether the half-pay for sabbatical leave and released time for the TEA president was included in the agreement.

Features at Sale

Plans are being finalized for the annual Tecumseh Sidewalk Sale on July 18.

Features will include free balloons for the youngsters, ice cream social, clowns and suare dancing.

Rec. Director To Be Hired

City Manager Cal Zorn and the Parks and Recreation Board met Tuesday afternoon at city hall and reviewed applications for the director's position.

Mr. Zorn says he hopes to employ a new director within the next two or three weeks. He has sought a replacement since Don Moffatt resigned and has received 11 applications.

1 Vacancy Left For '69-70 Staff

Only one vacancy for the 1969-70 teaching staff remains for the Tecumseh schools.

Supt. James McDowell has employed Mrs. Susan Baird of Adrian for junior high math. She is a June graduate of Michigan State University.

Vacancy remaining is a combination high school-elementary vocal music instructor.

Fire Destroys Rural Garage

A two-car, story and a half garage was leveled by fire early Monday morning at the Robert D. Moore residence on Rogers Hwy., about one mile south of Tecumseh.

Although loss estimates have not been released, they're expected to run well over $10,000, not including antiques, furniture and trophies and ribbons won at horse shows by the Moore teenagers.

The building was completely destroyed as was a 1967 Chevrolet, a new freezer, a new regulation size pool table in the recreation room above the garage, and other items.

According to Mrs. Moore, the blaze was discovered about 7:30 when the family heard the horn from the car. Smoke was coming out of the car and garage, some 30 or 40 feet from the home.

Before the burning auto exploded, the family managed to get another car out of the garage and turn loose three dogs from their kennels, attached to the rear of the buildings.

Mrs. Moore's daughter, Beth, went to a neighbor's home and sounded the alarm. She then went to the Tecumseh Fire station and pleaded for the city to answer the alarm.

Since Raisin Township cancelled its fire protection with Tecumseh on May 15, 1967, firemen here have been instructed not to respond to fires in the township.

Both the Raisin department and a large water tanker from Palmyra answered the alarm. The building was beyond saving by the time they reached the scene.

Damages were not confined to the garage and its contents. Paint on a new rear addition to the two-story brick home was blistered and several thermopane windows cracked.

Shrubs, trees and portions of the lawn between the home and garage also were lost.

The Moores, former residents of Tecumseh, practically rebuilt the old farmhouse and had extensively remodeled the garage. During the early stages of the fire, their home was threatened by the blaze.

Mr. Moore was in New York on a business trip at the time, but returned here Tuesday afternoon.

BUILDING DESTROYED — Only rubble, and not much of that, is all that remains of a 30x24-foot, story and a half garage at the Robert D. Moore residence on Rogers Hwy. An auto in the garage caught fire Monday morning and then exploded. Raisin Township firemen were left with only the Moore residence, in the background, to save from burning. Paint on the house was scorched and several panes of glass cracked.

Bike Rider Injured

A motorcyclist was injured here early Tuesday morning when his bike and a car collided at the intersection of N. Union St. and W. Logan.

Injured and taken to Herrick Hospital was Joseph Szeman, Jr., 24, 3226 Gady Rd. He suffered an injury to his left leg.

According to the police report, Szeman was headed south on N. Union when John J. Long, 21, 107 N. Van Buren, pulled out of W. Logan and struck the cyclist at the northwest corner of the intersection.

Long, who was cited for failure to yield the right of way, told police he didn't see the approaching motorcycle.

A resume of other accidents here the past week is:

June 25 — James Forsyth, 407 E. Logan St., reported his car damaged while parked in the Kroger parking lot. Other motorist is unknown.

June 26—John A. Pieh, Brooklyn, backed into Nalma J. Korth, 613 Pennington Rd., in the A&P parking lot.

June 27 — Thomas B. Judd, 114 W. Kilbuck, backed into Gerald L. Pells, Dundee, behind the fire station.

June 29 — Albert J. Seitz, 44, 112 E. Logan, was cited for operating a vehicle with defective equipment after he backed away from Welch Cleaners on S. Maumee St. and struck a utility pole. He told police that his accelerator stuck.

Firemen Pick New Officers

Annual election of officers of the Tecumseh Fire Department was held Tuesday night.

New officers are:

Lonal Bishop — assistant fire chief.

Dick Purkey — second assistant fire chief.

George Ruhl — president.

Bill Brown — vice-president.

Ralph Sager — secretary.

Fire chief, Wallace MacGeorge, is hired by the city manager with the approval of Council.

The local department has 19 volunteers, four auxiliary firemen, and three full time firemen, Baldy Alderdyce, Jim Forsyth and Sherm Cole. There's one vacancy on the department.

Average volunteer response to alarms here ranges from 12 to 15 men.

Bridal Shower For Linda Sinkey

Linda Sinkey was guest of honor at a personal shower Monday evening, given by Mrs. James E. Danforth and Jamie at the Danforth home.

Games were played with Mrs. Paul Brantingham, Mrs. Michael Cook and Mrs. Charles Sinkey winning the prizes which they gave to Linda.

A wedding tree centered a table of gifts "floating" on a blue net cloud with bride doll on one side. Corsages in the tree were presented to each guest as her gift was opened by the bride-elect.

Mrs. Thomas Smith of Adrian assisted the hostesses in serving ice cream, punch and a decorated cake in blue, white and yellow.

Miss Sinkey will become the bride of Michael Wolf of Oak Park, July 26.

Presbyterians Vote To Call New Pastor

By an overwhelming majority, members of the First Presbyterian Church voted to call the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins of Pontiac, to be their new pastor.

At a congregational meeting following the worship service this past Sunday, over 200 persons were present to hear the Rev. Mr. Watkins give his candidating sermon.

At a special Presbytery Meeting held in the Tecumseh Church Tuesday, July 8, at 3 p.m., the call will be presented to that ruling body and in turn will be forwarded to Detroit Presbytery, under whose jurisdiction Mr. Watkins is presently working.

Tentative plans are for the Rev. Mr. Watkins and his family to be in Tecumseh for worship service the last Sunday in August.

POPCORN PACKERS — For the third year, N. Franklin 4-H members packed "Christmas in July" boxes of goodies for 20 servicemen in Vietnam, last Wednesday, at the home of Kathy and Kim Hartung, Clinton. Leaders are Mrs. Claude Creger and Mrs. Thomas Adams.

Winners in State Contest

Two Tecumseh students were honored at the Golden Anniversary Convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Lansing June 26 - 29.

Eddie Solarski of the Junior High School, who won first prize in the local poster contest, also won first prize in the state competition and received a check of $15. Kendra Goldmann of Herrick Park School won second prize of $10 for her poster in the state contest.

"America, Your Land and Mine" was the name of the contest.

Hall-Slater Post received a citation for 100% chairmanship reporting, Mrs. Roy Burchett received a citation for Youth Activities Participation, Mrs. Walter Mueller received an American flag charm and citation for Buddy Poppy Chairmanship.

Nine members of the local post and Auxiliary attended the convention. They are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Wise and Commander and Mrs. Norman Sisty.

The principal speaker at the banquet was Congressman Philip E. Rupne, 11th District of Michigan. He gave his views on the Vietnam War. Other distinguished guests included Senator Philip Hart, Congressman John D. Dingell, National Senior Vice Commander-in-chief Raymond Gallagher of Redfield, South Dakota and Gerald Graves, Mayor of Lansing.

A large parade, consisting of VFW Posts, Auxiliaries, Drum and Bugle Corps, Ritual and Drill teams, Junior Girls and Boys Units, floats and decorated autos marched against the gusty winds.

The Pageant of Drums contest was held at Everett Field Saturday evening. Trophies and prizes were awarded to the winners of the event. More than a thousand spectators witnessed the Pageant.

The Convention closed Sunday with the election and installation of the new Department Officers. Senior Vice Commander James Milliron of Benzonia, was elected Department Commander and Senior Vice President Mrs. Emmett (Iva) Daggy was elected nel in a five-year training program.

Peggy Taylor is Wed to Thomas Mathews in Jackson

Peggy Lynn Taylor, formerly Peggy Brian of Tecumseh, now of Jackson, and Thomas John Mathews were married at Castedes Baptist Church in Jackson June 21.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anson Taylor, formerly Betty Beevers Scoonover, and Robert Joseph Mathews, all of Jackson.

Mint green and white carnations and pink tapers were used on the altar.

The bride wore a gown of white lace with basque bodice and tiered bouffant skirt with chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion was secured to matching lace petals, crystals and pearls.

She carried a white Bible, topped with a cascade of Sweetheart roses and carnations.

Marilyn Louise Taylor was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Judy Kay Taylor, another sister of the bride, and Sharon Carven. The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of aqua satin with matching train and head piece. The bridesmaids wore similar dresses in pink satin. All carried bright pink roses.

David Lee Taylor, brother of the bride, was best man and the 85 guests were seated by Mike Hannah, cousin of the bride, and John David Taylor, another brother of the bride.

The bride attended Tecumseh schools before moving to Jackson where she was graduated from Jackson High School. Her husband is employed by Jackson Drop Forge Co.

They live at 614 Oakhill Rd., Jackson.

End of the Line for 'Cannonball'

By BILL SANFORD

"Listen to the jingle, to the rattle and the roar, as she travels by the woodlands, and the wide Pacific shore." Today the decision will be handed down on whether or not the rattle and the roar should end for the Wabash Cannonball, eulogized by song, kept in legend by generations of midwesterners.

She never saw the wide Pacific shore, nor the Atlantic, as the song said. What she epitomized was the era of the railroad itself. The Atchison, Topaka and the Santa Fe, and the Wabash Cannonball were the best known of the elite. They and Casey Jones at the throttle of Engine 89 made good use of the spirits of the times.

It has all changed and Wednesday morning as she was making one of her last runs, the old Cannonball was only an iron-clad relic poking her nose into the latter half of a century; a time when people could care less about her kind.

A college student who had ridden the Cannonball from Detroit into Adrian, remarked, "I flew from Newark, N. J., to Detroit Metro in 61 minutes, there wasn't time for me to finish my dinner. Why travel the railroad when that thing goes so slow? Jets are the only way."

"That thing" thrived during the early part of the 20th century, the railroads were the "in" crowd's way of skirting and traversing an oftentimes frivolous, broke, independent nation.

The brick-laved platform at the station in Adrian saw many a serviceman thrown down a duffle bag to return home or to await boarding the Cannonball to leave. The khaki-colored canvas bags were no strangers to her baggage car.

She has now outlived her usefulness, she gets in the way of freight trains so her new owner, Norfolk and Western, said she had to go and notifiend the government to have her withdrawn from service. The railroad lobby in Washington being what it is, there is no doubt in anyone's mind that July 3 will sound the death knell of the legendary train that traversed through the eastern part of Lenawee County for so long.

Sisters from the Dominican Motherhouse in Adrian fought, behind the legal mind of Sister Ann Joachim, O.P., to have the service continued. She rallied the young and the old at hearings in Detroit. It was a lonely and fruitless fight for the illustrious Sister Ann Joachim.

When the fabled Cannonball makes her last trip from Detroit to St. Louis, an era will die, but not the era of the people nor the times which she carried. Nor will the song written about her so long ago. Wherever a folk singer plucks a guitar, sooner or later the "jingle, rattle and roar" will be heard.

The death knell will sound only for the train as she is now, a dingy footnote to past glory. But what really carried on in the train will never die, the people and their individual histories and the memories. A knell can only be sounded for the Cannonball herself, there is no death knell for memories, they live on much longer than the cause of even the death itself.

Honor Soldier Of Revolution

A memorial service and grave marking ceremony for William Champenois, a soldier of the American Revolution, will be held Sunday, July 6, at 1 p.m., at Rome Center Cemetery, just east of the junction of US-223 and Rome Rd.

Sponsored by the Onsted Community Historical Society and the Sarah Treat Prudden Chapters, DAR of Jackson, the program will precede refreshments served at the Onsted School by the Onsted Community Historical Society.

Elwood Little, Onsted, Mrs. Reginald Angus, Brooklyn and Mrs. Marcia Houghey of Jackson will furnish further information.

VOICE of THE HERALD

What Will It Take?

What will it take to bring Raisin Township and Tecumseh together as neighbors and friends, working and cooperating with each other for the benefit of all in this area?

Does it take a bigger setback for a family than what the Robert Moores suffered Monday morning? A tragic death? Something else?

Raisin and Tecumseh erred some two years ago when the township cancelled its fire protection contract with the city. This error was repeated to a degree although there appeared no other choice, when an indifferent city government seemed relieved of attempting to satisfy township officials.

Neither party gained, but folks in both areas lost. Some were pro-Raisin and some pro-Tecumseh. None sat down to settle the problems; and, they continue to plague us to this day.

If we allow our differences to exist, our problems will not simply fade away. They'll haunt us from time to time eventually someone will be hurt badly.

Russell Rd. should not divide the two, and it should not prevent the city from answering fire calls south of it. It did Monday morning and will continue to do so unless Raisin and Tecumseh come together.

The Moores suffered a loss in their fire, and who is to say that the city department could have prevented it. Tecumseh could have answered the fire in considerably less time, however, and possibly cut down on some of the damages.

Why should one fire department respond to a call when another is at least three times closer? Why should some folks be made to suffer because two parties can't see eye to eye?

Although Raisin has greatly improved its fire department and is now building a new station at Gady and Occidental Rds., the township still needs Tecumseh — and the city needs the folks of Raisin, their association and friendship.

Something has to be worked out before the Moore fire will be a spark in comparison. Something should be done now, and we urge Council and the Raisin Township Board to hold a joint meeting — and soon!

LUTHERAN PICNIC — The Aid Association for Lutherans sponsored a potluck dinner Sunday at Killarney Lutheran Camp. People, numberin g 213, from about 20 Lutheran churches in Lenawee County and Jackson, attended the picnic. C offee, pop, and ice cream were furnished by the A.A.L. There were games for the children, pri zes and swimming. It was an enjoyable afternoon of fun and Christian fellowship, accordin g to the consensus of those attending. Four Area Youth Abroad for Study

Four area youth are abroad this summer on the Youth For Understanding program with assistance as Niels Hansen Foundation Scholarship recipients.

They are Donald William McVay, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McVay, 306 N. Van Buren St.; Martha Osburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osburn, Tipton; Donna Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murphy, N. Adrian Hwy.; and Carol Lou Dixon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dixon, of Clinton.

All four expressed the desire to learn more about other countries of the world as well as answer questions of the people they will be meeting in the other countries.

The young travelers have had considerable past experience with getting about the world. Donna probably the most, with the sand of 30 of the states and seven Canadian Provinces in her shoes, as well as that of Alaska, a trip she made with her family in 1967.

Don has been in Mexico as well as Canada and many of the states. Martha has been in all of the states east of the Mississippi and Canada.

Don hoped to serve as an altar boy and compare the church mass there with the service used here. He plans to join the U. S. Navy after completing six years in college for a science or engineering degree. He also wants to become a water safety instructor.

Martha likes to live out of doors and is glad that her host, the family of Ferdinand Kruse, is located in a rural area, in northern Germany, near the Danish border in the area of Heidi.

Martha loves German food and would like to learn to cook more of it and to teach folk dancing in return for learning more of theirs.

"I get stung all the time," she remarked as she told of her beekeeping project and that her 4-H leader, Mrs. Ray Buell, would care for her hives while she is away.

Martha expressed a desire to visit other European countries and also her grandmother, Mrs. George Schumm, who is presently visiting in Schneckenloke, Germany.

Martha plans to major in Home Economics and Sociology and become a 4-H agent.

Donna had already been assigned to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Vos Paucke in Edegem, Belgium, with two boys and a girl to show her about their country.

They will spend two weeks in a cottage on the coast near Ostend while she is there and she hopes also to visit some of the other countries.

Donna has always wanted to go to Europe to learn about the people and places there and the things they do. She hopes to understand more of their way of life and help them to know about the United States.

She will miss her horse, Lady, even though the animal is being enjoyed and well cared for by her sister, Patty. The trip will give Donna ample opportunity to conduct another of her hobbies, photography.

Donna and Martha are both members of the Tipton Jets 4-H Club and were both exchange students to Randolph and Washington Counties in southern Illinois last summer.

Donna wants to take a two-year secretarial course at the Colorado State University and become an airline stewardess.

Carol Dixon is a powder puff football buff and also likes sewing and the Japanese art of origami, folding paper into beautiful designs.

She hopes to learn to communicate and understand the Danish people's way of life and impart to them some of the ways of the American people.

Carol would like to become a dental hygienist to enable her to meet more people and earn money for future travel. She would also like to be an airline stewardess.

WHOOOOOOOPEEEEEEEE — Bauer Manor Super Slide will be ready for use in time for July 4. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Doren, owners of Bauer Manor, in partnership with Mr. and Mrs. James Spooner, plan to keep the huge 52-foot high slide in operation winter and summer, both day and night for the pleasure of tourists and the home folks in the Irish Hills. It takes an average of 45 seconds for one to complete the 165-foot ride at 35 to 40 miles per hour down the magic carpet. A grand opening will be held at a later date.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

In a recent column, Paul Harvey wrote: "History say We, the people somehow managed to tame a savage cont nent with our bare hands. We, the people, dropouts fro Europe, scratched, clawed, chopped, sawed, dug and moppe and hoed out of a wilderness — the most prosperous societ the world has ever known."

"Then along came a generation awed by science insisting that we, the people, are clods — unable to do these things for ourselves any more. 'Government must take care of the masses,' they decreed."

With Paul Harvey, I think they are doing a lousy job and they "do collapse under pressure". Well, what are you and I going to do about it? Do we or don't we have an obligation to our forefathers and to future generations to save this country for them?

If you think we do, then it's high time we strongly support congressmen like Rep. Paul Rogers, (D-Fla.), who is demanding that the Justice Department collect the debt of $71,795 from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference for clean-up of the "Resurrection City" mess. Also John J. Rooney, (D-N. Y.) and other members of the House Appropriations Subcommittees who heard the FBI's recordings of private conversations of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, revealing his direct contract with one of the most influential communists in this country.

We at least have an obligation to ourselves to know what is going on — that the "reds" are using every possible opportunity to "divide and conquer" just as stated in the Communist Manifesto — black against white, wealthy against those not so rich, child against parent and one can fill the page, even crew against officers on the Pueblo.

If we do nothing, what can we tell our grandchildren was so much more important than freedom?

Melissa's Japanese Adventure

By MELISSA MATTIS

We took a train to Kitakami which is about 150 miles north of Sendai. Another missionary family lives there and Jan went to school with the oldest girl. We visited there a couple of days.

Kitakami is much smaller than Sendai and because it is quite far north, the atmosphere around the town is quite different. The Japanese people see few foreigners in this part of the country. They would come out of their shops to look at us and the little children in bunches would run up to us and when we said "Hello" in Japanese they would run quickly away with all their little giggles, only to return in a few seconds.

In this section there are many thatched roof houses and buildings. These are now prohibited because of fire hazards, but the people who have them are allowed to keep them, however no more can be built.

Mission has a summer camp in the mountains. Quite beautiful setting in the forest with clear rushing streams running through the snow-covered mountains. We didn't reach the tops of the mountains, but had a lot of fun climbing about the hills.

When we returned to Sendai, we discovered they were having an American celebration in a downtown department store. Astronaut Cooper's space suit was on display, along with the Gemini capsule. It seemed funny to come all the way to Japan to see it for the first time.

They were also showing a 1969 Cougar which is estimated at $10,000. I was quite shocked as it only had a little over 200 horsepower engine. I really don't know what they are trying to do. Maybe they want to portray Americans as being quite wealthy.

Buddhist and Shinto religions are widely practiced in Japan. Buddhism is a worship of ancestors of their families, and Shintoism is more of a worship of their heros, which they term their Gods. I have learned to distinguish both types of priests, primarily because the Buddhist priests shave their heads and have nine scars on them. To become a Buddhist priest one must prove himself worthy by showing no signs of pain or discomfort when hot coals or rods are placed on his head nine different times. If he shows any kind of emotion he doesn't become a priest.

Many of them walk on hot coals without a sign of pain. Mr. Benson has seen this done and it is almost unbelievable.

Shintoism has its origin directly from Japan, but Buddhism was introduced by other Asian countries. Their places of worship, Buddhist temples and Shinto shrines can easily be recognized. Shinto shrines are usually bright red with gold trim, while Buddhist temples are more subtle, usually dark with no trim.

Both Buddhist and Shinto believers leave food at their temples and shrines each day, which they believe their gods eat. Rice is given daily, then returned to the families to add to their food. It is believed it has been blessed by their gods, and will give them strength and good fortune.

It is interesting to note that Thomas Edison is now a Shinto God, their God of Electricity.

After death, cremation is always done, but before the remains are burned, the family and relatives are allowed to choose a bone. Then their ashes are placed in a rectangular box and buried.

We visited Aoba castle which is located on a mountain top. Date, a one-eyed warrior, built this place over 400 years ago and it has been preserved as much as possible. Because of his strength and courage, he became one of the gods they believe in. A large shrine has been built there in his honor.

Outside the shrine is a large container of holy water to cleanse oneself before entering. When a person walks through the large gateway called Torii, the people believe he becomes thoroughly cleansed of all his sins.

Along the sidewalk leading to the shrine there are several statues of creatures. I am not certain what they would be called. They are small like a monkey, but fierce looking like a dragon. On the platform where these iron statues are placed, several hundred tiny stones and pebbles have been put there by the people. They believe their prayers will be carried to the gods if said while placing a single stone. Stones continue to pile up and none are ever taken off deliberately.

Also, on the branches of pine trees, prayers have been written on pieces of paper and tied to the tree. Again, no one removes these. However, one had fallen off and Mr. Benson picked it up, gave it to me, and translated, saying that this particular person was asking the gods for a safe trip to a far-away land and there he will be greeted by many friends.

I thought at first Mr. Benson was kidding trying to relate this prayer to my trip home, but it goes a lot deeper. It is a request that after he dies, his trip to his particular destiny after death, will be a happy unity with other ancestors, etc.

When we got to the shrine, no one was around, so we decided to take pictures, but because there was a gate across the entrance, we had to stay outside looking in.

Jan decided since no one was around we could climb over and take close-up pictures — so we did — hesitantly walking around knowing that we shouldn't be in there and definitely shouldn't be taking pictures.

I walked to the main altar and got a close shot of all the food that was placed for the gods: bananas, carrots, rice, candy, etc.

Then, Jan saw the big kettle-drum type thing. I guess it was the ceremonial drum. While she took hold of the big club pretending to hit it, I got a snapshot.

In the meantime, Mr. Benson heard someone coming, but we didn't hear him. As soon as the flash went off, here came this man. I didn't know what he was saying, but because all of us played ignorant, as if we didn't know any better, everything turned out okay. I was real glad to be out of there.

RESOLUTION

Meeting of the Common Council of the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan held on the 16th day of June, 1969, in the Council Chambers of the City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

PRESENT: Mayor Easton; Councilmen Cook, Holmes, Knisely, Puffer, Sunderland and Whiting.

ABSENT: None.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman Knisely and supported by Councilman Whiting:

WHEREAS it is the desire of this body that a continuing improvement be made in supplying the City with adequate curb and gutter installation:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That the installation of curb and gutter shall be undertaken as soon as practicable on both sides of the street.
   a. South Evans — Patterson Street to Tuttle Co.
2. That the cost thereof is estimated to be $2.50 per lineal foot.
3. That said cost shall be 100% by said particular property owner, less 2% discount if paid within 30 days from date of invoice.
4. That the particular property owners are defined to those persons who own realty abutting on any of the above described areas of improvement.
5. That permanent surfaced drive approach will be installed at the expense of the property owners.
6. That the Clerk cause this resolution to be published for two consecutive weeks in The Tecumseh Herald, designating Monday, July 7, 1969, at 9:00 p.m., at the Council Chambers as a time and place for hearing any objections hereto on the part of any person or persons considering himself or themselves aggrieved by the proposed improvement and assessment.

AYES: UNANIMOUS.
NAYS: NONE.

RESOLUTION DECLARED ADOPTED:

Attest: VERA ZORNOW,
City Clerk

Recreation News

By JACKIE RODGERS AND LINDA YOUNG

TENNIS:

Nearly 15 students have spent a prosperous week learning the basics of the game which includes the forehand, backhand, lob, smash, volley, serve and methods of scoring.

The hard-working students are going to polish their game next week and then plunge into a singles and doubles tournament that will end with the naming of champions.

Anyone interested in lessons are reminded that the second session of tennis lessons begins July 10 through July 25. The cost is only $1 for the entire program, and classes met every weekday morning from 9 to 10 a.m.

If you are interested, sign up and pay your money at City Hall before July 9.

SOFTBALL:

In the Girls' Pee Wee League the Sluggers, coached by Sylvia Steele and Linda Young, downed the Champs, coached by Diane Lake and Linda Wheeler, for the second straight week by a score of 12-11. The game was an exciting one as four round-trippers were blasted by Kit Hollister, Linda West, Maureen Flanders and Karen Bunch.

Opening day for the Junior Girls softball league brought together the Sluggers and the Daredevils. In the first few innings it appeared as though the Daredevils were going to walk away with the victory but the Sluggers made a gallant attempt in the last two innings only to lose by two runs by a score of 10-8.

Michelle Tate, first baseman for the Daredevils, hit a home run in the sixth inning. Sue Brown, second baseman for the Sluggers, hit a homer but in a losing cause.

The leading hitter for the day was Elaine Aebersold, pitcher for the Daredevils, who went 3 for 3 at bat. The Daredevils weren't so fortunate in their next game as they lost a hard battle to Coach Sylvia Steele's "Miracle Workers" by a close score of 12-11.

Jan Upell and Elaine Aebersold pitched for the Daredevils but the "Miracle Workers" couldn't be denied the win as every girl on the team had at least one hit and this fact spelled defeat for the Daredevils as they were unable to shut off the exciting ninth inning rally.

In another interesting contest, Linda Wheeler's Sluggers handed Linda Young's Lovable Lollipops a dastardly defeat by putting together a string of singles in the fourth inning to take the game, 8-5.

The Lollipops were luckier in their next game, as they scrambled the defense of the "Miracle Workers" to take the contest, 13-7. Julie Murphy blinded the "Miracle Workers" with her home run, while Sandy Dunn made a difficult catch and Paula Packard pitched the whole game.

MOMS' SOFTBALL

All ladies are reminded that softball games will be played every Wednesday at 7:15 p.m., at the athletic field, weather permitting. While called "Mom's", it doesn't really mean that you need be a mom or a real distaff Norman Cash, but you should be ready for fun.

The playgrounds continued to increase in attendance last week with help from the sunny weather. Being Physical Fitness Week, athletic games were played and a track meet on Friday was the highlight of the week.

At Herrick Park and Tecumseh Acres they followed the theme of the week by holding jump rope contests, bicycle races, exercises, etc. The outstanding winners at Herrick Park were Jim Smith and Dawn.

Shady Lane got acquainted with their new help, Roseanne Gerten. The special event was a running race, with Bryan Banda, Marty Harper and Becky Stormes as the champs. Friday, the children made letter-holders for mother out of paper plates.

Handicraft Week was held at Patterson playground. Calvin Cooke, Kelly Kruger, Pam Yeary and Stephanie Kruger won the coloring contest with their artistic pictures. A finger painting contest was also held. Eddie Yeary won a belt kit with his masterpiece landscape.

Patterson also had awards for the best handicrafts made during the week. Winners of this event were Greg Young, Mike Young, Jeff Young, and Calvin Cooke.

The highlight of the week was a Hippie picnic Friday, where Mike Young, Jeff Young, Greg Young, Scott Gilpin, Calvin Cooke and Debbie Hamilton all made excellent hippies.

Mike Barrett won the Simon-Says game that wound up the playground Friday. The children also were introduced to their new playground girl, Betsey Bock.

This week is Bicycle Safety Week with a bicycle inspection and a check for handling ability Wednesday. Thursday will be devoted to decorating bikes for the Fourth of July. Playgrounds will be closed for the 4th.

Attendance was good this week at the Craft Center. All youngsters over five are invited to come down and see if they want to make the new crafts we received this year.

A trip to the zoo is now being planned for Monday, Aug. 4. The trip, supervised by the playground girls, is open to all playground children between 5 and 12 years old. We ask that the children who plan to go, sign up at their playground or the Craft Center by next Tuesday. The price cannot be set until the number going is determined. It will be approximately one dollar.

Merchants Win On Home Run In Ninth Inning

BRITTON — The Britton Merchants slo-pitch team won an exciting extra-inning game last week, 13-11 over Deerfield State Bank as Bill Prochaska stroked a long 9th inning home run for the winning margin.

Tom Short led Britton's 14-hit attack with 3 singles.

Chuck Komon, Gordie Henning, Tom Komon and Larry Ivan collected a pair of softies apiece.

The Merchants provided poor field support for winning pitcher, Ken Ivan, as 12 errors were committed.

The team's record now stands at 2-3.

Line score:

Merchants .....112 016 002—13
State Bank .....005 022 200—11

VFW Ponies Split Pair

In Pony League action last week, the VFW team won their first game in standings play by defeating the Eagles, 9-5, Tuesday. It was a fine team effort as Dennis Dermyer picked up 3 singles and drove in 2 runs; Curt Beasley had 2 singles and Mike Murphy, Phil Otter, Al Sellers and Jim Freshcorn each contributed singles.

Jim Freshcorn (1-0) went the distance for the win with Dick Smith behind the plate. Hitting attack for the Eagles was paced by Ifflland, Murphy, Cox and Sisty with singles each. Burkhard took the loss.

In Friday night's action, Dennis Dermyer turned in an outstanding relief job, but the damage was already done as the Indians beat VFW, 10-5. Dermyer came in to relieve Dave McLoughlin with two out in the second and never allowed a hit in the 5 1/3 innings he pitched. He struck out 14 of the 20 men he faced. The 7 runs in the second off McLoughlin proved enough for the win.

Phil Otter had 2 singles and Rate Pate and Dennis Dermyer singles each for the losers. Eggleston picked up the only hit, a double in the second, for the Indians. DesErmia got the win and McLoughlin the loss.

VFW is 1-2 for the season.

Happenings At Swimming Pool

The first session swimming lesson show was held Wednesday evening. Skills learned by the youngsters in the various classes were demonstrated for their parents and friends.

There are openings in all classes for the second session of swimming lessons starting July 7 and ending August 1.

Adult lessons will begin Tuesday, July 8. Lessons will be conducted each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. for six weeks. People interested in adult lessons may contact the pool (phone 423-3800) as a lack of participation will cause the class to be cancelled, Vic Lawson said. The fee for the lessons is $5.

People interested in joining the Red Cross Fifty Mile Swim Club are asked to contact Bill Dustin at the Joyce Andrews Memorial Pool.

If enough interest is shown, there will be a competitive swimming team and a synchronized swimming program. Those interested may sign up at the pool or at the Tecumseh Park.

Exchange 9 Kiwanis 2

Exchange Club banged out seven hits, knocked in nine runs and three young hurlers combined to toss the second no-hitter of the season for the Exchange Club in a 9-2 win over Kiwanis.

Roger Calzoda, who tossed the first no-hitter on his own a week ago against Lenawee Fuels, toiled the first three innings on the mound. In the three-inning stint he struck out eight and walked two.

He was relieved in the fourth by Larry Henry who struck out four and issued two free passes. David Spillman came on in the sixth and struck out two of the three men he faced to preserve the no-hitter. Calzoda picked up the win.

Tim Sisson and Ken Biscupski each hurled three innings with Sison taking the loss. Biscupski and Sisson each fanned five in their stints on the hill.

To offset the fine pitching from both sides were some costly errors in the field. Exchange had six miscues and Kiwanis had five bobbles that proved costly in the loss.

Exchange Club's big inning was the second as they scored four times on two walks, a single and a double.

David Kauffman, Billy Carothers, Dale Johnston, David Spillman, Paul Lemanski, Larry Kauffman and Tom Gray collected the seven hits in the game.

Open House

In honoring their son, Gregory Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Sebring opened their home to friends and relatives June 8. Receiving the 80 guests for a buffet lunch were Greg, his parents, his sister, Carolyn, and his aunt, Mrs. Frederick Dickinson. Greg will attend Jackson Junior College this fall.

New Owners at Skate-A-Dium

"Have you skated before, even on the sidewalk?" asked Tom Gregory of the little shaver with tear-filled eyes at the Skate-A-Dium on M-52, just north of Adrian.

A long continuous nod was the solemn-eyed little man's answer as the instructor of champions quickly dispersed the gloom by saying, "Get your skates on, then."

It was impossible to hear the conversation in the noise-filled arena but no one could mistake the fun the kids of all ages were having as they rolled around the floor, Saturday night.

Tom and his father, Frank Gregory, of Detroit, purchased the business formerly known as the Skate Arena, from William and Helen Hall and took over the operation of it on June 19.

In addition to the same policies established by the Halls, the Gregorys plan to build a strong competitive skating team.

Frank developed his interest in skating as he squired his son around as a youngster from rink to rink.

Tom met his wife, Nancy, on the skating floor and the two are both teachers, having among their students two seven times North America Senior Dance Champions. They are Adolph Wacker and Linda Mottice of Canton, O., who are now retired and teach in Louisville, O.

Both American title holders, Tom and Nancy have two daughters, Chris, 6, and Lori, only 2½, who also like to skate.

The couple have taught in Ohio and Texas and returned again to Michigan where they first started.

"We are just ordinary folk," Tom stated as he introduced his mother, Gwendlynn, also a skating fan.

Debbie Is 18

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pfrumpe entertained a group of friends of their daughter, Debbie, June 29, honoring her on the occasion of her 18th birthday anniversary.

The home was decorated in her favorite colors, green and white, by her brother, Albert.

A hot dog roast and dancing to records highlighted the party.

U-I Scholarship Is Given To Lisa Pence

LISA PENCE

Lisa Pence received a scholarship from the University of Iowa, which she will be attending as a freshman in the fall. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lois G. Hammack and Cecil Pence.

The scholarship, awarded on the basis of high school rank, Lisa was number 17 with a 3.25 grade point average in her class of 1969, and scores on the ACT (American College Testing) examinations given to entering university students.

Lisa will have an equivalent of the resident tuition paid for her by the award and will have to furnish only the additional out-of-state charge.

The scholar plans to major in social work which will yield a B.A. degree after 4 years of education.

U of I has also invited her to enter the honors program on the basis of her ACT scores. For this, the student must have scored in the top 10%.

School begins for Lisa on September 13.

Brazee-Casnovsky Nuptial Vows Spoken

Fresh garden flowers were used on the altar of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church June 21 for the wedding of Linda Brazee to William Casnovsky with the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brazee, 701 Ternes Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. William Casnovsky, of Ithaca.

The bride wore an empire styled floor length gown of deep ivory linen with scooped neck and short sleeves, trimmed with floral Venice lace in a deeper shade of ivory.

Small covered bottons accented the sleeves and bodice and a sweeping chapel train fell from the mid-back.

A matching Camelot headpiece of linen with double frill of the lace and a small obi bow secured her triple bouffant elbow length veil of imported French illusion.

She carried a Dutch colonial bouquet of daisies and ivy centered with white roses.

Jeanne Brazee was her sister's maid of honor in a floor length gown of yellow linen trimmed with Venice lace and accented by tiny covered buttons.

A cluster of matching yellow daisies held her chin length veil in place and she carried a wicker basket of daisies, yellow roses and ivy.

Cathy Moutte of Birmingham, Fran Cibulka, East Lansing, and Patricia Morris were the bridesmaids attired as the maid of honor.

Joseph Casnovsky served as best man for his brother and the guests were seated by Thomas Casnovsky, another brother, Arthur Brazee, the bride's brother, and Ronald Parling, all of Ithaca.

Elizabeth Casnovsky of Mancelona, cousin of the groom, registered the guests. Jill Brazee, cousin of the bride, of Rochester, N. Y., and Diane Gale of Brighton assisted with the gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jacoby were the hosts for the reception in the parish hall where a buffet luncheon was served. The groom's parents hosted a dance and reception for the couple that evening at Banister, Mich.

Mrs. Neal Brazee of Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. Emmet Noggle of Manchester, aunts of the bride, cut the five-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow roses.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Casnovsky are seniors at Michigan State University and they will live at 9370 Cherry Lane Apts., East Lansing.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents Friday night at the Country House.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM CASNOVSKY

MRS. DAVID GRANT RAINEY

Jane Hartman-David Rainey Are Wed In Battle Creek

CLINTON — The Lakeview Baptist Church, Battle Creek, was the setting for the nuptials which united in marriage Jane Sue Hartman and David Grant Rainey, at 2 p.m., Sunday.

White lilies decorated the altar for the ceremony performed by the Rev. George D. Siefert.

The bride is the daughter of J. Scott Hartman, 509 Tecumseh Rd., and the late Mrs. Hartman. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rainey, of rural Bangor.

Ronald Estés of Battle Creek was the organist.

Approaching the altar with her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length A-line gown of white linen, styled with a scooped neckline edged with sculptured daisy lace. Matching lace edged the elbow-length sleeves and clipped daisies accented the bodice.

A cap of lace held her floor-length veil and she carried white lilies with trailing ivy.

Mrs. Larry R. Hartman, of Kalamazoo, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of yellow linen featuring a back panel edged in white lace. Two large yellow bows held her circlet veil and she carried a basket of yellow daisies.

Similarly gowned in yellow linen, the bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Rensland, Grand Rapids, and Sandra Rainey, Bangor, sister of the groom.

Dennis Rainey, Bangor, was his brother's best man. The guests were seated by Thomas Rensland, Grand Rapids; Gregg Piper, Bangor; and Larry Hartman, Kalamazoo, brother of the bride. The ring bearer was John Scott Hartman, Kalamazoo, nephew of the bride.

A reception at the church parlor, was attended by 150 guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilman and Mrs. Richard Denning of Clinton.

Among those who assisted at the reception were Connie Brown, Clinton; and Mrs. David Fox of Battle Creek.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Clinton High School. She graduated from Western Michigan University in 1968 and is affiliated with Sigma Sigma Sigma. She is a first grade teacher at Bangor Community Schools.

Mr. Rainey is a graduate of Bangor High School and attended Andrews University for two years. He is in partnership with his father as a dairy farmer near Bangor.

The groom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner at Bill Knapp's, Battle Creek.

Catherine Brown Is Wed to Russell Blanden

Catherine Ruth Brown became the bride of Russell Jay Blanden Saturday evening in St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

The double ring candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Price, uncle of the groom. He was assisted by the Rev. Francis Outram and the Rev. Russell Cooper.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Brown, 7230 Milwaukee Rd., approached the altar on the arm of her father. She was wearing a white Edwardian silhouette gown of pure silk organza, fashioned with a high Queen Anne collar and heirloom lace detail.

The A-line skirt was adorned at the back with a fan-shaped Cathedral train. A matching Cathedral length heirloom lace mantilla was attached to her Queen Anne crown. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Stephen Derby was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Susan Bottorff and Marianne Johnston. They were dressed alike in floor length sleeveless gowns of white linen with ruffles accenting the neckline and hem. They carried colonial bouquets of field flowers and wore matching floral headpieces.

The groom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Merwin R. Blanden, 5140 E. Monroe Rd., chose Robert Glenn as best man. The guests were seated by David Blanden, brother of the groom, Marc Brown, brother of the bride, Jeffrey Osburn and Thomas Cobb.

Keith Bailey was the soloist, accompanied by James Sharpe on the organ.

A reception for 300 guests was held at the Tecumseh Country Club with Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Butler as hosts. Those assisting were Mrs. Jack Whelan, Mrs. William K. Brown, Mrs. Franklin Humble, Mrs. Lee R. Britton, Kristine Humble, Karen and Lorraine Brown.

A rehearsal dinner was given by Dr. and Mrs. Blanden Friday evening at the Country Club.

After a honeymoon in Jackson Hole, Wyo., the couple will live in Apt. A-9, Pontiac Heights in Ann Arbor.

MRS. RUSSELL BLANDEN

Buku-Butler Vows At St. Elizabeth's

Judith Ann Buku and Terry Gene Butler were united in marriage Friday evening by the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

White gladioli were used on the altar and white ribbons were used to mark the family pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Michael G. Buku, 114 S. Wyandotte St. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butler, 404 Adrian St.

Wallace Whiting was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Johnson.

Entering the sanctuary on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace with fitted bodice, featuring long tapered sleeves and a sabrina neckline trimmed with sequins. The bouffant skirt with chapel train was in tiers of lace and tulle interspersed with sequins.

Her Spanish illusion veil was edged with Chantilly lace and appliqued motifs and was secured to a crown of lace, pearls and sequins.

She wore a pearl choker and carried a cascade of white roses.

Elise Buku was maid of honor for her sister in a nile green chiffon floor length gown enhanced with embroidery at the empire waist and on the cuffs of the long sleeves. A chiffon coat was secured at the shoulders and her veil of imported illusion was attached to a tiara of lace and pearls. She carried a cascade of yellow carnations with yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Ronald Petee of Petersburg, sister of the bride, and Ruth Ann Wilson, cousin of the bride, of Waterville, O., were the bridesmaids, attired the same as the maid of honor.

Keith Richardson was best man and the 250 guests were seated by Eric Long and Norman Schweded.

The bride's table was flounced with green at the reception in the school auditorium.

The bride was graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1968 and the groom in 1969.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the groom's parents Thursday evening.

The newly-married couple will live in Paul's Trailer Court.

MRS. TERRY GENE BUTLER

Peace Theme for Assembly

Richard Krebs, Jr., presiding minister of the Tecumseh Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses announced they have received invitations from the world headquarters in New York to attend the "Peace on Earth" International Assemblies.

Delegates will be going to Atlanta, Ga.; Buffalo, and New York City, N. Y.; Chicago, Ill. and Kansas City, Kan., during the weeks of July 6-13 for the first three assemblies and July 21-27 for the others. From 8 to 14 delegates will be going to each of the International Assemblies and 40,000 to 50,000 are expected at each one. These Assemblies will be in such places as Yankee Stadium. The Atlanta Stadium and the White Sox Stadium. These five conventions will be part of 25 in 15 countries.

Krebs said the theme, "Peace on Earth", was a fitting one since the facts show that during the last 3,361 years there have been 3,134 years of war and only 227 years of peace.

Krebs feels the theme indicates to him and those associated with his congregation that by their attendance they will receive not only the standard benefit of family counsel from the Bible but information from Bible prophecy relative to events to unfold in the immediate future. This will be a factor in moving many to attend from the local congregation.

The highlight of the assembly will be the public address, "The Approaching Peace of a Thousand Years" to be delivered the final Sunday afternoon.

WCTU Meeting

Mrs. William Hotrum will entertain members of the WCTU Tuesday, July 8, at her home at 203 E. Shawnee St., at 2 p.m.

Mrs. William Grigg will be the program leader.

CHILDREN'S DAY

The 22nd of June was a typical Sunday, cold and dark and wet! As the first Sunday of summer, it was a complete washout; as a bird-watching day, it was a great success. It was Children's Day — all of the bluejay, hairy and downy woodpecker, sparrow, tufted titmouse, and nuthatch kids were out learning about this great, wide wonderful world. They didn't seem to mind a bit that it was a soggy world.

There were five bluejays, three youngsters shepherded by two adults. They were free-loading at the hanging feeder and all was peaceful. Surprisingly peaceful considering. Bluejays are not always inclined to get along so well with each other. Everything was going well — the bluejay with two youngsters was politely taking turns with the one who had an only child — when suddenly along came Mrs. Hairy Woodpecker with her offspring. Trouble.

The bluejays were most unhappy to have uninvited guests and the woodpeckers could not understand what the mob of jays were doing at their, the woodpeckers', special feeding station. Perhaps was more at stake here than just a free meal, there was even more at stake than just protecting the youngsters, there was family pride and prestige.

After all, the bluejay has a reputation of being a bully which had to be upheld and on the other hand, the hairy woodpecker, being one of the larger members of the woodpecker family, is used to dominating. It was quite a confrontation.

★

THE BATTLE was noisy, fast, and noisy. Seven birds flying at each other makes for a lot of action. The bluejays won the screaming contest but the woodpeckers could not be bested when it came to bristling up and looking fierce. Most of the action was a blur but one encounter stood out crystal clear.

A young bluejay and a young woodpecker found themselves sharing the suet holder. Everybody else was away chasing someone. The birds just looked at each other — the bluejay was glaring and the woodpecker was trying to raise the feathers on his head, both had their bills wide open, and both were obviously wondering why the other one didn't leave.

Finally we decided to intervene. We loaded the near-my-window feeder with scratch feed which was liberally laced with cracked corn. The bluejays accepted the invitation and swooped down, thus leaving the suet to the woodpeckers.

As if appreciating the departure of the rowdy bluejays, the hairys settled down to some of the most polite breakfasting you have ever seen. It was almost gentle and just imagine two birds with such huge beaks being so careful. But when Mrs. Hairy offered a bit of suet to her youngster, it was just the tips of their chisel bills that met. What could be nicer?

And what could be in sharper contrast to the scrapping that was taking place on the near-my-window feeder? There is nothing polite about baby bluejays being fed. Or more particularly, about them not being fed. Two of the youngsters were begging and being completely ignored while the other was occasionally getting a little attention.

There was constant coming and going, of course, and whenever an adult lit on the feeder, one of the kids would rush up and start screaming. With wings spread and fluttering helplessly and his big red-lined mouth opened cavernously-wide, the younger would shrilly holler his demand of, "More, more, more!"

As we have often noticed, the shrieking kids, when no one did feed them, were perfectly able to eat for themselves. Such fakers, though, and such beggars.

★

THE YOUNGEST of the bluejays did, I must admit, have some trouble eating. Food spilled out of his bill, sometimes when he reached for a bite his aim would be off and he would miss his mark, and once in a while a piece of corn would snap away.

This produced one almost horror-stricken baby bluejay. His actions were funny and so was his appearance. His feathers were soft and downy, his back was still baby-gray instead of blue, and his bill, not yet hard and black looking, was not even full grown yet.

While all the bluejay squabbling was going on, three grubby little downy woodpeckers and their rather overworked mother had joined the hairys at the suet. Everything was peaceful, the downys knew their "place in the world" and did not challenge their bigger cousins.

Once the hairy tried to sample the peanuts but that did not work. The peanut holder is just too small for such big birds. This feeder, however, did not lack for customers. Young tufted titmice and the upside-down nuthatches were busy. With no parental supervision no lecturing about balanced diets, they were having a wonderful time eating peanuts for breakfast.

So it is that, taking a lesson from the birds, we tried to ignore the miserable weather and it worked — we had a fine time watching the children enjoying Children's Day.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHY IS IT I CANNOT UNDERSTAND THE BIBLE?

There are many folk who make a real effort to read and understand the Bible. Yet so many of these same folk repeat the above complaint, "I don't get it." The Bible must be treated fairly. One cannot expect to have it make sense if he reads a bit here and a snatch there. A Chapter of Romans with a few verses of Revelation will never make sense. The Bible can be known if some rules are followed.

First of all, read it like you would read any other book, beginning in the front and proceeding to the back. This can mean either starting in Genesis or Matthew.

Next, you must accept at face value the literal use of the text unless this is impossible. For example, stars are stars unless we are told as in Revelation 9 that the star is a being.

Then there should be a realization that the text will not contradict other portions of the book. If it seems to do so the problem is with the reader and not with the Bible. Doctrines are not built on one text nor on questionable passages.

Finally, God has said in I Corinthians 2:14 that the Bible is a spiritual book and only understood by those who have the Holy Spirit. Ask God for insight into the Book and ask God to put His Spirit into your heart.

God answers prayer.

Unable To Stop, Car Overturns

Harold W. Cole, 37, of 5061 Macon Hwy., was the driver of an automobile and travel trailer which overturned on US-12 at Tipton Hwy., Sunday at 5:10 p.m.

Cole was eastbound when he saw a vehicle ahead stopped on the highway for a left turn, but he was unable to stop the car and trailer. Cole swerved and the car overturned on its top and the trailer overturned on its side, striking a road sign.

Mrs. Ruth Cole, 35, was treated for injuries to her right hand, and daughter, Susan, 7, was treated for injuries to the right eye, at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Other passengers, who were unharmed were daughter, Sandra 5, and Jude Rowe, 4, of 20300 Lib staff Rd., Britton.

Cole was given a summons for being unable to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Parish Census

Patricia Clauda has been commissioned by the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church to take a census of the church families.

She will begin her work, calling at each home July 14.

Lee Heberlein Is Lifeguard

Lee Heberlein, son of Mrs. Strelna Heberlein, 84 Pentecost Hwy., and the late Oliver Heberlein, has completed the senior Red Cross life saving course and is serving this summer as an official life guard at the Milton Hershey School pools in Hershey, Pa.

LEE HEBERLEIN

Lee, 17, is a senior at the privately endowed boys school where the special training was offered as part of the physical education program and in conjunction with the explorer scouting activities sponsored by the school.

Night activities are part of a change in program design for the 1500 boys at Milton Hershey School. Except for a six month vacation period, the students remain on campus, through the summer, where an extensive schedule of social, cultural, educational and recreational offerings is provided as part of the total school experience.

Woodlands Are Big Business

An acre of woodland has dollar value! It also has many other values, according to Jack Ehlert, Chairman of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

Lenawee County woodlands of over 38,500 acres are part of the 10 million acres Michigan has in trees. The Michigan forest industry is listed as a billion-dollar-a-year business. It is producing an average of $83 per acre per year of our gross income. This means woodlands in Lenawee County are worth more than $2,000,000.

To Start New Swimmers' Classes

Nelson Brown, swimming instructor is making an effort to start a group in synchronized swimming and one in competitive swimming.

Anyone interested may register with the Board of Recreation at the Tecumseh Park or at the pool by the athletic field.

MACON MAXIMS

By MRS. HAMILTON MOORE

Monday at 7:30 p.m. the Pastor Parish Committee will meet in the Macon United Methodist Church. The Board of Trustees will follow at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Arthur Miller of Saline, will entertain the Mary-Martha Circle Tuesday, July 8, at 8 p.m. This will be one week later than the regular date. Mrs. Edward Zick will be in charge of the program.

The Faith Circle will be going to the Chelsea Methodist Home July 10 for a picnic dinner. They will leave the church at 10:30 a.m. Anyone interested in going is welcome. Those needing a ride may contact Mrs. Russell Van Valkenburg or Mrs. Charles Gorton, Sr.

Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore returned home Sunday from the annual School of Christian Mission at Adrian College, the past few days. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Moore called on Mrs. Edward Furlong, who has been a patient in the University Medical Center, Ann Arbor.

The senior choir is meeting every Thursday evening at 8 p.m. Mary Williams is the director and Mrs. Carl Thomas, the organist.

Plans have been made for the annual church-wide picnic. They have chosen the Macon school yard. It will be on July 13, with picnic lunch at 1 p.m. Members are suggested to bring their own table service, a dish to pass and beverage. "Bring along some friends, let's make this an old time picnic," say the picnic planners.

The Senior Youth Fellowship of the Macon United Methodist Church are sponsoring a home-made ice cream social, July 12. Due to construction on the new educational unit, the social will be held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Zelluff, which is across the street from the church. Home made pies and cakes will also be featured. They will be ready to start serving at 6 p.m. Proceeds will go towards the Building Fund.

Mrs. Clarence Hall and Mrs. Doan Moore have both returned home from Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Cindy Rathbun of East Lansing, returned to her home Tuesday after spending several days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Jordan, also her great-grandmother, Meg Moore, was a Sunday guest of Cindy's.

Mrs. Helen Williams, daughter, Mary, and son, Mark, have moved to Clinton where they have purchased a new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas, Mrs. and Mrs. James Thomas and family, spent Saturday in Wauseon, O., attending the annual Threshers' Reunion.

Credit Union Wins Two

Credit Union took two games last week, 7-1 over Rotary and 18-10 over Kiwanis.

Manuel Torres threw a no-hitter with 8 strikeouts in the first game with Don Dermeyer behind the plate for the winning team.

Ben Wood pitched to Mike Creswell for Rotary.

Dermeyer led the hitters with a double while Gary Beasley, Doug Bunch, Doug Gilpin, Randy Knight and Leon Findley each had singles.

Beasley scored the clincher as he crossed home, bases loaded, on Torres walk.

Second game saw several more pitchers come off the bench — both teams experiencing trouble with walks.

Credit Union did it again with Dermeyer starting on the mound and moving behind the plate as Bunch took over and threw 5 innings and 7 strikeouts. Gordon Whelan caught for one.

Kiwanis pitchers shared 7 strikeouts, Ken Biscupski, Brad Sisson, Brian Bud, Mike Ocamb and Ed Clark. Steve Dermeyer caught.

More was attributable to walks than relating pitchers — Rick Butler scored the winning run after his single, with bases loaded on Dan Tilton's walk.

RAYMOND SHEPHERD'S PARKVIEW MARKET—At the entrance to Walter J. Hayes State Park, offers everything for the fisherman, the picnicker, the camper, the bather or the boater. Added this year is a line of sportswear for men, women, children.

Parkview Market On US-12 Offers New Lines for 1969

Parkview Market at the entrance to Walter J. Hayes State Park at Wamplers Lake is a complete shopping center for the vacationers in the area of Sand Lake, Evans Lake and, of course, Wamplers. Picnickers in the area find it a good source for that forgotten bottle of catsup or mustard or ice or anything else that might have been left behind in the rush of getting to the lake on time.

For the boaters there is gasoline for the engine or other accessories that keep the old boat on keel.

The Market offers a complete line of food and those favorite beverages for hot, sultry, summer days. Packaged liquors, beer and wine are in stock at Raymond Shepherd's all-around shopping center in the heart of the lakes.

Ray added something new this year to his ever-growing selection of merchandise for resorter, camper or picnicker. Men's, women's and children's sportswear are now on sale to really complement what has already been a general market place.

A new addition, 24x56 feet, was constructed last fall to make room for the new line and also provide an office for Ray, who dabbles in real estate and the renting of cottages, along with everything else.

Mahogany paneling, acoustical tile and vinyl floor covering enhance the building. Plans are to blacktop the entire parking area soon.

Dan Shepherd, manager of the store for his dad, and Darlene, formerly of Lincoln Park, live with their little boy, Raymond Shepherd, III, on Deep Lake.

There are nine other employees, Brenda Yancy of Temperance, James Patton and Eugene Speller, Clayton, Pamela Laporth, Toledo, John Doyle, Little Stoney Lake, Linda Covell, Sand Creek, Barbara Krzyzaniak, Tecumseh, Terry Larose, Wamplers Lake and Leon Carson of Onsted.

In addition to food for the hungry vacationer, Ray offers a complete line of fishing tackle to help out that anxious fisherman. If you don't have a license, well, that's easy, because Parkview Market can take care of that, too. Just as easy as that.

Smokercraft Boats are another of the products that the market offers anyone who might need a way of getting around northwestern Lenawee County's beautiful lakes, and what way is better than a boat?

So there it is tackle to put the bait on to catch the fish. A license to keep away the game warden. Meat and groceries of all kinds to fed the hungry, gas to get there and ice for the beverage to celebrate the big catch and a boat to get you where the biting is real good.

Parkview Market is located on US-12 at the entrance of Walter J. Hayes State Park. An easy trip on good roads from all the lakes, large and small, in the Irish Hills.

For Golfers, M-50 Tee Is Home On the Range

50 Tee is in its second year of operation and owners, nd Clayton Greenwald, are constantly adding new con- es and sprucing up the most complete driving range awee County.

e advantage of the driving range is automatic ball- that are a real boon to the driver. Other nice things M-50 Tee are the bright lights which give the oppor- or everybody to go out and knock out a few after they nished the day's work morning, noon or night.

ris and Clayton still have the mock green in the fair- r the aim of the would-be giant killers of the tee.

e location of M-50 Tee is ideal for persons living in ort areas or for people in Tecumseh, Clinton or other Good roads lead to "The Spot" in all directions.

fun part of the activities at M-50 Tee is the miniature course which gives even the most agile with a putter now and then. You can take it serious or you can ab a putter and putter away.

The grass is always kept in a manicured condition to give a bright pleasant look to the whole surroundings. While this doesn't have much to do with straightening out a hook or unslicing a slice, it does give the golfer a relaxed outlook on the part of his game he wishes to improve upon.

Practice swings from ground play are also allowed in a special area just west of the fenced stalls. Crooked irons have a way of ironing themselves out with some good concentration here.

The fenced stalls give the golfer ample room to swing away without being interfered with or interfering with other golfers. A big back-swing is no problem here.

So whether it is clout, duff or fun, M-50 Tee has it for everyone (young ones included) on the range or on the miniature golf course.

Located four miles west of Tecumseh, just east of Tipton, M-50 Tee is a great place for fun.

Clayton and Chris are there from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., every day of the week for the convenience of all.

LE PUTTING COURSE—Driving range for both woods and are Chris and Clayton Greenwald's invitation to area golfers at M-50 Tee, located just east of Tipton, or four miles west of Tecumseh.

Touch of Past

1869

Thomas O. Perry was orator of the day for the alumni exercises held in the Union School hall. A program was given in the afternoon and in the evening they attended the Presbyterian Festival in Merchants Hall.

1879

The stockyards at the depot are being connected for water supply.

The temperature varied more than 24 degrees in less than an hour, June 25, with the mercury up in the 90's.

William F. Allen is building a fine farm house east of Clinton.

1889

Dell Hubbard has bought Asa Howe's stage and will take parties to the lakes on call.

Lew Priest has opened a cobbler shop in Bidwell Block of Harris & Hitesha's.

The wool market is booming—32c a pound.

The old wooden awning between McCowen's furniture store and Birdsall and Glenn's Market is being removed.

1899

President McKinley has decided to call for 12,000 volunteers for service in the Philippines.

Elmer Blessing has begun work on a new home.

Work has begun on the new German parsonage on the Ridge.

The t[illegible] reel[illegible] Ridgeway alumni was held yesterday.

1909

B. J. Pulver has opened a soda fountain in his drug store.

Levi Hayden has purchased the Nickle Theater from Will Barrett.

The late Helen M. Griswold left the Methodist Church $300 and the missionary societies each $100 in her will.

1919

E. L. and Frank Parker of the Clinton Clothing Company are going out of business.

The Ladies' Band gave a concert at Saline recently.

Fred Rosacrans & Sons store has installed two new measuregraphs to measure yard goods and figure prices automatically.

Dr. Paine and Earl Morden of Saline have purchased the stock from the Macon store from E. M. Dewey.

C. E. Crampton will be the new superintendent of Tecumseh Public Schools.

Beginning July 1, the old postal rates of 2c for letters and 1c for postcards will be resumed.

1929

A heavy wind and rain storm did much damage in the county June 27. Tipton, Hudson and Medina suffered the most damage.

1939

The first class to graduate from Macon High School, known as the Stone Pennington School, sponsored by Henry Ford, received their diplomas last Thursday evening.

B. J. Pulver won a trip to the World's Fair because his Rexall Store placed first in a sales contest.

1949

Shirlie Anne Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moore, will be crowned Queen of Lenawee by Gov. G. Mennen Williams Friday. She will reign over Tecumseh's 125th Anniversary celebration.

President Harry S. Truman sent his "very best wishes to the citizens of Tecumseh for a most enjoyable and successful celebration."

1959

Three-year-old Donald Wells, Jr., was found unconscious, motionless and face-down in three inches of water in a small wading pool, Sunday. Prompt action by John Saling, Tecumseh volunteer fireman and Lenawee County Civil Defense director, resulted in the boy being revived. Saling used the fire department's resuscitator, filling the boy's lungs with oxygen.

The Minnie-Wankaleya Indian Dancers gave their first performance at the Tecumseh swimming pit. The Dance group of 13 American Indians was organized by Donald E. Stevens (Red Arrow) of Dundee, a Chippewa Indian from the Mt. Pleasant Reservation.

It was a swingin' weekend in this community, beginning with the annual Jaycee carnival. Friday night the merchants had a Moonlight Sale which brought out 5,000 shoppers. Kroger had a junior-size circus, Saturday, in a parking lot, complete with two elephants and other wild animals. Then, Sunday, hundreds of planes swarmed into Meyers Airport, sponsored by the Exchange Club, with breakfast served to 1,000 persons in the hangar.

Leland Kapnick was surprised Saturday night, when 33 friends and relatives descended on his home, unannounced, to celebrate his 42nd birthday anniversary. What really "got his goat" was the gift — a live, one-horned goat with a birthday card around her neck, from brother-in-law, Al Cutler of Canandigua.

Paul Goves Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Vicki) Gove and son, Paul Gordon, of Oxon Hill, Md., will be visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gove and sister, Beth, beginning July 3.

An open house will be held for friends and relatives of the guests on July 5, beginning at 2 p.m. at the Gordon Gove residence.

Mrs. Gove reminds open house guests that they have moved to the first house on the north side of Eccels Road.

Lake Drive-In Shows Two Films

July 5 and 6, the Devil's Lake Drive-In will be featuring two films: "Decade of Decision" a Billy Graham film, and "My Favorite Phony", a Ken Anderson release.

In "Decade of Decision", one segment relates the story of psychiatrist, Dr. Fred Milkie, and how he first heard about his need for Christ at the Devil's Lake Drive-In while viewing a Billy Graham film. This weekend will be the 15th anniversary of that showing.

The drive-in is located at the south end of Devil's Lake. There is no admission charge.

Visit USS 'Bama Moored at Mobile

While in Mobile, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCrate, 513 Seminole Dr., visited aboard the USS Alabama and the newest Gulf Coast attraction, the USS Drum. These awe-inspiring ships are moored in Mobile Bay as memorials to the veterans of WW II and Korea. These ships are open to the public from 8 a.m. to sunset seven days a week.

When the news appeared that the USS Alabama was going to be scrapped, Alabamians said "No!" and contributed nearly $1,000,000 to bring her home. She was towed 5,600 miles, the longest tow-tow in history. She cost $200,000,000 to build and she is worth seeing as her kind will never be built again.

The engagement of Mary Rynd to John Abbott is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rynd, 13580 Bartlett Rd., Clinton. The bride-elect is a 1967 graduate of Clinton High School and is a junior at Eastern Michigan University. Mr. Abbott is a 1967 graduate of Blissfield High School, attended Michigan State University, and is now in the Navy, stationed on the USS Samuel B. Roberts. A Sept. 6 wedding is being planned.

ESKIMO WILLIE IMUDLUK PROCLAIMS:
I'M SOLD!

Frost-free Refrigerator WITH Automatic Ice Maker

Willie Imudluk, who recently visited Michigan, really lives on the edge of the Arctic. Even though his family enjoys the convenience of a modern refrigerator, Willie nearly jumped out of his snowshoes when he saw the new frost-free model with the automatic ice maker. We know you will, too. Every man will love the luxury of a never-ending supply of ice cubes, the convenience of no more ice tray filling or spilling. And wouldn't you like to get rid of that dreaded defrosting chore — the chopping, slopping and mopping — with a refrigerator that defrosts itself automatically? See the new frost-free refrigerator with the automatic ice maker today. Like Willie, you and your family will proclaim, "We're sold!"

Phoenix Rises from the Ashes; Heritage is Reborn in Clinton

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Rising as a Phoenix from the ashes of a disastrous fire, one year ago in February, the Smith-Kimball Community Center has now been restored to usefulness and beauty.

The stately brick mansion was built by Jira Payne in 1840, just 15 years after the first settler, John Tyrell, had taken up the first 400 acres from the government, in Oak Openings, now the site of the Village of Clinton.

The mansion was given to the community in 1956 by Mrs. L. W. Kimball, whose family had owned the mansion for 93 years.

For the past 11 years its labyrinth of spacious rooms and a second-floor "grand" ballroom were used by hundreds of persons every month. Many brides found it provided a homey decor for wedding receptions.

Hollow-eyed, the burned-out building stood in ghostly disarray for several months last year, while torrential rains poured through the crumbled roof and gushed down the curving stairway, causing more damage.

When it was determined that the 128-year-old brick walls and foundations were sound, and that the structure could be restored, the Village Council ordered the work on the restoration be done by the Clintonian Construction Company.

The donors of the building had requested that the exterior front of the building be always kept intact in design. Luckily, the huge whitewood Doric columns were unharmed, and the contractors were able to restore the majestic railed roofline. Visitors will be amazed at the many historic features which have been salvaged, almost without apparent damage.

Although the towering hall fireplace and attached bookcases had been pulled away from the wall during the fire, none of the small, beveled glass door panes were broken. Before his recent resignation as custodian of the center, Harry Werth painstakingly removed several layers of blue paint and partially restored the mantle and cases to its natural oak beauty.

The oak balustrade on the curved stairway escaped the fire, and, more miraculously, the priceless colored, Tiffany glass windows on the landing, still sheds its golden light throughout the hallway, marred by only a short, hair-line crack.

Matching colored glass doors, which used to be just inside the front entrance, were found, unharmed, midst all the fire debris, where they had been stored in the basement. It is planned to have them rehung at the entry.

First floor rooms are left divided as they were, which is convenient for small groups meeting there.

The kitchen was remodeled just two years ago and those cupboards were salvaged and painted. Space, which was formerly a large dish-storage pantry, is now incorporated into the kitchen area of the custodians' apartment.

In the annex section over the kitchen and apartment, the game room [illegible] completely lined with wood paneling. Although the pool tables were lost in the fire, it is hoped that it will be possible to acquire new ones.

The biggest change of all has been made in the second floor area. Previously there was a ballroom, extending all across the front of the building, and several smaller rooms and hallways.

Now, partitions have been removed, creating one large hall, 54' x 28', and a kitchenette has been added for use in serving light refreshments.

Two new rest rooms have been added on the second floor.

New beige vinyl floor tile has been used throughout the building.

New gas hot water furnaces have been installed with auxiliary forced-air units, controlled by area thermostats.

Completely rewired, the electrical system is now controlled by a master switch panel in the basement.

During construction, the necessary interior preparations were installed which would permit air-conditioning to be added without structural changes, at some future time.

The restoration cost approximately $93,000, with $65,000 paid by the insurance.

According to Village President John Truesdale, the balance of the cost will be paid by the Village, from electric plant proceeds, at no cost to the taxpayers.

The center is operated by a two-mill tax levy on village residents, and by proceeds from moderate rental fees. Reservations must be made at the Village Office.

For someone who thinks the center is a great place to visit and who might even like to live there — an opening exists. A custodian or a couple is needed and the refurbished apartment at the rear is provided for living quarters. Interview can be arranged by contacting Hollis Farley, chairman of the community center board or the Village Office.

GAME ROOM — Mayor John Truesdale inspects upstairs game room, newly-paneled in natural wood. Pool tables and game equipment, lost in the fire, is still needed.

MAJESTIC HEIRLOOM — Restored to all its traditional beauty, the Smith-Kimball Community Center is ready to face its second century of use by a grateful community. The center was opened to the public in May, just in time for graduation parties, wedding receptions and summer reunions.

When will the Open House be held?

TIFFANY GLASS SPARED — Treasured colored glass window survived the blaze, as did the towering mirrored fireplace-bookcase. In recent weeks, former custodian, Harry Werth carefully removed several layers of paint off fireplace, restoring its natural oak finish.

BALLROOM SIZE — Removal of partitions upstairs provide a greatly-expanded area for receptions, and a kitchenette, complete with sink, stove and refrigerator adds to the convenience. Since the photo, burnished gold draperies have been hung throughout the entire center. Clinton High School juniors held their "Candyland" J-Hop here and there was plenty of room for more than 100 dancers.

Fred Van DeMark's Ninety Years Young

CLINTON — Fred Van DeMark was greeted by 75 friends and relatives on the occasion of his 90th birthday anniversary, Thursday afternoon, at a reception arranged by his daughter, Mrs. Anna Mae Waterman, at their home, 114 Washington St.

FRED VAN DeMARK

Present for the occasion was Mr. Van DeMark's granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Pastucha, and children, Hallie and Gregory, of Irvington, N. Y. Mr. Pastucha was on business in Australia and unable to attend. Other guests came from Manchester, Ann Arbor, Adrian and Tecumseh.

Mr. Van DeMark was born in Clinton and for many years operated the Van DeMark Hardware in Clinton, which was founded by his father, A. B. Van DeMark. In later years, after he sold the hardware, he was employed at the Clinton Woolen Mill and the Tecumseh Products Company.

He observed his 50th wedding anniversary with his wife, Helen, in 1953 and she died in 1965.

He makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Waterman, and his Benson, lives at 215 River St.

Besides Mrs. Pastucha, grandchildren include Mrs. Robert Way, 207 W. Church St and Fred Gordon Van DeMark, Mesa, Ariz.; and eight great-grandchildren.

Alert and chipper for all his years, Mr. Van DeMark enjoys watching the baseball games on television and chatting with friends, although he must get about in a wheel chair much of the time.

A decorated birthday cake and punch topped off the festivities Thursday.

So Long, Farewell From Bridge Club

CLINTON — Mrs. Fred Geiger entertained 12 members of the Duplicate Bridge Club, Thursday evening.

The occasion was a farewell party for Mrs. Luther Kemp of Tecumseh, who will be moving soon to Texas, with her husband, and for Mrs. William Moeller, who will be moving with her husband to Arizona in September.

A blue and white color scheme was used in floral arrangements and table appointments.

Four Tables Play In Euchre Game

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. David Heimerdinger entertained their neighborhood euchre club, with four tables filled for games, Saturday evening.

Prize winners were Mrs. George Heimerdinger and Merval Mattis, high; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steffens, low.

The buffet supper featured pigs-in-a-blanket, melon ball compote, and strawberry-topped cake and ice cream.

The next party will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hartung in September.

1-2-3; No Sale?

CLINTON — Three automobiles, owned by John Underwood Chevrolet - Pontiac, Inc., were clobbered in a mishap at the used car lot on Brown St., at 12:50 p.m. Saturday.

Sister Rose Craig of Siena Heights Dr., Adrian, was backing one of the vehicles, a 1966 Buick, from the lot, when apparently her foot slipped from the brake pedal to the gas pedal — backing into a 4" steel post, causing the pole to fall on the roof of the second car, a 1969 Pontiac, and then her vehicle continued backwards across Brown St., and struck the side of the third car, a 1966 Chevrolet.

The Dominican nun, and her passenger were uninjured.

Driver Ticketed

CLINTON — Gary Kime, 23, 310 River St., was given a summons for careless driving when he lost control of his convertible and hit a guard post and fence on US-12, one-half mile west of Monagin Hwy., at 9:30 a.m., Sunday. He was not injured.

Bible School For Three Thru Teens

CLINTON — The Rev. Ralph Tennyson, pastor of the Clinton Assembly of God, is arranging for their Vacation Bible School to be held at the Methodist Education Building, E. Church St., beginning Monday and continuing for two weeks.

Sessions will be held each evening from 6 to 8 p.m. for children three years through junior high age.

There will be Bible and handicraft classes for all, conducted on the theme, "Take the High Way".

Among the teachers will be the Rev. and Mrs. Tennyson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Klanke, Mrs. William Greene, Mrs. Henry Jordan, and several young people will be assisting.

Marcee Meet Tom; Two Tickets Given

CLINTON — Five local youths escaped injury in a collision on W. Church St., just east of River St., at 3:35 p.m., Sunday.

Thomas L. Faulhaber, 16, of Clinton-Macon Rd., had stopped his westbound vehicle to discharge passengers, when he saw an eastbound approaching vehicle, driven by Marcee Meyers, 16, of Jackson St., Faulhaber put his car in reverse and backed across the street, striking the Meyers' car.

Faulhaber received a summons for unsafe backing and Miss Meyers received one for no operator's license.

The three passengers in the Faulhaber car were Peter Schneider, Steve Hathaway and Donald Gibbard.

Clinton Chatter

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Calhoun and son, Terry, attended the Michigan Landrace Breeders' Association picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Eichler, near Bronson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vovrick have purchased a home at 227 Church St. and moved here from Beal, Calif., where he recently retired as a Lieut. Colonel in the Air Force. They've been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Meyers until the house is ready. Mrs. Vovrick is Mrs. Meyers' sister. Mr. Vovrick is now the flight captain for the Nomads, a privately-operated travel club, based at Metropolitan Airport.

Robert Herman entered Bixby Hospital, Adrian, for medical treatment, June 23, when he became ill suddenly.

Mr. and Mrs. David Whyte of Scarsdale, N. Y., and their daughter, Susan, of Pearl River, N. Y., arrived Tuesday to visit for several days with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Wolf, and family.

Trip Ends With Otter Troubles

CLINTON — Mrs. Edward Kehoe returned recently from a three-week trip to France, Italy and London, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Paul Snyder, of Jackson, 11-year-old granddaughter, Sharisse Sell, Sister Angela and another friend, both of Ann Arbor.

Despite the fact that Mrs. Kehoe and Sister Angela have heart conditions, and the former resorted to a wheel chair for some of the climbing about — the entourage toured the catacombs and called on the Pope in Rome, toured Nice, Monaco, the Riviera, and visited the Shrine at Lourdes, France.

Mrs. Kehoe, a native of France, enjoyed visiting with her cousins there, her first visit since she left there as a child.

The group arrived in London just in time to see Queen Elizabeth's birthday processional parade.

An amusing climax occurred as the Pan American jet landed at Metropolitan Airport, and the luggage compartment was opened — then hastily shut up again — and there was a delay of two hours while airline officials did some pondering.

It seems a baby elephant, en route from London, had nosed his cage open and then he opened some pens releasing several otters, which created a bit of havoc among the luggage, and among the officials, as well.

Summons Issued Dundee Driver

Clinton State Police issued a summons to Bruce A. Weygand, 21, of Dundee, Sunday afternoon for careless driving, when he lost control of his automobile and it crossed the highway, overturning in a ditch.

Weygand was admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital for treatment of his injuries.

The mishap occurred at 5 p.m. on the County-Line Rd. at Welch Rd., in Macon Township.

Mrs. Campbell On Probation

CLINTON — Marilyn Campbell, 38, of 15980 Wellwood Rd., Manchester Twp., was placed on three years' probation by Washtenaw County Circuit Judge Ross Campbell, last Thursday.

Mrs. Campbell pleaded guilty to manslaughter charge for "unintentionally and without malice discharging a shot gun and fatally wounding her husband, James C. Campbell, Jr., 42, in the chest." The shooting occurred Jan. 17 at the family home.

Mrs. Campbell was also ordered to pay a fine and costs totaling $350.

Boy Scouts Go Camping

CLINTON — The following boys from Boy Scout Troop 5 of Clinton spent the week of June 22 - 28 at Camp Kanesatake, near Cambridge Junction: Jim Mattis, Tom Busch, Mark McDermott, Guy Beebe, Jeff Baldwin, Robert Notman, Tom McCollum and John Vincent, with adult leader, Wayne Balliet.

Friday night the boys' families came up to camp for a potluck supper and attended the awards ceremony.

Jim Mattis, working on second class rank;

Mark McDermott, one mile swim; Guy Beebe, second class rank; Jeff Baldwin, second class rank and markmanship first class certificate; Tom McCollum, second class rank, markmanship certificate and merit badges for fishing and leatherwork, beginner's swimming; Robert Notman, beginner's swimming, also did 12 things towards completing second class rank, but could not go before the Board of Review because he hadn't been a tenderfoot the required one month.

Tom Busch, star rank, one mile swim, and merit badges for fishing and life saving; John Vincent, star rank, markmanship first class certificate and merit badges for fishing and leatherwork.

Tom Busch and John Vincent were also tapped out to join the Tecumseh Lodge of The Order of The Arrow. To be elected to this you have to be a good Boy Scout, have a good Scouting spirit, be a good camper and help others in scouting.

Former Denizens Honored on 25th

CLINTON — A surprise 25th wedding anniversary reception honored Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sage, Sunday afternoon, at their home at 1207 Manhattan Dr., Ann Arbor. They are former Clinton residents.

The surprise was planned by their sons, William, a University of Michigan graduate, who is now a law student at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., and Robert, who will be a sophomore at Western Michigan University.

Among the 40 friends and relatives who attended were several from Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tate, Mrs. Thomas Pence, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blumhardt and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Girbach. Mrs. Sage's mother, Mrs. W. D. Moats, of Florida, who is spending the summer with her daughters in Adrian was present for the occasion.

. . . . A few had heard wild rumors about the quality of the wheat. It was apparent that only those with spiritual interest in this experiment were interested — and 5,000 bushels of wheat was a lot of seed.

Planting time was creeping up rapidly and Perry saw that something had to be done at once. He decided to reduce the selling price of the seed to a dollar per bushel, as an inducement, and then to run ads in all of the surrounding papers. The results from these ads were practically negligible.

About this time, the 4-H Clubs felt as though they should drop the Dynamic Kernels project and devote their time to some other effort which would bring in more cash returns for the greatly needed improvements on their headquarters building at the Fair Grounds.

Dr. Samuel Harrison, President of Adrian College heard of the difficulty and asked Perry to come to the college to see him. Dr. Harris suggested, "I see so much genuine merit in your project that I want to do something to help. If you will give me the data I will send an appeal to the ministers throughout the country, to request their farm members to sow some of the Dynamic Kernels seed wheat."

He then prepared and mailed 5,000 circulars throughout the state and nation, without cost. This stimulated the farmers and increased the rate of sales.

Dr. Don Falkenberg, President of the Bible Meditation League, also jumped into the breach and sent out a circular letter, urging all Christian farmers to use some of Hayden's Biblical Wheat for seed that fall.

Dr. Roy E. Smith carried an appeal in the Christian Advocate. John Marvin, editor of the Michigan Advocate, also carried a fine story. Many of the newspapers for miles around added to the appeal, and gradually the wheat started moving out a little faster.

Another unexpected crisis arose when Fred Sheldon called Perry's attention to a musty odor in the wheat. Upon investigation, they found the worst of their fears to be true — it was heating. Harry Downing felt that it probably would be all right, but Perry had all of the questionable wheat set aside. There were almost 500 bushels affected. Roland Mohr warned Perry that he might have a lot of trouble with his wheat within the next ten days.

When things looked the darkest, Perry looked to God, and thought of Gideon and other heroes of the faith who went right up to the jaws of death, and then saw God perform miracles.

Many skeptics were gossiping in the community, which added to the difficulties. Some were delighted over his predicament, and some even secretly hoped that he would fail. Others merely made thoughtless statements which were embarrassing and difficult to throw off, such as the one made by a prominent businessman when he accosted Perry with, "So Henry Ford put you on your own, did he?"

A month before the time for planting, less than half of the seed had been sold. It looked like a hopeless task. While Perry was contemplating his troubles, Mary Jane came across the following words in Mrs. Charles Cowman's book, Streams in the Desert: "God uses troubles to teach his children precious lessons. They are intended to educate us. When their work is done, a glorious recompense will come to us. There is a sweet joy and a real value in them. He does not regard them as difficulties but as opportunities."

Perry said some time later, "While I was breathing in 'short pants,' along came another surprise that almost 'floored' me. The Ford Motor Company wrote that they had not released me from the expense of $6,595.20 for labor in planting and harvesting the 230 acres of wheat for the fifth year.

The statement was a frightening thing to see. Perry did not show this letter to anyone, nor even mention it to his family. There had already been enough rumors and there was no necessity in starting more.

Mixed with the disappointments, there were many bright and hopeful experiences . . . Like a new "shot in the arm," Floyd Starr of the Starr Commonwealth, the famous "Boystown," asked Perry to save 75 bushels of wheat for his boys to plant on their farm at Albion Michigan. This added inspiration and color to the lagging sales campaign.

With only two weeks remaining before the deadline for planting wheat in Michigan, Perry had sold only 1,600 bushels out of 5,000. An intensive campaign did not seem to speed it up much. Perry was not sure whether the farmers were through buying their seed for the fall planting, or whether it was the lull before last minute rush . . . "It is always the darkest before the dawn," said Perry hopefully.

The following reasons were tabulated as most frequently given by those who did not care to plant the Dynamic Kernels: (1) "Some of the Ford People say your seed is bad." (2) "I want to plant my own seed. I know what it will do." (3) "I have always used white wheat and yours is red." (4) "What's wrong with your wheat that you are selling it for only $1 per bushel?" (5) "It's too dry to plow the ground, so I am not going to plant wheat this year." (6) "It's too much trouble to keep your records. I don't want to bother with them." (7) "This is just a scheme of Perry Hayden's," etc.

As the time was rapidly running out, Perry was invited to present his proposition to a large group of farmers, in the grandstand at the County Fair in Adrian. Everyone seemed interested and Perry felt hopeful that it might bring some results. He also made a number of other talks throughout the country, to stir up interest.

The next day, Ralph Tew, President of the Fair Board, and Harry Hungerford, the Secretary and Manager, called Perry into their office and asked whether they might plant some of the Biblical wheat in the center of the race track. Here was the answer to a prayer for an ideal place to hold the final celebration . . .

A few days later, there was a lot of excitement at the Fair Grounds as the infield of the race track was cultivated for the first time in many years. The land was prepared by the latest "Seaman Tiller," pulled by International Harvester tractors, which replaced plowing, discing and harrowing, in one operation. Lester Baker, of the Armour Fertilizer Company, furnished 300 pounds of "2-12-6" fertilizer per acre. Tracy Lassey of the Wilcox Hardware Company, furnished a John Deere drill to put in the seed the same day. The weather was ideal. The ground was just right for cultivating, but did not look very rich.

A Macon farmer returned his seed because he found some "vetch" in it. He told Perry that vetch was one of the hardest weeds to control and he did not want to get it started on his farm. Perry asked several other buyers about it. Stacy Zilke of Deerfield and Wm. E. Uckele of Blissfield were not particularly concerned, so Perry felt relieved.

On the last day of September, the sales had slowly crept up to 4,272 bushels. Fortunately, it was a late dry fall and wheat could still be planted for another two weeks. There was now less than a thousand bushels to dispose of.

The next few days saw most of the wheat go out — but a few days later a wet spell came and the farmers could not get into their fields to plow . . . Perry's Dynamic Kernels wheat seed started coming back. Other farmers kept calling for dribbles of seed until it was all back out again, except for seven bushels.

It was now October 12, and almost too late to sow any more wheat that season, when Perry decided to rush this last seven bushels to a friend in Ogden Township and ask him to put it some place. On the way he stopped off at the Fair Grounds to see how things looked there, when he was met by Ralph Tew, President of the Fair Board. "Talk about the devil and he is sure to appear." I was just going to call you for another five or six bushels of wheat to complete our field. We ran short."

"I have it in the back of my car now," Perry laughed, as he motioned to Art Newell, the caretaker of the grounds, to help himself.

When the records were compiled, it showed that 276 farmers had planted the genuine Biblical Wheat, originating from the first cubic inch, and had promised their tithes to 175 churches, representing 30 different denominations.

There was a note of sorrow in Perry's heart when he heard that the beautiful "Dynamic Kernels Mill at Macon," which was originally built for the Fifth Year Celebration of his project, was to grind its first wheat. Perry drove out to the mill and saw the waterwheel turning as he entered the grounds. Emerson Shackleton, the Ford miller from Dearborn and a group of engineers were gathered about to watch the lovely mill grind a little wheat. . . . This was the event that Henry Ford and Perry Hayden had hoped to see at the fifth harvest of the Dynamic Kernels, before an audience of 10,000 happy people. . . . Now Perry was sadly standing at the edge of the group when Edgar Clark approached him to offer a sack of the first graham flour that came through the mill.

Mr. Ford was reported to be improving in health, but seldom seen by any of his friends. He wasn't present to see his little mill started.

There had been so much accumulated publicity throughout the past five years, that Perry was swamped with requests to show his beautiful colored movies and to tell the story of his unique demonstration. He spent most of the winter appearing at churches, conventions and religious gatherings all over the country. Even though the experiment had another year to go, according to the original plan, it had already developed into a great inspirational sermon and a practical demonstration which made the blessing of tithing a living reality.

CHAPTER 18

Celebration Moves to Fair Grounds

Definite plans were now made with the Lenawee County Fair Board to hold the huge final historic celebration for the great tithing experiment, at the Adrian Fair Grounds. The plot of wheat sown inside the race track was heaven-sent, as it would be an ideal symbolic field, representing those planted by the 276 farmers scattered all over the country. The grandstand would provide comfortable seating for thousands of visitors. The large stage in front of the grandstand, across the track, would make an ideal place for the ceremonies and reports to be made by the farmers who planted the wheat. The big field inside the track would be perfect for all of the demonstrations. There were ample parking facilities and plenty of room for additional thousands of people to wander over the large grounds. The sixth harvest now had the makings of a great religious event of nation-wide interest.

Adrian businessmen, service clubs, churches, civic leaders and the Adrian Telegram rallied behind the idea and offered full co-operation. The businessmen volunteered to decorate the downtown streets, put in special window displays, promote a harvest-pageant parade, and to help underwrite the expenses. They were alert to the fact that scores of newspapermen, magazine writers, photographers, newsreel operators and radio commentators would be in town that day, and would emblazon the name of Adrian across the nation. It was not only an opportunity of helping a renowned religious project, but also a chance to "sell Adrian." If the visiting press and radio boys caught the spirit of the occasion, it would mean a big thing for the community, so they decided to go "all out" to show them what Adrian could do.

Thursday, August 1, was set as "Biblical Wheat Day" — the grand finale of one of the most unique religious demonstrations of all time.

The County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution asking every minister in the county to preach on the subject of "The Tithing Wheat," on Sunday, July 28, and for the Mayors of every town in the county to declare August 1 as "Biblical Wheat Day."

The response was almost instantaneous. Mayor Clarke W. Baldwin of Adrian started the "ball rolling" and others followed. Gov. Harry F. Kelly took it up from there and officially declared August 1st as "Biblical Wheat Day" in the entire state of Michigan.

Sec. A. D. "Josh" Billings, of the Adrian Chamber of Commerce, offered the services of his organization and made many valuable suggestions in connection with the promotional plans.

Paul M. Ahleman, President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, presented to his group the opportunity of doing something big for Adrian. They voted unanimously to take over the financing and supervision of the street decorations.

The Lenawee County Ministerial Association went on record to support the big celebration in every way possible. They particularly agreed to bring before their congregations the challenge of Christian Stewardship, as demonstrated by this Six Year Tithing demonstration.

Adrian College took an active part in all of the preliminary work. President Sam Harrison, Professor Howard Western and Mr. Robert Tuttle were particularly active in all of the plans and preparations.

(To Be Continued)

Mrs. Larry W. Waynick, the former Catherine Elizabeth Maples of 607 Herrick Park Dr., had the honor of pinning on her husband's First Lieutenant bars at the U. S. Army International Logistics Center, New Cumberland, Pa. Lt. Waynick is from Detroit and taught school in Warren before entering the Army one year ago.

Great Day for the Races

By NANCY MARTIN

Everything was on the "good" side at Manchester Speedway Friday night. Good weather, good crowd and good races. Don Taylor's time of 19:04 was the fastest of 53 cars qualifying.

The first heat saw Jim Stemen jump quickly out in front and hold on for the checkered flag over Louie J. Stemen, Taylor and Dick Crup. In the second heat, Howard Woodman took the lead on the third lap and never was headed. Ray Barnard came up fast on the last lap, but took second by a tire. Junior Gary finished third and Dean Mackey, fourth.

Paul Whitaker came from the back of the pack to win the third heat over Jim Shook, Larry Liedle and Allen Teubert. Gary Rhoades was first across the line in the fourth heat, followed closely by Jack Wirth and Jim Martin. Don Roe was fourth.

The pursuit had several spinouts and the caution flag came out on the fifth lap. At that time there were only two cars left running, Louie J. and Taylor, and that's the way they finished, as Louie had the groove and Taylor tried for five laps but had to settle for second. Stemen was third and Younkin fourth.

The semi had to be restarted once and a couple caution flags were out, but Martin Inde held onto his lead for first place over Liedel, Shook, Rhoades and Martin.

Don Taylor did a good job of driving to take another feature win. He is the current leader in our point standings, and working to stay there. J. Stemen took second over Younkin, Louie J., and Woodman.

but why?

Becky is a water baby—one part mermaid, three parts fish. We took her to the lake this summer, and she splashed and tumbled in the water joyously. I had to watch her every minute. I finally had to take her out by force—much to her consternation and objection. It took some doing to distract her.

Actually, it's relatively simple to comfort a small child whose wishes have been thwarted. A toy, a cookie, sometimes a loving hug will turn the trick.

But how about grown-up frustrations? When sick with disappointment, heartbroken or dejected by a bad turn of events, where can an adult turn for consolation and support?

God's Church is the mainstay to every situation. Radiating God's goodness, it offers reassurance and relief to the baffled and the hopeless. Men turning toward its promise find new confidence and faith and hope recovered.

Musical Fable Will Usher in '69 Season

By BILL SANFORD

The Croswell Summer Theatre program opens this evening with the musical fable, "Gypsy". The musical with music by Jule Styne, words by Stephen Sondheim and book by Arthur Laurents was suggested by the memoirs of Gypsy Rose Lee.

The musical fable, as the authors entitled it, depicts the early years, through vaudeville to burlesque houses, of stripper Gypsy Rose Lee and her sister, actress June Havoc.

The domineering mother, Rose, is determined that her children will achieve all that she was denied or incapable of achieving. Rose is played by Clinton's Peg Geiger.

The pushing stage mother collects a bevy of children through the years and through misdirection does not allow Rose Louise, later Gypsy, or her sister, June, to grow up.

June is the talented one of the pair, according to the mother, and Louise merely goes along to take care of other more menial things.

On her way to pushing the children onto the stage she also comes by Herbie, a former agent, who has given up the bit to sell candy to the fading theatres around the country.

The musical is one of the most nostalgic to have crossed the footlights in many seasons. Vaudeville was dying and the depression had put the clamps on theatres all across the country.

Arthur Laurents was an accomplished playwright of the serious vein until he decided to collaborate with Leonard Bernstein and Sondheim on "West Side Story" and later again with Sondheim and Styne he penned the book for "Gypsy".

His talents of building up a scene dramatically come off very well in the musical vehicle.

Sonheim's lyrics and Styne's music have not dimished in over 10 years.

Most of the resident company at the Croswell will be participating in the production which will run July 3, 4, 5, 6, 31 and August 9, 10.

Members of the company are Guy and Lynn Miller, Jeff and Marriane Wagner, Glenn Harbaugh, Joe Balsanek, Susan Weatz, Paul Schierhorn and Allan Rust, all returning from last year's season.

New this year are Daine Frank of Euclid, O., a senior drama student from Ohio University at Athens. Dean Kyburz of Lansing and a 1967 graduate of MSU. Marilyn Lenine of Slippery Rock, Pa., a senior at Slippery Rock College, studying costuming. J. Craig Collicott rounds out the newcomers to the Croswell summer stage.

Harbaugh and Wagner will be sharing the director's chair this season with Wagner also designing the sets. He will also appear in "Gypsy" briefly and direct "The Odd Couple". He is an Adrian College alumnus. Harbaugh will direct the three other plays.

Balsanek works stage crews and during the winter taught speech in the junior high school in Adrian. Rust works in the publicity department. Guy and Lynn Miller spent the winter at Furman University in North Carolina, where Guy was working on his masters in theatre arts.

Mrs. Wagner works in the costuming department as she did during last season's performances.

Performances of Gypsy begin at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the box office daily or by calling 263-7450.

4-H Youth Go To Washington

Eight Lenawee youth departed for Washington, D. C., June 28 for a six-day workshop on Citizenship. Youth participating from Lenawee include: Barbara Vincent and Ray Gentz of Tipton; Marsha Gautz, Palmyra; Charles Cole, Mark Reister and Anna Bishop, Sand Creek; Kirk Onweller, Morenci; Elaine Kalnbach, Lyons. Various local groups aided 4-H in sending the youth to Washington.

Prior to their departure the youth had opportunities to study local and state units of government in preparation for the Citizenship Shortcourse.

The Lenawee delegates will join with other Michigan youth including Monroe and Washtenaw 4-H'ers in visits to National Shrines and other points of interest including the Capitol, Supreme Court, White House, Washington Monument, National Archives, Smithsonian Institute, Library of Congress and National Gallery of Art.

After the youth return to Lenawee they will be asked to work with youth and adults interested in developing citizenship awareness programs. Groups or clubs interested in learning more about the Washington Citizenship Program are urged to contact the 4-H office (phone (265-5108).

Dream Leads to Reality

By MAXINE CALHOUN

When events began to actually happen on June 20, much as they had in a vivid dream sequence experienced just a month previously, Mrs. Earl Simmons was stimulated to renew her search for her mother, whom she hadn't seen for 21 years, and believed was dead.

Loneliness and heartbreak, which spanned all those years, ended Friday night when mother and daughter were re-united.

MRS. EARL SIMMONS AND MRS. MARION AUSTIN

Thelma Simmons says she had read about such things as witchcraft and extra sensory perception (ESP), but, she didn't really believe in it, until this strange turn of events.

Mrs. Simmons and her husband, Earl, and two children, Donna Marie 7, and Earl, Jr., 9, have resided at 1412 Moore Rd., Birdsall area, since September.

It was 21 years ago when her parents, Paul and Marion Austin, were divorced, while living in Grafton, W. Va., and five-year-old Thelma Austin was taken to be raised by her paternal grandmother, and in succeeding years by other relatives in Michigan.

Through all those years whenever Thelma inquired of her mother's relatives, they "didn't know" or at least, wouldn't say where her mother was. All her repeated efforts to find her mother proved fruitless.

It was five years ago, when she was told by a relative that her mother had died after an illness of cancer. Because she believed this, her dream of a month ago made such an impact on Mrs. Simmons.

In that dream, Mrs. Simmons saw herself returned to Grafton, W. Va., and she walked into the large Four-Corners Restaurant, where her mother had been employed as a girl. Still dreaming — Mrs. Simmons says she heard her mother's name, "Marion", called aloud. Then she began asking someone there about her mother's brothers, Harry and Sam. Just as she was asked if her mother's maiden name was Lock, Mrs. Simmons fainted — in the dream.

So vivid was the dream, that the next morning, Thelma Simmons told her husband all about it, and later, she recited it all to a close friend, Mrs. John Fretwell, of Adrian. Mr. Fretwell and Mr. Simmons are fellow employees at Universal Die Cast, Saline.

A month passed, and June 20, Mrs. Simmons went to Grafton, W. Va., to attend the funeral of her uncle, Hector Austin.

Just before the funeral, she dined at the Four-Corners Restaurant, and later — at the cemetery — she actually fainted and had to be carried away.

The strange sequence of happenings caused Mrs. Simmons to cancel plans to return to Michigan right after the funeral. Instead, she persuaded her father, Paul Austin, also living in Michigan, to take her about Grafton the next day to question relatives about her mother's whereabouts, still not knowing if she were alive.

At last, they found someone who could tell her that her mother's sister lived in Canton, O. Then, the telephone began to buzz — and after a call to Canton, a call to Valparaiso, Ind., finally made contact — and mother and daughter talked together for the first time after all those years.

Late Friday night, Mrs. Marion Austin drove here to get re-acquainted with her daughter.

After all the tears were dried, the two women had a chance to talk — and talk — at long last.

There's a lot of catching up to do and two happy children who are getting to know their "new" grandmother.

Luncheon Held for Macon Extension

Mrs. Floyd Barrett served a luncheon Tuesday at her home for the members of the Macon Extension Club. She was assisted by Mrs. Walter Prill.

Mrs. Charles Ricica conducted the meeting when Mrs. Laurence Hoagland and Mrs. Barrett, the nominating committee, presented a slate of officers that was accepted. They are:

Chairman — Mrs. Ricica.

Vice-chairman — Mrs. Don Mueller.

Secretary — Mrs. Virgil Bortel.

Treasurer and reporter — Mrs. Delta Croll.

Project leader — Mrs. Walter Prill.

Votes of thanks were read from the Janet Ruesink and Cancer Funds.

Members signed a card for Leland Bush who is a hospital patient and a sympathy card for Mrs. Ward Bettis.

Mrs. Prill will select and purchase a gift for Mrs. John Buckles, who was secretary and treasurer and resigned to move to Washington.

Mrs. Mills Swick was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Herbert Gilmore and Mrs. Kenneth Johnston are the committee in charge of the chicken barbecue to be held at the home of Mrs. Johnston July 13 at 12:30 p.m. She asks that members have their chicken at her home by 10 a.m.

Bible School Starts Monday

The Tecumseh Friends Church will hold daily Vacation Bible School July 7-11 in their new building on the Tecumseh-Clinton Road. Eva Clausen and Celeste Richardson of LaRue, O., will conduct the school and will be remembered by many in Tecumseh, this being the home church of Eva Clausen. All boys and girls of kindergarten age through teens are invited to attend from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day and are asked to bring a sack lunch. For those needing transportation, please call 423-7387 or 423-3431.

High Standing

Stephen G. Derby, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Derby, 607 W. Kilbuck St., will be among 383 students feted at an academic achievement dinner in the fall on the MSU campus for outstanding academic achievement during the 1969 spring term.

Each student will receive a letter of congratulations for attaining a grade of 4 or 4.5 in every course. He is studying computer science.

Methodist Youths on 4-Day Retreat

Members of the Senior High Youth Fellowship of the United Methodist Church have just completed a four-day planning retreat at the Merlyn Downing cottage located at Higgins Lake.

The 12 youth, led by their newly-elected officers, Donald Porteous, Jr., president; Judy Packard, vice-president; Denise Criss, secretary; and Kent Downing, treasurer, tentatively prepared programs of a diversified nature for the evening meetings during the coming year. Also discussed were such money-making projects as bread baking, rummage sales, and bake sales.

When not working, the youth went swimming, canoeing on the Au Sable River, and made a trip to Hartwick Pines.

Accompanying the MYF'ers were the pastor, Rev. Donald Porteous; Mrs. Merlyn Downing and James Danforth.

Two Attend Girls State

BRITTON — Sue Ann McWilliams and Arlene Buckles returned home last Sunday after spending a week at Girls State on the campus of University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The girls sponsored by the Britton-Macon PTA were among the 462 junior delegates throughout the state that spent the week in Mary Markleg Hall.

Party caucuses were held, followed by the election of State officials as well as county and city.

Arlene was elected to the office of city manager of Collins City and Sue Ann was city treasurer of Schuitems.

Each city was made up and consisted of 22 girls and each county contained three cities.

Sue Ann's city theme was "Peanuts", and as treasurer, she collected all monies and paid the bills for decorating supplies, pictures and pizzas.

Thursday evening everyone attended a reception in Rackham Hall for the State officers and their parents and awards night was held there Saturday.

Sue Ann's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McWilliams of Holloway Rd., and Arlene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Buckles.

18 Members Meet In Duets Class

BRITTON — The Christian Duets class with 18 members present met last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Palmer.

A short business meeting conducted by the president, Howard Rhora, followed a cooperative dinner.

The Palmers showed color films of their trip last year to Brunswick, Ga., when they visited their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Branham.

Barry is stationed there with the U. S. Navy.

Wednesday, Sept. 17, the class will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands.

Bill Smith Fires 6 Under Par 66

BRITTON — Bill Smith captured the first Long Horn Short Horn all-star golf classic last Sunday, firing a sizzling 6 under par 66.

The handicap tournament played at the tough Dundee Golf Course, saw 21 area golfers competing.

Tom Cadmus, Jim Lister and Tom Komon tied for second place with scores of 67.

Champion Smith, shooting rounds of 32 and 34, had a par on the final par 5 hole for victory.

Smith entered the tournament with a 16 handicap.

Mr. Gripton Hosts Philathea Class

BRITTON — Glen Gripton entertained the Baraca Philathea Class at his cottage at Wamplers Lake Sunday evening.

A roast beef cooperative dinner was enjoyed by 15 members and eight guests.

Swimming was enjoyed by some while others spent the evening visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland will entertain the class Sunday, Aug. 24, at their home on Hoagland Rd.

Participating in the recital were Susan Vollis, Dawn Haas, Melinda Bortel, Mike Hintz, Scott Niblack, Dan Wielfaert, Julie and Janene Schultz, Joan and Sharon Schroeder, Sarah and Molly Younglove, Susan and Cheryl Long.

Mrs. Schober served refreshments following the program to parents and friends of the young people.

New Minister Arrives at Ridgeway Church

BRITTON — The Rev. Luren J. Strait has accepted the position of pastor of the Grace United Methodist Church in Ridgeway, also serving the Britton area. He and his family have moved to the parsonage at 136 Church St., Britton.

The new minister has served for the past four years in the suburbs of Detroit, at Riverview and Rochester.

He is a native of Michigan and was raised near the village of Vermontville in Eaton County. After graduating from the high school of that community, he attended Michigan Normal College at Ypsilanti, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in 1940.

In 1946, he received the degree of bachelor of divinity from the Graduate School of Theology at Oberlin, O.

He has held pastorates in Milan, Mooreville, London, nine altogether in Michigan, one in New York and one in Ohio.

The Rev. Mr. Strait has been active in church and community programs where he has served including scouting, human relations councils, CROP, schools of churchmanship, Wesley Foundation, Red Cross and Civil Defense.

Mrs. Strait, the former Elizabeth Tuttle, was born and raised in Burlington, Vt. She met her husband when they were both attending school in Ohio. They began parsonage living in Azalia.

They are the parents of three children, William, Ellen and Robert. William is back in the states, having just completed a tour of duty in Vietnam with the special forces (Green Berets). Ellen is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University as is her brother, William. She has served as a substitute teacher in the Rochester public school system this past year.

Robert is presently aboard the carrier "Ticonderoga" in the Pacific and plans to re-enter college when he completes his naval service in about 13 months.

William is married to Vonna Von Renner of Lincoln Park. Both are school teachers.

Busy Session For Board Monday Eve

Tecumseh School Board has a busy session next Monday evening, plus conducting its annual election of officers.

Items on the agenda include sale of bonds for finishing the Sutton Elementary School, purchase of 120 acres for a new high school, and ratifying a master contract with the Tecumseh Education Association.

The new high school site is at E. Chicago Blvd. and Rogers Hwy. Negotiating teams for the Board and TEA approved a master contract last week, pending approval by the Board itself and the teachers.

Sidewalk Sale Is Next Week

Biggest townwide sale of the year is scheduled in Tecumseh next week with the merchants' annual Sidewalk Sale.

As in the past, the festivities will not only include sale bargains but balloons and clowns for the youngsters, square dancing exhibition by the Shawnee Squares, and an ice cream social at the corner of W. Chicago and N. Pearl St.

Folks looking for the best bargains will be able to find them throughout The Herald, on the newsstands Wednesday afternoon and in the mails Thursday morning.

The Sidewalk Sale, scheduled for July 18, will be held the following day in case of rain.

OFFER SERVICE — Tecumseh Council journeyed to Holloway Monday evening and offered fire protection service to Raisin Township, if the officials there wanted it. Spokesman for the city was Mayor Harold Easton, third from the left, and speaking principally for the township was Supervisor Jim Mitchell, second from the right. Others viewing the discussion were from the left, Councilmen Don Sunderland and Ray Puffer, Ned Lanning, township resident; Lee Coffey and Dick Galloway, Raisin officials; and Kathleen Osburn, township clerk.

Raisin, Tecumseh Near Fire Protection Pact

By BILL WHITING

The Tecumseh-Raisin Township fire protection dispute is quickly becoming a thing of the past.

In a township board meeting held Monday evening, officials of both communities came to a temporary agreement and scheduled a meeting for next Monday to work out a formal contract. Until that time, Tecumseh will respond to fire calls made in conjunction with a mutual aid agreement, whereby each department will respond to a request made by the other.

The opportunity to discuss the situation came as a complete surprise to township representatives as Mayor Harold Easton and the Tecumseh City Council walked in unexpectedly and proposed a settlement.

The board had just passed a motion to meet with the Council only minutes before, and Council couldn't have timed its appearance better if they had been following a script.

Easton explained that their delegation represented a gesture of "good will" on the part of the council.

"We're not after your money for fire protection, but we're offering protection for at least parts of your township," he stated.

Robert Moore, township resident who lost a garage in a fire last week, raised the question of re-negotiating a contract with Tecumseh early in the meeting. The proposal was discussed at length as board members explained the situation.

Jim Mitchell, township supervisor, pointed out that Tecumseh's was the only department in the county with which Raisin did not have a mutual aid agreement.

When questioned later on this point, Easton replied that the city had dropped the mutual aid idea some time ago because, "the city was called out too often and when it was not necessary for Tecumseh to be there."

Mitchell also cited abuse by local residents who called the city when the township department should have been notified. He explained that this was one reason for the cancellation of the previous contract in 1967 and suggested that the individual home-owners pay half the cost of fire runs from the city in order to deter future recurrences.

In pursuing his proposal to renegotiate with the city, Moore suggested the possibility of having someone on duty at the township fire barn 24 hours a day.

It was reported that only three other departments in the county had such an operation — Adrian, Tecumseh and Morenci — at a minimum cost of $8,000 per year, according to William Mackey, County Supervisor and Raisin building inspector.

Monday night's session will include the Council and Raisin Township Board and representatives of the two fire departments. Meeting is scheduled at city hall at 8 p.m.

Businessmen Offer New Project Plan

Council adjourned a public hearing Monday night for a requested zoning change by Ernest Oliver and Joseph Conklin for some 19 acres in the second plat of Goodacre Gardens, just north of Burt St.

Both local businessmen sought the change for multiple dwelling and residential development. A previous request failed to obtain a favorable recommendation from the Planning Commission.

In their request to Council, they told officials that they hoped to meet city building requirements and ordinances and hoped to present a plan soon that would be acceptable to the city.

Since no one from the area was present to object to the zoning change and a new plan was promised, Council adjourned the hearing to a later, unscheduled date.

The Oliver and Conklin proposal for new construction here could well run between $1 and $2 million. Builders from Toledo and Detroit are interested in the project, one which could eventually involve about 45 acres.

$3 Million Park, Center

Raisin Township Board meeting was full of surprises Monday night as Raynor Snyder, area realtor, asked for board approval of plans to develop a mobile trailer park and small shopping center on the Joseph Dewey farm.

The three million dollar project, to be located on Occidental Hwy. at Gady Rd., would be available only to senior citizens of retirement age. Mr. Snyder emphasized that no families with children would be accepted.

Joseph Dewey and several associates will be developing the 150-acre site, according to the realtor.

Architect's drawings were not available, but Mr. Snyder reported that Dewey was being very particular in his plans. The sites are to include enough space for small gardens as well as a shopping center within walking distance.

The farm is presently zoned for commercial use, although it carries a conditional authorization for mobile homes.

Snyder cited the urgent need for such dwellings in this area, plus the added tax advantage to the township.

The board took no action, but informed him to petition the board of appeals, who will hold a public hearing.

Curb, Gutter Authorized

Installation of new curb and gutter along S. Evans St., between Patterson and H. W. Tuttle Co., was approved for scheduling by Council Monday evening.

Two ladies from the area attending the session objected at first until they learned that their assessments could be spread over three years on the tax rolls.

Total cost is about $9,000. Penn Central Railroad will be charged $4,580 for their share, and Tecumseh Corrugated Box, $2,137.-50. Other charges will be assessed against individual property owners.

Hope To Raise Membership

Forty-nine Senior Citizens met for games and refreshments Thursday afternoon at the Community Center.

The regular meeting will be held July 10 and it is hoped that the membership can be raised from 89 to 100.

Announcement was made that there are no dues and that it isn't necessary to be present for every meeting or drop-in session.

Mrs. Elmer Green and Agnes Hamilton will be the committee for Thursday.

Storm Cuts Power Here

It was a soggy Fourth of July as residents and holiday vacationers in the Tecumseh and Lenawee County area were hard hit by the rash of thunderstorms and tornadoes which rampaged through southeastern Michigan Friday evening.

Lee Wetherby, Consumers Power district manager, estimated that roughly 12,000 area homes and businesses were without power at the height of the storm activity. He said, "there was a tremendous amount of tree damage to lines."

Transmission cables from Whiting, Ind., and Jackson were both down as lightning and high winds whipped through the county.

Although Adrian was hardest hit, Tecumseh and the Irish Hills district sustained some damage and lengthy power losses.

Areas north of Tecumseh, bordered by Burt St. and parts of River Acres were without electricity for some 18 hours, while the rest of the city was darkened for approximately two hours.

Mr. Wetherby reported that 32 Consumers Power crews, amounting to about 100 men, worked from Friday through Monday to restore power to the stricken areas.

Fifteen upstate crews from Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Claire, Greenville, Mt. Pleasant and Flint were called in to assist in the clean-up. They hoped to leave by late Monday afternoon when power was completely restored.

Most of the electricity to the out-county areas was returned by Sunday evening. However, crews were still working in Adrian Monday afternoon.

According to Mr. Wetherby, freezers proved to be the biggest problem as frozen foods thawed out during the extended periods of power loss.

Rural areas also suffered as some county residents went without electricity through Monday.

2 Mishaps Last Week

One of the safest cities in Michigan last week was Tecumseh who investigated just two mishaps and both proved to be minor.

Saturday, Eugene A. Wegner, 23, Clinton, rode his motorcycle into a rear of an auto making a left turn. Driving the car was Caroline Ringman, 49, of 302 Chippewa.

Wegner suffered minor injuries and sought his own treatment.

In the second accident, Nancy L. Getz, 601 W. Logan, was cited Monday for failure to yield the right of way after colliding with Nadine R. Nicholson, 216½ N. Van Buren at the intersection of W. Logan and Van Buren.

Teen Club Looks for Better Future

By BILL WHITING

Tecumseh's Teen Club is making a determined effort to give itself a new look.

In elections held last week, members chose a new slate of officers for the coming year. They are president, Monica Hoffman; vice-president, Dave Hall; secretary, Pam Felton; treasurer, Don McVay.

In the past several weeks the local youth group has revamped its constitution and undertaken a complete redecoration of their hall at Community Center.

Some time ago the club legislature voted to resume the organization in memory of Sam Brooks, who served as last year's president. It is hoped that all preparations will be completed in time for a dedication dance to be held August 8.

The club is currently operating without a full-time advisor, although City Manager Cal Zorn has temporarily filled the position. The job will probably be turned over to the new recreation director when he is chosen.

The teens have been attempting to interest local service clubs in their program by having their members serve as sponsors on an advisory board. This is similar to their involvement of a few years ago which drifted into disuse.

The clubs have expressed a desire to help and have had representatives in attendance at some Teen Club meetings. It is hoped that they will build a close working relationship in order to establish more community participation. The Teen Club has meetings at their hall in the Community Center every Tuesday night at 7:00. Anyone who is interested in the group or would like more information is welcome to attend.

Dances are sponsored every Tuesday during the summer from 8:30-11:00 at the Community Center. The Owen Love, an all-girl band, will be featured next week.

Earl Greene, principal at Patterson Elementary School, is in serious condition at Little Traverse Hospital, Petoskey. He was stricken there last week with what doctors first thought was a heart attack, but family says they are not sure now.

$100,000 Loss For Box Plant

Tecumseh Corrugated Box's mill plant near Cleveland, sustained damages last Friday night which could top $100,000, according to James Robideau, company president.

Winds flipped the roof off, allowing a heavy rain to soak materials and damage machinery.

Doctors Lease City Property

Council approved leasing a small portion of city property to the Tecumseh Medical Clinic for a driveway Monday night.

The area is between Herrick Hospital and Herrick Nursing Home and the clinic.

Cost to the doctors is $25 plus legal fees for a 25-year period.

2,000 See Fireworks

Although it was delayed one day by Friday's storms, Tecumseh's fireworks display was a booming success.

The local Chamber of Commerce sponsored the $550 show which drew a crowd of over 2,000 spectators Saturday night.

This year a new electronic device, developed by Dave Simpson, was used to set off the charges from a safe distance.

Jim Fielder was in charge of the colorful spectacle. He was assisted by Harlan Ruhl, Dave Bailey, Jack Simpson, Mike Withrow, Terry Sisty, Ron Thomas and Forrest Abner.

Construction Slows Traffic

Motorists traveling Burt St. will find the going tougher in the next few weeks than it has been in the recent past when installation of a 24-inch storm sewer was started.

The street was closed to traffic for part of Wednesday when Selders Excavating cut across the street with the sewer. In going across, the sewer had to be placed lower than a gas line, sanitary sewer and a water main.

Selders is expected to be finished this week, but next week the city will install leads to catch basins, followed by approximately 3,800 feet of curb and gutter.

Wes Haeussler is in charge of curb and gutter construction for the city and started Wednesday on S. Pearl St. Upon completion of one block on S. Pearl, south of Patterson, he will install curb and gutter on S. Evans from Patterson to H. W. Tuttle Co., and then commence on Burt St.

Officials are hoping that final construction work on Burt will be started by the last week of July.

Frequently residents of other areas do a bit of grocery shopping here. It would seem a good idea to have a place for them to deposit trading stamps that they have no use for and would be willing to give to some worthy cause. This is done in other states and buses and swimming pools, etc., have been obtained.

HAPPINESS IS A SPARKLER — The weather didn't exactly cooperate, but the 4th of July was just as exciting as ever, as lightning competed with fireworks to produce the most spectacular effects. The kids still enjoyed it, though, as many neighborhoods throughout the city were aglow with the dancing firebrands.

YOU TOLD US

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Our lives are like gardens, and we plant the flowers . . .
God gives us the privilege to choose what's in ours.

Thus states Helen Farries in her poem, "Through the Years, We Reap What We Sow". How true it is, too, that kindness, love and affection rapidly produce more of the same to complete the ...me bouquet of happiness, not without a thorn or two, but we were not told that life would have no barbs.

Stephanie Kruger, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kruger, fell while playing in the yard Monday afternoon and fractured her elbow. It is expected that she will only have to have the cast on for two weeks.

√

Douglas Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilcox, returned home early Monday morning after spending the past year in Vietnam. He will return to work at the Ford Motor Co. plant in Saline.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Dyke Helms entertained a family gathering Sunday for a chicken barbecue. Those attending were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pulver who arrived Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pulver arrived Saturday night with their three children, all of Mason; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pulver, Hialeah., Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Reid, Mrs. Alfred Taylor and son, Rick, Howard Pulver, Mrs. Robert Pulver, daughter and granddaughter, all of Jackson; and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Scripter and sons of Dansville. Mr. and Mrs. Walt Wonderly, Gary, Gregg, Glenn and Janelle and Mr. and Mrs. John Day, Scott, Tim and Jeff also spent the day at the Helms' residence.

√

The Wonderlys and Days with Mrs. Mary Barnhardt, Barry, Sherry and Mike, recently helped to celebrate the eighth birthday anniversary of Mike Helms with his family at the Tecumseh Park. Swimming and a picnic highlighted the event.

√

Nancy Lynn Beevers, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beevers, received first and second degree burns Friday night during the storm from a cup filled with hot water for instant coffee. She was treated and released at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hendershot have moved from Brooklyn to 216 Bidwell St.

√

Mrs. John Surratt returned recently from Indianapolis and other parts of that state where she and her sisters enjoyed getting together.

√

Aviation Electrician's Mate 2/c Bruce King and his brother, Aviation Electrician's Mate 3/c Greg King, were home from Jacksonville, Fla., over the July 4th weekend. They returned to base Tuesday after a fun-filled time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert King, 411 S. Adrian St., and Kathy and Jeff.

√

Mrs. George Schumm returned Sunday from a six-weeks stay in Germany. Most of her family was at Metropolitan Airport to greet her and returned to the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Goltz, in Saline for a family gathering.

√

Thirty or more members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Osburn of Macon attended the traditional July 4 picnic, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osburn of Tipton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Osburn on Rogers Hwy. Due to the rainy weather larger facilities were needed than those of the Tipton Osburns'.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hackett, Robert and Lee Ann, entertained at their home on Independence Day, marking Mrs. Hackett's birthday anniversary which occurred July 3. Among the relatives present were Mrs. Lilla Seevers, George [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thorp of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. George Henzler, Sandra and Daryl of Toledo, O., and Mrs. Elmer Brieschke of Blissfield. They had an outdoor barbecue and games, and Mrs. Hackett opened many birthday gifts.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hendershot and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendershot of Garden City were in Pontiac Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Wade Hendershot's brother, Harland Hoyt. The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hoyt of Clinton, Mr. Hoyt died of a paralytic stroke July 5, which he suffered the day before while his sister and husband were visiting.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Donald LeDroit and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, of Clinton, spent the July 4 weekend at Perry Lake near Fairview. Visitors at the Smith home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole and son and Mrs. Bessie Cole of Quebeck, Tenn. Tuesday Mrs. Frank Vincent of Hillsdale was a guest at the Smith home and Friday callers were Mr. and Mrs. Robert King and family of Kansas City, Kan.

Jaycees Discuss Program, Budget

Tecumseh Jaycees met Wednesday evening at city hall for approval of the 1969-70 budget and a general discussion of next year's program.

It was the first meeting for the Jaycees under their new president, Ron Albert.

Recreation News

By JACKIE RODGERS

During the past week the singles tournament has been in progress and from it emerged the four champions: Mike Eggleston, Frank Rapin, Paula Holmes and Sue Gould.

Boys' Junior Division

The combat in this division began with Frank Rapin defeating Dale Johnston, 6-0, 6-0. Rapin then took on Doug Gilpin and the boys clashed in a long and difficult match with Rapin coming back in the last set to take it 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. In the last match that decided the championship Rapin again showed good form downing Tim Eggleston, 6-0, 6-1.

Girls' Junior Division

Tournament play started here with Tracy Wanzeck meeting Kathy Retan only to have Kathy defeat her, 6-0, 6-2. Ina Kelley also faced a tough opponent in Meg Beardsley and fought hard only to lose, 6-0, 6-4. In the second round Sue Gould met and beat Kathy Retan, 6-0, 6-1. Sue then proved herself champion by defeating Meg Beardsley, 6-0, 6-0 in convincing fashion.

Boys' Senior Division

The play here began with a match between Jim Ford and Bill Rohrer with Ford Taking it 6-4, 6-0. Meanwhile Mike Eggleston battled Doug Stein and won by a score of 6-1, 6-2. Jim Ford then took on Cal Roll and took the match, 6-0, 6-3, despite a late rally by Cal.

The final match in this division was perhaps the hardest fought and see-saw of all those in the entire tournament as Jim Ford and Mike Eggleston battled tooth and nail with Eggleston emerging on top as champion by a score of 6-2, 1-6, 6-4.

Host Bridal Shower

Mrs. John Surratt, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Michael Osburn, hosted a bridal shower honoring Debbie Sadler whose marriage to Augusta Bishop will take place Saturday at the First Baptist Church.

Twenty friends of the bride and groom-elect played appropriate games and made a mock bridal gown for Debbie from white tissue paper with bouquet of flowers and garter from colored tissue.

Prizes won by Betty Bishop, Karen Brown, Mrs. James Danforth and Mrs. Orville Bishop were presented to the bride-elect.

She was assisted in opening the variety of gifts by Linda Oberlin and Karen Brown. The gift table featured a large white wedding bell.

Betty Bishop assisted the hostesses with serving angel food cake, topped with whipped cream and peaches.

Simon Farce Opens 4-Day Croswell Run

The Croswell Summer Theatre will open their second summer season this evening with the Neil Simon comedy hit, "The Odd Couple". The oft-played hit is a favorite with summer stock groups.

Casting for the comedy is primarily from the resident company which has been hired for the summer. Jeff Wagner, a director-designer has taken over the reins of direction from Glenn Harbaugh for this production. Members of the cast are Dean Kyburz, Guy Miller, Paul Schierhorn, Craig Collicott, Joe Balsanek, Lynn Miller and Diane Frank.

The Odd Couple will run thru this weekend. The plot for the play centers around two men, one divorced and the other in the process. The divorced (Oscar) invites the one in process (Felix) to move in; around this centers a form of matrimony, stating humorously that man was not made to live alone or so Simon says.

While not much is cliche ridden the comedy is one using the more boundless technique of using comedic things to provoke laughter. Much is taken from what could be called "just plain living" but on the other hand it has been enhanced by the touch of the playwright and therefore it is more or less to be laughed at rather than being taken seriously.

Curtain time for all performances is 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available by calling the theatre or at the box offiee.

The engagement of Kristine Lee Staas to Richard William Duffin is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dunston James Staas, of Shaker Heights, O. Richard Duffin is the son of Richard G. Duffin and the late Mrs. Duffin of Lapeer, formerly of Tecumseh. The engaged couple are students at Oakland University, Rochester, where Mr. Duffin will graduate in August. They will be married Sept. 13. Miss Staas' father is assistant vice-president, administration of White Motor Corp. in Cleveland, O., having moved there this past year from Bloomfield Hills. Mr. Duffin's father is superintendent at Almont Manufacturing in Lapeer.

Illinois Folks Meet July 20

Friends and relatives have been invited to attend a celebration honoring Mr. and Mrs. Yale H. Kerby on their 45th wedding anniversary July 10. Eltha and Yale H. Kerby were married July 10, 1924, in Detroit. They are partners in a real estate business and live at the corner of Sand Lake Hwy. and M-50. They have two children, Mrs. Kenneth (Barbara) Dawson of Sacramento, Calif., and Yale Leland Kerby of Adrian, and eight grandchildren. The Kerbys' son and wife will host the event at 1231 Sand Creek Hwy.

Obituaries

● HAROLD K. SETTLES

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Dunn Funeral Home for Harold K. Settles, 62, of Pentecost Hwy., who died at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was admitted earlier in the day.

He had been ill for the last six years.

Born Oct. 3, 1906, in White Hall, Ill., he married Lillie De-Bruyne at Angola, Ind., June 22, 1940.

Mr. Settles was formerly employed as a machinist at Ford Motor Co. in Ypsilanti for 17 years, retiring in 1966.

He was a resident of the Saline area for many years, moving to his present home one and one-half years ago. Since his retirement he has farmed when his health permitted.

He was a member and formerly Washtenaw County Secretary of the National Farmers Organization.

Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Alfreda Steinacher, of Carrollton, Ill., Mrs. Dolores Blankenship of Roseville, and Mrs. Laura Bohnett, of Milan; five sons, Phillip, of Plymouth, Harold of Ann Arbor, George of Milan, and William and Peter, both at home; and 22 grandchildren.

A sister, Mrs. Imogene Greene, of Grand Rapids and a brother, William, of White Hall, Ill.; a step-father, John Knihnigk of Cadillac; and a step-brother, John Knihnigk, of Arizona, also survive.

The Rev. Luren J. Strait officiated.

● HARLIE O. LAMSON

Services were held Wednesday at the Niblack Home For Funerals for Harlie O. Lamson, 73, of 222 S. Main St., Britton, who died Sunday evening at his residence after an illness of one and one-half years.

Born April 4, 1896, in Jefferson City, Mo., Mr. Lamson was the son of Isom and Sallte Tennell Lamson.

He came to Michigan in 1928 and moved to his present address 21 years ago. He operated a shoe repair shop there.

He married Mabel Clara Britt Feb. 19, 1945. She survives.

Mr. Lamson was a member of the Jehovah's Witness Church of Tecumseh.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Richard (Hazel) Pfeiffle and Mrs. Adrian (Virginia) Norquay, both of Adrian, two stepdaughters, Mrs. Margaret Crowley of Ridgeway and Mrs. Ervin (Wilma) Messner of St. Louis, Mo., three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Hubert (Susie) Talbott, Wentzville, Mo., and Mrs. Michael (Lillie) Wolfe of Manchester and one half-brother, William Lamson, of Tipton also survive.

He was preceded in death by three sisters, and three brothers.

Lyle Tripp of Kingdom Hall of Addison officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

TPW 4 Indians 3

Dave Bishop struck out 12 while hurling a 4-3 win over the Indians by the TPW. Bishop also hit to center field, driving in Glen Boskey and Dan Bohannon for the tying and winning runs.

Allen Schaffer led the hitters with a two for three performance at the plate.

The Indians outhit the winners, 11-7.

New Rates

Jack Metcalf announced Tuesday that the new rate on special delivery of first class mail or airmail is 45c.

New Books

New books ready for you at your public library:

SEEKERS, drop out, turn on, tune in, etc., these are the new terms of the new generation. Jess Searn reports that today's rebels are like no other rebels in human history.

VALACHI PAPERS, by Peter Maas, is the first inside account of life in the Cosa Nostra.

ON THE BIBLE, 18 studies, by Martin Buber.

HISTORY OF THE LUFTWAFFE, by John Killen.

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH PREGNANT, an enlightened approach to the very real emotional problems posed by even the most welcome pregnancy, by Dr. Spotnitz.

ETERNAL QUEST, story of the great naturalists. Alexander B. Adams unfolds the lives of the great naturalists, the stranger-than-fiction account of man's search for his place in the natural world.

RICHER THAN ALL HIS TRIBE, by Nicholas Monsarrat. This is another of the spell-binding novels with the setting on the fictional island of Pharamaul.

ROAR OF THUNDER, about the Boer War and the rough times that followed. These events make an enthralling novel of romantic adventure by Wilbur Smith.

ENZYMES — THE AGENTS OF LIFE, by David M. Locke.

THE 900 DAYS, by Harrison E. Salisbury, tell of the siege of Leningrad when nearly 1,000,000 people were killed.

THE PARADE'S GONE BY, recreates the earliest days of the movies, how the first moving pictures were actually shot and how the first film makers responded to the new medium. This book by Kevin Brownlow has many old photos of these early attempts.

Home Again

TIPTON — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gregory returned home Monday after a week's vacation at the Hiawatha Club near Engadine.

Monday Callers

CLINTON — Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Thomas Chandler and Mrs. Sylvia Chandler of Ann Arbor were visitors Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mahrle, Sr., and Jr. Lt. Commander Chandler has just returned from a two-year assignment in London, England and will report to Honolulu, Hawaii, after his leave. Lt. Comm. Chandler is with the Naval Intelligence Corps.

Country Club Annual Luau

Decor and menu of that South Pacific island, Hawaii, came to Tecumseh Country Club for the annual Hawaiian Luau last Thursday.

Guests numbering 326 danced and dined to strains of island music nestled among the palm trees, vanda orchids and anthelirums flown from Hawaii for the occasion.

Cocktails were served from a mai tai pot on the patio and dinner was also outside with music by Louis Prange and Cal Damon.

Couples then moved inside for dancing with rhythms provided by the John Lulou combo.

Kukini Flowers provided decorations and an added attraction, Hawaiian dancing girls, attired in authentic native costumes.

Committee members who worked to develop the Hawaiian theme included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sack of Adrian, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Al Merz, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Damon of Tecumseh; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lehr and John Prible of Manchester; and Jim Hughes of Adrian.

On Destroyer

CLINTON — Lt. j.g. Benjamin C. Mahrle, who has been stationed at Tampa, Fla., for the past several months, has been transferred to the Destroyer USS Compton based at Boston, Mass. Lt. Mahrle will assume the duties of Anti-Submarine Warfare Officer and Legal Officer in his new billet aboard the Compton, a reserve ship of the North Atlantic Cruiser-Destroyer Force. Mrs. Mahrle will move to Boston soon. Lt. Mahrle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Mahrle.

Sunday Sermon

BRITTON — "God's Fillings" is Pastor McNeil's sermon subject for Sunday morning at 11 at the Bethel Baptist Church.

The choir, under the direction of Bernard Bishop, will sing "How Great Thou Art".

The day's schedule includes Sunday School at 10 a.m., Adult Bible Study and Young People at 6:30 p.m. and choir practice at 8:45 p.m.

Mr. McNeil will speak on God's Expectation" at 7:30 p.m. Each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., mid-week prayer services are held and again at 10 p.m., Saturday. As St. Simeon Stylists says, "Battering the gates of heaven with storms of prayer".

Bethel Baptist Bible School

BRITTON — The Bethel Baptist Church will hold Daily Vacation Bible School with Gary Collins in command from July 14-18, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Coming with him is his little wooden friend, Jay-Dee, who promises to be educational as well as entertaining. Also included will be Gary's ability to show that the hand is quicker than the eye.

Gary is from the York Baptist Church in Milan. He attended Arizona Bible Institute and graduated from Bob Jones University in South Carolina.

He is associated with Hi-Way-Bi-Way headquartered in Grand Rapids.

Children of the area from Kindergarten up are invited by the pastor, Duane McNeil, to come and join in the fun, to sing together and study together.

Anyone needing transportation may call the church 451-5415 or 451-8025.

All-Church Picnic Planned This Sunday

An all-church picnic, sponsored by the Church School Department, will be held this Sunday at 1 p.m., behind the United Methodist Church.

Featured will be homemade ice cream, made by the committee, under the direction of Harry Stanifer, church school superintendent, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Davis.

Those attending are asked to bring a meat dish and another dish to pass as well as table service.

A cool drink for the children and coffee for the adults will be provided by the committee.

In case of inclement weather, the affair will proceed in the fellowship hall.

Bad Weather Can't Dampen Scout Spirits

The Britton Boy Scouts spent the first week at Scout Camp. Even though it was wet and windy, the boys had lots of fun.

The following boys advanced a rank. Second class: Alan Reau, Mike Hintz, Dale Seegert, David Judkins, Craig White, Jeff Campbell, Larry Hall and James Reeck. First class: John Lorenz and Tom Gubbe.

Those receiving merit badges were: Jim Rayburn, Terry Hintz, and Tom Dick for Conservation and Natural Resources. John Lorenz for wood carving and Jim Rayburn, Tom Dick and Terry Hintz for Camping.

Five boys completed the mile swim: Terry Hintz, Greg Dunbar, Tom Dick, Doug Shiels and Gary Judkins.

There were five adults who helped out the Scoutmaster, Neal Judkins, during the week: Mary Rayburn, Stew Niblack, Tom Judkins, Ervin Reau and Bob Auten.

Magistrate Sends Report

Local Magistrate, Ernest Oliver, has submitted his second quarterly report to the district courts. Records indicated that a total of $5,935 was turned over to the courts from the magistrate.

A break-down of the funds included $2,764.50 in fines accepted and costs of $2,665.

Also entered into the report were $313.50 in bonds and marriage and civil action fees.

While the total in costs accepted by the magistrate was nearly as high as the fines themselves, a reduction of cost fees in April by the district judges is indicated in the total of arraignments, 313, and the total cost fee receipts.

Rotary 6 Len. Fuels 5

It took Rotary seven innings to defeat a stubborn come-from-behind Lenawee Fuels team, 6-5.

Trailing by three, the Fuels went into the bottom of the sixth with the score 5-2. They tallied three times to set up the extra inning affair.

Kevin Beal scored the winning run in the top of the seventh on a long fly ball hit to right field. The throw to the plate was on target but just a little late.

Frank Rapin picked up two of the three hits that Rotary was able to muster off the slants of Rick Vealey and Paul Royal. Ben Wood was credited with the win after a parade of seven pitchers that worked on the mound for the winners.

Red Sox 9 Tigers 8

Even the minor league Tigers have trouble with the Red Sox. Last Thursday the local Tigers of the diamond lost to the Sox, 9-8. Keith Hill picked up the win and Gibson took the loss.

The Tigers rallied in the bottom of the sixth but a good play by Hill, snagging a line drive, thwarted the rally.

Byron Knight led off the top of the sixth with the Sox trailing by one. Steve Vealy followed with a booming triple to tie the game and scored on Richard Henkel's hard grounder.

Mark Simon and Bryon Knight each picked up two singles. Vealy added a single to his triple and Hill also singled and tripled. Tom Schwartz also collected a pair of singles.

Honors Linda

BRITTON — Linda Richards of Adrian was honored at a bridal shower June 28 given by Mrs. Joe Glenn of Wayne, Mrs. Gail Austin and Mrs. Roger Gillespie.

When the 28 guests arrived at the Gillespie home they were seated at tables with blue and white floral arrangements for a dessert luncheon.

Party bridge was enjoyed by the group with prizes won by Mrs. Larry Green, Mrs. Elmer Green, Mrs. Carl Lindberg and Mrs. Jim Harris.

Duplicate prizes were presented to the bride-to-be.

A bride doll with two bridesmaids attired in blue, centered the gift table.

Miss Richards and Leland Green of Holloway Rd., will be married August 24.

Jaycees 7 Exchange 5

Kent Jacoby struck out 14 while posting a win for the Jaycees over the Exchange Club June 27, 7-5. Roger Calzada suffered the loss on the mound for the Jaycees.

Jacoby aided his own cause with three safeties.

Exchange trailed, 5-1, going into the top of the fifth. They scored four runs to notch the score at five-all.

In the bottom of the frame Hunter walked, Corley was safe on an error and Jacoby singled to push across the winning tally.

BRITTON — Tammy Tucker and Linda Seagert spent two weeks at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

The girls were chosen by the Britton-Macon Band Booster Club and received scholarships to attend the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland spent the 4th and Saturday and Sunday at the camp.

Tammy returned home with them, following the All-State Band Concert Sunday afternoon.

"Gypsy" has it for the Opener

By ANNEMARIE WILLIAMS

The Croswell Repertory Theatre, under direction of Glenn Harbaugh, started its 1969 summer season with a bang last Thursday night, with the opening of a delightful production of "Gypsy", a latter-day Cinderella tale of the girl from Seattle who made it big on the strip scene during the '30s.

The role of Rose, the stage-struck mother with a warm heart and a big mouth who pushes her girls toward stardom with unrelenting energy while traveling the vaudeville circuit with a children's act, is forcefully played and sung by Peg Geiger.

If anything, her portrayal is too brassy, overpowering the understated performance of Craig Collicott as Herbie, her long-time agent and forever frustrated husband-to-be who has trouble getting her to the altar and never quite makes it.

Mr. Collicott is not quite able to convincingly bridge the 30 or so years that stand between him and the character he portrays.

Rose's two daughters are charmingly played by Diane Frank and Deborah Schrock. Miss Schrock is Baby June, the child-star of the act who finally escapes her never-ending childhood by eloping with one of the boys in the troupe, Tulsa, played by Dean Kyburz.

His pantomime with a broom in the second act is one of the bright spots of the show. Diane Frank, a newcomer to the Croswell, gives a polished performance to the character of Louise, who has to stand in Baby June's shadow until she emerges as a star in her own right as Gypsy Rose Lee.

Her scenes as Gypsy could have been augmented by better costumes. They look flimsy and amateurish and do not give much creditability to the "class" and professionalism she is supposed to get across.

Miss Frank also did a fine job in choreography with the children in the vaudeville scenes; they all perform like real troupers. Worthy of note are Darcy Snyder and Cindy Geiger who performed, dressed as a cow, a dance number with Miss Schrock. Also to be mentioned are the performances of Sally Wentz and Ann Smith as the girls in childhood.

An outright hilarious highlight is presented by the three strip-tease dancers, aptly bumped by Diane Harbaugh, Jean Loughridge and Susan Wentz. They bring the house down with their instruction on the "how-to-do" in strip-tease. Here the costumes show much imagination and were done by Mrs. Harbaugh.

Excellent in the supporting cast are Joe Balsanek as Rose's father, Bill Sanford as the grumpy theatre owner, Mr. Weber; and a frustrated hotel owner in the person of Paul Schierhorn.

Last, but not least, special congratulations to Dennis Kisor, the musical director and conductor, who performed a minor miracle with his orchestra and more than once mercifully covered slurs and slips of the singers.

All in all, "Gypsy" offers an evening of good fun well worth seeing in its final performances July 31, August 9 and 10.

Dump Progress Is Told Board

CLINTON — At the regular meeting of the Clinton Township Board, Monday night, Supervisor Earl Roe briefed the board on the progress being made in regard to the new township dump and expressed hope that plans would be finalized at a meeting to be held this week.

Leonard Bunney came before the board with a question regarding the placement of a house trailer in the Township. Ordinances applying to the situation were explained to Mr. Bunney and his questions were resolved.

Trustees James Meeks and James Heimerdinger reported on a troublesome fence viewing situation existing in the western section of the Township and the board decided on a course of procedure.

County Supervisor M. M. Halley reported on various county affairs revelant to the Township.

Inspector Charles Wilson presented several permits for review and gave a resume of building activities in progress within the Township.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITOR:

While reading last week's Herald I came across the passing of an old train that I used to ride called the Wabash Cannonball. She was one of the best trains I ever was on. I boarded her at Adrian to St. Louis, Mo. It was a good feeling to hear that steam whistle.

The people today, all they think about is taking a plane. They want to go fast and still faster. That's the reason so many of them are losing their lives. For me, I am staying on the ground and that is not safe anymore.

Well, I guess I have said enough for this time. I could write a great deal more. I could fill The Herald full of the places I have been. I have been in 40 states of this country.

BRITTON BRIEFS

A Fourth of July gathering of 46 friends and neighbors for a potluck dinner was held for a Thelma Frayer at her cottage on Evans Lake. Water skiing, boating and swimming were enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welker and son of Perrysburg, O., former Britton residents, attended the celebration.

√

The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Christian Church met last Tuesday at the home of Harold Osterhout, on W. Chicago Blvd. The ladies and youngsters enjoyed the potluck dinner served at noon. A decorated birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Osterhout, who observed her birthday anniversary that day.

Guest speaker at the Congregational Christian Church next Sunday will be Lawrence Ehinger who has done mission work in Burundi, South Africa, for three years. The service begins at 10 a.m. with Sunday School at 11 a.m.

√

Cub scoutmaster D. J. Frayer wishes to remind the scouts of the potluck dinner for the Cub Scouts and their families to be held Saturday, July 19, at the Frayer cottage at Evans Lake.

Through My Window

THERE JOLLY WELL IS A DIFFERENCE

Some time ago the Escolmes saw to it that my collection of bird books contained a book about English birds. It has been fun to fly through it now and then just browsing at random — browsing with a purpose has turned out to be even better. Last fall, when the Rev. Francis Outrum came to Tecumseh, as the exchange pastor for St. Peter's Episcopal Church, he and his wife very kindly started dropping in every once in a while for short visits.

Our conversations were far-ranging and, although birds always came in for a little discussion, they never received quite their "fair share". This was even truer this spring when the Outrum's shared some of their English visitors — there is never enough time for everything but I especially begrudge the frantic May and June because several of the English gals were birders.

We chatted birds but our tight schedule could not be stretched for any evenings of bird pictures. I would loved to have heard their reaction to some of our freeloaders.

As it was, we thoroughly enjoyed the verbal comparing of notes — how often the bird we knew by one name and the bird they call by the very same name are completely different characters. The classic example of this is, of course, the robin. There is good reason for the shocked. "That's a robin?!"

*

WE ARE ALL familiar with our robin — a rather large 10-inch bird with a solid red breast, the male a much richer color than his mate. Their grass and mud nest is usually placed either in a tree or a protected niche in a building, the eggs a famous robin's egg blue.

But, listen to this — the English robin is a small 5½ inches in length, the "cock and hen" are dressed similarly meaning a brown back with a reddish upper breast and head above a white lower tummy and my book even shows a slight bluish-green band separating this red from the brown. They nest "in a hole in a wall, tree or bank" and their eggs are white with light red speckles. In other words, their robins and our robins simply aren't the same birds.

Kingfishers caused some confusion, too. Oh, yes, I explained one afternoon that living by the creek we did indeed have kingfishers during the summer months. These last four words produced looks of puzzlement because it seems that English kingfishers are year-round residents.

Ours, of course, are usually forced south by the ice and snow. It was my turn to frown when they started using the words smallish and brightly colored.

Thirteen inches hardly constitutes a small bird and, although the dusky blue back and pearly white front is most attractive and pretty, it is hardly bright. Well, the English version turns out to be only 6½ inches long, is described as being a "gem among birds" and "so brightly coloured as to almost dazzle the eye . . . .

The upper parts are vivid blue with a greenish gloss on the crown and wings. The under parts and ear coverts are chestnut-red, and the chin and a patch on each side of the neck are white." Wow! Both birds do fish and both have the characteristic long bill.

Theirs, however, lacks the shaggy head crest which makes ours so charming. The English book also describes their kingfisher's voice as being a sharp whistle and a warbling song — what a sharp contrast to the raucous rattling we hear.

*

LEAFING THROUGH the book turned up many, many more differences. Their jay, for example, has pinkish-brown plumage; they have a hawfinch which, at first glance, vaguely resembles our cedar waxwings.

A real shocker is the goldfinch — theirs has a red face, outlined with white and black on the top of its head. In some parts of this country the yellow-shafted flicker is called a yellow hammer but the English yellow hammer is a little 6½-inch finch.

Their tree sparrow has a black under-the-bill patch but lacks a black stick-pin marking. Their nuthatch, although about the same size as our whitebreasted nuthatch, has a reddish breast and lacks many distinguishing markings on tail, back and wings, thus it looks very much like our red-breasted nuthatch.

Their redwing is not a black-colored bird with scarlet shoulder patches; and this could go on and on.

So it is that when talking with English visitors, one must be very careful and very precise because, between their birds and our birds, there jolly well is a difference.

NEXT WEEK:
"A Case of Mistaken Identity."

Tipton Jets See Gardens

Tipton Jets 4-H Club tour Saturday was attended by approximately 100 members, parents and leaders.

Visits were made to the homes of members enrolled in beef, dairy, goats, sheep, horses, ponies and vegetable garden projects.

A photography exhibit was on display at the photography leaders' home, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turlukowski.

Although the weather has been very wet this year, the vegetable gardens were outstanding, in fact the best viewed for several years.

A picnic lunch was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jackson. Assisting with the co-operative lunch were Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Wesley Whelan, and Mrs. Marvin Bacon.

The next regular meeting of the Tipton Jets will be August 2 at 7:30 at the Tipton Grange Hall. All members are urged to attend as this will be the pre-fair meeting.

Ice Cream Social By J-C Gals

Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary will sponsor their first ice cream social on Sidewalk Day, July 18, at the vacant corner next to Woolworth's.

Chairman, Mrs. Don Escott, and her co-chairladies, Mrs. Syd Adams and Mrs. William McCrumb, along with the rest of the [illegible] will serve ice cream, home-made cakes, coffee and lemonade.

The social will run from 9-9 or until they run out.

Chicken in Manchester

The 16th annual Chicken Broil will be held in Manchester Thursday, July 17, with 380 men of the community preparing the chickens for an anticipated 12,000 persons. The event is sponsored jointly by the Optimist Club and Jaycees.

All proceeds are used for youth projects. This year the profits will provide a running track on the new athletic field site.

Howard Zindel, head of the Michigan State University Poultry Department, is directing the broil.

The slow-broiled method where chicken halves are basted with Michigan butter and never burned or blistered, was developed by Michigan State especially for community events.

Luther Klager and Rolland Crossman have 16 years of experience to their credit in engineering the Big Broil. Their general committees work on details from pre-heating the ton or more of charcoal to boxing take-outs. The chicken is taken from refrigerated trucks to the grids where it is basted with butter every time it is turned.

There are two ticket lines and a special line for take-outs. Parking is no problem and visitors can park at the Athletic Field or at the Double A Parking lot where they will be picked up by shuttle bus, taken to the dining area and later transported back to their cars.

Traffic will be directed by the Washtenaw Sheriff's Department of mounted police. Cost of the dinner is $1.75 and includes cole slaw, potato chips, radishes, buns and butter — also coffee or milk. Ice cream and pop are available.

There is an audio committee to announce distinguished guests and advise the waiting diners of the chicken supply. Two soft ball games will furnish entertainment. But the biggest entertainment of all is to watch the chefs in snow-white hats, aprons and gloves as they preside over the pits. In the event of rain nearby shelters will be provided.

Manchester invites friends everywhere to come and enjoy butter-basted charcoal chicken at its best.

Michelle Baptized

Michelle Lynn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mullins, was baptized at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church last Sunday. Holy Communion was also administered.

During the summer months the worship services start at 9 a.m. every Sunday. The sermon topic for July 13 will be "The Black Manifesto and the Church". Visitors are welcome to attend the church services.

Serves Aboard Destroyer Ault

Fireman Larry K. Hierholzer, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hierholzer, 9271 Macon Hwy., is serving aboard the destroyer USS Ault home ported in Mayport, Fla.

Recently the ship celebrated 25 years of commissioned service to the fleet. Commissioned on May 31, 1944, the Ault has seen action in World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam conflict.

Four are Injured In Auto Mishap

Four persons were injured, one seriously, at 12:40 a.m., Friday, on Pentecost Hwy., one-half mile south of US-12, when an automobile driven by Larry K. Cole, 20, of Toledo, struck a tree.

Cole told Clinton State Police that his car lights went out as he came over a hill, and he lost control, striking a tree.

The driver and three passengers, Herman Rhoering, Chris Smith and Paul Larmeu, all of Toledo, were treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital, and Miss Smith was later transferred to University Hospital for treatment of more serious injuries.

Fred Dickinson was reappointed to the Cemetery Board by Council Monday night. His term had expired.

Other board members are Mel Partridge and Neal Depuy.

Movie Scheduled At Lake Drive-In

The Devil's Lake Drive-In will be showing "Wine of Morning" July 11 and 12.

This film, produced by Bob Jones University, is the first Christian motion picture ever to win all four major awards of the National Evangelical Film Foundation.

The feature-length, color production is a fanciful dramatization of the life of Barabbas — the man who Pilate released at the demand of the mob, and on whose cross Jesus Christ was crucified.

Ingenously woven into the story are a number of miracles, including the turning of water into wine at the wedding in Caro of Galilee and the healing of the palsied man whose friends lowered him through the roof.

Saturday programs begin at 8:30 p.m., and Sunday programs begin at 9:15 p.m.

Approve License

A sidewalk contractor's license was approved for John Smith by Council Monday night.

Food Poisoning Can Spoil Summer Fun

The fun of summer picnicking can easily turn into a tragedy caused by food poisoning, according to B. Dale Ball, director of Michigan's Department of Agriculture.

Producers, processors, wholesalers and retailers are all inspected by the Agriculture Department to insure safe and sanitary handling of meat, produce and dairy products, but once the product has left the store, the consumer is responsible for the safety of his own food.

The rule to remember to avoid food poisoning is, "Keep it hot, keep it cold or don't keep it."

Food most often leading to poisoning include hams, poultry, salads (potato salad is notorious), many cream products such as cream pies and food made with a mixture of milk and eggs.

Common symptoms of food poisoning are nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. Fatalities are rare in most common forms of food poisoning but some types, such as botulism, can cause death.

Effects of food poisoning are not always immediately apparent. In some types, effects may appear in as little as one-half hour while in other types, they may not be detected for more than 30 days. Most common summer villains show their effects in two to six hours.

JUNE AND "VAN" AT EVANS LAKE TRADING POST, "MAY WE HELP YOU?"

Trading Post on the Lake

Cheese, like wine, owes much of its character to its ancestry and County Line Cheese, available at the Evans Lake Trading Post, has an excellent ancestry. It originated in 1913 when Fred Marolf, Sr., an immigrant from Switzerland, started making cheese in a farm home on the DeKalb side of the DeKalb-Allen counties line in Indiana, hence the name. Mike Marolf, third generation, now manager and treasurer, says, "We don't market our products as Colby cheese but as County Line. We try to make the cheese that people like."

"Van," at Evans Lake Trading Post, agrees that the Marolf mission is accomplished by the amount of cheese that he sells over his counter in the general store.

He and his wife, June, have been in the grocery business for 26 years, at the present location for about four. They remodeled and modernized the building adding many storage units and coolers for the convenience of customers when they purchased the business from Fred Hadley.

Located on the corner of US-12 and Breyman Hwy., the Trading Post carries everything from groceries, meats and picnic supplies to drugs, Mobil gas and oil and ready-mix outboard gas, easily available to both motorists and boaters.

A dock on the lake gives easy access to the store for fishermen or those just cruising around.

The Van Camps lived in Tecumseh for 22 years before moving to Clinton. He worked on many southern Michigan newspapers, including The Tecumseh Herald, and since leaving that enterprise, has owned and operated five different grocery stores.

Van was once in the contracting business, too, once operated an appliance store in Tecumseh and while in Clinton, he ran a men's clothing and shoe store.

The couple have two children, Bill and Sherry.

Mrs. Van Camp retired last year from teaching, having held positions in Clinton, Tecumseh and Britton schools.

After a season of traveling, they are ready to give their full time to the tourists and their regular customers as well.

The Trading Post is open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

For a really fine taste sensation, one can't do better than to stop at Van Camps for some of that good County Line cheese.

ALL WET — Lifeguardess Barb Crandall gives somewhat painful swimming instructions to a fresh group of reluctant young pupils at the Joyce Andrews Pool. The lessons begin at 8:30 a.m., and are held every Monday thru Friday in half-hour sessions. The cost of the program is $5 per student unless more than one member of the family attends, in which case $4 each is asked. In addition, a class in synchronized swimming will meet Fridays at the pool at 9:30 a.m. Students pictured are Daryl Mabrey in the foreground with Kathleen and Vicki Broderick behind him and Jim Neil next to Kathleen.

ESKIMO WILLIE IMUDLUK EXCLAIMS:
FANTASTIC!

Frost-free Refrigerator WITH Automatic Ice Maker
Willie Imudluk, who recently visited Michigan, really lives on the edge of the Arctic. Even though his family enjoys the convenience of a modern refrigerator, Willie nearly flipped his harpoon when he discovered the new frost-free model with the automatic ice maker. We know you will, too. The convenience of no more ice tray filling and spilling — the luxury of a never-ending supply of ice cubes, every man will appreciate. And what woman wouldn't like to forget that dreaded defrosting chore — the chopping, slopping and mopping — with a refrigerator that defrosts itself automatically? See the new frost-free refrigerator with the automatic ice maker today. You'll agree with Willie — It's fantastic!

Sam Culberts 50th July 12

CLINTON — An open house will be held Saturday, July 12, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Sam Culbert of Port Richey, Fla., on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Culbert, 4778 Norvell Rd., Grass Lake.

Friends and relatives may call anytime Saturday afternoon or evening.

The Sam Culberts operated the family farm west of Clinton on US-12 until recent years, when they moved to Florida.

Besides Earl, their children are Arthur, of Brooklyn and the late Mrs. James Draper.

Extend Hands To Other Youths In The County

CLINTON — "Howdy Neighbor" is the theme of a cultural exchange day to be held July 20 at the YMCA, Adrian, as an introduction to the "Operation Get-Acquainted" program in the county.

Families who are interested in being hosts to an underprivileged youth or a child of another culture from the Lenawee County area, for a few days at a time this summer, are welcome to attend the program July 20, beginning at 4 p.m. and including a potluck supper.

The "Operation Get-Acquainted" program was initiated through the efforts of Dr. Leroy Augenstein of Michigan State University and has since been sponsored by many church, civic and farm groups throughout Michigan.

The visitation program is an opportunity for concerned families to add a new dimension to the life of a child from the city, allowing him to relate to a different home environment.

Anyone interested in more information may contact Mrs. James Heimerdinger, or 456-4794.

Goves Entertain At Open House

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gove and daughter, Beth, entertained at an open house, Saturday, honoring their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gove and baby son, Paul Gordon, who were visiting from Oxon Hill, Md. Mrs. Vicki Gove celebrated July 4 by having a birthday, and she shared her birthday cake and ice cream with the open house guests.

Among the 35 guests who attended were baby Paul's great-grandfathers, G. E. Wellnitz, of Tipton and Irving Gove, and other relatives and friends from Clinton, Tecumseh, Adrian, Tipton and Chelsea.

Host Reunion For Family

CLINTON—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Covell hosted a reunion of Mrs. Goldie Updike and family, July 4th, at their home on Clinton-Macon Rd. There were 21 persons present, including seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild, coming from Monroe, Britton, S. Lyons, Drayton Plains, Tipton and Clinton.

The Covell's new garage came in handy for the potluck dinner when the weather refused to cooperate.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Covell and daughter, Laurie, of Drayton Plains were overnight guests and Saturday callers were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reed of Allegan.

Set Dates for School

CLINTON — Vacation Bible School will be held at the Clinton Baptist Church July 14 - 18, from 7 to 9 p.m., for children of nursery through intermediate age.

Those needing transportation may call Jack Brooks, 423-7747.

Assisting with the school will be six summer field workers from Arkansas. Other members of the staff are: Mrs. Jack Brooks, principal; Stephanie Brooks, pianist; Gus Doyle, music director and teacher.

The teachers are: Mrs. Elmer House, Tecumseh; Mrs. Floyd Vaughn and daughter, Elaine, Adrian; Mrs. Naomi Carpenter, Tecumseh; Mrs. Frank Weltman, Manchester; Mrs. Namon Click, Tecumseh; Mrs. Opal Flint and Mrs. Harry Porterfield and Mrs. Colston Watson.

A program for parents will be held at 7 p.m., July 18.

Returns Home

CLINTON — Forrest Lemm left last Wednesday to return to his home at Salem, Ore., after a few days' visit with his sisters, Mrs. Adele Eddy and Lois Lemm. They all attended the recent Lemm family reunion, held June 29, at the home of Clarence Heimerdinger, Sr.

Lois Lemm left Monday for New York where she will visit with friends until Aug. 1, when she embarks for New Hope, Liberia, W. Africa, to resume her duties as a medical missionary for three more years.

Pfc. Hause Leaves For Vietnam

CLINTON. — Pfc. William Hause left June 24 for duty in Vietnam with the army, after spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hause.

During William's visit, Pfc. John O'Connor, M.P., came from Georgia to spend 10 days with his former classmate of Clinton High School. He left then for a new assignment at Ft. Dix, N. J.

John O'Connor's brother, Kevin, recently came from Grand Fords, N. D., to remain here for the summer, while he is employed at Vescio's.

Another brother, Rory O'Connor, a student at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, also came for a few days.

The O'Connor boys have been scattered about the country for more than a year, and they enjoyed a bit of a family reunion and a dinner at the home of their step-mother, Mrs. Archie O'Connor, one evening while they were here.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell left Tuesday for their home in Eliot, Me., after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyatt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell and others in the area. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McConnell were Friday visitors of the McConnells.

Soil Conservation And Landowners

Lenawee Soil Conservation District is involved in soil and water conservation problems with all landowners. The treatment of these erosion problems is similar on rural or urban lands

During the past fiscal year, Soil Conservation Service technicians assisted the district in completing 82 basic plans and revised 15 plans.

A total of 24 basic plans were completed for dairy or beef farms, with 6 plans for hog, sheep, or poultry farms. There were 40 basics on cash crop farms. Basics for wildlife and recreation areas totaled 11, with one for residential lands.

A basic plan is giving proper land use treatment for all of the acres of the property owner. The solutions to erosion problems will be the landowner's decisions after several possible alternatives are discussed and considered.

There were 67 landowners who became district cooperators. The total for the Lenawee District is now 885.

Landowners contacted totaled 627 while 450 of them applied one or more conservation practices. A total of 6,000 acres of land in the county was given adequate land treatment with applied conservation measures.

The annual 5th grade school tour is one of the district highlights with more than 1600 students of Lenawee County Schools attending at the Lee Spohr farm this spring. The Operation "W" tour involving the homemakers was represented by more than 150 ladies last August. The land judging contest is an annual event with the Future Farmers of America boys. More than 100 clergymen of the county churches participated in Soil Stewardship Week during the month of May. A new district activity last spring was the tree program. The district provided its cooperators with 23,500 tree seedlings and 5,000 shrubs.

The district directors are continually promoting the watershed program to help improve the flooding, sedimentation and pollution problems confronting county residents.

The directors adopted a resolution on sediment and erosion control on residential developments. Developers can now receive assistance through the district to plan and apply erosion control measures on these lands while development is taking place.

Map at right shows the fire protection areas for both Raisin Township and the City of Tecumseh. The area with diagonal lines shows the city and portion of the township which may be protected by local firemen. Folks living on Ives Rd., either side, and north to Russell Rd., may call either Tecumseh or Raisin. Choice of fire departments is also extended to residents on Rogers Hwy., to Centennial Rd. Folks on Centennial and south of Ives Rd., must call Raisin as must the folks who live east of Rogers Hwy. and north of Centennial. An attempt by several residents to have Tecumseh fire service extended south to Sutton Rd. was rejected by the Raisin Board Monday night. Ives Rd. is approximately one mile south of the city limits and Sutton, about three miles. Raisin is currently building a new fire station on Occidental Rd. at Gady. Completion is expected this year and officials anticipate having it fully equipped about one year from new.

City Fire Protection Extended Mile South

An improved fire pact between Raisin Township and Tecumseh was finalized Monday night at city hall when officials of the two local governments approved a mutual aid agreement for the entire township and fire protection from the city for a portion of the township.

The portion of the township to be serviced by Tecumseh, depending on the prerogative of the township resident, lies between M-52 on the west, both sides of Ives Rd. on the south, and Rogers Hwy. to Centennial Rd. on the east.

A resident within this area may call either Raisin or the city for protection.

In the mutual aid agreement, township residents south and outside this area must call the sheriff's department which will then set off the alarm in Holloway.

If the Raisin department, after responding to the call sees a need for assistance from Tecumseh, it has the prerogative of calling the city for assistance. The Tecumseh department will respond to a call from the Raisin department, but not from residents outside the agreed-upon portion of the township.

James Mitchell, township supervisor, said the township's new station on Occidental Rd. at Gady should be completed by October and fully equipped in about a year.

The township will then operate as a single department with fire stations at Holloway and the new one on Occidental.

Monday night's session resulted after Council offered the Raisin Township Board fire service, if wanted, at the township meeting on July 7. At this meeting, both groups of officials agreed to meet at Tecumseh city hall.

When the session started here, Mr. Mitchell said his board was interested in mutual aid for the township.

Mayor Harold Easton told him and others at the meeting that this was agreeable with the city if this is what the township wanted. Several residents of the township objected to straight mutual aid and suggested boundaries for an area to be serviced by the city.

Township residents who spoke at the meeting and who appeared interested in having the city provide protection included Robert D. Moore, Keith Bailey, Dr. Robert Murray, Duane Steele, Ralph and Gordon Comfort, and John Costello.

Several of these residents asked their officials to extend the boundary to Sutton Rd. Mr. Mitchell said he would not go along with their request and was backed up by his board, which unanimously objected to Sutton Rd. as the southern limit.

With the exception of Ralph Comfort, all of the residents have homes and property outside the agreed-upon portion of the township for Tecumseh fire service.

Gordon Comfort questioned the township officials and inquired as to why they objected to Tecumseh providing protection to residents close to the city. He later stated in relation to the boundaries, that the "agreement was quite unsatisfactory."

Mr. Bailey asked Raisin officials to increase the boundaries, and cited the importance of time and distance, referring to the closeness of the city fire department.

At the beginning of the meeting, township officials discussed mutual aid only and suggested that it be given a trial. When some of the township residents began suggesting boundaries, a proposed agreement of September, 1965, between the township and city, was presented by Kathleen Osburn, township clerk.

It was around this proposal that Raisin and Tecumseh finalized their agreement Monday evening for boundaries and limited city fire service.

Since May, 1967, Tecumseh has not provided protection to the township, except for an agreement worked out with Fisher Body. Stauffer Chemical sought protection once but then dropped its plans, as did the local schools for the new Sutton Elementary School building, now under construction.

Expecting Big Crowd for Sidewalk Sale

Tecumseh's annual Sidewalk Sale will be held here Friday, and if past crowds are indicative, the turnout will be the largest single-day shopping spree in the city.

Merchants not only display bargains on the sidewalks, but many offer equally good savings inside their shops.

The Chamber of Commerce will have clowns on the street and free balloons for the youngsters.

Both the Jaycees and Jaycee Auxiliary have planned promotions to help them raise monies for their civic projects. The Auxiliary is having an ice cream social at the corner of W. Chicago and N. Pearl, former site of the Methodist Church.

The Jaycees will sell subscriptions to The Herald for one day, hoping to raise funds for several projects. Subscription booths will be located in front of United Savings Bank and at the ice cream social.

Tecumseh Public Library will offer bargains in books, pictures and records at a booth in front of Kohler Real Estate.

VFW Auxiliary will sponsor a refreshment booth at the corner of E. Chicago and Ottawa St. Besides offering refreshments, the Auxiliary will have a fish pond for the children, a bazaar table and a bake goods table.

Mrs. Arthur Sommers is in charge for the Auxiliary, and will be assisted by Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mrs. Norman Sisty, Mrs. Eugene Froelich and Mrs. Boncile Sniffen.

For the downtown merchants, Harold Green and D. J. Martin have organized festivities and are chairing the promotion.

Rites Are Friday for Chet Richard

Chet Richard, 82, of 6440 Green Hwy., died Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient for three weeks.

The Richard family came to the Tecumseh area in 1915, living on Centennial Rd., before moving to their new home on Green Hwy. He was superintendent of the Tecumseh Gravel Co. until his retirement in 1956.

Born in Lima, O., Dec. 2, 1886, he married Ethel Roeder Sept. 8, 1909. She survives.

He was a member of the Odd Fellow Lodge and the Eagles No. 1563.

In addition to his wife, survivors are: four sons, Calvin of Garden, Mich., Harry, 108 Maple St., Roy, Clinton and William of Onsted; three daughters, Mrs. Robert (Wava) Hammond of Saline, Mrs. Donald (Audrey) Woodard of Parma and Mae Richard, 6702 Raisin Center Hwy.; 15 grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Winter and Mrs. Leota Trautman, both of Fort Wayne, Ind., also survive.

He was preceded in death by one son; five sisters; and one brother.

Funeral services will be Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Dunn Funeral Home, with the Rev. Blair Bashore officiating.

Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

There will be an I.O.O.F. service Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the funeral home.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Wednesday.

Services Are Held for Earl Greene

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Earl L. Greene, 60, Tecumseh educator who died suddenly Friday night at Little Traverse Hospital, Petoskey.

Although stricken with what doctors first thought to be a heart attack while fishing with a friend on July 4, he was believed to be on the way to recovery when he reportedly suffered a stroke.

He had been moved out of the hospital's intensive care unit and placed in a semi-private room when he was fatally stricken.

Mr. Greene had been with the Tecumseh schools since 1951, when he was named principal at the old Central Elementary School. In 1956, he was made director of elementary education, a post he held until 1962.

During 1962-63, he studied at Columbia University and received a Prof Degree, a special degree in education.

Board Re-elects Mead President

Aden Mead was re-elected president of the Tecumseh School Board Monday night when officials returned all officers to positions held during the past school year.

William Brown is vice president; Mrs. Donald Cobb, secretary; and Dr. Fred Freeman, treasurer.

Flushing Hydrants

A program to flush all fire hydrants in the city will start here the week of July 28, according to Allyn Ernst, superintendent of Tecumseh's waste water plant.

The program will begin Monday, July 28, at approximately 8:30 p.m. and continue thru Thursday, July 31. All flushing will be done in the evenings.

Residents may experience some rusty water, but officials are hoping to minimize the amount through flushing in the evenings.

The schedule is:

Monday, July 28 — area south of W. Chicago Blvd., from Union St. to Russell Rd. and Occidental.

Tuesday, July 29 — E. Chicago

Rec. Director Hired Here

Ward E. Eardley, 42, assistant director of parks and recreation for Adrian for the past year and a half, was hired Monday to succeed Don Moffatt as director here.

Tecumseh's new director has approximately 20 years' experience in recreation and athletics, most of which was gained during a 22-year stint in the service.

He served first in the Navy in 1944 and later in the United States Air Force. He retired in 1966.

His experience not only includes managing and administrating recreation programs but also organizing and developing. When his squadron adopted a Korean orphanage, he was in charge of instigating and planning a recreation program and its facilities.

Mr. Eardley was in charge of many physical training and recreation programs for the USAF.

He not only has worked with civic and military organizations in the recreation field, but he also was director of a large private camp.

His wide experiences range from Little League and club work work to swimming and water skiing programs. He has also worked with Senior Citizen organizations, a position he will fill here along with other duties.

His memberships include Amateur Softball Association of America (deputy commissioner), International Federation of Umpires, National Recreation and Parks Association, and Michigan Outdoors Club.

His wife, Mary Lou, and their four boys, ages 3 to 14, will continue to live in Adrian for the time being.

Mr. Eardley will start here Aug. 18.

Schools Purchase Bishop Property

Tecumseh School Board authorized the purchase of the George Bishop property on E. Shawnee St. at a cost of $17,000.

GARDEN CLUBS RECOGNIZE WORK — The Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Inc., has recognized Marda Gene Duncan for her work in conservation, most particularly in study of bird life. This annual state award goes to a person who is not a member of a garden club, but contributes to the work the garden-clubs do in conservation. Presenting the scroll of accomplishment to Miss Duncan, whose bird study column appears weekly in The Herald, is Mrs. Wilbur Andrews, president of the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh, which won the award for Miss Duncan and recognition also to the Little Garden Clubs.

The engagement of Shirley Chrisman to James Wallace, Jr., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chrisman, 4560 Rogers Hwy., Britton. Miss Chrisman is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Uniloy Company, Dundee. Mr. Wallace is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, Sr., 9236 Carson Hwy. He attended Tecumseh High School and served three years in the Marine Corps. He is now employed at Ford Motor Company, Rawsonville. A November 29 wedding is planned.

Sadler-Bishop Nuptials Spoke by Candlelight

Deborah Lee Sadler of Michigan City, Ind., became the bride of Augusta Lee Bishop Friday evening in a candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Blair Bashore in the First Baptist Church.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Martha Leuthke, of Michigan City and the groom is the son of Mrs. Orville Bishop, 113 Maple St. and the late Mr. Bishop.

The bride was given in marriage by Jack Ries in behalf of her grandmother, who was unable to attend due to illness.

Daisies filled the altar vases and white satin bows marked the pews.

Mrs. Fred C. Dickinson presented nuptial music preceding and during the ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length gown of candlelight satin with fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and high neckline trimmed with lace and seed pearls. A cathedral train extended from the slim skirt and her elbow length veil was secured to a crown of seed pearls.

She carried a white lace-covered Bible, topped with a cascade arrangement of white blossoms and ivy.

Betty Bishop served as maid of honor with Mary Kay Bishop, bridesmaid and tiny Michelle Rapin, flower girl.

All were attired alike in sheath dresses of lime green organza, trimmed with white daisies. They wore matching floral head pieces and carried baskets of daisies.

Charles S. Gillies was best man. Timothy Ries, groomsman and Rand Robinson seated nearly 200 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring were hosts for the reception, in the Youth House with Mrs. John Surratt, Mrs. Mike Osburn and Lana Withrup pouring beverages with other ladies of the church assisting with the serving.

Both young people were students majoring in physical education at Alma College this past year and plan to attend school again this fall.

The groom is employed by the City of Tecumseh, giving swimming instruction at both the pool and Tecumseh Park.

They plan to take a week's trip to Lake Michigan before starting school.

Earl Greene

He returned to Tecumseh in 1963 and taught at Patterson Elementary School. In the fall of 1968, he was made principal at Patterson and Tipton schools.

School officials report that Mr. Greene was extremely popular with the youngsters and his associates while principal here and was scheduled to resume his duties this fall.

Prior to coming to Tecumseh, he had taught at Shelby, Blissfield and Morenci.

He was born in Tekonsha on Nov. 14, 1908, and graduated from high school there in 1927. He held a B.A. degree from Western Michigan University and a Masters from the University of Michigan.

On April 19, 1930, he and Esther Taylor were married.

His memberships in Tecumseh included the Methodist Church, Wit and Wisdom Club and Exchange Club. He was also a member of several education associations.

Survivors, besides his wife, are a son, Gerry, Tecumseh police officer; brother, Harold, Battle Creek; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Sizeland and Mrs. Warren Humeston, Tekonsha; and one grandson, Bruce Allen.

Services were conducted in the Methodist Church with Proctor Funeral Home in charge of burial in Riverside Cemetery at Tekonsha.

A memorial fund has been established at the Tecumseh Public Library for Mr. Greene. Contributions for elementary children's books may be made with Mrs. Joyce Woods, librarian.

AREA OBITUARIES

● MRS. RUBY MAE KNIFFEN

Services were held Monday at the Niblack Home For Funerals for Mrs. Ruby Kniffen, 85, formerly of Britton, who died Saturday at the Charlotte Stephenson Home in Adrian. She had been a resident there since May, 1966.

Mrs. Kniffen had been in failing health for the last 10 years.

She was born May 20, 1884, in Ridgeway Township. She married I. Leon Kniffen Oct. 26, 1904. He preceded her in death Dec. 28, 1944.

Mrs. Kniffen was a member of the Congregational Christian Church of Britton and the Dorcas Class.

She was a life member of the Chapter 51, Order of the Eastern Star, and the Britton Women's Club.

Survivors include a son, Frank A. Kniffen of Britton; a daughter, Mrs. Lee (Ruth) Hastings of Adrian; two grandchildren; and two great-nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by a daughter and four brothers.

The Rev. Luren Strait officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

The OES conducted a memorial service at the funeral home Sunday night.

● MRS. MARY E. RYND

Services were held Tuesday morning at the Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton, for Mrs. Mary Rynd, 94, of Clinton, who died Saturday in an Adrian Nursing Home. She had been in nursing homes for the past year.

She was born Aug. 13, 1874, in Maumee. On Feb. 19, 1901, she was married to Burke Rynd. He preceded her in death, Jan. 4, 1963.

Mrs. Rynd is survived by one son, Charles of Clinton; one daughter, Mrs. George (Gladys) Bowland of Dearborn and three grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two brothers and four sisters.

The Rev. Dean Parker officiated and burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

● JOHN H. ODELL

Services will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the United Methodist Church of West Chicago for John H. Odell, 38, who died at his home there Monday following a lingering illness.

Born Dec. 19, 1930, three miles east of Clinton, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Odell of Clinton. He married Doris Haskell of Toledo Sept. 30, 1950.

He was a graduate of Clinton High School and a truck salesman for 12 years for the Aquarium Supply Co. in Chicago.

Survivors include his parents, his wife and five children, Sandra, Terry, John, Jr., Janet and Jeannette, all at home.

A brother, Royal, of Madison, Wis., Roger, Santa Cruz, N. M., and a sister, Mrs. Frank (Raeola) Lasky, 730 Seneca, also survive.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Eugene, at age 4.

His parents had visited him over last weekend and two of the children, John, Jr., and Janet, had gone with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Odell, on a trip to Virginia and Florida. His death was unexpected at this time.

The family ask that contributions in his memory be given to the Cancer Society through the Woodward Funeral Home or the United Methodist Church in Chicago.

Burial will be at 9 a.m., Friday at the Elmhurst Cemetery, Chicago.

● MRS. DAVID GRINDSTAFF

Services were held Monday in Adrian for Mrs. Ida Pearl Grindstaff, 85, who died Saturday morning at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for nine weeks.

Mrs. Grandstaff was born Feb 26, 1884, in Riga.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Llenore Fox, Britton; one son, David A. Grindstaff, Ypsilanti; one granddaughter, Mrs. Gwendolyn Randall, Pittsford; one brother, William Raymond, 10550 Wisner, Hwy.; and six great-grandchildren.

She married David Grindstaff in Fairfield, June 7, 1902. He preceded her in death in 1955.

Also preceding her were one son, Forrest; one daughter, Helen; six sisters and one brother.

The Rev. Lawrence Cox officiated and burial was in the Holloway Cemetery.

The Grange will host another euchre party at the hall Saturday at 8 p.m., with cookies and sandwiches brought by those attending for refreshments.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Good Neighbors

Last week, Tecumseh Council paid a surprise visit to the Raisin Township Board and offered fire protection, if wanted, for any or all of the township. Out of this meeting may emerge a new era in the relations between the township and city.

Our city officials should be commended for their action, it was not asked nor was it sought by township officials. They had a choice to accept this goodwill gesture and an offer of assistance, or reject it.

The fact that assistance was accepted could mean that the two local governments will realize greater cooperation in the future.

There's no doubt that the welfare and property of some township residents was taken into consideration by the Board, when it allowed a portion of its area to be services via an individual's call to the city fire station.

It's life, limb and property which we are all concerned about, and Raisin's decision to relax its policy against all city protection is surely a sign of better things to come.

In retrospect to Monday's session, perhaps a little larger area of the township — that which lies within two or three miles of the city limits — could have been included in the new agreement. Some of these folks indicated at the meeting that they would like to be given the prerogative of calling either Raisin or Tecumseh, in case of a fire.

It isn't important who answers a fire and extinguishes it. Volunteer firemen can't receive enough recognition.

What is important is the protection a family receives, one that will protect them and their property. Certainly, Raisin Township Board realizes this aspect of fire service.

The Board has planned a $100,000 fire station at Occidental and Gady Rds., a station which will be subordinate to the one in Holloway. The township has plans to provide excellent fire service, including around-the-clock manning of the station on Occidental.

It may mean spending considerable monies from the township's treasury, but it will be a step towards fulfilling a dream and an objective of adequate protection for the entire township without paying some $3,000 to the city annually for fire service.

Raisin planners could well be envisioning the possibility of incorporating and building a new city, even one with sewer and water mains, a police force and other facilities.

We hope and are confident that Tecumseh will continue its goodwill attitude in whatever the township officials strive to accomplish, regardless of whether the city is involved or not.

Tecumseh wants to be a good neighbor.

Vet is a Happy Man

There was a happy man at 807 Outer Dr., Monday, when Arnold McDonnell was handed a check for a lump sum payment of Social Security benefits, dating back to May, 1968. Mr. McDonnell was also advised by Don Osterman, field representative for the Social Security Administration, Jackson, that he will receive monthly benefits as long as he lives.

Mr. McDonnell, 49, was born in Toledo, and moved to Tecumseh 14 years ago. During World War II, while serving with the Army at Monte Casino, Italy, he suffered injuries which left him a paraplegic.

He drives his own car, and his greatest enjoyment is fishing. He makes his home with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brooks.

Robert Gillespie, service officer for the Underwood-Orr Post, American Legion, initiated the effort to obtain the Social Security benefits for Mr. McDonnell, because of his inability to work. Previously he had only a veteran's pension.

The benefits now granted Mr. McDonnell, are the result of changes in the Social Security Act of 1968. The new act permits disability benefits, when a person has suffered the injury prior to the age of 31, and it is no longer necessary to have been employed five years prior to disability.

Mr. McDonnell has granted the Social Security Administration permission to print his story as a service to others who might now be eligible for similar benefits.

Negligence Is Charged In Warrant

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Joseph Bagby, 1201 Murray Dr, for negligent homicide in the death of Samuel Brooks on June 6.

Bagby was the operator of a motorcycle headed north on Evans St when the cycle left the road and struck a tree and telephone pole resulting in the death of Brooks and critical injury to Bagby.

The warrant cited that he was driving too fast and without due care when the incident occurred.

Board Elects Les Downing

Leslie Downing was elected president of the Britton-Macon School Board Monday night with Jim Squires, treasurer, and Don Bush, secretary.

Beryl Albring and Mr. Squires, new members, were sworn into office by Supt. William Saxton.

Other action at the organizational session included:

Setting regular monthly meeting date as second Thursday, 8 p.m. during the summer, and 7:30 during the winter.

Naming United Savings Bank as depository for all school monies.

Establishing 1969 tax rate at 8.5 operational; 10, extra voted, and 4.3, debt retirement.

Accepting resignation of Don Zimmerman as band director.

Employing Mark Lewis, Standish, as high school math teacher, and Jean Ziogas, Lansing, for fourth grade.

Board OKs Resolutions for Bonds

Resolutions for the sale of a $260,000 bond issue were passed by the Tecumseh School Board Monday night. Funds will be used for completing the Sutton Elementary School, purchase of 120 acres for a new high school, and acquisition of sites near the present high school.

Additional property is under consideration near the high school and may be needed when the school there is converted to a middle school of grades six, seven and eight.

The Board has now completed their legal requirements for the bond issue and is now seeking approval to sell the bonds from Lansing. A delay of two or three months is expected.

Granted Leave

Mrs. Graham Fleming, Tecumseh elementary principal, was granted a 90-day leave of absence in order to let her complete work for a specialist degree.

The leave will start Jan. 1 and extend to next April 15.

'Couple' is Funny

By ANNEMARIE WILLIAMS

Last Saturday night, a lively audience was treated to a brisk performance of a very funny play, Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple", played by the Croswell Repertory Theatre, under the direction of Jeff Wagner.

The play describes an episode in the lives of Oscar Madison, a "divorced, broke and sloppy" sportswriter and Felix Ungar, his friend and a nut on housekeeping who was just kicked out by his wife.

Oscar is played by Dean Kyburz, a young man with lots of talent who appears throughout every inch the liquor-loving, cigar-chomping slop he is supposed to be.

Felix is portrayed by Guy Miller who played too much the straight man at first, more or less providing the cues for Oscar's punch lines. Later he loosened up considerably and came through very well as the picayunish, hypochondriac who can't stand to have someone confuse spaghetti with linguini.

What seems at first to be an ideal set-up, soon turns into a lysol-scented nightmare for poor Oscar who likes to live in casually messed up surroundings. Felix is a compulsive housecleaner who forever attacks the apartment with ammonia and disinfectant.

The only thing the two seem to have in common is the Friday night poker game with their friends, and even that is in peril, because they too, are driven to distraction by Felix's penchant for clean ashtrays and coasters on the table.

The final blow-up comes when Oscar sets up a double date with the cooing Pigeon sisters from upstairs but Felix manages to take care of the evening by spoiling everyone's mood. The furious Oscar annuls their marriage and sends him packing his pots and pans, only to have to see him move in with the girls who are moved to tears by Felix's sob story and they "just want to bundle him up and take care of him."

Lynn Miller and Diane Frank very aptly giggled and wiggled their way through their roles.

The group of Friday night poker players provide a wonderful backdrop for the two main characters and are often much more than that. They are played by Joe Balsanek, Craig Collicott, Bill Sanford and Paul Schierhorn, who are all very much at home in their roles and frequently run away with the show.

Will the break-up of the Oscar-Felix marriage be the end of the Friday night poker game? No, indeed, for as Felix says, "Marriages may come and go, but the game must go on."

A lot of effort was devoted to the very well designed set under the supervision of Guy Miller.

"The Odd Couple" will run again on August 2 and 3.

The Rev. Outram To Return Home

Sunday, July 20, the Rev. Francis H. Outram will deliver his farewell sermon to the parish of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. He will leave that afternoon for his home in England after spending nine months as an exchange priest here.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at both the 8 and 10 a.m. services with coffee hour following the latter one.

The Rev. Russell Cooper will take over the duties of the parish until the Rev. Frank Hawthorne and family arrive from England around Sept. 1.

New Britton HS Principal

Donald Bussler of Ann Arbor was hired Monday night by the Britton School Board for the principalship at the high school.

He taught eight years at Chelsea and for the past two years in the Ann Arbor system.

He is a graduate of University of Michigan and holds a specialist degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Mr. Bussler, 37, father of three youngsters, will begin his duties at Britton on Aug. 4.

New Swim Club Started At Pool

A 50-mile swim club has been organized and members meet at the pool Mondays and Wednesdays from 5 to 6 p.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 10 p.m.

They swim the length of the pool and Red Cross swimming awards are presented to those swimming multiples of 10 miles, up to 50. The fee is $5. Bill Dustin is in charge.

The synchronized swimming class meets Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5 to 6 p.m., with Karen Brown, instructor. They expect to perform a water ballet later in the summer. Charge is $2.

There are still openings in adult classes Tuesdays and Thursdays. "In fact, we will teach them anything they want to learn from non-swimmers right on through," stated Dustin.

T-P Retirees To Travel

The Products Retirees will leave by bus Thursday, July 17, to tour a candy factory and a toy factory at Bryan, O.

Forty-six members gathered at the Union Hall last Wednesday for a potluck chicken dinner, followed by euchre and other games with prizes awarded.

Euchre winners were Florence Kempf, ladies' high; Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro, ladies' low; Harold Osterhout, high; Zell McCarty, low; Lester Hunt, lone hands and Frank Hahn, lucky number.

Other winners were Edgar Van Vleet, August Hoffmeister, Nate Smith, Florence Smith, Robert Gillespie, Esther DeClercq, Cora Sager, Clara Ulrich, Irene Hahn, Margaret Fisher, Joe DeClercq, Arthur Close, Rolland Horton, Helen Osterhout and Lucile Philo.

Tecumseh Seamen Serves Apollo 11

Seaman Edward J. Biscupski, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Biscupski, 512 Seneca St., is serving aboard the USS Ozark, a unit of Task Force 140 supporting the flight of Apollo 11.

Ozark will be positioned just south of the Equator, 3,700 miles down range from Cape Kennedy. She will act as a contingency recovery ship should the space ship be forced to land in that area prior to achieving successful translunar insertion. During the return flight of Apollo 11, Ozark will maintain a ready position to recover the astronauts and their command module in the event a decision is made to land in her area instead of the Pacific Ocean.

Seeks Transfer of 50 Acres

William M. Powell, Tecumseh real estate broker, has requested a transfer of approximately 50 acres from the Clinton School District to the Tecumseh district.

The area is heavily wooded and is just north of Meyers Airport.

His request is expected to be on the Lenawee County School Boards agenda early in August.

MRS. RICHARD GOLAT

Violeeta Burnett is Wed To Richard Golat

Violeeta Kaye Burnett and Richard S. Golat were married Saturday afternoon in the Martha-Mary Chapel in Greenfield Village, Dearborn, by the Rev. Timothy O'Connor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allmon Burnett, 705 Ternes Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Golat, 221 Herrick Park Dr., are the parents of the groom.

The bride chose a gown of ribbed silk organza with empire waist and full A-line skirt. Reembroidered Venetiap lace appliques trimmed the neckline, sleeves, hem and cathedral length train.

Her triple tiered shoulder length veil was secured to a Dior bow with pearl beading. She carried a nosegay of miniature daisies, yellow sweetheart roses and babys breath.

Susan Whitney was maid of honor and Mrs. Barbara Karkanen of Westland and Karen Sundstrom of Plymouth were the bridesmaids. They were attired alike in empire waisted A-line dresses of yellow dotted Swiss organza trimmed at the collar and cuffs with French lace.

They wore ivory daisy earrings, gifts of the bride and carried nosegays of yellow and white daisies and babys breath.

The groom was attended by Ronald Baxter of Onsted as best man, Terry Costew, Ferndale; Collin Burnett, brother of the bride, and Thomas Morgan, brother-in-law of the groom.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Continental Inn in Dearborn with several relatives and friends from Tecumseh attending.

Both young people are graduates of Tecumseh High School. She was graduated from Eastern Michigan University and is a registered medical laboratory technician in Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn.

The groom attended Bailey Technical School, Kansas City, Mo., and served in the Navy Seabees in Vietnam. He is employed at Federal Mogul Corporation in Dearborn as a co-ordinator buyer.

The couple went to Florida to watch the moon shot and then on to the Bahama Islands. When they return they will live at 22447 Buck St., in Dearborn.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner Thursday evening also at the Continental Inn.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Virginia Culbert Draper, who left us July 15th, 1968.

To say time heals all sorrows,
And helps us to forget.
But time, so far, has only proved,
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to take it,
And courage to face the blow,
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by Mother and Dad, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Culbert, and brothers and families, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Culbert and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Culbert. 7-17p

Len. Fuels 8
Kiwanis 1

Gary Humphres, pitching his first game for Lenawee Fuels after being called up from the minors, turned in a fine performance and also doubled to lead his teammates to an 8-1 victory over Kiwanis in major league action recently.

He was relieved by Paul Royal and Rick Vealey saved the win. Brad Sisson took the loss. He needed relief help from Ken Biscupski and Shawn Dalton.

Greg Williams had a pair of doubles to go along with Humphres' hit. Rick Cole, Vealey and Royal collected the other three of six hits picked up by the winners.

Biscupski had two and Sisson one for the losers.

Macon Golf Tournament

Annual Macon Golf Club match play tournament opened July 12 with 100 golfers entered. First week winners were:

Championship Flight — B. Beckley, D. Brabloc, J. George.

First Flight — J. Morris, S. Forgacs, B. Marsh, J. Harness, J. Flood, J. Orick.

Second Flight — V. Massingill, L. Wright, W. Reum, J. Schaefer, E. Yoakum.

Third Flight — L. Milheim, R. Strong, I. Gurtzweiler, G. Harrison.

Fourth Flight — Sam Hamilton B. Babcock, B. Herdon, D. Colson, R. Hunt, T. Cadmus, G. Fox, F. Philo, J. Ries, V. Flores.

Ladies Attend Annual Workshop

Three Tecumseh ladies represented Lenawee County at the annual Church Music Workshop on the MSU campus at East Lansing July 7 - 10. They were Mrs. Earl Mason, Mrs. Al Merz and Mrs. Fred Oberlin.

Instructors from Interlochen and others presented the high quality program for 138 men and women attending.

TENNIS

The new session of tennis lessons began this week and the students are learning the basic strokes and strategy of the game. A tournament is being planned for later in the lessons.

MOMS' SOFTBALL

Several ladies came down to the athletic field and turned last Wednesday evening into one of good fun and great exercise as they formed two teams to play each other in softball. Wielding gloves and bats, the ladies showed great skill and enthusiasm on the diamond as many unique plays were made and everyone vowed to return again for more fun. All ladies (you don't have to be a mom!) are still invited to come down at 7:15 Wednesday on the athletic field and join!

GIRLS PEEWEE SOFTBALL

In recent action the Champs again defeated the Sluggers in a run-away contest that ended with a score of 17-3 Karen Bunch and Linda West slammed home runs. The teams now stand as such:

Last Tuesday the Sluggers met the Daredevils and the game turned into a pitching duel between two of the Aebersold sisters, Peg and Elaine. Peg showed excellent control, striking out 10 Daredevils while winning pitcher Elaine allowed six Sluggers. The Daredevils had heavy hitting on their side though as Jana Upell batted 1000 for the game, while her teammate, Michelle Tate, blasted a home run, knocking in two runs for the Daredevils to give them the victory margin, 12-10.

Further action saw the Miracle Workers defeat the Sluggers, 10-7. One reason for the score was the 10 strikeouts and one walk that winning pitcher, Peg Aebersold, tallied. Hitting triples for both teams were Karen Ashenfelter, Peg Aebersold and Deb Hollister, while Peg Upell, Roxanne Kimpel, Peg Aebersold, Nancy Warner and Rhonda Hinpard hit doubles.

In a game between the Miracle Workers and Daredevils, clutch plays by the Daredevils proved to be the downfall of the Miracle Workers as they lost, 12-5. Starting Daredevil pitcher, Cheryl Williams, pitched the first half of the game until Elaine Aebersold came in to relieve her. The highlight of the game was Cindy Bohannon's home run that brought in three Daredevil runs.

Meanwhile the Sluggers defeated the Lollipops by a score of 20-4. Everything seemed to go right for the Sluggers as they collected 11 walks and several outstanding hits along with strong pitching.

Another close contest involved the Sluggers as they downed the Miracle Workers, 9-7. This seesaw battle featured powerful pitching by both teams but key hits made the difference. Debbie Hollister homered for the losing team.

The playgrounds are starting to slow up in attendance due to the hot weather. Nevertheless, two weeks ago we held our bicycle week. Last week we held a checker tournament with good results.

For our bicycle check we tested the skill of the riders rather than the bike itself. An obstacle course was set up which every child rode through, testing his ability to control his bike under difficult conditions.

Ribbons were awarded to the top three riders who were able to ride through the course the quickest and smoothest. The following children won at the various playgrounds, 1st, 2nd and 3rd, respectively.

West Branch — Linda Shaw, Sandy Dunn and Nena Murphy.

Patterson — Doug Bunch, Ken Biscupski and Jeff Rea.

Shady Lane — Eno Banda.

Herrick Park — Bob Cheers, Amy and Julie Phipps and Steve Jensen.

Tecumseh Acres—David Shain.

On Thursday all the children got in the mood of the holiday by decorating their bikes with streamers for the 4th of July. At Patterson they held their own parade and awarded prizes to the best looking bikes. The prizes went to Lyn Beard, Kathy Kruger and Eddie Yeary for their uniquely decorated bikes. Duncan Judson, Becky Hite, and Laurie Hite volunteered for clean-up duty after the celebration.

We held our annual checker tournament last week. During the week all the children practiced for the playground tournament which was held Wednesday. This selected two winners which were to represent the playground in the city tournament held Thursday at Patterson School. There were two divisions, a junior, ages 5-9 and senior, 10-12. The following are the winners from each playground.

Tecumseh Acres — Cindy Litteral and Dan Tilton.

Patterson — Scott Gilpin and Kenny Biscupski.

Shady Lane — Ralph Rosenberg and Dan Harrold.

West Branch — Sandy Dunn and Mark Pearson.

Herrick Park — Dale Carpenter, Tommy Fielder and Purkey Shelton.

A checker set was awarded to the senior playground winner and a domino set to the junior. Our grand champions of the tournament were Kenny Biscupski, who won a croquet set and Cindy Litteral, who was awarded a badminton game. On Thursday afternoon our champs were defeated by the Senior Citizen checker expert, Mr. Hotrum. They lost, but admitted they had enjoyed playing, especially with someone who really knew what he was doing.

All the children who attended the playgrounds and craft center are reminded of the trip to the Toledo Zoo to be held on August 4. Even though the deadline has passed for the permission slips, all those still interested may still sign up at the playgrounds or craft center.

Jaycees 15
Len. Fuels 11

Jaycee little leaguers and the Lenawee Fuels put on a scoring romp in diamond action Monday with the Jaycee team downing Lenawee Fuels, 15-11.

Darrell Boseman started for the winners and was relieved in the second by Chuck Cote. Ken Jacoby came on to hurl the last three innings and pick up the win.

Humphries hurled the opening two stanzas for the losers and Mike Connors came on to toss the final four and take the loss.

Jacoby led the hitters with three doubles, a triple and single. Mike Duhan, Mark Hunt, Mike Corley each had two hits each. Boseman doubled.

Harvey and Vealy each had three hits for the losers while Humphries and Williams collected a pair.

Greg Williams, Kent Jacoby and Larry Hallenbeck all played good ball in the field.

Purkey's Have Mini-Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Don Purkey and daughters enjoyed a weekend stay in Grand Rapids last weekend. The trip had the original purpose of finding residence in the area for their daughter, Donna, who will be attending Kendall School of Design in Grand Rapids in the fall. Warm, sunny weather served to make the three-day stay a pleasant, midsummer mini-vacation.

National Caller Coming Friday

A western style square dance will be held Friday, July 18, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m., at the Community Center, featuring national caller Al Brundage.

It is sponsored by the Shawnee Squares.

Susan Bottorff is Wed to Jeffrey Osburn

Susan Lea Bottorff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bottorff, 404 N. Union St., and Jeffrey Brown Osburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osburn, 231 Park St., were united in marriage Saturday evening by the Rev. R. A. Mitchinson at the United Methodist Church.

Hurricane lamps marked the pews for the wedding in candlelight performed by the former pastor of the Grace United Methodist Church of Ridgeway.

Cynthia Parfitt of Lansing, college friend of the bride, sang, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Bush at the organ.

Miss Bottorff chose an empire styled gown of silk organza over linen trimmed with Venice lace on the high neck and sleeves edged with circular ruffle.

The A-line skirt featured a front inverted panel edged with the lace which continued around the bottom of the attached train.

Her elbow length veil was secured to a cluster of heavy lace trimmed with pearls and she carried a cascade arrangement of camellias, stephanotis, tiny yellow rosebuds and lily of the valley.

MRS. JEFFREY OSBURN

Mrs. Robert Malloch, sister of the bride, was matron of honor in a floor length linen gown of lime green with empire waist trimmed with Venice lace. Neck and sleeves were edged with eyelet balling and the low, square neckline at the back enhanced the gathered bustle effect.

She wore a single flower of yellow and white and lime green veil on her hair and carried a cascade of yellow carnations centered with a single candle.

Mrs. William Eddinger, also a sister of the bride, Mrs. Russell Blanden and Linda Lynas of Plymouth were the bridesmaids with Lucinda Eddinger, niece of the bride, as flower girl.

The maids wore gowns of yellow linen styled as that of the matron of honor and carried white carnations edged in green and the flower girl was dressed like the matron of honor and carried a nosegay of yellow blossoms.

Charles Osburn, brother of the groom, was best man and Mark and Kevin Osburn, brothers, and Russell Blanden seated the guests.

A nosegay of yellow flowers topped the wedding cake served at the [illegible] hall of the church with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Mikesell and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown, Jr., as hosts.

Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Ronald Mastie, Mrs. Jay Osburn, Toni Herrick, Marilyn Dick and Pamela Dabe assisted with the serving.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and will teach in Pinckney this fall. Her husband is a student at General Motors Institute in Flint and is employed at the Fisher Body plant in Willow Run. Both are Tecumseh High School graduates.

Following a trip to the eastern seaboard for two weeks, they will live in Pontiac Heights, Ann Arbor.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Country House.

Sweet Adelines Elect Officers

The Irish Hills Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., installed officers for the 1969-70 year. They are:

President—Eunice Close, Clayton.

Vice-president — Jean Price, Onsted.

Treasurer — Kathleen Ochs, Adrian.

Recording secretary — Judy Adams, Tecumseh.

Corresponding secretary—Ginny Kink, Adrian.

Board Members — Janet Howe, Brooklyn; Nancy Oberst, Tecumseh; Alberta Turbett, Adrian; Linda Collins, Tecumseh; Lydia Crenshaw, Brooklyn; Jackie Smith, Brooklyn; Cinda Walton, Adrian.

Sue Mapes is director. Practices are Monday nights at the Tecumseh Missionary Baptist Church.

The engagement of Christine Kay Johnson to L. Eugene Thomas is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson, 11615 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., Clinton. The bride-elect is a June graduate of Clinton High School and is attending Alexandra School of Cosmetology, Ann Arbor. Mr. Thomas is the son of Mrs. Aileen Neely, Salt Lake City, Utah. He has attended the University of Utah, and plans to enroll at Eastern Michigan for the fall term, studying for a degree in education. A home wedding is planned for Sept. 5.

Garden Club's Annual Picnic

Anne Carson will host members of the Tecumseh Garden Club Friday for a noon luncheon, the annual picnic.

Those attending will bring their own table service and a dish to pass.

Clean Grain Bins Before Harvest

Clean your grain bins thoroughly and treat them for insects at least two weeks before storing new grain, advises Dick Allen, Lenawee county extension agent.

Malathion and Methoxychlor can be used for treating bins, he suggests. With premium grade malathion, a 57 percent emulsifiable liquid concentrate works well in a knapsack sprayer. One pint in three gallons of water gives the right mixture. Two gallons of this solution will cover about 1,000 square feet.

Fifty percent wettable powder methoxychlor can also be used. A mixture of 1¼ pounds in three gallons of water, well agitated, will spray-kill all insects, including those in the cracks.

"Remove all old grain from the bins before cleaning and treating," Allen advises, "because insects in old grain can severely damage the new grain. Also ventilate the bins before storing new grain."

Fosco-Hurlburt Wedding Vows

Cheryl Lyn Fosco became the bride of Robert Ian Hurlburt June 14 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in North Truro, Mass.

Marie and Pat Fosco were the attendants.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Nick P. Fosco of North Truro and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Hurlburt, 607 Stacy St.

The newlyweds returned to Tecumseh after a honeymoon in the New England States and Canada. They reside on W. Logan St.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

IS HELL REAL?

The study of this place in the Bible will reveal some very interesting and some very frightening facts. This subject is included in the study of last things, along with Heaven, the Judgments and Eternity.

God tells us He has prepared only two places for life after death. Only one of these is intended for human beings — that being Heaven. Hell, we are told in Matthew 25, was and is prepared for Satan and his angels.

Hell is described in terms which we cannot fully define. This is understandable since Heaven is also described in such language. Hell is seen as outer darkness yet as everlasting fire. Hell is called a bottomless pit and a lake of fire. It is the abode of all who deny God a part in their lives. Their lot will be suffering, sorrow, pain and tears.

Since God only prepared one place for men, Hell will be the only alternative for those who reject Jesus Christ. God does not send them to Hell. Men choose not to belong to Jesus so there is no place left for them to go. God's Word, the Bible, says, "Except a man be born again he cannot see the Kingdom of God." John 3:3.

Yes, Hell is real.

Senior Citizens Meeting Held

President Zell McCarty of the Senior Citizens told a story relative to finances at the meeting July 10 at the Community Center.

Tables were arranged for cards and games with prizes awarded to the winners.

Assorted cookies, coffee and tea were served by Art Macam and Sherry Dicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray will be the hosts for the Drop-In July 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kemp have moved to Lindale, Tex.

Dr. Darrell H. Pollard was the guest pastor at the United Methodist Church last Sunday. Dr. Pollard is the dean and vice-president of Adrian College. He is married and has two sons and two daughters. He received his AB at Albion College, an MA at the University of Michigan and his PhD. from the U of M in recent American History and Cognate American Political theory.

Tournament Nets Profit

A profit of $1,450 was realized from the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary card party tournament recently completed for the season.

The money is used for payment on equipment for the Coronary Intensive Care Unit at the hospital.

Champions in the final play-off were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanna, euchre division; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moore, couples' bridge; and Mrs. Seymour Barritt and Mrs. Jack Curtiss, ladies' bridge.

The winners in the ladies' bridge groups were Mrs. William Macbeth, Mrs. Neville Hart, Mrs. Fred Pokorny, Mrs. Frank Dalton, Mrs. A. J. Geisenhaver, Mrs. Carlton Cook, Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. Charles Butler, Mrs. Jack Curtiss, Mrs. Seymour Barritt, Mrs. James Gillespie, Mrs. Albert Caesar.

Mrs. Ted Tapping and Mrs. Norman MacLeod were winners in Manchester and Mrs. William Driscoll and Mrs. Arthur Rudel in Clinton.

Those winning second-place honors were Mrs. Hugh Andrews, Mrs. Ed. Schwartz, Mrs. Franklin Humble, Mrs. Herbert Simon, Mrs. Howard Furry, Mrs. Graham Foster, Mrs. Stella Hubbard, Mrs. Hugh Walter, Mrs. Ben Gillies, Mrs. Keith Barron, Mrs. Joseph Conklin, Mrs. Lester Dallas, Mrs. John Korican and Mrs. Douglas Higgins in Manchester.

Mrs. Lester Proctor and Mrs. Allen Brooks won in Clinton.

The winners in the euchre groups were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanna, Mrs. Don Daniels, Mrs. Norbert Sedelbauer, Mrs. Edwin Lewis, Mrs. Henry Stein, Mrs. Richard Vollmer and Mrs. Ray Benedict.

Those winning second-place honors were Mr. and Mrs. G. Maxwell Smith, Mrs. Clarence Champanois, Mrs. Richard Peterson, Mrs. Lyle Whelan and Mrs. Lamont Simmons.

One euchre group in Tipton had a three-way tie for first place. Those tied for first place honors were Mrs. Ray Jackson, Mrs. Dermont Poley, Jr., Mrs. Robert Karle, Mrs. Kenneth Munger, Mrs. Don Daniels and Mrs. Norbert Sedelbauer.

The winners in the couples' bridge groups were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bock, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bowen and Mr. and Mrs. Don Graham.

Those winning second place honors were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Langham, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh DesErmia, Mr. and Mrs. James Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers.

The Hospital Auxiliary wishes to thank all who participated in the tournament, as this is one of the major money-making projects of the year.

Organization of the tournament for the 1969-70 season is now underway. Bridge and euchre players who would like to play in the tournament this next season are cordially invited to join and may do so by calling Janet Vaillancourt, 423-2102 or Jean Merz, 423-2457.

ESKIMO WILLIE IMUDLUK SAYS:

A NICE IDEA!

Frost-free Refrigerator WITH Automatic Ice Maker

Willie Imudluk, who recently visited Michigan, really lives on the edge of the Arctic. Even though his family enjoys the convenience of a modern refrigerator, Willie nearly lost his cool when he saw the new frost-free model with the automatic ice maker. We know you will, too. Every man will love the luxury of a never-ending supply of ice cubes, the convenience of no more ice tray filling or spilling. And wouldn't you like to forget that dreaded defrosting chore — the chopping, slopping and mopping — with a refrigerator that defrosts itself automatically? See the new frost-free refrigerator with the automatic ice maker today. You'll agree with Willie — it's a very nice idea for you and your family!

Pictured above is the hole that two juveniles dug trying to get to the casket buried 110 years ago. The grave marker has the date of December 23, 1859, on it. The digging was found in the cemetery on the corner of Mills-Macon Hwy and Welch Rd., July 7 by a local resident who later apprehended the two youths who had also toppled over most of the other headstones in the graveyard. The youths were turned over to the State Police for questioning.

Visit To Japan Ends

By MELISSA MATTIS

Last Monday, when Jan and I were in Sendai shopping, we had quite an experience. In the early afternoon, students from Tohoko University were demonstrating their protests by blocking traffic in the streets. About 75 students would be in a bunch with poles on the outside of their line so police couldn't break them up. Finally they quit and resumed their position on corners, passing out papers on why they were protesting against the administration. The same story at home, they want to run the school.

When Jan's mother and father came to pick us up, we saw hundreds and hundreds of police with helmets, clubs, etc., coming down to the main corner from every direction. We knew something was developing and Jan and I wanted to take pictures but parents insisted we leave immediately.

While trying to avoid the whole mess, Mr. Benson accidentally turned down the wrong street. Here we were — students approaching in one direction, police coming in the other. The police signaled for us to keep moving, but the car stalled.

Jan and I were so excited, right in the middle of it all and taking pictures as fast as we could. The television camera was directly across the street and we were on television later.

Eventually the police pushed students back, traffic could move and our car started. That night on the news we saw pictures of the demonstrations and things got pretty bad. We can be thankful we left when we did, but I sure hope my pictures are good.

I have a lot of information to share with my family and friends about the factories, homes and family life. I have taken tours of Mikka, which is a section of old Japan, a 200-year-old farm, doll factory, silk and cloth dye factory, a cruise around the tiny islands in Tokyo and Tokyo tower.

I have had the thrill of attending a formal tea ceremony, going to ikibana classes (flower arranging) several times, eating in a restaurant where you sit on fatami floors (bamboo) and fix your own food on a grill in front of you, going to a graduation ceremony, and making many friends with the people.

My very dear friend, Kuko-san, and her mother, Mrs. Takahashi, one day dressed Jan and I in authentic kimonos, too. These have 13 separate articles that go on. It is fascinating but not too comfortable. We wore them until evening, though, so as not to offend.

I have mixed feelings about leaving Japan. I am anxious to be home but the thought of not returning makes me a little sad. The people here are so kind and gracious that I am unable to express their actions in words. They have made me feel so much at home — almost like a part of them. I know I shall miss them. I have so many memories to bring home with me. I only wish everyone could have this opportunity.

Two new additions to Stagecoach Stop are the Tonawanda Band Organ and a stained glass canopy. The band organ is a rare find for the Fred Bahlaus and their collection as is the glass canopy brought up from an old Texas haberdashery.

Vacation Fun Begins With Stagecoach Stop

By DEBBIE PURKEY

This story almost didn't make it. Stagecoach Stop streets were bristling with unexpected guests who had heard the tale of the Cornstock Lode gold mine, known for its abundance of gold ore.

That greedy gang, headed by Ringo, rode into town ready for trouble. Calamity Jane and the marshal walked right into Ringo's ambush. For a few minutes the dust flew but fast shooting by the lawman and Jane foiled Ringo's plan.

Gunfights are just a particle of the excitement available at Stagecoach Stop. Owners, Fred and Dorothy Bahlau of Jackson, have observed every detail in creating an authentic replica of a fabled era and a story-book town.

Entry to the Stop is from the main trail, US-12, toward the sunrise (east) from the Hayes State Park entrance. Visitors will find such essentials as a dusty-dry road flanked by old-time shoppes, smithys, saloons, and souvenirs.

Newest addition to the Stop's collection of authentic antiques is a leaded glass dome, resembling a tiffany lamp shade, which came straight from an old haberdashery store in Dallas, Tex. This dome arches over the doorway to the Silver Dollar Saloon, which was transformed from last year's Movie House to a social gathering hall with refreshments and, of course, dance hall girls.

Under restoration in the same saloon is a North Tonawanda Musical Band organ, which towers over even the biggest cowpoke, standing 18 feet high at the uppermost part of the dome which houses the pipes. Unique features of this organ are the oil painting inserts and fancy woodwork and blinking lights.

Having slaked a traildrover's thirst to organ music, next door a barber shop offers a place to relax and clean up. It sure didn't look like a very safe job as a Denver dude, Black Bart, brandished his gun as a warning about any slips of the straight razor. A dusty drover can also buy a bath for two bits.

Army Pvt. 1/c Richard L. Brighton, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Brighton, 210 W. Kilbuck, was assigned as a cook with the 2nd Infantry Division's 2nd Medical Batalion in Korea, June 2, 1969.

Do You Believe It's Christmas?

Sunday, June 13, marked the Robert McClain celebration of Christmas, 1969, at their home, 401 W. Brown.

The McClains, explains their daughter, Mrs. Melvin Murphy, are moving to Florida July 19 to live and will be there over Christmas. So the occasion was advanced and served to facilitate a small humorous gift exchange and a . . . Santa Claus!

Santa, alias Robert McClain, donned a suit procured for the occasion from the city. A pick-up truck was decorated "royally" for the "honored guest" and he was escorted around town on his regal throne in the back.

Through My Window

CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Part of the trouble, I am sure, is that Gertie T. and I were very much kingfisher-oriented at the time. It was the first part of June, that glorious hooray-school-is-out time of year, and for several weeks the kingfishers had been exceptionally busy. Every day we'd see and hear them. "Them" is the proper word, too, because we had two of the blue and white fishermen working a section of our creek. Since it was obvious that the two birds were a male and a female, we all hoped and talked about soon having a whole family.

It was therefore quite natural that when Fred, Carolyn and some of their visiting friends from Deerfield brought a little baby bird for us to see, our first thoughts were kingfisherish. After all, the bird had an enormous bill, a ridiculously small tail, a light tummy and, although the predominating color on his top side was a slightly bluish gray, there was quite a bit of good blue showing on his wings and tail.

Even the way he sat huddled in Fred's hands looked to our prejudiced point of view like the beginnings of a kingfisher stance. The kids had found the bird huddled in a clump of grass beside the creek. Could this have been an adventure-seeking youngster who decided to go exploring and then could not find the way back to his hole-in-the-creek-bank home?

★

AFTER WE ALL oohed and aahed, I asked what they were going to do with the baby. Upon hearing how the bird had been chirping in the grass and learning where he had been found, I suggested that they take him back.

It is most difficult to raise a baby bird and often, especially when they are as far along as this little guy was, they will chirp out their SOS signals and the parents will come to the rescue.

Looking back at the whole situation, I believe that our kingfisher thinking, and especially our kingfisher family thinking, was strengthened by an incident at Gertie S's.

The day before she had called with the sad news that a kingfisher had committed suicide by flying into one of her big windows. This has been a bad year for that sort of thing.

Gertie S. brought the bird over for us to see and, while the lifeless bird was sad, it was also most beautiful. A kingfisher at a distance is magnificant but a kingfisher close up is — well, the smooth softness of the feathers, the intricate perfection of the markings, the size of the bird himself, and the surprising heaviness and length of his bill are just almost unbelievable.

Even through good binoculars, the faint white dots on the wings and back never showed nor did the delicate white edgings on the tips of the wing feathers. The blue stripe at the base of the bird's throat and the clear unmarked breast identified him as a male.

Our hope was that, if there were indeed little kingfishers around, they would be old enough for Mrs. Kingfisher to successfully raise all by herself.

★

YOU SEE, everything was piling up and pointing us towards baby kingfisher thinking. However, common sense soon came to the fore. I checked the bird books. My nagging doubt was confirmed.

The young bird that the children found was not a kingfisher, it was a bluejay. At such a tender age birds are out of proportion, thus his bill was oversized and his tail undersized.

But the little white dots, circles, and bars which were beginning to show on his wings and stubby little tail clearly bespoke bluejay.

The clincher was the black around his head, it crossed his throat about midway then circled up and met itself high on the back of his head. Kingfishers have white collars but they do not wear any type of black chin straps.

So it is that I hope I have learned my lesson and from now on there will be bird book checking instead of guessing — let's not have another case of mistaken identity.

Farm Safety Week Emphasis on Ponds

National Farm Safety Week is July 20 to 26 this year in the Lenawee Soil Conservation District. An often overlooked bonus from soil and water conservation practices is the contribution to safety. Conservation practices in one way or another are a credit to decreasing injury and for safer living every day.

This year the Lenawee SCD emphasizes the safety hazards involved with farm ponds. Ponds are used for recreation, fire protection, irrigation and livestock water. More than 125 ponds have been installed in the district to date. They all need safeguards against drowning.

Have life-saving equipment such as ring buoys, ropes and long poles at swimming site . . . Post warning signs around pond . . . post safety instructions for boating and swimming . . . Avoid boating or swimming alone . . . Stay out of pond during storms.

Use a boat in good shape that will float if swamped or capsized . . . Mark the safe swimming areas . . . Post danger points with warning signs . . . Build shallow walk-out ramps for the swimmers if the pond banks are sloped greater than three feet out to every one foot down.

Encourage all people, particularly children, to learn to swim if they cannot. Parental supervision is a must if small children are using the waters. The Red Cross, FFA, 4-H and other organizations help with swimming, life-saving and artificial respiration instructions.

TIPTON NOTES

The second annual Dennis reunion was held at Sand Lake July 4, at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Carl N. Dennis and daughters. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dennis of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dennis and family of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas and family of Berkley, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haskins of Troy, and Mrs. C. Ray Stoner of Detroit. The birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Haskins and Howard Dennis were celebrated.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to direct this letter to the baseball fans of Tecumseh. Although I'm not such a fan there are some matters to be aired about the little league and its coaches.

Just recently, my husband found it necessary to resign as coach of the Exchange team so that the team might be spared the asinine remarks made by some coaches and spectators. One coach said to a player, "You're a good team; too bad your coach is so stupid." The assistant later said, "If your coach wants to go behind the bushes his face won't look the same." Need more be said?

A certain few women feel that it's their given duty to set behind the umpire to intimidate him. Is Little League in Tecumseh a game for the boys or a place for adults to show how tough they are, making fools out of themselves.

What fine examples for the children. Our teenagers are already breaking loose, must we give them help with their violence.

It has been said that my husband is a bad coach. There are 15 boys and their parents who disagree. Ask, they'll tell you. I've seen my husband coach for eight years in Adrian, where each coach has carefully studied the rules so that he may not be caught napping. Never did he have any trouble. Again ask the coaches there. They would recommend him highly. The coaches in Tecumseh have not studied the rules, so that when they are caught they are very angry.

To win by following the rules: to be able to sit quietly while the other team has its turn; are goals which my husband was striving for. He loves the game and working with the boys. Who will replace him that will care about the boys as he did? It will be nearly impossible to find someone.

Tecumseh parents don't take a back seat for anyone. Let the fine education you demand continue on the sports field by having qualified coaches, not those who do it as a pastime. A good coach has left, too bad it was over such an unjust cause.

Mrs. Keith Swain,
Britton.

TO THE EDITOR:

The July 3 Herald just came this morning and I want to thank Maxine Calhoun and Mr. Whiting for the excellent write-up and pictures of the Smith-Kimball Community House.

It gave me a feeling of great satisfaction and happiness to know that The Herald took the time and had the interest to tell about the lovely features of the house.

There is one thing, I think is incorrect — The article said blue paint had been removed from the lovely bookcases in the hall.

I feel sure that those lovely bookcases nor any of the woodwork has even been painted. It was natural woodwork until the Village took it over and painted it white. That was a mistake as is now known.

It is a marvel that the lovely Tiffany glass windows, the beautiful staircases and the beveled glass in the wood cases were not damaged. The heat must have been intense.

Will you please send a copy of the paper to my sister, Mrs. A. F. Poley in Grand Rapids. I am sure she would be as pleased as I am.

Enclosed are stamps to cover cost. Thank you, your staff, the writer and the photographer for such a wonderful write-up.

Yours truly,
Ruth Kimball Rosacrans.

Touch of Past

1879

A new county directory has made its appearance.

The Clinton grist mill has been leased to a man named Baker from Dundee.

The gorgeous locust trees have been removed from the Patterson corner and a brick store is being built by Lucius Lilley and Gus Wright which will be second to none in the village.

Under the new contract, mail to Franklin and Cambridge runs but three times a week.

1889

Haying is about over and the wheat harvest has begun.

Taxes are $3.50 per thousand valuation.

1899

The farm house of Henry Pocklington of Ridgeway burned early July 13.

The Lake Shore has ordered 11 10-wheel passenger locomotives.

Chauncey Vedder has purchased William Ide's sprinkling wagon.

A cakewalk hop will be held tonight at Clinton.

The secretary of war issued orders for enlistment of 10 new regiments of infantry to serve two years.

1909

George L. Strum of Clinton has gone to Denver, Colo., to enter the garage business.

Floyd Freeman is building a house on N. Maiden Lane.

1919

Mike Melonaskos has sold his interest in Tecumseh Candy Kitchen to Pete Gagenako of Erie, Pa., and has entered partnership with his uncle, Charles Melonakos in the Monroe Candy Kitchen.

Marjorie Mensing and Clyde Miller of Clinton were married July 3 in Adrian.

Al Van Doren has opened a parking place for 200 cars on N. Pearl St.

1929

Earl Lindsley has been made a member of the school board.

1939

Perry Satterthwaite was elected president of the board of education at the annual school meeting.

A large fireball meteor passed over this area Tuesday evening.

Sunday chicken dinner is 50c

Mrs. Franc Mickel of Macon was injured when she attempted to climb a fence while picking raspberries. Her foot caught in the top wires and she hung there with her head and shoulders on the ground for five or six hours until help came.

Monthly picnics for owners and managers of local stores are being held this summer, sponsored by the Commerce Club.

1949

Although the Tecumseh Public Schools is a $300,000 a year business, only 12 electors showed sufficient interest as "stockholders" to cast their votes at the annual school election.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Fisher of Detroit are opening a Pontiac agency at the corner of Chicago Blvd. and Maumee St. Mr. Fisher has been associated with General Motors Corp. for about 25 years.

The first service to be held in a church building in Springville since 1941 was Sunday when Bishop Marshall R. Reed officiated at the dedication services of the Methodist Church. The building was recently moved to that community on M-50 from Summerfield near Deerfield.

1959

The United Savings Bank, which has occupied the lower floor of the old hotel building since the 1930's, began to demolish the upper floors in a major remodeling program.

H. W. Tuttle Co., Tecumseh's newest industry is moved into a one-story while cinder block building at 805 N. Evans, since coming from Adrian recently. When the company first located in Tecumseh in 1938, it was known at TELCO, and its main product was small water heaters. Now, H. W. Tuttle Co. produces heating units for all types of electrical appliances.

Two Attend EMU In The Fall

Linda Getz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Getz, 601 W. Logan St., and Brenda Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart H. Watson, 308 E. Kilbuck St., have been accepted for the fall semester at Eastern Michigan University.

The, [illegible] other freshman required to attend a 24-hour orientation program set up for the first time at the college this summer.

Rooms are assigned and the groups split into units of 15 for general discussion of the non academic side of campus life followed by the registation the next day.

God Is My Landlord

They printed in the college print shop, 1,500 window cards, 18,000 handbills, programs and other publicity material.

Gene Alleman, Manager of the Michigan Press Association, offered to send out mats and publicity free of charge. The newspapers and radio stations gave liberal support.

While all the voluminous details were being worked out by various groups and committees, Perry was trying to get a preliminary report from the 276 farmers who had agreed to plant 5,000 bushels of wheat. It entailed an endless amount of bookkeeping and correspondence. Almost everyone had taken out different amounts of seed. Each had planted his own number of bushels per acre. None had known how many acres would be utilized until the wheat had been planted. Some farmers had to check with their landlords or their tenants, whichever the case might be. Some shipments went by express and others by freight. Others called for their wheat and carried it away. All of these details had to be checked and rechecked to prevent error. This data had to be compiled before the reports could be made of each individual farmer's harvest, in order to figure the yield per acre, the total increase, etc. Only 142 out of the 276 replied to the first inquiry. Followups brought a few more. Personal calls had to be made on many of the remainder before the list was completed. It was a slow heartbreaking job.

The Dynamic Kernels project could not have reached its climax at any better time. It started one year before Pearl Harbor and was now ending one year after V-J Day, when large amounts of food were needed more than at any other time in our history. No one could yet estimate the stupendous amount of wheat that would be available from this project for hungry people all over the world.

About this time a call was being issued by the American Friends Service Committee, of Philadelphia, for grain to produce a Relief Cereal which was nourishing and easy to transport to the far corners of the globe where whole nations were begging for food.

The American Friends Service Committee seized upon the idea that the Dynamic Kernels project might be used as a pattern to interest whole communities all over the United States in giving wheat, or its equivalent in money, for this cereal. They sent Homer Morris, Wesley Huss and Stanley Hamilton to Tecumseh for a conference with Perry Hayden. As a result of this meeting, it was decided to ask all of the churches who were designated to receive the tithe from the 276 farmers who planted the final Dynamic Kernels Harvest, to donate their tithe to this organized famine relief effort. Other farmers were also invited to bring in wheat for a contribution to this cause. The idea was then put forth that all of the tithed and donated wheat be brought to the Fair Grounds in Adrian on August 1, and be piled into a huge mountain of wheat in front of the grandstand. This would be an inspiring spectacle which would create wide publicity and spur others to aid in the famine relief.

Permission was quickly granted by all of the churches, to release their claims on any tithes promised by the Dynamic Kernels farmers. Hundreds of other farmers volunteered to bring wheat to the big celebration and add it to "the mountain" at the Fair Grounds.

Clarence Pickett, Executive Secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, agreed to attend the harvest celebration. He also volunteered to send a fieldman to help Perry with the details in lining up additional farmers to bring in wheat. Several days later, John Nicholson arrived and stayed on the job until after the harvest.

John Nicholson and Perry spent a number of days calling on ministers in rural communities, who took them to farmers of their congregations whom they thought might be interested in making donations of wheat to the Famine Relief Fund. On one of the days, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore of Pacific College in Newburg, Oregon, accompanied Perry and John to Saline to attend a district meeting of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Perry and John worked all day on the "4th of July" while others were celebrating the holiday. They lined up 19 farmers in that one day, who agreed to give 10% of 257 acres.

"This was the best 'Fourth' in my whole life," said Perry that night, as he arrived home tired but happy.

It was soon discovered that the public had a profound respect for the American Friends Service Committee, and gave willingly. There was a feeling of confidence that the food would reach its destination through this organization. The Quakers did a great job following World War I, and any group with whom they were associated, or that received their endorsement, immediately commanded the respect of the world.

A tremendous amount of detail was now demanding the attention of Perry's promotional office in Tecumseh. Extra help was added and the office seemed like the "crossroads of the world." There were long-distance telephone conversations with every corner of the nation . . . telegrams going and coming all hours of the day and night . . . and mail piling up continuously.

It was my close association with the project which makes possible the accurate recording of the facts and spirit of this great history-making demonstration. It had been my privilege to handle the national publicity during its growing years. It was now my pleasure to join the staff full time until the final celebration.

Harold Jones from Valparaiso, Indiana, who had heard Perry speak in Washington the past winter, came to Tecumseh and volunteered to do any kind of manual labor just to get some outside exercise during the summer. . . . He started by stuffing envelopes in a hot office.

Miss Mabel Lockwood was one of the faithful workers who helped make possible the completion of the mass of details which piled up during those last exciting and hectic days.

O. E. Mott assumed the responsibility of having several pianos on the platform for the musical numbers on the program.

Rev. Clifton Robinson, who preached the original sermon that inspired the project, joined the staff during the final week and rendered a real service in straightening out the incomplete records of the 276 farmers who planted the wheat.

One evening a group of the leaders went out to the Fair Grounds with Joe Witt, President of the Fair Board, Harry Hungerford and Joe Keller to check the progress of the preliminary details. They discovered that one of the horses from the racing barns had wandered up the track and had eaten all of the wheat in a carefully guarded 4x8 foot replica of the original plot of wheat, which had been planted in front of the speakers platform for the ceremonies.

One of the workmen who was busy getting the grounds ready agreed to transplant a patch of wheat from the field, to a 4x8 foot box on the platform . . . Perry smiled and quoted Romans 8:28 — "All things work together for good of them that love God."

"Now we can have the wheat up on the platform where everyone can see it much better."

Perry spent much of his time from here on, searching for interesting and colorful events for the full day's program scheduled to start at ten in the morning and to run continuously until late that night.

CHAPTER 19

A Little World's Fair

No World's Fair could boast of any more ambitious plans than Perry Hayden had visualized for the final harvest of his Tithing wheat project.

The first part of the program, from early morning until mid-afternoon, was to be devoted to the colorful harvesting demonstrations on the field and spectacular displays in front of the grandstand. The late afternoon and entire evening were to be devoted to the religious significance of the big event, which of course was the most important aspect of the whole experiment.

One of the principal attractions at midday was to be the reenactment of the successful "Pageant of Harvesting," used in the fourth celebration — but this time on a much larger scale. The wheat field in the center of the race track was to be used for these many demonstrations, starting with a sickle and closing with a huge modern self-propelled combine.

When the crowd assembled in the grandstand in the morning they would see the field of flowing grain before them. As the day advanced they would see some of it cut with the various devices used during the development of mechanical harvesting; they would see it threshed in the progressive stages of threshing, from the flail to the modern combine; they would see the latest in harvesting — the modern self-propelled combine which furnishes its own power, cuts and threshes the wheat in one operation; then they would see some of the wheat ground in an old stone mill on the field; and finally, they would see it baked into biscuits and "fed to the multitudes" . . . an historic pageant of wheat harvesting, more complete and elaborate than anything ever seen anywhere before.

This ambitious plan required tons and tons of equipment and the organized efforts of hundreds of men . . . but it all came freely and cheerfully from an inspired community which was eager to help prove God's Word.

Arrangements were made with Dr. Eugene [illegible] Stormer [illegible] Louis, Director of the Lutheran Radio Hour, to have Dr. Walter A. Maier make the principal address for the great climactic service in the evening.

The Lutherans throughout the whole area around Adrian rallied behind Dr. Maier's meeting. They worked hard during the exciting days preceding the big event to further interest the public.

Complete radio coverage was assured. The American Broadcasting Company arranged to put the event on a coast-to-coast network of about 350 radio stations. WJR of Detroit planned for a thirty-minute state-wide broadcast. WXYZ of Detroit, WTOL of Toledo, and other stations asked to make transcriptions.

With all of the endless amount of work driving everyone at the promotional office in the Hayden home, Perry never was too busy for his morning devotions, nor to take time out occasionally during the day to ask the Lord for guidance. The entire family and staff of workers joined in — and the work was lighter afterwards.

When the last minute rush was over and the final details for the Big Day were completed, everything slipped smoothly into place and the little group at headquarters calmly awaited the early morning daybreak of August 1, 1946.

There had been a little shower during the night, but the sun arose brightly through a clean crisp air. Harold Wolf called Perry on the phone, "Look at the sky!" . . . It was another "gold star" for the weather man on the Lord's "Biblical Wheat Days" . . . A score of 17½ out of 18 scheduled events during the six years of the project.

The early arrivals in Adrian saw a gayly decorated town. The streets were bedecked with flags and bunting, Biblical Wheat posters were on every light pole, floating banners stretched across the streets, and beautifully trimmed store windows made a festive sight. M. R. Herzberg of Toledo had done a fine job in decorating the city, the Fair Grounds and the line of march to the field.

Hadden's General Tire Company had placed large signs at the six approaches to Adrian, reading, "Welcome to Dynamic Kernels Harvest."

The Consumers Power Company built a special window display which was the outstanding window attraction in town. Many other store windows featured beautiful sheaves of wheat, pictures and posters.

The town was an impressive sight for the visitors and prominent guests. The whole community had caught the spirit of the occasion and it could be felt everywhere.

The first scheduled event was a colorful parade. This was organized by Frank Kessler, who had been designated by Mayor Clarke W. Baldwin as "Officer of the Day." There was an air of expectancy in the crowds that lined the streets long before the procession started. The parade was to be formed on the west side of town and march through the city to the Fair Grounds on the east side.

Shortly after 10 a.m., Perry Hayden's familiar white car, with Officer Kessler and Dr. Denzil G. Ridout of Canada, came into view. It was followed by the Drum and Bugle Corps of the William C. Stark Post of the American Legion. Their snappy uniforms and shiny bugles made an impressive sight as they marched by in the form of an enormous cross.

A moving "reviewing stand," for the benefit of the photographers and newsreel men, was improvised by using one of the Hayden Mill's big Fruehauf Trailers with a special platform built on top.

Through the co-operation of General Thomas Colladay of the Michigan State Guard and Chief Louie Germond, of the Adrian Police Department, color was added to the parade and traffic protection for the large crowd which was pouring into town.

The Boy Scouts, Red Cross and 4-H Club boys and girls were a popular attraction in their gay uniforms.

CHECKER CHAMPS — Cindy Litterall and Ken Biscupski ponder over their next move as they take on senior citizen mentor, William Hotrum, in the "checker game of the year". Cindy and Ken are winners in competition among the five city playgrounds. Each year the small fry battle it out with the older folks to decide Tecumseh's "checker champ".

Landscape Lovers

As soon as we met, I knew Rosie was special. She has an air that says she knows who she is and where she is going. I like the way she paints, too—she's quiet and businesslike.

Everything about her appeals to me. She dances like a dream, plays tennis well enough to keep me on my toes and loves painting as I do. She's my kind of girl.

In a world that seems mad, her outlook is refreshing. Maybe it's because her church and her God are important to her! And she isn't afraid to say so.

We'll be married next month—on a shoestring, but, whatever the future holds, we know God and His Church are the source of all goodness.

Your church has the key to real happiness. It is eager to help you.

TREASURED PIECES — Mrs. Wilson Scott shows an 1880 Hobbs blown glass pitcher, one of hundreds of treasured pieces of china and cut glass at Scott's Antiques, located in the picturesque old carriage house beside the residence at 202 Division St., Clinton.

Antiques in Quaint Setting

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Scott's Antiques, 202 Division St., will now be open to the public Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays and other days by appointment.

Wilson and Mildred Scott moved to Clinton two years ago from Saline, where they operated an antique business for nearly eight years.

The Scotts specialize in hand-painted china and cut glass and their collection is largely prestige antiques. Among the treasures is Mary Gregory cranberry glass; a Handel lampshade, hand-painted under glass; unusual furniture, gold-leaf framed pictures, mirrors and rare doll collection.

Among the items recently acquired from St. Joseph Academy is the lovely hand-painted Blue Willow ware, dated 1832, which was a gift to a Dominican Mother Superior.

Much of Mrs. Scott's work is with appraisals and estate sales.

Most of the antiques are displayed upstairs in the recently-restored, original carriage house beside their home, one of Clinton's architectural landmarks.

Their 12-room rambling brick house is built on yard-wide foundations and comprises four bathrooms. Open stairways and rare old lighting fixtures are among the features of the house which was occupied by Clinton Woolen Mill owner, T. B. Neilsen and family, for many years.

A 10-year-old hand-made Turkish rug, still flawlessly bright red and gold patterned, graces the dining room floor.

Undaunted by such treasures, a sleek Siamese cat, preened herself before the gold-leaf mirror, which Mrs. Scott was busy restoring, while a vociferous green parrot chatted nearby.

The house was built by Horace Bartlett in 1890. In size and style, it replaced the original frame house, which was destroyed by fire when Mr. Bartlett attempted to clean the chimney.

While fire raged through the house, legend has it — Mr. Bartlett took off in haste — in search of his prized horse, which had dashed, panic-stricken, from the burning stable. Bartlett soon returned with his priceless horse, and began plans to replace his burned-out house.

Mr. Scott, a banker all his life, retired two years ago from the Saline Bank, and is now employed part-time at the Huron Valley National Bank, Ann Arbor.

The couple has a daughter, Mrs. Alwin Wahl, Willow Rd., and a son in Florida.

They've been pretty busy getting settled here, but now they would like to get aequainted in the community, Mrs. Scott said.

Attendance High at Bible School

CLINTON — More than 100 boys and girls have been attending the Clinton Assembly of God Vacation Bible School for the past two weeks in the Methodist education building.

Parents and friends are invited by the Rev. Ralph Tennyson to attend an open house at the Methodist education building at 6 p.m., Friday, where the classes will display their Bible School projects.

There will be a Bible School and Sunday School picnic, Saturday, at noon at the Manchester Park. Parents and children will participate in a day of fun and a potluck dinner.

The Bible School teachers and assistants are the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Tennyson, Mr. and Mrs. William Prong, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Klanke, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coury, Mr. and Mrs. John Klanke, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wood, Mrs. William Green, Mrs. Henry Jordan, Mrs. Thomas Lawson, Mrs. Lyle Anders, Mrs. Nola Patrick, Patty Bowman, Sandra Cole, Georgia Bancroft, Larry Tennyson, Terry Tennyson.

One and One Hospitalizes Two

CLINTON — H. Loren Werth, 17, 215 Sunset Dr., and William P. Driscoll, 19, Tyrell St., were treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital, Saturday, for injuries received when the motorcycles they were riding collided on US-12, one-half mile west of M-52.

Driscoll's motorcycle was giving some trouble and it pulled to the right, striking the Werth Motorcycle, traveling alongside.

Driscoll was given a summons for no operator's license.

Public Breakfast

CLINTON — The Clara Camp Royal Neighbors will sponsor a benefit breakfast at 9:30 a.m., Thursday, July 24, at the home of Mrs. Clyde Greenfield, Sr.

The group is having a series of such breakfasts to raise funds for a wheel chair to be used in the community.

The public is welcome to attend.

NEWS of CLINTON

A SECTION OF THE TECUMSEH HERALD

EDITOR — MAXINE CALHOUN

4 Townships to Sign Pact

CLINTON — Four townships, Clinton, Franklin, Rome and Cambridge, are cooperating in the establishment of a new dump facility to be located on the William Walker farm, one mile east of Sand Lake on Pawson Rd.

A fifth governing body is also considering entering the program.

Township boards met Tuesday to prepare contracts for use of the new dump site, which is located approximately five miles west of the Village of Clinton. The dump is expected to be in operation within two weeks.

Preliminary studies, stretching over several months have been conducted by the Township boards with the advice of a licensed engineer, and the dump site, located in a ravine, will be operated as a daily landfill, meeting approved standards of State and County Health Departments, according to Earl Roe, Clinton Township supervisor. It is estimated to have a capacity for 20 years' use.

All residents of Clinton Village as well as rural Township residents may use the dump for trash and garbage disposal. Clinton Township will pay approximately $3,000 based on a tonnage estimate. There will be no additional charge to residential users.

It is planned to have the dump open two or three days a week, and more as the need arises. Arrangement is being made for users to drop their trash directly into a truck at the site, so they will not have to drive into the disposal area.

William Burchfield, County Highway Engineer, who attended all of the meetings concerning the dump, indicated improvements would be made to the present gravel base on Pawson Rd., with blacktopping as a possibility in the near future.

Sweet Thieves Take Pop, Candy

CLINTON — Atlas Feed & Grain Co. owner, Charles Steffens reported a breaking and entering, which occurred prior to Friday morning, to Clinton State Police. Pop and candy valued at about $23 was reported stolen.

Peerless Gear to Expand

CLINTON — At the July meeting of the Village Council, Peerless Gear Division, Tecumseh Products, was granted a permit for a $70,000 addition to its heat treating plant. The plant has made frequent expansions since it was built here four years ago.

Leonard Gussow, electrical engineer, was present to discuss a preliminary report he had prepared on Clinton's electric plant. The report covered the plant's present generating capability, electric loading, and an estimate of future requirements.

Floyd Tate, former councilman and chairman of the electric committee was present at the invitation of the council, and took part in the discussion following Mr. Gussow's report.

The council moved to employ Mr. Gussow to make complete and detailed recommendations to expand generating and substation facilities to meet estimated future requirements.

Fred Geiger was present to voice an objection to barking dogs near his home, and he subsequently agreed to sign a complaint which will permit legal action to be taken.

The bid for garbage pickup was received from Land O Lakes and was turned over to Gary Underwood for study.

A petition signed by 10 residents of Brown St. requested council's assistance to require property owner of the food market at 162 W. Michigan Ave. to use oil or some means to prevent traffic from causing damage to surrounding properties.

The firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May was employed to complete plans for waste water treatment plant.

A letter was received from Richard Tarske, submitting his resignation from the council, effective July 1, since he would no longer be living within the village. Mr. Tarske's resignation was accepted with regret.

Pin Pickers

Clinton State Police investigated the reported theft from the Tecumseh Country Club of nine course flags and pins valued at $72. Apparently there are no suspects at this time. The report was made Thursday.

$2,000,000 Savings Growth In 6 Mos.

ANOTHER FIRST! AT FIRST FEDERAL

First Federal Savings & Loan Association continues to be FIRST among all Land of Lenawee financial institutions.

With an increase of $2,000,000 recorded during the first six months of this year, savings accounts (Passbook and Certificate Savings) have grown to more than $38,000,000.00. This far exceeds any previous growth in a similar period.

Investments in home mortgages increased by $1,180,000.00 to $36, 484,673.74 . . . continuing an expression of faith in home ownership.

Approximately 30% of the total number of savers of First Federal have taken advantage of First Federal's Certificate Savings plans which earn 5% and 5¼% interest. Passbook Savings earn 4½% interest, compounded and paid quarterly.

Yes. These are just a few of the many reasons First Federal of Lenawee is FIRST.

Pizzaria Takes On New Look

CLINTON — The Village Pizzaria, 167 W. Michigan Ave., is taking on a new look these days, with a rearranged short-order kitchen, spruced up interior, and new charcoal color painted exterior.

Opened last October, by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Phelps and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson of Saline, the business at first offered their specialty pizzas and soft drinks, limited to three nights a week.

Since being well received in the community the partners have recently expanded their menu to include chicken, shrimp and sandwich items.

They still deliver made-to-order pizzas, at a slight delivery charge within the village, and there's tables and booths to accommodate more than 25 persons on "cooks night out". It just takes 20 minutes from the time an order is received until the pizza pops out of the oven, ready to eat.

Village Pizzaria is now open every day, except Monday, from 4 p.m. until at least 11 p.m.

Golden Wedding Couple Honored At Open House

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Sam Culbert, of New Port Richey, Fla., former Clinton residents, were honored at a golden wedding open house, Saturday, at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Culbert, of Grass Lake. The couple were married Aug. 11, 1910.

Attending the reception were 100 relatives and friends from Clinton, Adrian, Brooklyn, Jackson, Tecumseh, Allen Park, Romulus and New Boston.

A buffet luncheon was served at a table over which was hung a large white bell. A beautifully-decorated anniversary cake, made by the hostess, was served.

A variety of gifts were opened by the honored couple from a gold-covered gift table.

Their address is:
Rt. 2, Box 170
New Port Richey, Fla., 33552.

While they were in Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Culbert attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Sandra Culbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Culbert, Brooklyn, to Daniel Herton, Jackson, Saturday, June 28. They have now returned to their home in Florida.

GI Receives Flag From Governor

In response to a request by Specialist Douglas Skinner to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Skinner, 611 N. Union, Doug received the following letter, accompanied by a Michigan flag.

Sp/4 Douglas E. Skinner
Btry A, 8th Bn. 6 Arty.
1st Inf. Division
APO San Francisco, Calif. 96345

Dear Specialist Skinner:

Representative Robert C. Stites has kindly requested that a Michigan flag be sent to you.

As a token of Michigan's appreciation for the patriotic job you are doing for your country, I am pleased to send you, under separate cover, a Michigan flag. I hope this beautiful flag will help provide you with some fond memories of the people back home and remind you that we stand behind you completely in this fight for freedom.

Kind personal regards.

Sincerely,
William G. Milliken
Governor.

Sgt. John C. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Snyder, 4066 Aebersold Dr., left Saturday by plane to return to Ft. Bragg, N. C., after a 10-day furlough here. The sergeant spent 18 months in Okinawa and Vietnam and expects to receive his discharge in September.

TENNIS TRIO — These three youngsters won top honors in junior and senior tennis tournaments last week. They are Mike Eggleston, Paula Holmes, and Sue Gould. Frank Rapin was also a champ in the local matches, under the direction of Jackie Rodgers.

VA Hospital Says No Sale

Ann Arbor VA Hospital is eliminating the sale of cigarettes from its Canteen Retail Store effective July 16, 1969. Smoking is not prohibited nor the sale of other tobacco products, the hospital emphasized.

The reasons for this policy change was that it was felt inconsistent for a health institution to condemn cigarette smoking as hazardous to health and at the same time sell the same product.

The Ann Arbor VA Hospital is one of four VA Hospitals in the country participating in this test effort. The move was strongly endorsed by the physician staff.

Mr. Willmott was a life member of the Masonic Lodge 474 in Detroit; a member of the Memorial Christian Church of Detroit; held an associate membership of the Naples Church of Naples, Fla.

He was a member of the Senior Citizens and the Wit and Wisdom Club.

Mr. Willmott attended the University of Kentucky and was an electrical engineer for Westinghouse in Detroit for 35 years. He retired in 1957.

Other survivors are a son, W. Tanner Willmott of Detroit; two daughters, Mrs. John (M. Claire) Meyer of Eugene, Ore., and Mrs. Charles (Barbara Ann) Coleman of Detroit; a sister Mrs. Charles Mayfield of Finchville, Ky.; 15 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A son, Stanley, preceded him in death in 1964.

Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home and burial was in the Acacia Park Cemetery, Detroit.

● JAMES G. TAYLOR

Services were held in Detroit Saturday for James G. Taylor, 71, a former Britton resident, who died July 9 at his home there.

He had been ill for several years.

Mr. Taylor was born June 12, 1898, in Britton.

He was an owner of the Detroit Elevator Co. for many years, retiring in 1960.

He was a member of the Brewster Pilgrim Congregational Church of Detroit; the Masonic F & A M lodge of Detroit and Damascus Knights Templar; and a life member of the Shrine.

He married Donna Exelby of Britton Oct. 9, 1920. She died July 19, 1937.

On April 9, 1958, he married Sallie Nelson. She preceded him in death June 26, 1962.

Also preceding his was one brother, George S. Taylor of Detroit.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Donald (Barbara) Pass; two grandchildren, James and Nancy Pass of Wheaton, Ill., two sisters, Mrs. Joseph (Mary) Kingsbury of Adrian and Mrs. Donald (Grace) Boyd, of Morenci.

Three nephews and one niece also survive.

Graveside services were also held at the Ridgeway Cemetery.

Friends of the Taylor family served a lunch following the services at Ridgeway Cemetery at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt at Britton.

● WILLIAM SELL

Services were held Monday in Adrian for William D. Sell, 94, who died Saturday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for the last four weeks.

He had made his home with his children since the death of his wife in 1965.

Mr. Sell was born July 31, 1874, in Ogden Township. He was a lifelong resident of the area, farming at his Graham Road residence for more than 60 years.

He attended the Sand Creek Community Church and was a member of the Madison Grange.

He married Florence A. Sebring, Oct. 17, 1897.

He was also preceded in death by five brothers and two sisters.

Survivors are one son, Davton Sell, Clinton; two daughters, Mrs. Florine Lutz, Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Lavern (Hazel) Philo, Evans Lake; four grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Zion Cemetery.

● MARCUS DAUGHERTY

Services were held Tuesday at the Dunn Funeral Home for Marcus Daugherty, 85, of 706 N. Union St., who died Friday evening at a hospital in Ypsilanti where he had been a patient for two years.

Mr. Daugherty was born Aug. 11, 1883, in Mulberry Grove, Ill.

On March 27, 1907, he married Mary Dart who died in 1962.

Mr. Daugherty was a retired Western Union lineman.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Marguritte Saddoris, 706 N. Union St., and one grandson, Austin Pickford of Macon; four great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandson; and a brother, E. R. Daugherty of Covington, Tenn.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in the East Rome Center.

JAY-DEE THE WOODENHEAD — Gary Collins, conducting daily Vacation Bible School at the Britton Baptist Church this week, is shown here with his companion, Jay-Dee. With the touch of magic and humor, Gary is able to relate Bible teachings to the youngsters in a manner they can understand. A program for the parents Friday at 7:30 p.m. will culminate the week's activities. The Rev. Duane McNeil invites the public to attend.

Secular Emphasis on Facts of Life

In the secular emphasis of sex and religion it is necessary to know what the church believes regarding these two important facts of life. Sunday, July 20, during the Youth Service of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, the theme of "Sex and Religion in the midst of Youth" will be discussed. Visitors are welcome to attend the church service. It starts at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Earl Mason, choir director and organist, was one of the group who attended the church music workshop at the Michigan State University, East Lansing, for three days. This workshop was sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

Eighteen Lutheran pastors, including the pastor of the Gloria Dei Church, participated in a Pastors' Institute in Chicago for 10 days. The subject was "Communication". The all-day sessions were followed by "field workshops" around the slum areas of Chicago with interviews and discussions among black and white people.

This kind of exploratory communication will be continued by more seminars for Lutheran pastors

WSCS Women Meet for Annual Picnic

BRITTON—Last Thursday the ladies of the WSCS of the Grace United Methodist Church, the Rev. and Mrs. Luren Strait, daughter, Ellen, met for a picnic at the home of Mrs. Raymond Bird.

Eighteen members and five children enjoyed the potluck dinner at noon.

A short informal business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. George Forsythe.

The members were reminded of the workshop dates and plans were made for attending.

Cards were signed to be sent to folks in the hospital.

Mrs. Forsythe read a letter that her school teacher-daughter, Kathleen, had received from a busy mother of one of her pupils.

A humorous letter but, she stated, the kind that makes it all seem worthwhile for a teacher.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially.

Guest Speaker

BRITTON — The Rev. Darwin Warner will be the guest speaker at the Congregational Christian Church for the Sunday morning worship service at 10 a.m. Sunday School meets at 11 a.m.

The Rev. Warner is the pastor of the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene.

Stork Shower Given Mrs. Cook

BRITTON — Mrs. Don Benham, Mrs. Paul Cook and Mrs. Bob Shutters were co-hostesses at a stork shower for their sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Cook.

The shower was held at the Benham home on Hoagland Hwy., Sunday afternoon.

Games were enjoyed and prizes awarded to the winners with duplicate gifts presented to the guest of honor who opened many lovely gifts from the 12 guests present.

Refreshment table was centered with a layered cake surrounded with pink and blue baby blocks.

Another feature was a sheet cake centered with a stork and pink and blue booties.

Britton Girls Score 3 Wins

BRITTON — The Britton girls softball team scored three wins during the last week.

They beat Blissfield twice, Monday night, 7-4, and Thursday, 23-14. Wednesday they beat Milan, 23-18.

Cindi Griffin was the winning pitcher Monday and Wednesday while Brenda Tubbs took the victory on Thursday.

Peggy Taylor took hitting honors Monday with two hits against Blissfield. Against Milan, Judy Prochaska and Candy Cowens had three hits.

Brenda Tubbs had four hits against Blissfield.

The girls now stand with a record of 6 wins and five losses.

Merchants' Team Splits 2 Games

BRITTON — The Britton Merchants slo-pitch softball team divided a pair of games last week, outscoring RKJ Restaurant, 16-11, and lost to Deerfield Tavern, 14-4.

In the first game the Merchants batsmen pounded out a season high 21 hits, including three each by Tom Komon, Ray Vershum, Chuck Komon and Gordie Henning.

Henning connected for his second home run of the season. Bill Prochaska, Larry Ivan and Tom Cadmus chipped in with two hits each.

Tom Short, Mike Prochaska and Ken Ivan each singled.

Ken Ivan was the winning hurler.

In the second contest a powerful Deerfield Tavern team proved to be too tough for the Merchants, winning 14-4, and allowing the Merchants only six singles.

Gordie Henning collected a pair while John Korican took the loss on the mound.

The Merchants' record now stands at 3-5 for fifth place in the Deerfield league.

Recovering From Broken Neck

BRITTON — Jerry Hannah is a patient in Foote Hospital, Jackson, room 101. He is in traction with a broken neck resulting from a fall down the stairs at his home July 4.

Mrs. Beulah Hannah says her son will be hospitalized several weeks.

Three Boy Scouts Head for Jamboree

BRITTON — Greg Dunbar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dunbar, 434 N. Main, and James and Richard Rayburn, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rayburn, 174 College, were among 38 boys from the Monroe and Lenawee area to leave Saturday for the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Idaho. The leaders for the Jamboree Troop No. 7 are Richard James, Adrian; Henry Berglund, Hudson; and Clyde Evans of Monroe.

The boys left from the Adrian bus station and arrived in Chicago Saturday evening where they boarded the train "The Great Northern", to St. Paul, Minn., where they will attend church services tomorrow on Sunday.

From there they rode the train to East Glacier Park, Mont., and spent a full day of swimming, golf, tennis, horse back riding, touring Logan Pass and resting. Then back on the train and on to Spokane, Wash., where they will get on buses and go to Couer D' Allene and the Jamboree site, Farragut State Park, Ida. They will be there July 16 through 22. The week will be filled with archery, hiking, fishing, swimming, a challenge on the high point trail, the wide game, this is called the "ice-breaker" as this helps everybody get acquainted. There is the skill-o-rama where a variety of demonstrations take place.

After a busy week the boys will head back to Michigan on the Great Northern. They will leave at Sandpoint, Ida., through Kootenai Canyons, then on to Whitefish, Mont., and a ski-lift ride, then on to Williston, N. D., and then Chicago.

The boys will be among 35,000 Scouts to attend the National Jamboree. Greg is a patrol leaded and Richard is the Senior Patrol Leader for the troop.

Student Farmer

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ivan spent last Thursday and Friday at Shanty Creek Lodge south of Petoskey, attending a Kellogg Farmer Summer conference.

Thirty-two farmers and their wives from the entire state attended.

Nine geologists and a sociologist from Michigan State University presented timely topics for discussion to the group.

Mr. Ivan is ending the first of a three-year adult education program for young farmers sponsored by the Kellogg Foundation.

Sunday Subject For Thought

"Christian — What Difference Does It Make?" will be the subject for thought Sunday morning at the United Methodist Church when Harry Stanifer presents the message in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Donald Porteous.

Mr. Stanifer came to Tecumseh in 1946 following a three-year hitch in the Marines. He works in the Engineering Department at the Tecumseh Products Co.

For eight years Mr. Stanifer has served as church school superintendent and has attended various lay speaking courses. He is, also, a member of the Detroit District Board of Education of the United Methodist Church.

Others assisting in the service are Gerald Johnstone, Donald Painter, Marion Ford and Wilfred Waldron.

The Rev. Porteous will return to the pulpit July 27.

Have Party, Will Travel

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLean, who will move to Florida soon, were feted at a block party recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Creger, on Brown St.

Thirty-two attended the cookout and potluck and presented their neighbors with a gift.

—o—

James Heimerdinger was admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital, Thursday, with a severe back ailment. He is reported improving.

Pvt. E-2 Lendall K. Milheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lendall B. Milheim, 7488 Billmeyer Hwy., has just completed Airborne Training at Ft. Benning, Ga. His fiancee, Pat Purkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Purkey, 209 N. Pearl St., attended the ceremonies and pinned on his airborne wings. Pvt. Milheim completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and advanced artillery training at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is awaiting further orders.

Break Ground Saturday

On Saturday, July 19, at 10:30 a.m., ground will be broken for construction of the new Lenawee Area Vocational Technical Education Center. The site of the ceremony will be on the 40-acre site located on M-52, across from the Girls Training School.

The program will begin with presentation of the colors by the Madison Boy Scout Troop No. 84, under the direction of Norman Dazey, Scoutmaster. The invocation will be by Mrs. James Henagan with the welcoming comments by Milton C. Porter, Lenawee Intermediate School Superintendent; William Ross, Vocational Technical Director; and James Brown, Vocational Technical Principal.

Featured at the ceremony will be a keynote speech by Philip Bailey, Consultant for Program Development of the Vocational Division of the Department of the Michigan Department of Education.

Following this, the groundbreaking will be made jointly by Milton C. Porter, Adrian School Superintendent Carle Heikkinen, and Vocational Education student from Morenci, Curtis Rorick. The program will be concluded with a benediction by the Rev. B. O. Bashore of Tecumseh.

Special guests will include Douglas Ferman of Hudson, representing the Lenawee Superintendents Association; Nathan Knowles, President of the Lenawee County Board of Education; Merrill E. Hull, Lenawee County Board of Supervisors; John Comstock, County Extension Agent who served as chairman of the Citizens Committee which led the election campaign making the facility possible.

Also attending are Dwight Helms of Tecumseh and Richard Williams of Sand Creek, Chairmen of the Administrative Advisory Committee. Attending the ceremony will be Representatives Gordon Lewis and Karl Ekstrand representing the Architectural firm of Samborn, Steketee, Otis and Evans of Toledo; and Bud Ellsworth, representing the contracting firm of MacKinnon-Parker, Inc., of Adrian.

Legislative representation will be provided by State Representative Robert Stites and U. S. Congressman Marvin C. Esch.

The public is invited to attend the ground-breaking.

Businessmen's Spirit of '69

The July 4 storm emphasized the spirit of cooperation of business people in the Irish Hills area when two big ¼-inch plate glass windows and a door crashed in at the Sports Park.

None of the 20 people at the bar immediately behind the windows were injured and six children were rushed to the basement by Manager Sue Thurber, who received minor cuts

Sherry Henrich, a waitress, was blown some 20 feet, landing on her back.

Ron, owner of Kellys on the Hill, across from the Towers, left his place, filled with customers, and came to help clean up the glass as Fred Morse of the Lumber Co., nailed up plywood to keep the wind and rain out.

With the help of customers of both places, the Sports Park was back in business in an hour and one-half, Mrs. Thurber said.

She and the four Thurber children have moved to The Hills from Sylvania, O., and are waiting to occupy a house on the premises as soon as the Gene Sells move into their new home on Springville Hwy.

Dreams came true a little too fast a week ago Friday night. She had just mentioned, "We need to change the atmosphere around here, darken the bar."

The storm darkened it more than she had planned and sooner.

In grateful appreciation to the neighbors, Mrs. Thurber acted as bartender and sent dishwashers over the way to help at Kellys on the Hill.

The loss, covered by insurance, has not been estimated as yet but it included reserve liquor stock purchased for the holiday.

2 New Shows At Drive-In

A new comedy, "Charlie Churchman and the Teenage Masquerade", plus the Ken Anderson musical, "I Hear A New Song", will be shown this weekend at the Devils Lake Drive-In.

The Saturday night showings begin at dark or at 8:30 p.m., whichever is later and the Sunday night programs at 9:15.

On July 5 electrical storms caused extensive damage to the electronic equipment at the Drive-In and made it inoperable that day. However, an excellent corps of volunteers worked vigorously and a program was presented on July 6.

The attendance this year is the highest ever.

The Drive-In is located on the south end of Devil's Lake. There is no admission charge.

Driver Injured in Race

By NANCY MARTIN

The "Pursuit" night at Manchester Speedway was full of excitement Friday from start to finish. Don Taylor, from Brooklyn, in his pink 25, was the fastest qualifier over 51 cars timed in. He also came from last place to first to win the first heat. Bill Younkin followed closely for second, with Duane Valentine third, Louie J. Stemen, fourth.

In the first pursuit (2nd heat) the caution flag was thrown as Cal Bird ran completely up and over Dick Thompsons car. Bird's car was out for the night. Four cars finished the race with Dick Slade from Hillsdale first, over Don Macey, Junior Gary and Thompson.

The second pursuit saw Dick Theide from Jackson pass everyone in eight laps for the win. Butch Moull was second, Jerry Evilsizer, third and Lincoln Hall, fourth. In the third pursuit, the checkered flag went to Gary Rhoades, from North Adams, followed by Leonard Hale, Jack Wirth and John Schaffer.

Taylor again passed everyone in the regular pursuit, taking only eight laps to complete. Dick Crup was second with Don Earles and Howard Woodman, third and fourth.

Starter Jim Birchfield had a slight problem with the Semi, with two restarts and several caution laps for spins. Through all the melee, Larry Leidel from Adrian, held on for the win over Moull, Curtis Kelly and Allen Teubert.

The feature followed suit for the evening as on the eighth lap, Stemen had taken the lead when his car was engulfed in flames, he steered it off the track and jumped out.

He was taken to Herrick Hospital in Tecumseh for burns.

Billy Younkin, from Jackson, did a good job of driving to take the win, his first feature he Valentine finished second, f lowed by Taylor, Dennie Carr and Crup.

The Destruction Derby was slam bang affair with Ben Po ell from Dexter taking home huge trophy.

The Mid-season Championsh trophy races will be held Frid with time trials at 7 and racin at 8:30 p.m.

BASEMENT TO CEILING — Fire burned a hole from basement to attic in the old Brown house, now occupied by the Ed Parkers, at Holloway, early Sunday morning. City firemen joined Raisin colleagues in battling the blaze, which badly damaged the brick structure.

City Firemen Make First Township Run

In less than a week the new fire agreement between Tecumseh and Raisin Township fire departments has been put into action. A call came to the city department at 4:05 a.m. Sunday to a fire on S. Ridge Hwy., one-half mile from Holloway. The department responded and was on the scene until after 5:30 a.m.

The home belonging to Mrs. Clyde Brown was extensively damaged throughout and it is not known at this time whether the house, over 100 years old, will be repaired.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parker are the present residents of the dwelling and were on vacation in Tennessee at the time of the blaze.

According to Tecumseh Fire Chief, Wallace MacGeorge, the fire started in the basement and continued through the ground floor and upstairs into the attic.

Furnishings in the house were also widely damaged by fire, water and smoke. No figure has been placed on these damages as yet.

Raisin Township Fire Department sent out the call for assistance from the local department.

Doctors Seeking 42-Foot Strip Near Clinic

Although no action was taken, Dr. Carlton Cook, city councilman, asked his colleagues about purchasing a 42-foot strip of property behind a medical clinic, just east of the hospital.

He said the area was desired for parking after expansion of the clinic.

Dr. Cook said a new, separate building was planned with offices for three, and possibly a fourth, doctors.

Cal Zorn, city manager, pointed out that two storm sewers were in the area and one passes through the property being sought. This sewer, which catches storm water just south of the downtown area, is 12 inches in diameter and passes beneath the Herrick Nursing Home.

Two Appointed for Convention

Mayor Harold Easton was appointed delegate and Cal Zorn, city manager, was selected as alternate for Tecumseh representation at the annual Michigan Municipal League convention in September.

The convention will be held in Grand Rapids.

Council OKs Fire Contract

A fire agreement, reached the previous week by Raisin Township and Tecumseh, was officially approved by Council Monday evening.

Under the gentlemen's agreement and a mutual aid pact, Tecumseh responded early Sunday morning to a fire in Holloway after being summoned by the Raisin Fire Department.

The complete agreement is:

1. That the City hereby agrees to furnish the Township of Raisin fire protection for the area hereinafter specified and under the terms and conditions set forth.

a. The City fire department will respond to calls for fire assistance in the area of Raisin Township which is bounded by M-52 on the West, by Ives Road on the South, and by Rogers Highway on the East to Centennial Road, property on both sides of Ives Road and Rogers Highway shall be considered to be within the area above specified. Any calls for such fire assistance shall be paid for by said Township within thirty (30) days after the date of the call, at the rate of $300.00 per call. The City will notify the Township immediately after each such fire call is made.

b. The City department may render assistance anywhere within boundaries of the Township upon the request of the Raisin Township fire department. The Township may likewise render assistance anywhere within the City of Tecumseh upon request of the City's fire department and no charges shall be assessed by either Municipality against the other except for the above specified charge to be made by this City for service rendered within the above specified area.

2. This Agreement may be cancelled by either Municipality upon the giving of thirty (30) days' written notice to the other municipality.

Erco Installing Garage Concrete

Installation of a concrete floor in the city's new garage was authorized by Council Monday evening with the cost amounting to over $5,000.

Erco Company of Tecumseh was given the contract for installing and finishing the concrete with a bid of $2,409.

The city is purchasing the concrete for about $3,000.

Ed Reaume of Tecumseh is president of Erco.

Wes Haeussler also bid on the job and was low bidder at $2,020, but he requested that the city provide and handle the forms.

Bagby To Appear in Circuit Court

Joseph Bagby, charged with negligent homicide in the death of Samuel Brooks on May 24, had a preliminary hearing Tuesday and was bound over to Circuit Court.

He's scheduled to appear before Judge Rex Martin Friday and is currently out of jail on $500 bond.

Young Brooks, a motorcycle passenger of Bagby's, was killed on N. Evans at Burt St.

City Work To Widen Burt St.

A new culvert has been installed on Burt St., and the city will soon begin construction of curb and gutter, which will actually widen the street there for the traffic by about 14 feet.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the old seal coat street was approximately 22 feet wide, but when curb and gutter is installed on the right-of-way, the street will measure about 36 feet across.

A new culvert already has been completed for the widening and new storm sewer mains also have been installed.

After the curb and gutter work, the city will grade and install base and the first coat of bituminus concrete. The second or finish coat will not be laid until next year.

Numbering Project Is Under Way

Tecumseh Jaycees, who originally started a project of painting house numbers on curbs in front of homes last year, and were then delayed, kicked-off the program again here Tuesday evening on Center Dr., in Herrick Park.

According to Bill McCrumb, publicity chairman for the Jaycees, Herrick Park is scheduled for completion by the end of next week and the entire community by the first of October.

Approximately 44 Jaycees are involved in the project which calls for white numbers on a black background. Residents missed, due to vacations, may contact any Jaycee for the service.

The local organization is asking each resident for a $2 donation for the numbering, but will accept any amount. All proceeds are used in Jaycee civic projects.

John Day is general chairman and in charge of the work.

New Lights Approved for Streets

Installation of mercury vapor street lights for Russell Rd., and section of N. Union St., and Park and Maple Sts., were authorized by Council Monday night.

Consumers Power will install the lights at a cost to the city of over $900 per year. Lights on Russell will run an estimated $601 per year; four lights on N. Union will cost about $209 a year; and one light on Maple and another on Park will run about $163 per year.

According to Cal Zorn, city manager, installation of underground wiring and new lights on Red Mill Dr., would cost about $1,630 for the installation and about $1,439 per year.

No action was taken for improvements on Red Mill Dr., but Mr. Zorn says he plans to continue investigating the possibility of new lights there. Practically all residents there have underground wiring to their homes.

OK Walk License For Haeussler

Council approved a sidewalk contractor's license for Wes Haeussler, local contractor, Monday evening.

He is currently installing curb and gutter on several streets in Tecumseh.

RAIN! WHAT ELSE? — Rain, as usual, somewhat dampened Sidewalk Sale day here Friday but these teenagers seem indifferent to the elements as they take refuge at the United Savings Bank or play at the curb. Merchants report different versions as to the promotion. Some say it was excellent, some report it the worst, and some would like to see it run for two days instead of just one.

Box Company's Sixth!

Another expansion — the sixth plant in six years — has been announced for Tecumseh Corrugated Box by James Robideau, company president.

The company has leased a six-acre site at the Willis Day Industrial Park in Toledo, O., and will construct a 36,000 square foot plant for the manufacture of corrugated materials. Construction began last week.

Mr. Robideau says the new facility marks the sixth plant for the firm in the last six years. Corporate headquarters of Tecumseh Corrugated Box will remain here in Tecumseh.

Toledo Edison Company's area industrial development group, Mr. Robideau said, rendered many services in conjunction with the site selection.

"A major determining factor was the availability of transportation for receiving and shipping plus location in relation to the interstate road system. We plan to receive two to three rail car shipments per day while outgoing production will total about 12 truckloads per day. The Toledo facility also is practically in a hub location to our other plants in Cleveland, Brecksville, Van Wert, Adrian and Tecumseh."

The industrial park is located just south of Toledo, near the Ohio Turnpike and I-75. It was formerly the old Rossford Ordnance Depot. At the present, there are approximately 20 manufacturing firms there plus warehousing facilities for several giant corporations.

Present employment of Tecumseh Box is 300. The new facility is expected to require 25 employees to start. Mr. Robideau pointed out that most of this personnel will be hired from the area surrounding Willis Day Industrial Park and will be trained by Tecumseh supervisors.

In addition to the new Willis Day operation the fabrication of the corrugated stock into boxes is performed at the company's main plant in Tecumseh, Van Wert and Cleveland plants.

At Brecksville, the firm has a paper mill where Sudo-Chem corrugating medium is produced. The Adrian facility is a plastics manufacturing operation.

Principal officers of Tecumseh in addition to Mr. Robideau are: Fred Attwood, board chairman; Gerald Schuster, senior vice-president and Clarence Hanthorn, vice-president: all located at corporate headquarters in Tecumseh.

Directing the Van Wert Division is Alfons Krol, vice-president; heading the Cleveland Division is Thomas Carey, vice-president while James Ladley, vice-president, oversees Brecksville manufacturing facilities. Merrill Becht is manager of the Adrian plant.

James Kirby is controller of the firm with offices in Tecumseh.

Recently, Tecumseh announced an expansion of its Van Wert plant which will double capacity to 42,000 square feet.

A WHOPPER — Eric Baldwin had his hands full and quite a bit of fun when he wrestled this 28-inch-long carp out of River raisin near his home last week. It's doubtful that the Baldwins had a fish fry, but the sporty catch was worthwhile as young Steve Coscarelli here will attest.

Guards Save Boy at Park

By DEBBIE PURKEY

Dick Royal, Tecumseh city policeman, answered a close call at Tecumseh Park, public swimming mecca, the afternoon of July 16 as John Warner, age 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warner, 211 Burt St., was found bordering unconsciousness on the beach.

Karen Brown, lifeguard, immediately attempted to resuscitate him. Richard Hale was also guarding at the time and Gus Bishop, substituting for Ted Todd, was summoned for help and assisted in restoring John's breathing.

Lifeguard Linda Oberlin, perched on the raft had beached the youngster. There are queries as to whether he dove back in and hit his head or rough-housing got too rough.

The rescue wagon arrived on the scene and the boy was admitted immediately to Herrick Memorial Hospital where he remained until Friday.

This is just one "too-close-for-comfort" example of what could happen, lifeguards report. It has also been stated that there are definitely too many non-swimmers down there without adult supervision.

That same week, three tots were pulled out of the shoreline area in one-half hour by Linda Oberlin.

Lifeguard sentiments, that the only way to insure children a good time in a nice cool lake or swimming hole is to keep them alive, are applicable in this case.

Another Dump Is Considered

Possibility of Tecumseh changing landfills was pointed out Monday night when City Manager Cal Zorn told Council that he had been approached about the possibility of the city using a new dump being developed on Pawson Rd., near Sand and Evans Lakes.

Four townships — Clinton, Cambridge, Franklin and Rome — already are committed to the new landfill and have been planning it for the past six months.

The landfill area currently being checked — it has already been approved by the health departments — is just east of Sand Lake and borders on the south edge of Evans Lake.

The site is owned by Bill Walker and consists of several small gravel holes or pits. It is said to be big enough to last for several years.

Bill Burchfield, county road engineer, has met repeatedly with township officials and reportedly has inferred that some paving of roads in the area could be done.

The proposed site is approxi-

"I just moved and I can't find my typewriter," explained Mrs. Paul Brantingham, as she handed in hand-written news of the cantata she'll direct, Sunday evening, in the new Friends Church. That's not all — it seems they couldn't get the piano bench out of the garage — it's too full, too, so when she decided to practice the piano for last Sunday's service, she went clear back to the old church to do so — completely forgetting that the PIANO was already in the living room at their new parsonage, beside the new church. Great fun — moving!

"Time On My Hands," is the way the lyrics read and this could well have been written for the Lonal Bishop family Friday. He, his wife, Betty, and a daughter, Susan, each bought a $1 grab bag at Ken-Ray's on the Sidewalk Sale. You guessed it, each received a watch valued from $10 to $50.

Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans, nee Ruth Kimball, wrote from Santa Monica, Calif., to express her pleasure with the feature story of the Smith-Kimball Community Center, at Clinton. She mentioned that she was sure the hall fireplace had never been painted. However, Mrs. Harry Werth assures us there were several layers already on it when she and her husband moved there four years ago, and it took many hours of Harry's work to get off as much as he had before they resigned as custodians. Mrs. Werth suggested Clinton residents might appreciate a complete history of the house, if the Kimball family could provide it — to be placed on view at the center.

mately the same distance from Tecumseh as is the Lenawee Disposal landfill on Ogden Hwy., just east of Adrian. However, officials here believe that the Walker landfill would be much easier for local residents to reach since most of the travel would be over M-50.

Mr. Zorn was asked to check further with township officials and Mr. Walker as to the costs involved. At the present, the city pays Lenawee Disposal about $9,000 a year for residents and businesses to use the dump.

It was apparent Monday evening that costs would be a major factor if the city were to switch landfills. Tecumseh's contract with Lenawee Disposal runs out on Oct. 1.

Mayor Harold Easton and Mr. Zorn attended a meeting about the Walker landfill in Tipton last week.

Y'all Come Campers Told

Fred Bahlau and Allen Hunt of the Irish Hills Tourist Association and Arthur Clift and Robert Lorentz of the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce flew to the 1969 convention of the National Campers and Hikers Association, at Orangeburg, N. C., last week, where their invitation was accepted to hold the 1970 convention in the Irish Hills.

The event in Orangeburg was attended by more than 25,000 campers, climaxed by a parade with each chapter entering a float. There were appearances by Secretary of the Interior, Walter J. Hickel, several governors and comedian Red Skelton.

Friends Church Adult Choir Presents Cantata

The Sound of Singing, a cantata by John W. Peterson, will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m., by the Tecumseh Friends adult choir.

The service will be held at the new church at 9484 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., and accompaniment will be on the new three-manual Allen organ, played by Mrs. Loren Avery.

Solos will be sung by Mrs. Ashley Chase, Mrs. Robert Baker, and Larry Ehinger.

John Mertz will accompany parts of the cantata on the timpani. Mrs. Amos Wilson will accompany on the piano.

The director is Mrs. Paul Brantingham, who extends an invitation to the public to attend.

YOU TOLD US

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"The rod and reproof give wisdom: but a child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame. Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul." Proverbs 29: 12. 17.

It seems to us that Solomon's wisdom was never more needed than today when youngsters yearn for more parental control. This was pinpointed to us again July 13 when the delight of our house came to the table shaking his head in disbelief at the events he had encountered much earlier in the morning.

Our bachelor told of offering to help two boys and a girl, about 16, get their car out of the lake. Fully dressed when he came home for a boat and to change his own clothing, he was surprised when he returned to the fishing site to find the girl nude except for a blanket and the boys in various states of undress.

After considerable effort with jack and blocking, he had the big Oldsmobile almost out of the water even though he was working with one arm in a cast. There is where he left it — "With two good arms or a little help I would have had it out in a few minutes," he sputtered. Cars are his favorite things and leaving one stuck didn't please him, neither did the rest of the situation.

We wonder where the "moms and dads" of those kids were? It can happen here and does. Those were local young people.

Abi-Evans DAR Meeting Held

Mrs. Kenneth Herrick, speaking at the Abi-Evans DAR meeting, gave a detailed explanation of the rehabilitation services rendered by local American Legion Auxiliary members at the Veterans Hospital once a month.

Mrs. Herrick was presented by Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, program chairman.

Fifteen members attended the meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rice.

Mrs. Herrick told of various uses of the poppy fund money in rehabilitation. She also spoke of the $200 purchase of safety glasses for the local high school shop classes.

● MRS. SALLIE A. GARLAND

Services were held at the Niblack Home For Funerals for Mrs. Sallie A. Garland, 70, who passed away Monday at 11 a.m. at her residence, 1284 Shepherd Rd. following a lengthy illness.

She was born August 24, 1898, the daughter of Stephen and Marticia Day Street, in Mitchell County, N. C., and had been a Michigan resident for the past 18 years.

Her marriage to Lace Garland was September 8, 1919, in Unicoi, Tenn. He survives.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Virgil (Gladys) Bennett, of Johnson City, Tenn.; stepson, William M. Garland of 4506 Wisner Hwy., Adrian; and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Birdie MacMillan of Chicago. Also surviving are 24 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren, and two brothers, Glen Street, Unicoi, Tenn., and Teaman Street, of Johnson City, Tenn.

She was preceded in death by three brothers and one sister.

The Rev. W. Kim Hawley officiated and burial was in the Oak Grove Cemetery in Morenci.

● MRS. FLOSSIE ELLIS

Services were held Tuesday at the Dunn Funeral Home for Mrs. Flossie Ellis, 77, of 211 W. Kilbuck St., who died at 1:35 a.m., July 19 at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

She was born Feb. 2, 1891, in Cambridge Township and married Thomas Ellis July 6, 1908, who survives.

Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Claude (Beatress) Gee of Sun Valley, Calif.; five grandchildren. She was preceded in death by a son, two sisters and a brother.

She lived in the area all her life.

The Rev. Russell Cooper officiated. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● MRS. ROBERT RICHARDSON

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Jacksonville Beach Lutheran Church, Jacksonville, Fla., for Mrs. Robert Richardson, 40, formerly of Clinton. Mrs. Richardson died early July 16 in a Jacksonville Hospital, from injuries received in a gun mishap at her home the previous evening. Burial was in Florida.

Mrs. Richardson, nee Virginia Tirb, was born Nov. 2, 1928, in Clinton, the daughter of the late Fred and Amanda Tirb. She had been in Clinton last month to attend the funeral services for her father.

She was a graduate of Clinton High School in 1946 and she married Mr. Richardson in 1949 in Clinton. He is in the Navy and was not at home at the time. The Richardsons moved to Florida soon after their marriage.

Other survivors include two sons, Robert and Thomas; three daughters, Cynthia Anne, Gale Susan and Connie Lou, all at home; a brother, Leroy, 12155 Hogan Rd., Clinton; two sisters, Mrs. George (Jeanette) Wismer, 12535 Nebo Rd., Clinton; and Mrs. Harry (Edna) Withrow, 9424 Tipton Hwy.

Besides her father, she was preceded in death by a brother, Lawrence Tirb.

● LYLE GIBSON

Services were held Monday at Dunn Funeral Home for Lyle Anthony Gibson, 76, of Onsted, who died July 18 at Bixby Hospital, Adrian. He had been ill for some time.

He was born Sept. 18, 1893, in Clinton and was married to Clara Sträub, Sept. 13, 1919, in Windsor, Ontario, who survives. Mr. Gibson was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Clinton and a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Other survivors are a son, Wirt of Jackson; a daughter, Mrs. Harvey (Virginia) Roesch of Onsted; a brother, Jay Gibson of Royal Oak; two sisters, Mrs. Blance Edwards and Mrs. Winifred Lemmlie, both of Cocoa Beach, Fla., and three grandchildren.

The Rev. Jack Warner of the Episcopal Church, Adrian, officiated. Burial was in Maple Shade Cemetery, Onsted.

●MRS. CECIL DOWNARD

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Braun Funeral Home, Adrian, for Mrs. Cecil Downard, 54, of Grayling, who died July 19 at Mercy Hospital, Grayling, where she had been a patient since June 2.

She was born Dec. 10, 1914, in Ogden Center and was married to Cecil Downard, Feb. 3, 1954, who survives.

Among the survivors are stepson, George Downard, 61919 Green Hwy., and a sister, Mrs. George (Donzella) Allen, 10503 Wisner Hwy., Tipton.

The Rev. G. Wilmer Miller officiated and burial was in North Dover Cemetery.

● MRS. JOSEPH LASLO

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the St. Alphonsus Catholic Church, Deerfield, for Mrs. Joseph Laslo, 79, who died at 6:30 p.m., July 16, at the hospital in Sandusky. She had been in failing health for some time and had been living with an older daughter, Mrs. Ken McNabb, in Carsonville. She had previously resided in Tecumseh for 14 years.

Anna Laslo was born April 7, 1890, in Hungary. She was a member of St. Alphonsus Catholic Church in Deerfield.

Surviving are three sons, Paul, Britton; Lewis, Deerfield and Joseph, 607 Russell Rd.; 9 daughters, 63 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Joseph, and two sons, George and Steve.

Rosary services were held Thursday at the Hacker Funeral Parlors, Sandusky, and Friday, at McNeill & Spencer Funeral Home, Deerfield.

The Rev. Fr. Edward O'Grady officiated. Interment was in the St. Alphonsus Catholic Church Cemetery.

● CLAUDE LeVECK

Funeral services and burial were Friday in Chula Vista, Calif., for Claude L. LeVeck, 68, who died July 16, in Hospital Del Prado, Tijuana, Mex. Mr. LeVeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rowett, Adrian, was a former Lenawee resident and a frequent visitor to this area.

Mr. LeVeck was born Sept. 27, 1900, in Deshler, O.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by his wife, Zeta; one daughter; one son; one sister; five brothers, including Howard, of 306 S. Evans, and six grandchildren.

● MRS. SAMUEL CLOUGH

● ROBERT N. GAMBLE

Services were held Thursday at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Kalamazoo, for Robert Neuman Gamble, of that city, who died there July 21 in Bronson Hospital, after an illness of three weeks.

Mr. Gamble was a math teacher in Tecumseh High Schools for about five years beginning in 1927.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, and two daughters, Carol and Lynn.

● MRS. LUNA FOWLER

Funeral services were Thursday at the Brubach Funeral Home, Summerfield, O., for Mrs. Luna Fowler, 85, who died at her home, at Kelly Lake, Tuesday morning.

Among the survivors are her son, Hugh Fowler, Kelly Lake, formerly of Tecumseh.

Police Stop

Norma R. Comstock, 37, 11130 Billmyer Hwy., Clinton, was given a summons for failure to stop, when her automobile struck the rear of a vehicle driven by John R. McVay, II, 17, 306 N. Van Buren, at 11:35 a.m., Saturday.

The mishap occurred on Tecumseh-Macon Rd. at Grange Hall Hwy., as the McVay vehicle was slowing for a right turn.

ACCIDENTS

Only two accidents were investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week, and neither was major. Both occurred Saturday.

Richard T. Limes, 16, of 729 N. Union St., told police that another motorist forced him off E. Chicago Blvd., where he struck a street sign, damaging the front and under carriage of his auto.

Neil R. Butler, of Horton, reported to police that his car was struck in the rear on E. Chicago Blvd., when he stopped suddenly to let another car pull away from the curb. Other driver was Bob Layman of Toledo, O.

Although just two mishaps were checked last week, the previous week police investigated six accidents. A resume is:

July 9 — Kenneth Basinger, 53, Adrian, ran into the rear of an auto driven by Roy C. Hicks, 48, of 708 Brooks St.

July 10 — J. D. Peeks, 419 S. Evans, backed into a car operated by Harry Weakly, of 206 S. Oneida. Peeks was cited for improper backing.

July 11 — Beaumont S. Diver, 56, Deerfield, was cited for an unsafe start after an accident with Lucille Herrel, 33, of 215 S. Maumee, on N. Ottawa St.

July 12 — John W. Underwood, 38, of 903 Red Mill Dr., was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into the rear of a car driven by Lowell I. Ankney, 43, of Sylvania. Mary Beth Underwood, 9, suffered bumps and bruises and was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

July 13 — John S. Boyce, 21, of 8607 Billmyer Rd., was charged with failure to yield the right of way after colliding with Stephen W. Moore, 21, of 5701 Macon Rd., on S. Occidental Rd.

July 15 — Price T. Poore, 51, Adrian, was charged with failure to yield after a mishap with Arlene M. Wright, 38, Occidental Rd., on S. Maumee in front of the Faraday plant.

Mel Partridge was admitted to St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, July 14 for tests and x-rays. He is not in as much pain as he was but spent his 87th birthday anniversary Friday there. (Bet he would enjoy a shower of birthday cards from his friends.) His room number is 301.

'Inherit the Wind' is Great

By BILL SANFORD

After a lackluster opening night the Croswell Summer Theatre presented more lively productions of "Inherit the Wind" by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee. Ace and make-up were the vital keys to credibility and both were lacking.

"Inherit the Wind" is based on the Scopes money trial in Dayton, Tenn., in July of 1925. While the playwrights admit having used the trial as a thesis to begin the play, the dialog between the two antagonists is strictly the playwrights'.

At the Scopes trial, William Jennings Bryan, thrice candidate for the presidency and social reformer of his day, went to Tennessee to prosecute Scopes for teaching evolution in the Dayton schools.

The Baltimore Sun offered the services of Clarence Darrow, Chicago lawyer, and sent H. L. Mencken, reporter-critic unequaled, to defend Scopes.

It was the only confrontation between the two most famous men of their day.

In the play Bryan becomes Mathew Harrison Brady, (Joseph Balsanek) and Darrow, Henry Drummond (Jeffrey Wagner). Merken is portrayed by E. K. Hornbeck (Guy Miller) and Scopes, Bertram Cates (Dean Kyburz).

With the stage set for a brilliant duel of minds the play begins.

The most outstanding portrayals in the production were the more minor roles of Meeker, played by Allan Rust, Kyburz as Cates and Lynn Miller as Rachel Brown, girl friend of Cates, Paul Schierhorn as Rev. Brown, was also a standout.

Miller lacked the mocking, acid cynicism of Mencken or Hornbeck, during the trial he was obscured from sight by standing upstage completely out of it. He had some moments of promise in the play but lacked the vitality.

Balsanek came across well as Brady in many parts but his make-up was a constant reminder that he was still in his 20's and not the disillusioned, rejected Brady.

Wagner also delivered some of the lines of Drummond with authority but the fire and brimstone of Drummond was lost often through the simple positioning of his head. Make-up here was also distorted. Age, too, was inevable.

Being an old fan of footlights, it still appears that the antiquated form of light should be used. Too often it appears from the audience that actors do not have eyes only black holes. It is disconcerting when you are trying to decipher what inside character is being portrayed by an actor. Eyes are tools as well as the voice of the body.

With more polish and better make-up Balsanek and Wagner could have provided exceptional roles.

The vitality and crispness of the dialog was lost in too many places to sustain the playwrights' work. Lawrence and Lee are two of the most talented playwrights around, who can write dialog which an actor can respond to in his role.

The settings were complimentary and yet when changes occurred, it detracted from the overall continuity of the play. Perhaps because of the lack of time in preparing the show, another avenue of scene change was impossible.

The makeup made Drummond a warted, slithering creature, which he was not. He was not feared because of looks but because of intellect and ability to cut down opponents. Also his view on the Bible. It was not an outward appearance that condemned either Henry Drummond or Clarence Darrow it was their philosophy and their outlook.

Wagner's movements were awkward and shuffling, Drummond was a dedicated forceful man who never took a step unless he knew where he was going. He even makes a slight speech to that effect.

When he has at last cut down Brady, Wagner has a brief scene at the desk when he looks down in a bent fashion while Brady is left the sniveling victim of his attack on the witness stand. It was a fine moment in the play.

The rapport between Brady and Drummond was never brought across. Drummond had supported Brady in his bid for the presidency. While not comrades in philosophy they were in the spirit of the human condition and the human individual.

The ending of act one where Brady says to Drummond, "We used to be good friends why did you move so far away." Drummond replies, "All motion is relative, perhaps it is you who has moved away by standing still." The line was delivered with Drummond moving away from Brady not looking him in the eye as the character Drummond would have done. It was blocking moves like this that also distracted from the drama of certain moments and the build-ups which give this drama, over so many others, its tremendous effect on the audience.

There will be one more performance of "Inherit the Wind" on August 1, if you haven't seen it before, you are in for an experience, it is a memorable drama.

Merchants Lose Two

BRITTON — The Britton Merchants lost both games last week in the Deerfield Recreation League. They dropped a heart-stopping decision to Iott's Insurance, 5-4, and lost to Carson's Tavern, 14-7.

The Merchants' record on the season stands at 3-7.

In the first game Britton took a 4-0 lead into the sixth inning only to see Iott's score three times in the sixth and twice in the seventh to wrap up the victory.

Tom Komon banged a two-run homer and Tom Cadmus had three straight hits to pace the losing cause.

Three errors in the sixth inning led to the Britton team's downfall. John Korican took the loss on the mound.

In the second contest Carson's Tavern made the best of 11 Merchant errors and handed the Britton team its third straight loss.

The Merchants pounded out 10 hits with Larry Ivan picking up three.

Komon also hit a long two-run homer. Ken Ivan was the losing pitcher and his record on the mound is 3-3.

Leading hitters on the team are Larry Ivan, .551, John Korican, .500, Tom Komon, .461, Gordie Henning, .369, Tom Cadmus, .366 and Bill Prochaska, .347.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all the nurses and aides and doctors and all who were so kind to me, also all the relatives and friends for their visits, gifts, flowers and cards while I was in Herrick Hospital. All is deeply appreciated.
Amanda Price. 7-24p

The family of C. C. Richard wish to thank the many friends who sent cards and flowers and also visited him during his hospital stay. We wish to thank Drs. Cook and Helzerman, the nurses and all who contributed to his care while in the hospital. A special thank you to friends, neighbors and relatives for the lovely flowers, cards of sympathy and food and especially to the Rebekahs for the bountiful dinner. Also, to the Rev. Blair Bashore for his prayers and consoling words and the Dunn Funeral Home for courtesy shown during our bereavement. God bless all of you. 7-24p

I wish to thank Dolores Weasel and Joyce McLaughlin for their wonderful help before, during and after the summer of 1968. To all my present customers and those who "followed" these girls to their respective positions and to the girls my wish for all of you is found in third John, the second verse. Please see "re-opening" ad.
Ruth. 7-24p

I would like to thank all the thoughtful people who sent me cards while I was in the Ann Arbor M[illegible] Center. I would also like to thank the Rev. Duane McNeil and Pastor Gero for their concern and helpful visits.
Mike Bartenslager. 7-24c

I wish to thank all my friends and relatives who remembered me with cards and flowers while I with in the hospital for two months. Also many thanks to all the nurses and aides who were so good to me. A special thanks to Dr. Bachman.
Marguerite Luce, Tipton. 7-24c

The family of William Sell wish to express their sincere thanks to the staff at Herrick Memorial Hospital, Dr. Wilson, the Everise Funeral Home, and all the relatives and friends for the cards and flowers and the many kindnesses shown while he was in the hospital and after his death. 7-24p

We wish to thank relatives, friends and neighbors and the Clinton Methodist Church for the many acts of kindness at the time of our sorrow. The flowers, cards and food were much appreciated. A special thanks to the Rev. Parker for his comforting words.

Great Night for Stock Car Race

By NANCY MARTIN

[illegible] the men on the [illegible] Manchester Speedway had a beautiful night for the mid-season Trophy Races. After being rained-out Friday night, Don Taylor's time of 18:94, fastest of 50 cars, won him his first trophy of the evening.

In the first heat, Taylor came from the [illegible] of the pack to take his second trophy for first place, over Bill Younkin, Dennis Carrier, and Dick Crup. The second heat win went to Ray Barnard, followed by Dick Slagle, Gary Rhoades and Junior Gary.

The trophy for the third heat went to Jim Martin, who jumped out ahead and held on for the win, second went to Roger Boyer, third and fourth to Larry Leidel and Dick Thiede. In the second lap of the fourth heat, John Weinhardt went off the third turn and rolled. He was "OK" and was presented with his first upside-down trophy. Larry Gray was first across the line, chased by Jack Wirth, Dave Warren and Nick Nichols.

The pursuit had a few anxious moments as Cal Bird lost control of his car and collided with Sam Henson, who ended up in the mud on the front straight. Henson was unhurt but covered with mud. Younkin picked up the win and the trophy with Taylor second, Carrier third and Paul Whitaker fourth.

The semi saw two caution flags, but nothing serious, as Jerry Johnstone picked up his first trophy in his first year of driving. Mike Havens and Jim Martin were right on his back bumper but had to settle for second and third, in that order. Wirth was fourth and Jerry Lippert fifth.

The 50-lap feature was racing at its best. Dick Crup, in his red, white and blue No. 24, drove a good race and took home a large trophy for the win, Don Taylor finished second and Bill Younkin third. All three are Ford-powered. Carrier was fourth and Howard Woodman fifth.

Races will be held again this Friday.

Credit Union 8
Union 4

Credit Union downed the Union Little League team by the score of 8-4. The Credit Union picked up nine hits and the Union had five.

Gordon Whelan went six innings on the mound for the winners and Doug Bunch hurled one.

Rick Brooks toiled four innings for the losers and Linvel Lisenbee tossed three.

Whelan led the hitters with a single, double and home run. Doug Bunch picked up a single and triple, Gary Beasley a double, Randy Knight a double and single and Manuel Torres a single.

Credit Union pitchers struck out 11 and the Union 8.

Whelan homered for the winners in the sixth inning to force the game into an extra inning.

Dan Dermyer walked, Doug Gilpin also walked and then Whelan came back and doubled in the winning runs in the top of the seventh.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams attended the Williams family reunion at Morenci July 13.

Dream of Mars

A strange rendezvous of souls conglomerated on the moon Sunday night, in one step of one man. Perhaps the greatest single conquest since Copernicus, the men on the moon have silenced forever the old wives talk of that gem that has sparkled in infinity for so long; its mystery shrouded its romance.

Since Jules Verne, and before, creatures of earth wondered at the possibilities of the moon. The sense of restlessness among man signaled through his inquisitiveness. Today's generation, more restless than the rest, has at last moved on.

No sooner had man set his first foot on the moon and Mars became the target of his imagination. Half the world has seen the moon now via television and he being a restless creature now needs a new frontier to seek out to vent his curiosity, to ply his technology, to take his hates as well as his fears.

Neil Armstrong and Edward Aldrin are on the tongues of every man, woman and child that you meet: immortal now, what next? They were really only one of many who went through the long line preparation for a flight to the moon.

Before them there were such heroes as Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew the Atlantic alone with a couple of peanut butter sandwiches in the most unlikely looking airplane available, the "Spirit of St. Louis". There was "Wrong Way" Corrigan who made an unscheduled trip to Dublin without passport or permission. True, in the face of the moon landing these feats were meager, but in the face of the technology and flight experience of those days, courage was a factor to be reckoned with.

Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell made the most personal sacrifice of any, his career, for the future of air power for the United States. Without his foresight and personal involvement in convincing the United States of a need for air power, World War II might have been a different story.

And then there was Capt. James Gallagher, USAF, and a plane called Lucky Lady II. It was March 2, 1949, 20 years ago. Gallagher was the first to circumnavigate the world non-stop. He traveled 23,452 miles in 94 hours and one minute.

Then there were The Seven: Allan B. Shepherd, Virgil Grissom, Walter Schirra, Edward White, John Glenn, M. Scott Carpenter, and Leroy Gordon Cooper, they paved the way. Each wished that it could have been him to have made the epic flight of Apollo 11, but instead they were the ones to lay the ground work.

There were a contingency of men who worked and sweat for the final step in the first phase, a white boot leaving its mark on the face of the moon for another eternity.

This is not to take away from the courage or the feat of the three men in Apollo 11, it only justifies what other men have done and the evolution of men.

Man is a restless creature and those who will in the future issue forth from the womb of time will also be restless, that is why, no sooner had Neil Armstrong set foot on the moon when the soothsayers and men of dreams alike, started gazing at Mars with the same restlessness and moving curiosity. Some day they'll make it.

Credit Union 9
Kiwanis 3

Credit Union outlasted Kiwanis in Little League action last week for a 9-3 decision. Dan Tilton, Manuel Torres and Doug Bunch shared the mound duties for the winners and Ken Biscupski and Dick Carter hurled for the losers.

Dan Dermeyer had a perfect night at the plate for the winners, rapping out a single and double, then blasting a home run. Doug Bunch singled and doubled and Gary Beasley also doubled.

The winners used six hits and a bevy of walks to rack up nine runs while the losers could muster only three hits off the trio of Credit Union pitchers.

TENNIS

Tennis students for the past week have been mastering the forehand, backhand, serve, lob, smash and other strokes as well as brushing up on scoring and faults. A singles tournament has been set up for later in the week.

MOMS' SOFTBALL

Last week the spirit of the old ball game was shown as several ladies came down and an exciting contest was played. Among the ladies, Mrs. Retan and Mrs. Ashenfelter proved to be real hitters, while Mrs. Torres, Mrs. Wonderly and Mrs. Galadio shone in the field as well.

PEE WEE GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The Sluggers combined timely hitting and adept fielding to down the Champs, 20-19, for the fifth straight time. The game was a close one and it wasn't until the last inning that the Sluggers overtook the Champs. Karen Bunch and Linda West hit homers, along with Cindy Litteral.

JUNIOR GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The first place Daredevils showed how really tough they are by beating the Lollipops, 23-5. The Daredevils started with a new pitcher, Sue Kane, who hurled well until relieved by Elaine Aebersold.

Six players for the Daredevils batted 1.000 for the day: Sue Kane, Cindy Bohannon, Lydia Torres, Connie Harmon, Jan Young and Cheryl Williams.

Another unusual happening at the plate saw Nancy and Mary Lay and Marsha Camfield receive walks for each of the three times they were up to bat. Michelle Tate contributed a two-run home run.

On July 29 after the usual games the Junior and Pee Wee Girls will join together for a picnic on Nelson Field. Food will be provided by the coaches.

The Junior Girls All-Stars will be chosen on July 29 and will play against their coaches on July 31 at 6:30 p.m., on the athletic

McWilliams - Anderson Nuptials

Lynda Joyce McWilliams and Robert Joseph Anderson were united in marriage Saturday, July 19.

Rev. Warren Webb, pastor of the United Methodist Church, Adrian, performed the ceremony at 7:30 p.m. in the United Methodist Church, Tecumseh.

Lynda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. McWilliams of 9998 Holloway Rd., Britton. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anderson of 70 Wayne St., Carbondale, Pa., are the parents of the groom.

Jamie McWilliams, cousin of the bride, was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Bush at the organ.

Two pair of glass-enclosed candelabra, faced with natural greens, graced the altar of the church. The aisle was lined with triple peau candles.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father and wore a floor length gown of white organza designed with a mandarin style collar and long sheer sleeves, featuring the wide cuff look. Peau d'ange lace and tiny organza buttons adorned the high rise bodice and lace accented the bell shaped skirt. A detachable chapel length train swept the floor.

Her headpiece was fashioned of organza roses and re-embroidered lace leaves, an elbow length illusion veil was attached.

She carried a bridal cascade of miniature white carnations, snowsong white roses accented with a cabbage rose in the center. The diamond earrings she wore were a gift of the groom.

Sue Ann McWilliams was her sister's maid of honor in a floor length gown of orchid chiffon over peau taffeta lining.

Matching floral Venice lace braid trimmed with shaded green leaves accented the Empire styled bodice and was repeated on the cuffs of the long sheer sleeves.

She wore an orchid head piece fashioned of organza loops with gathered veils and carried a modernistic cascade of purple asters with a lighter frosted candle in the middle accented with flocked fruit.

Sheri McWilliams, sister of the bride, Linda Anderson, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Bracey, Adrian, schoolmate of the bride, served as bridesmaids and matron. Their gowns, headdresses and bouquets were like that of the maid of honor.

Kimberly Brosamer, Deerfield, friend of the bride, was flower girl in a gown fashioned similar to the other attendants in the same color. She carried a white basket of purple asters.

Richard McWilliams was the ring bearer for his sister's wedding.

William Gossett of Adrian, friend of the groom, served as best man.

Ushers were Carl Rehkop, cousin of the groom and Kenneth James of Carbondale, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Godzina and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Prielipp hosted the reception, held at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall for 300 guests immediately following the ceremony.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Gene Murrey, Carbondale, Pa.; Mrs. Milton Rutan, Cement City; Mrs. William Natho, Jackson; Mrs. Jerry Proudfood and Carol Etter, Adrian and Marilyn Korican, Britton.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and was employed as a secretary at the Division Office of General Telephone Company of Michigan, in Adrian.

The groom graduated from Beniamin Franklin High School in Carbondale, Pa., and is presently employed by the Federal Aviation Agency as an air traffic controller at the Center in Oberlin, O.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home at Virginia Arms Apts., 132 Jones St., Wellington, O., following a week's wedding trip to Atlantic City, N. J.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday evening at the Rock Inn, Adrian.

MRS. ROBERT ANDERSON

The engagement of Evelyn Louise "Ginger" Frazier to Thomas Cook is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Frazier, Britton. Miss Frazier is a registered nurse employed in Colorado Springs, Colo. Mr. Cook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Cook of Meeker, Colo. He is employed with the Meeker School system. The wedding will take place Nov. 28 in Meeker, Colo.

Hold Shower For Bride-to-be

An act of God "shower" set the atmosphere for a kitchen shower given by Mrs. William Powell at her home for Debbie Purkey last Thursday evening.

Games were played and refreshments served to the 12 guests present.

Debbie, who will become the bride of Jim Lawson August 16, opened many lovely kitchen gifts.

Raisin Golf Club Is Now Forming Distaff League

Raisin Valley Golf Club has recently organized a number of ladies who are interested in forming feminine golf leagues.

Mixed couples league enthusiasts may contact Mrs. Robert Kennedy at 423-4302. She is taking reservations for the season beginning during the first week of August and for the next year's entire season.

Mrs. Clyde Gunder may be contacted concerning interest in a ladies' day league. Her number is 423-4305.

An extra feature at the club allows juniors up to and including 16 years to play on Mondays for $1.

Carol VanDoren Weds Michael Velandra

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Carol Lynn VanDoren and Michael Robert Velandra at a 3 o'clock ceremony in St. Elizabeth Church, Saturday, before the Rev. Fr. Robert J. Handley and the Rev. Joseph L. Hedrick, pastor of West Adrian United Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy VanDoren, 5920 Forrester Rd., Adrian, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Velandra, 2837 Russell Rd.

Mrs. Donald Johnson was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white dotted swiss net skimmer over taffeta, with an attached circle chapel train. The bodice was styled with a high neck, unlined yoke, outlined with pearl-trimmed Venice lace appliques.

The bride wore a diamond cross necklace, a gift of the groom, and her fingertip veil was attached to a crescent of fresh flowers. She carried a cascade of white daisies and sweetheart roses.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in sheaths of apricot shade, with empire waistlines trimmed with white lace. Fresh flowers adorned their hair and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow daisies.

Candace Whelan, Adrian, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Patty VanDoren, sister of the bride; Shayna Behm, and Cindy Smith, all of Adrian.

Douglas Beasley, Tecumseh, was the best man, and the ushers were Thomas and Paul David Velandra, Tecumseh, brothers of the groom, and Georges Nakou, Adrian.

A reception at St. Elizabeth School was attended by 200 guests. Ruth Ann and Deborah Velandra served the punch and coffee.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Adrian High School and Mr. Velandra is a 1966 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Upon their return from a 10-day wedding trip in the Eastern States, the newlyweds will be at home at 108 W. Pottawatamie.

The bridegroom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner, Friday at Harry's Cafe.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts.

This is our land. Let's treat it right.

Cheryl Rickard-Daniel Van Valkenburg Speak Vows

Cheryl Ann Rickard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin O. Rickard I, 703 N. Union, became the bride of Daniel Leon VanValkenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenburg, 7764 N. Adrian Hwy., Saturday, July 19, by the Rev. Paul Brantingham at the new Tecumseh Friends Church.

Aqua and white daisies and wild flowers marked the pews for the first wedding to take place in the new Friends Church on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

Larry Ehinger, friend of the groom, was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Brantingham at the organ.

Miss Rickard chose a floor length organza gown with sheath of silk ontre and Chantilly lace bodice, and long lace sleeves. Her sabrina neck line and detachable chapel train were sequin-trimmed.

Cheryl wore a silver locket, gift from the groom. Her elbow length veil was of chantilly lace secured to a petal crown accented with pearls and she carried a cascade of white carnations and ferns.

Susan McKee, friend of the bride, was maid of honor in an aqua empire sheath of chiffon over taffeta featuring a round neckline, short pleated puffed sleeves and a flowing back.

MRS. DANIEL VANVALKENBURG

She wore an aqua veil headpiece accented with pearls and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and aqua daisies.

Lucille Painchaud, college friend of the bride from Birmingham, Mrs. Calvin O. Rickard, sister-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaid and matron, attired the same as the maid of honor.

Terri Sue Rickard, niece of the bride, was flower girl in an A-line empire, floor length white gown and carried a basket of daisies.

Phillip VanValkenburg served as best man for his brother. David Guikema, of Muskegon, and David VanValkenburg, brother of the groom and Calvin O. Rickard, II, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Aqua and white decorations graced the bride's table for the reception held in the dining room of the new Friends Church for 250 guests. Grace Swain, aunt of the bride, assisted at the reception.

The bride attended Michigan State University for a year and has enrolled at Washtenaw Community College for the '69-'70 school year. The groom is a 1969 MSU graduate with a B.S. in Soil Science and is in partnership with his father. Both graduated from Tecumseh High School.

Following a week's trip thru the Upper Peninsula, the couple will reside at 14470 Allen Rd., Clinton.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at their home on N. Adrian Hwy.

Quiet Natural Beauty Enhances Bridle Trails

By DIANNA JOACHIM

Set in the natural beauty of the Irish Hills, The Frontier Stables provide an entertaining and interesting afternoon's activity. As you ride the bridle paths through beautiful woodlands and grassy meadows you are apt to see several forms of wildlife in their natural habitat. The area is also richly blessed with plant life, including some brilliant wild flowers.

A peaceful lake awaits you at the end of the trail, mid fresh green scenery that restores the soul after the hub-bub of traffic and the busy-ness of life. As you return to The Stables, a mama rabbit and her babies scurry across the path.

At one point, the rider can see nearby Brooklyn as well as many lakes in the area.

Hay rides and sleigh rides in winter are available by reservation, safe from the possibility of collision with autos.

Allan Hunt, proprietor, has taken every precaution to make The Stables a pleasant and safe place to enjoy a horse-back ride or a jaunt behind the animals.

The experienced guides select the mounts which they feel would best suit you, and they have a number of gentle, manageable horses.

With every group that leaves, no matter what the size, at least one of the guides accompanies the riders on their excursion.

The Stables are open every day except Monday from 12 noon to 8 p.m. The cost for better than an hour's ride on three miles of meandering trails is only $3 per person. Frontier Stables is located on M-50, 2 miles south of US-12, across from Frontier City.

picturesque terrain is such that it plays differently every time. Some greens are perched on summits that take delicate approach shots, often light hitters are the ones who can perform this feat the best Golfing under the lights provides a new thrill for many visiting the Irish Hills for the first time. After dark, play is available every Friday and Saturday.

One of the greens has been remodeled (with a bull dozer) to present a new ski slope for snow time use. Sixteen instructors were hired last winter under the direction of Henry Lantz, one of the owners and also the Ski School instructor. Students from Columbia Central, Saline, Clinton, Adrian Tecumseh and Adrian College, Mason-Erie Community College and others came every week to take lessons.

Snowmobiles were available for rental by the day or hour. Those who have their own equipment can ride the slopes of the Irish Hills Sports Park at small cost.

Over night camping and trailer sites with electricity and rest rooms with showers are available both summer and winter.

The Sports Park is located just behind the Irish Hills Towers on US-12.

It is now under the managemnt of Sue Thurber, headed by a group of Toledo and area businessmen.

"The Boss" Hosts Fuels Fish Fry

About 15 pounds of walleyes found their way to the skillet July 21, as "Chef" Don Purkey fried fish for the Lenawee Fuels employees and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. David Faling hosted the affair at their Evans Lake cottage for the 20 persons present. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ron Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Zick, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Sebring and Mr. and Mrs. Don Purkey and families.

There were a few curious stares from passers by as the chef rolled the ½-pound slabs over the open fire — "those fish didn't come from that lake, did they?" they said through apparent looks.

New Board President

CLINTON — Donald Geiger was elected president of the Board of Education, Clinton Community Schools, at the organizational meeting July 16. Mr. Geiger is a principal in the Adrian Public Schools.

Other officers elected are:

Vice-president — Harlon Ruhl.

Secretary — Mrs. Henry Louwerens.

Treasurer — Thomas Carlton.

Trustees — Lester Proctor, David Pratt, Edwin Wight.

At the regular board meeting, Tuesday night, plans were completed for school opening on Wednesday, Sept. 3, and an estimated enrollment of 1163 pupils is indicated.

A tentative budget for 1969-70 was discussed. The annual budget meeting and public hearing will be held Aug. 19.

A bid of $685 for roof repair on gymnasium was accepted from Enterprise Roofing.

Five more new teachers have been hired and only three positions remain to be filled. Still needed are instructors for instrumental music, home economics and commercial.

Hodley Cox has been hired as the new high school principal, however, further information is not yet available about him.

Five new teachers were approved. They are:

- Jo Ann K. Hays will teach elementary reading. She has a BA from Siena Heights College, majoring in philosophy and art. She is working on her masters in teaching reading at Michigan State University. She has had 10 years' experience teaching at schools in Hudson, Clinton Valley (Mt. Clemens), Birmingham and Potterville.
- Lois Ann TenHarmsel will teach kindergarten. She'll receive her BA in education in August at Calvin College, Grand Rapids. Her major is art with a minor in science studies.
- Mrs. Lucia Hynes will be the first grade teacher. She is married and currently living in Ypsilanti. Mrs. Hynes attended Flint Community College and graduated from Eastern Michigan University in June with a BA in elementary education. She has begun her masters degree work on kindergarten and preschool.
- Howard V. Brumfiel will teach high school mathematics. He is married and lives in Ann Arbor. He has a BA and an MA from the University of Michigan, with a major in math and a minor in economics. He has taught one year at Roosevelt Junior High, Dearborn Heights and one year at Los Elisco Junior High, Norwalk, Calif.
- James "Dutch" Poppink will be the new head basketball coach and will teach junior high social studies and English, as well as high school physical education. He is a graduate of Hope College, with a BA in history and physical education. "Dutch" Poppink is 6'6" tall, and was an outstanding basketball player in college. He has taught previously at Muskegon and Petoskey. He is unmarired, and will be moving to the community after summer school at Michigan State, where he is working on his masters degree.

New Lay-Minister Installed Sunday

CLINTON — Installation services will be held Sunday at 8 p.m., for Earl Lawrence, the new lay-minister of the United Church of Christ. He moved here with his wife, and three children, from Owosso and assumed his duties, June 22.

He received his BA in humanities and psychology at Michigan State University, where he is doing his graduate work in counseling.

At the installation, to be conducted by Ann Arbor-Jackson Association of the United Church of Christ, the charge to the pastor will be given by his close friend, the Rev. Robert Duff, pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ, Akron, O. The Rev. Duff was a member of the last class to graduate from Oberlin Seminary in 1967, and he has served in churches in Illinois and Flint.

Association pastors who will be assisting are the Rev. Lee Schulmer, Webster Congregational Church, Dexter; the Rev. Roman Renik, Bethel United Church of Christ, Manchester; the Rev. Donald Gibson, associate pastor of Emmanuel United Church of Christ, Manchester; the Rev. W. K. Seibert, United Church of Christ, Chelsea; Moderator Roland Steeb, Ann Arbor; the Rev. Virgil King, of St. James United Church of Christ.

Donald Breidinger of Berkley will be the soloist.

The service is open to members of the congregation and friends in the community. A coffee hour will be held in the dining room after the service.

6 Families Host Japanese Girls

CLINTON — Six local families are going to be hosts to five Japanese high school girls from July 26 until Aug. 22.

Church Women United of Lenawee County is again sponsoring a project designed to promote better world understanding.

Five of the visitors will be guests of host families in the Adrian area.

The girls are brought here by an organization in Vermont called "The Experiment in International Living" which has arranged an itinerary for them including stops at New York City, Washington, D. C., Chicago, Omaha, Salt Lake City and San Francisco, a camp stay in Connecticut and the home visits in Lenawee County.

The Experiment, a non-profit organization, with affiliates in 60 countries, has been conducting this type of educational exchange since its founding in 1932. This year nearly 5,000 Experimenters will come to the United States from more than 100 different nations, and 2,500 Americans will visit other countries.

The purpose of the program is to improve the foreign student's comprehension of the English language and to help them understand American customs and manners.

Their hosts in Clinton and guests are: the Rev. and Mrs. Paul McKenna, Chizuko Kazewara; Mr. and Mrs. James Woodward, Setsuko Io; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hawkins, and Mr. and Mrs. William Nighswander, Kumiko Akao; Mrs. Francis Faulhaber, Michiko Sakaki, and Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger, Tomako Honma.

CAP Election In Napoleon

CLINTON — —There will be a program and election of officers at a meeting of CAP, an ecumenical youth service organization, at Napoleon Center, Our Lady of Fatima Parish Hall, Sunday, from 1:30 to 9 p.m.

The youth group has participating clergy from area Catholic, Lutheran, United Church of Christ, and Methodist Churches. Of special concern, currently, is racial relations in Jackson. Several hundred high school and college age youth from all over the state are expected.

Program speakers will be Jim Brown, educator and director of race relations in Saginaw, and Luther Ballinger, equal opportunities director for Bendix Corp., Ann Arbor.

Following the afternoon program, there will be a 5:30 p.m. luncheon followed by a 6:30 p.m. folk mass conducted by participating clergymen.

Earl Lawrence, lay-minister of the United Church of Christ, Clinton, and the Rev. Fr. Ronald Loar, Our Lady of Fatima, Napoleon, are advisors of CAP.

WIN SOME, LOSE SOME

It has been a funny summer so far, hasn't it? Not funny ha ha, but funny peculiar. Things are topsy-turvey and all mixed up. The expected doesn't happen but then along comes a nice surprise. And no, I am not going to waste a whole article on the weather, the birds are giving me just as much trouble.

Lord Baltimore Oriole is perhaps the brightest example. Last year he and his lovely mate ate orange halves with such eagerness that it was almost a passion. It was a thrill to see him, all jet black and brilliant orange, and her all yellowish and light brown, pecking away at the fruit.

This year, the orioles are around — we see them splashing in the dirty mud puddles, they enjoyed the mulberries, and their clear liquid songs are as rich and mellow as ever — they have completely ignored the oranges, though.

The bluejays and squirrels are getting their vitamin C but not once have we seen [illegible] looking. The 'fruit stand' is exactly where it was a year ago, who knows why it attracts no oriole patrons!

The red-headed woodpeckers, who last year were such fun, are among the missing this year. We had one brief, very brief look, since then, however, there has not been as much as a hint of a red-headed woodpecker.

The mulberry crop was better than ever and each day the scratch feed is put out but no redheads. Last summer they had such a marvelous time and it was so easy for them to park their brown headed youngsters in a nearby tree then swoop down to feed on either the scratch or the mulberries that we wonder why they are not visiting their old haunts.

Well, the welcome mat is still out, the red-heads can come wherever they wish and we shall not be a bit mad. We shall not even chide them for not coming sooner.

★

ON THE PLUS side are the many young nuthatches and tufted titmice. They are daily visitors and never before have we had so many. The titmice are funny — they are so leggy and their feathers are ragged and unruly. And instead of being dark gray, these feathers show quite a tendency towards brown.

These little guys have a long way to go before they can match the adult titmice in trim, sleek, straight-out-of-a-band-box neatness. They are eating okay though—sunflower seeds, scratch feed, suet, and even the peanuts are gobbled down with great expertise.

Having a bit more trouble with their table manners are the young nuthatches. Those long bills can be a bit troublesome and both sunflower seeds and an oversized 'bite' of scratch feed are apt to slip.

Anpearance-wise they are even funnier than the titmice. Their feathers are, of course, rough and ragged; their fronts — which will eventually be white because, after [illegible] they are w[illegible] — are a dirty off-white with smudges and smears which make them look almost speckled. Just as with the titmice, brown is very much in evidence on their wings and tails.

★

CATBIRDS, FLICKERS and baby robins are all avoiding the front yard. It is apparently off limits. The adult robins dig for worms there but they do not bring the kids, the catbirds are busy out in back and on the creek bank, the flickers keep themselves across the creek, and we wonder why.

The front yard has always been popular and to us it looks the same as ever — we cannot even begin to guess what they see that we don't. There is no question about the suet feeder though, it is busy, busy, busy.

Never have we had so many downy and hairy woodpecker families. Occasionally we hear a quail wh[illegible] Bob-White call but there is seldom an answer. Wish he would venture to this side of the creek, also wish he would have some luck in whistling up a friend.

The animal population is presenting us with questions, too. Where are the rabbits? And it has been ages since we have caught sight of either a raccoon or an opossum. Neighbors have tales of robber raccoons, nothing has happened around here, however.

We had worried about the woodchucks but, when the mulberries started to carpet the creekbank, a little half-grown one became adventurous and waddled in for his daily ration.

So it is that some of our summer looking has been disappointing but, on the other hand, there have been unexpected pleasures which all just goes to prove the old adage about win some, lose some.

Cheerleaders Study Cheering

Tecumseh's '69-'70 Varsity Cheerleaders were among 120 schools representing 5 states at the one-week training session held at Vincennes University.

Lorrie Beevers, Jeanne Brazee, Donna Osburn and Marsha Perrin, seniors, and Cindy Steadley and Patti Weigle, juniors, combined their efforts during a rough competition and training session in preparation for the fall and winter sports' season.

Two blue ribbons and one third place was won by the squad. Girls attended tumbling, cheering and pom-pom classes and lectures concerning attitudes of the cheerleaders and crowds each day.

Kathleen Kelso will replace Mrs. Terry Wells as cheerleading coach for the coming seasons.

Wayside Shop Has Moved

Mrs. Gordon Gove has closed her Wayside Beauty Shop on W. Chicago Blvd., and will reopen her beauty shop in her home, on Eccles Rd., July 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gove, have purchased the farm on the north side of Eccles Rd., from Mr. Gove's father, Irving Gove. This is the home into which the Goves moved as newlyweds, 29 years ago, April 20. The Goves sold their farm on M-50 to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gentz of Tipton.

Mrs. Gove said, "Twenty-seven years ago I had a beauty shop in the same room, in which I'll have my reopening next week. I'm 'home' both in the house and shop."

The room has been paneled, suspended ceilings, rest room, air-conditioned driers, thermopane window, new porch covering, widened steps and a driveway leading to the back of the house, on the west side, are among the improvements.

Throughout the house, baseboard hot water heat is being installed, with three-zone control. The remainder of the house will be paneled and new bathroom appliances have been installed. New inlaid linoleum, both in the beauty shop and large kitchen is alike.

Daughter, Beth, has been a big help with the painting and moving. The Goves moved across the road, exchanging houses with Mr. and Mrs. Henry McKenzie and family. Beth is employed as a therapist aide at Bixby Hospital, Adrian.

Mrs. Gove has operated the Wayside Beauty Shop in Tecumseh for 8½ years. She's extending an invitation to all her friends to attend her re-opening Thursday, July 31. Her new phone number is 456-4260.

FIVE ADDITIONS — Sketch shows the planned five additions via dotted lines around the present Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. Construction would start this fall if the city allows a building permit. Total new facilities would amount to 44,000 sq. ft.

Box Co. To Expand Tecumseh Plant - If

A five-stage expansion program was presented to the city Tuesday when officials of Tecumseh Corrugated Box sought a building permit for new construction.

Overall plans call for an additional 44,000 square feet to the company's present plant, which has some 66,000 square feet and includes a basement and second floor above the firm's presen[illegible]

Although Tecumseh Box has made known its plans to enlarge, it is doubtful that the company will be able to do so unless the city changes a zoning ordinance.

City Manager Cal Zorn said Tuesday that as long as the ordinance reads as currently on the books, he has no choice except to deny Tecumseh Box a building permit.

Three years ago the company sought a permit for an expansion and was turned down. Since, the company has expanded five times, and only last week anounced a new plant for the Toledo area.

If the city proceeds and denies a building permit again, the only recourse for company officials is to seek relief from the Board of Appeals. This board also was involved in 1966 when it ruled against the company, and at the time, based its decision partially on "afraid of setting a precedence".

A possible solution to the dilemma is dedicating the drive in front of the plant for a city street. If this were done and accepted by Council, Tecumseh Box could be granted a building permit, according to Mr. Zorn.

He points out that the zoning ordinance requires a 50-foot setback fronting on a street but allows construction to the side lot lines. At the present, Tecumseh Box must be considered to front on S. Evans St., since it is the only dedicated street along company property.

The company's plans call for expansion to within a foot of its property lines on S. Evans — and this is prohibited in the zoning ordinance.

But, if the drive were dedicated as a street, the company then could be considered fronting on the new street and expansion would be allowed to the side lot lines, or to the line running along Evans St.

The first stage of the building program would be a 14,-500-sq.-ft. addition next to Evans. Second stage would be new offices, also along Evans St.

Other stages, all rated in order as to the importance for the company, would be additions to the rear and west side of the current building.

Although no time schedule for construction was given in the company's letter to Mr. Zorn for a building permit, Clarence Hanthorn, vice-president, said officials were hopeful that work could begin this fall on stage one, and perhaps stage two.

Company's Letter Requesting Permit

July 28, 1969

Dear Mr. Zorn:

Enclosed are three (3) prints of our drawing which is a master plan of expansion and replacement of buildings for our plant here in Tecumseh.

We are requesting a building permit for all areas indicated by the shaded portions of the drawing, as listed below:

Area No. 1 — A new building 55' x 264', (14,500 square feet), with depressed loading ramp for six trailers. This is to be additional production space and the 55' dimension is of particular importance to allow installation of machines and obtain reasonable material flow. This building would be built too within one foot of the east property line, as shown, and is the most urgently needed.

Area No. 2 — A new 2900 square foot addition will be a one-floor structure. However, footings and foundations would be such as to permit a second floor addition at a later date. Our present office building has two floors.

Area No. 3 — This would be a replacement of an existing 5700 square foot frame building which is in need of some repair.

Area No. 4 — Here there will be 8600 square feet of new building and 9250 square foot of replacement building.

Area No. 5 — A new building of 5500 square feet and replacement of 900 square feet in this area will complete the program.

The five areas are listed in order of their importance to us and will be constructed in that order.

Our plant now has 66,000 square feet of floor space, including both floors of one building and the basement of another. The program outlined above will provide an additional 44,000 square feet for a total of 110,000 square feet.

Please note the revision of the drawing pertaining to Area No. 4. With this exception it is the same as the one you and Bob Hamden received from me when you visited our plant last Friday, July 25.

We will appreciate approval of our plans as soon as possible so we may proceed at once with Area No. 1 so completion can be accomplished before winter sets in. Contingent on approval of the program as a whole the office addition, Area No. 2, is also a possibility for this fall.

Yours truly,
TECUMSEH CORRUGATED BOX COMPANY

Boysville Juniors, Seniors To Attend Tecumseh High

Officials at Boysville have decided to phase out grades 11 and 12 there and send students from these grades to Tecumseh High School, Bro. Edward, Boysville principal, announces.

He says the reason for Boysville dropping its top two grades is to give these students an opportunity to better develop their social aspects by associating with other students.

Between 15 and 20 boys are expected to enroll here in September, and they will be bused to the local high school in Tecumseh buses.

Supt. James McDowell says the new students will pay tuition, or, if they are wards of the court, additional state aid from Lansing will be remitted to the local schools in lieu of tuition.

According to Bro. Edward, Boysville has no plans or intentions of phasing out the rest of their grades, eight, nine and 10. Approximately 160 boys will be attending school there this fall.

Boysville has operated four grades since its founding in Macon in 1948. Bro. Robert Hormann is head of the institution there.

Its decision to send students into the Tecumseh Public Schools was the second by a local parochial school. St. Elizabeth has dropped grades seven and eight and will enroll these youngsters into the public school system in September.

St. Elizabeth's decision to phase out the two grades, however, was based on lack of necessary funds.

City Near New Well

Unless bids run ridiculously high, Tecumseh's long-awaited well field just north of the city may soon be a reality.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says bids were to be opened Wednesday afternoon and presented to Council for action next Monday evening.

Engineers have estimated the initial phase in developing the well field at approximately $100,000, Mr. Zorn reports. This would include sinking a 14-inch casing for the well, construction of a well house and installation of a water main to an existing line at N. Evans and Red Mill Dr.

The connecting water main will be built in an easement across property owned by the Friends Church and the Russell Cheevers. The main from the well, to be drilled on property formerly owned by Merrill Gray and Ethelyne Rumler, to the hookup point on N. Evans is estimated to be about a half-mile in length.

Mr. Zorn is hoping that work will be started by September and one of the first customers will be the new Friends Church. The well is expected to produce over 1,000 gallons per minute.

Tecumseh has sought water from this general area for several years and once thought it available from property owned by George Underwood, local resident and Clinton car dealer. However, he opposed the city's condemnation suit and won in Circuit Court when Tecumseh withdrew its case.

Officials here also incurred some opposition from Tecumseh Township and residents in the well field area when Tecumseh announced its intentions to run the water mains through Township property. At the time, some concessions were given the township and residents.

These concessions were voided, however, when the city did not acquire the Underwood property.

VISITING TODAY — Chief William Red Fox, 99-year-old Sioux Indian and recognized authority of Custer's Last Stand at Little Big Horn, will be at the Tecumseh A&P store this Thursday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock. He will have colored photos and balloons for the youngsters.

Chief Visiting

Folks, including youngsters, will have an opportunity this Thursday morning at Tecumseh A&P, from 10 to 11, to visit with Chief William Red Fox, a Sioux Indian who visited the site of the Indians' massacre of Gen George Custer, about two hours after the battle.

The 99-year-old Indian has appeared on Johnny Carson's Tonight Show, Hugh Down's Today Show, Walter Cronkite's CBS News, and NBC Monitor Program.

He is a graduate from the Carlisle Indian School (1889) and attended two years of law school at the University of Wisconsin. He authorized the bill, Citizenship for Indians, and addressed both Houses of Congress in 1924.

Chief William Red Fox was discharged from the U. S. Navy in 1902, and traveled for 15 years with the Buffalo Bill Cody Wild West Show. He also appeared in over 100 silent movies.

He is a nephew of Chief Crazy Horse, who led the Indians in the famous battle against Custer at Little Big Horn.

Clinic Is For Smokers

A five-night clinic to help smokers who want to quit, is planned Sept. 7 through 11 at Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

Arrangements are being made by the Bixby Medical Staff in cooperation with the Rev. Peter Fritz of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Sessions, to take place in the hospital auditorium, will include moving pictures, group discussions, talks by ministers and physicians and other special features.

A registration fee of $5 to help with the cost of materials will be charged those attending. Anyone in the community with the desire to stop smoking is welcome.

The sessions will be from 7:30 to 9:00 Sunday through Thursday, Sept. 7-11.

Members of the Bixby Medical Staff who will assist Mr. Fritz are Dr. Francis Balice, Dr. Richard Coak, Dr. Richard Gilmartin, Dr. William Hewes, Dr. D. F. Sarapo and Dr. George Wynn.

Salon Open House Sunday Afternoon

R-Bon's, Tecumseh's newest beauty salon, will hold an open house Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 at 904 W. Chicago Blvd., in the former Beland farm house.

Raymond Green and Ran Sweezey, owners, have extensively remodeled the interior of the house, using old barn siding, wallpaper prints and Spanish fixtures. New working stations are used in various rooms which are completely carpeted and air conditioned.

No Loss Reported

Tecumseh firemen responded to a call at the Lewis Lamm residence, 1103 N. River Acres Dr., Tuesday afternoon.

A clothes dryer was smoking. No damages were reported.

DRIVERS ARE LUCKY — This semi-trailer from Toledo crashed into the rear of a combine being driven by Don Lutton of Britton, just before one o'clock Wednesday afternoon on M-50, just east of Billmyer Rd. Tecumseh firemen here are spraying a 30-gallon gas tank which was ripped off the combine and smashed through the passenger side of the truck's windshield, landing in the seat next to the truck driver. Both Lutton and the Toledo trucker apparently escaped serious injury.

A canoe trip down the Au Sable River can provide pleasure in the sun with a continuous change of scenery pleasing to almost any age

Not being of the young generation, Pa and I just drifted with the current enjoying the blue sky, fluffy white clouds, spires of pines, beech, birch and aspen trees with an occasional family of wild ducks and a muskrat to attract the eye.

Never having quite grown up, he continued his childhood pastime of playing with the "chabs", dropping bits of Piconning cheese in the water but the current is swift and the cheese and crab never quite connected.

It's a lovely, peaceful adventure and you could tip out if you didn't heed the man's observation at the Mio "put-in" — "don't stand up unless you plan to go swimming".

Why don't you try canoeing the Au Sable? It's fun.

Jack Vealey, 44, of 4818 Lowcroft, Lansing, is critically ill in St. Lawrence Hospital, Lansing, suffering from head and internal injuries received in an accident, July 14. Also injured was his daughter, Terry, 8, who has a broken leg and fractured pelvis. Mr. Vealey attended Macon School and resided in that area until he entered service. Mrs. Douglas Hall, 116 S. Evans, is a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Swain of Mid Pines, Calif., returned the morning of July 28, after a four-week visit with relatives in the Tecumseh area. Hosts and Hostesses included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Swain of Springville, and Mrs. Mabel Swain of Round Lake.

Missile System Repairman

Pvt. James R. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon S. Cook, 401 Seneca St., completed a Nike Hercules missile electronics maintenance course as a distinguished graduate July 10 at the Army Air Defense School, Ft. Bliss, Tex.

During the 25-week course, Pvt. Cook received training in the assembly, installation, and maintenance of Nike Hercules missile system.

Pvt. Cook entered the Army in November, 1968, and completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Church School Opens Aug. 18

Lake Killarney Lutheran Church Camp will be the scene of the Vacation Church School of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, August 18-22.

Mrs. Doug Dunn requests that all registrations be filled out and returned to her by August 10.

Children are asked to bring a sack lunch and their swim suits each day. Beverage will be provided.

"Jesus and the Church" is the theme of this year's program. Coordinating the efforts of the teachers are Mrs. Ted Todd and Mrs. Dean Sheldon. Helpers and instructors are the following: Musical director, Mrs. Earl Mason; project coordinators, Mrs. Joseph Platt and Mrs. James Colson; pre-school, Mrs. Rymond Bolz, Kathy Rohweder; kindergarten, Mrs. Lamar Rufner, Mrs. Burton Weitenhagen and Steve Kampmueller; grades 1 and 2, Mrs. Harold Wilson, Mrs. Ken Kendall and Jan Appel; grades 3 and 4, Mrs. Dean Hamilton, Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge and Rita Pace; grades 5 and 6, Mrs. George Eidson, Mrs. Charles DesErmia and Lynda Knicht; grades 7 and 8, Mrs. Lee Fall.

Children are to meet at Gloria Dei at 9:15 each morning and will be returned there at 3:45 in the afternoon.

Friday evening, August 22, at 6:30 a family potluck will be held at the camp for all members and friends. A short musical program will be presented at that time by the children. The offering usually taken at this program will be used this year as a "Kick-Off" contribution to the recently-established Organ Fund.

Viva La France For THS Students

By DIANNA JOACHIM

This summer is being put to good use by the members of the Tecumseh High School French Club, who are working towards a proposed trip to France next summer. The members, under the guidance of Mrs. John Wakeford, are presently working on their latest money-making project — paper flowers and several other handicrafts to sell at the Lenawee County Fair.

In the future some of the proposed projects include a candy sale, an ice cream social, a dinner, bake sales, dances and possibly another, spring carnival.

Some of the projects which the French Club has already sponsored are bake sales, masquerade ball, the International Extravaganza, a French dinner, a Christmas Cheer project, and selling snacks at the sidewalk sale.

The club members, although few in number, are doing more than their fair share of work in hopes that next year their dream of a trip to France may come true.

Friends Church 1st Service Sunday

The long-awaited day for Tecumseh Friends is here. The first service in their new church on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., will be held Sunday.

In the process of moving from their former church on Pottawatamie and Van Buren, the Friends will not be in a completed church, some work is yet to be done.

Formal dedication of the new edifice will be Sept. 14. Sept. 13 an organ recital by Clayton Erb of Detroit will be held on the new organ installed at the church.

Coinciding with the first service in the new Friends Church will be the first service by the Church of God, new tenants of the former Friends Church.

The Church of God purchased the building from Tecumseh Friends and both services in their new churches will be held Sunday.

The Rev. Paul Bassingham is pastor of Tecumseh Friends and the Rev. Alfred Sheley is pastor of the Church of God.

Two Accidents Are Investigated

Only two acidents were checked here by the Tecumseh police during the past week but one involved extensive damages to two cars and bumps and bruises to the drivers.

Last Friday, Mrs. Margaret S. Aebersold, 71, of 109 S. Union St., made a left turn in front of Nancy E. Work, 21, Britton, at the intersection of W. Chicago Blvd. and Union.

Mrs. Aebersold told police that she did not see the Work auto due to a truck making a turn. She was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Both drivers suffered bruises. Mrs. Work's young baby escaped without any injury.

In a second investigation, Weba Ann Haggard, 28, Adrian, reported her car damaged by an unknown driver while parked in front of Holmes Pharmacy.

Scouts Attend Jamboree

A seventh National Boy Scout Jamboree hosted 39 boys and leaders from Lenawee and Monroe counties for two weeks in Idaho's Farragut State Park.

Traveling by train, the boys toured Glacier National Park on the way enjoying much of the interim countryside.

Once camp had been established, the boys scattered — ready to enjoy swimming, hiking, boating, trading, sightseeing, canoeing, archery, rifle safety and visiting with other scouts. Scouts were present from all corners of the nation and also several other countries.

Opening and closing ceremonies were highlighted by fireworks and displays of how a scout has or can contribute to his community. Area boys, along with the 40,000 others, gleaned some special meaning of the theme, "Building to Serve".

Inspiration might have come from some famous servers they saw, Jesse Owens, Olympic track star; Lady Baden-Powell, widow of the founder of scouting; Archie Moore, former heavyweight boxing champion, presently working with scouts for the underprivileged; and Frank Borman, astronaut.

Boys present from the immediate area include Richard and Jim Rayburn, and Greg Dunbar of Britton, and John Vincent, Jr., from Clinton.

Soldier Receives Commendation

Sp/5 Douglas J. Ruttkofsky, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Ruttkofsky, 408 Adrian St., Tecumseh, Mich., received the Army Commendation Medal July 2 while serving with the 4th Infantry Division near Pleiku, Vietnam.

Sp/5 Ruttkofsky earned the award for meritorious service as a squad leader in Company B, 4th Supply and Transport Battalion of the division near Pleiku.

The specialist entered the Army in February, 1968, completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and was stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif., before arriving in Vietnam in July, 1968.

His wife, Judy, lives at 530 W. Beecher St., Adrian.

The engagement of Karen Sue Turner to Larry Dale Harsh is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reno L. Turner 1205 Shady Lane. The bride-to-be is a 1969 graduate of Tecumseh High School. Mr. Harsh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Harsh, Adrian. He was a 1963 graduate of Onsted High School and has since served in the Army. He is presently employed at Tecumseh Products. An October 18 wedding is planned.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Let's Not Repeat Mistake

We hope, for the sake of the community, that our city does not repeat a mistake it made several years ago in refusing a building permit for Tecumseh Corrugated Box.

Some officials are taking a rather dim view of the zoning ordinance which has restricted the company's building plans, especially since this ordinance has a loop hole that has benefited others.

Shortly after Tecumseh Box was denied a permit in 1966, the company started an expansion program in Van Wert, O., and later in the Cleveland area. Since, a new plant is in Adrian and a new one is being built in Toledo.

Whether the rejection here of a building permit to expand facilities at the Tecumseh site resulted in expansion elsewhere, is merely conjecture. It is conceivable, however, that some of the work being done in the Ohio plants could have been done here — and would have if the company had been allowed to expand.

Last year, Tecumseh Corrugated's payroll was in excess of $1 million with an employment of 125. Isn't it logical that this payroll and employment would grow even more — if given the opportunity.

Since being founded here in 1963, the company has been a valuable asset to the community. It is no longer a small operation of some 20 employees struggling in fabricating containers.

Tecumseh Box has grown and prospered. It's past time for the city to help. Let's not repeat our mistake.

Cabana Girls Leave Monday

The Cabana Girls and their mothers and John Robinson highlighted one last effort for the needed $1,500 to finance their trip to Mexico by staffing a booth in front of Wright's Drug Store during Sidewalk Day.

Win a pet gold fish, bowls, candied apples and a zoo parade highlighted their stand.

Renee Albaugh, Ann Beardsley, Jackie Bailey and her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Bailey, Adrian; Vicki Cook, Debbie Shelton, Jera Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, Janet Trowbridge and Glynnis Burns of Manitou Beach and Meg Beardsley, replacing her sister, Sue, worked at the booth. the booth.

The Robinsons will be accompanying the girls. Mr. Robinson will be the only male member of the group.

Georgia Bancroft of Clinton will also take the trip but has her finances earned.

Mrs. Robinson said Tuesday that the transportation alone for the 38 Girl Scouts of the Irish Hills Council and six adults would add up to $5698.

They have earned $11,000 and studied Spanish for over two years in preparation for the 15-day trip. The Scouts leave at 7:17 a.m., August 4, via the Wabash "Cannonball" direct to St. Louis Mo., where they will board another train for Laredo, Tex., then jitney across the border and continue again by rail to Mexico

All their reservations and tours have been scheduled there and best of all, Mrs. Robinson said, "Everyone will be able to go."

Each girl and advisor has worked approximately 1,000 hours minimum, over a two-year span to obtain the $325 per person to finance their visit to the Cabana, International Girl Scout Center, Mexico City, Taxco and Acapulco.

Cleaning the infield at the Michigan International Speedway has produced $900 but it was a lot of work with mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers manning gunny sacks to collect the bottles and rubbish left by the fans. Both Mothers Day and Fathers Day, 1969, will long be remembered by this group as they slaved away to clean up the gigantic field.

Other projects included sales of various items, catering dinners, garage and rummage sales, car washes, Christmas tree pick-up, bake and food sales, carnivals, county fair booths, newspaper drives and they have received a few donations.

A Girl Scout Council, as a total organization, through which these Scouts receive their guidance, cannot enter into solicitation of funds for this purpose.

Because Girl Scouting is open to girls of all economic levels, the trip will be a once-in-a-lifetime experience for several of the group who come from low-income families.

Several factors combine to make this Mexican trip more expensive than the usual "thrifty" type of travel which the Girl Scout program employs to teach money-handling and budgeting.

Camping out is out of the question because of contaminated food and water supplies, lack of public camp grounds, and the need for constant guarding of equipment.

Third class restaurants and "on the street" food concessions are, again, not safe to the average tourist who wishes to stay healthy, and thus reservations must be made for all meals at first class restaurants.

For a group of this size, overnight accommodations must be in reputable hostelries, capable of handling large numbers. Dormitory hotel accommodations are not available. Further, to "do for ones' self" in Mexico causes the "turista" to lose face. Tips are not only expected but demanded by the average Mexican serving a guest to his country.

All in all, there are very few ways in which the girls can cut the estimated budget. The only method so far devised is to ask hotels to put up box lunches for the following day's travel, thus eliminating a restaurant stop at noon, saving both time and tip money for other educational pursuits.

In spite of all obstacles, the Cabana Girl Scouts will make the Mexican trip so that they may visit the only international Girl Scout Girl-Guide Center in the western hemisphere, the Cabana, near Cuernavaca, Mexico.

With a combined total background of 400 years in scouting among the group's membership, interest in a visit to the Cabana runs high. It will be worth the two years of effort; not just ordinary effort, but back-breaking, penny-pinching, self-planned-and-executed hours and hours of effort.

Any industry or group wishing a program speaker may call Mrs. Robinson, 423-4026, for more information.

Obituaries

● DARWOOD R. DeMERITT

Services were held at the Steuernol Funeral Home in West Branch for Darwood R. DeMeritt, 55, who passed away Friday morning at Tolfree Memorial Hospital at West Branch.

He was born Nov. 25, 1913, in Hillsdale County and was a resident of this area until eight years ago when he moved to West Branch. He was a real estate broker.

Survivors include his wife, Juanita; a son, Gale, of Tecumseh; three daughters, Mrs. Howard (Marv) Yenor, Mrs. John (Elva) Evers and Mrs. Russell (Margaret) Beaverson, all of Morenci; eight grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Ralph (Elva) Wheeler and Opal DeMeritt, both of Morenci; one brother, Lear Dean, of Columbia Falls, Mont.

Preceding him in death were two brothers, Lisle and Elwood, and two sisters.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Moose and Masonic Lodge services were held Sunday evening at the funeral home.

● MRS. VIOLA F. BLASKA

Services were held Tuesday at the Proctor Funeral Home for Viola F. Blaska, 72, who died Saturday at 1 p.m. at Maple Lane Manor, Adrian, where she resided since April, 1966.

Mrs. Blaska was born Feb. 10, 1897, at Green Springs, O., and was married to Albert Blaska June 15, 1916, in Toledo. He preceded her in death in November, 1959.

She was a long-time resident of Springville.

Surviving are two sons, Edward Blaska, 602 W. Kilbuck, and Chester Blaska, R. 1, Tipton; a brother, Frank Beck, of Norwalk, O., and three grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a brother and one daughter.

A summer Gospel Team from Detroit Bible College will conduct a daily Vacation Bible School at Grace Bible Church, M-50 at Carson Hwy., Aug. 4-8.

The Rev. David Holly, pastor of the church, announces that the team will present programs of special music at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

The Gospel Team, under the direction of Paul C. Whaley, Christian Service Director at the College, will make the appearance as part of a four-state tour in Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

Two men and four women students comprise the DBC Gospel Team and will present a variety of instrumental pieces featuring guitar, French horn and piano.

All children from beginners through young teens are encouraged to attend DVBS and the public is invited to attend the evening services.

Area Students On Dean's List

James Goodman, Cynthia Lewis and James Whitney have been named to the Dean's List for the second semester at Adrian College.

Mr. Goodman, a sophomore majoring in Biology, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Goodman, 413 W. Brown, Tecumseh, and a 1967 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Miss Lewis is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard N. Lewis, 503 Seminole Dr., and a freshman majoring in Phychology.

Mr. Whitney, a freshman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Whitney, 315 S. Union, and a 1968 graduate of Tecumseh High.

To be named to the Dean's List, a student must have a 3.25 average on a four-point scale. Generally, this means their grades must include at least one A and no grade lower than a B.

Little Garden Club Rearranges Schedule

Tecumseh's Little Garden Club announces the rearrangement of its meeting schedule for the remainder of the year formulated at its July meeting.

The session planned for August, a tour of home gardens and plant exchange, will be held in September. Members will be notified by telephone of the time and places.

No meeting will be held in August.

The meeting originally scheduled for September will be held in October, and the October program has been moved to January, when it will replace the annual meeting. The annual meeting and election of officers has been moved to mid-year, to match the fiscal year of the Michigan Federation of Garden Clubs.

No changes are planned for the November meeting, which has a Thanksgiving theme, or the December meeting, a Christmas party.

Mrs. Edward Dranginis was welcomed to the club as a new member at the July meeting. The short business meeting included comment on a bench placed by the club at the corner of W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Pearl St. The property is owned by the Presbyterian Church, whose former pastor, the Rev. Julian Gresham, and staff donated much time and use of facilities to the garden club. This included typing and reproducing the clubs' award-winning yearbooks.

Mrs. Owen Merrill reviewed for the club its latest book donated to the Tecumseh Library, "Miniature Bulbs" by Roy Genders, continues the club theme for the year, the use of bulbs. The carefully-detailed book describes how to have color from miniature bulbous flowers the year around, both indoors and outside.

Mrs. Carson House, Jr., was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Stanley Cook and Mrs. Charles Cook.

"Long hair on the male of the species, permits brain power to rest while mouth power takes over."

When the Red, Red Robin....

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alderdyce, 9727 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., five weeks ago adopted a feathered friend in the person of a young robin.

MRS. ALDERDYCE AND HER FEATHERED FRIEND

The robin, found in the Alderdyces' back yard, was near death when discovered. "Robbie", as he was later named, was left by his adoptive parents for his mother to return and claim him. When she didn't he was taken into the garage and fed on a diet of bread and milk.

With the mortality rate high for young birds in captivity, Robbie wasn't expected to live. But he has since survived and has his own personal domain on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

He makes brief flights into the bird world but returns to the Alderdyces for dinner time. The family found that going to a bait shop was an easier way for collecting worms to feed their feathered friend and solved a lot of digging.

The Alderdyces say that Robbie returns and sets outside of the door chirping when he wants in. They open the door and he hops through as though all birds lived in such a manner.

Robbie lives in the garage, but finds sitting on the shoulder of either Mr. and Mrs. Alderdyce a safe place to perch and ask for a morsel of some of that bread and milk which aided him through that first week when little birds have a tough time surviving the world of man.

They do not plan on releasing the little bird into his normal habitat as yet. His present flights into birdland are brief and experimental yet but one day he will have to fly out and become one of his feathered brothers, but until he does the Alderdyces have lived through an experience all their own with a little bird.

Johnston Family Reunion Held

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston and sons hosted the 29th annual Johnston reunion July 20, held early to include Mr. and Mrs. Virgie Johnston who are leaving in two weeks for Sarasota, Fla.

Potluck dinner was served to the 65 guests present from Holland, Delta and Swanton, O.; Hudson, Detroit, Tipton, Tecumseh, Adrian and Mt. Pleasant. Bingo and games were played by all.

Three couples celebrated silver wedding anniversaries. They are Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Johnston of Tipton, August 20; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston, September 3; and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Johnston of Hudson, December 10. Each couple was given a heart-shaped cake, baked by Mrs. Keith Matheny and a gift of flowers and money.

A going-away party honored David Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Johnston, who is going into the Marines July 29. Cake, ice cream and punch were served.

Next year's hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Keith Matheny, Detroit.

TIPTON NOTES

Jan Wilkin returned home July 11 after spending a week with a 4-H family at Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger attended the 20th National VFW Children's Carnival in Eaton Rapids July 13.

Cundiff Family Reunion Held

BRITTON — The 14th annual Cundiff family reunion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shoemaker in Ogden Center.

A potluck dinner was enjoyed by 48 family members who were present from Louisville, Ky.; Sylvania, O.; Ann Arbor, Hudson, Weston, Adrian and Britton.

The 1970 reunion will be held at the Larry Stutzman home in Weston.

New System For Billing

BRITTON — The Britton Water Department is adopting a new billing system and bills will be sent in envelopes rather than on post cards. Bills will still be stamped when paid as before. The village clerk will no longer be in the office Saturday afternoon to collect water bills.

Lenawee Ag Men Will Tour Farms

Lenawee County farmers who can take a day away from their own field work may get many practical money-making ideas at the Michigan State Farm Management Tour in Allegan County, Thursday, August 7.

"Twelve farms, representing six different types of farming, will be open to visitors. Interesting programs are planned at each," reports Dick Allen, Lenawee County Extension Agricultural Agent.

Specialized dairy, poultry, fruit, recreation, Christmas tree and vegetable operations on muck soil farms, are listed in the program. The agent says flyers and maps describing the 12 farms and showing their locations may be obtained from the extension office.

Merchants Win Pair of Games

BRITTON — The Britton Merchants won two games last week in the Deerfield Recreation League, squeezing by the R. K. J. Restaurant, 10-9, and blasting Deerfield State Bank, 13-9.

The Merchants' record now stands 5-7.

The first contest saw the Merchants score 5 runs in the 5th inning, including a 2-run homer by Gordie Henning, which proved to be the winning margin.

Gordie collected two hits as did Tom Komon and Larry Ivan.

John Korican was the winning hurler.

The Merchants pounded out 19 hits in the second game, outscoring Deerfield State Bank, 13-9.

John Korican unloaded a 3-run homer in the 6th inning that put the game out of reach.

Tom Komon had four hits, including a double, triple and a pair of singles.

Tom Cadmus and Terry Godzina connected for three hits each for the winning cause. Ken Ivan was credited for the pitching victory.

Pvt. E/2 Keith L. Crutchfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield, 240 N. Main St., Britton, is spending a 19-day leave with his parents and visiting relatives and friends. He took his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and recently completed advanced training for Military Police at Ft. Gordon, Ga. He will report August 11 at Ft. Lewis, Wash., for asignment in Vietnam. Pvt. Crutchfield is a 1967 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and worked at GM Hydramatic plant in Ypsilanti prior to entering the service.

Can You Help Johnny?

Johnny is an early teen boy who really is pretty smart. Trouble is he has a habit of running away from situations too large for him to handle. Johnny would not be the easiest kid in the world to have around. (Don't forget, he's smart) but, he would really be a challenge. Anyone who saves Johnny from a life of ducking responsibility, would know he has acomplished something.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

It seems as though every year at this time there is trouble concerning Little League Baseball whether it be the irate parents, the unfair umpires or quibbling and quitting coaches.

I don't pretend to take sides with anyone seeing I am writing as a parent of a boy who enjoys baseball and on a major league team, plus I was a physical education instructor. I do feel, however, it is too bad my boy, along with many others, cannot enjoy some good games with a terrific learning experience derived from major league ball without parents bickering, coaches fighting, etc.

About the coaches—Mr. Swain was the only "qualified" or professional coach that was coaching one of these teams. The rest of the coaches, ones that coach as a "pastime", who volunteer their free time and services, are not professionals by any means. These men who coach the ball teams are hard to find and I give a big hand to them as our boys wouldn't be playing organized ball if the "pastime" coaches wouldn't volunteer their services. For a "qualified" coach, maybe this wasn't the place for Mr. Swain to be working. I do not feel any coach, however, is a professional coach if he cannot be loyal to his team by staying with them. Any professional person takes hasseling from irate parents and other people in business but does not quit his job if he has any love for his job and especially love for children.

In my job I had irate parents on my back but yet I felt loyal enough to my job and children to ignore the letters and talk to continue in the job I really liked, merely because of the children and field I was in. One has to learn to take a lot of bitter with the sweet.

As for the parents — I do feel there are parents who go to the ball games that maybe do not belong there. We go to every game and enjoy watching the boys play, win or lose. These little fellas have to learn to lose as well as win but how are they going to learn good sportsmanship by listening to all the arguing among the adults. We finally think our son takes the losses well after almost one whole year of ball last year in the Majors but how can one illustrate good sportsmanship to a child with some of the examples shown at the diamond? We just hope he will ignore the yelling and arguing among parents and coaches.

The umpires — well I would hate to be one of them. These boys are high school boys who are, like the players, learning from experience. Sometimes the professional umpire, referees and what have you, make mistakes. No one is perfect but the umpires catch it from both sides, coaches and parents. This 17-year-old is trying hard especially when there is only one umpire per game. It is pretty rough to keep track of everyone on the playing field plus parents and coaches jumping down on the necks at the same time. Put yourself in his position the next time you jump an umpire and imagine how it would feel. Sure the 17-year-old also has to learn to take criticism but he is not a professional either so do people have to be so nasty in their criticism?

Maybe we should go back to sandlot ball with no coaches, parents and umpires. There wouldn't be the bickering but also there wouldn't be the helpful hints from coaches and umpires and the fun of playing in front of an audience such as mom, dad and grandparents.

I would like to refer all readers to a terrific article written in the July, '69, McCall's magazine titled, "The Case Against Little League Mothers." It only takes about 15 minutes of your time but it's worth it. I read it and it helped!

Sally Whelan.

Jaycees' Gals

The July meeting of the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary was held July 23 at the home of Mrs. Robert Murray.

An hour of swimming, followed by a potluck supper, preceded the meeting with 12 members and one guest attending.

The proceeds of the ice cream social held during Tecumseh's Sidewalk Sale were designated for the Judy Fielder Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Dwight Helms presented a program of movies taken of the National Jaycee Convention, held in Louisville, Ky.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Betty Crocker coupons are still being collected by the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary for the statewide kidney machine project. Canisters are located at United Savings Bank and Ken-Ray Drug.

Top Notchers Date Change

Due to a conflict with a Teen Club Dance July 29, the Tecumseh Top Notchers and their families will hold their potluck picnic Aug. 5 at 6:15 at the Community Center.

Chief Murell Clark and his wife will be guests.

Bring meat, dish to pass and own table service.

Coffee and punch will be furnished.

Five Golfers Remain On Tourney Top

Club matches at the Macon Golf Club are through the third week with five players remaining in both the championship and first flight brackets, six in each of the second and third flights, and 12 in the fourth flight.

Winners to date include Clyde Gunder, Bob Beevers, R. Willis, Charlie Lauer and R. Vershum, in the championship flight.

First flight winners are C. Allen, S. Forgacs, P. Hollar, J. Morris and J. Orick; second flight, T. Cunningham, C. Carpenter, H. King, W. Reum, E. Yoakum and L. Wright; third flight, E. Koscho, L. Phibbs, C. Lantz, L. Milheim, Hampton and G. Harrison.

Twelve players in the fourth flight are R. Hunt, C. Lenz, D. Colson, S. Hamilton, R. Frost, F. Crane, F. McHenry, J. Powell, E. Groom, B. Ornholt, L. Laslo and T. Cadmus.

Extension Ladies Hold Barbecue

Macon Extension Club's annual chicken barbecue and picnic was hosted by Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, with Mrs. Herbert Gilmore assisting, July 15.

Mrs. Charles Riccia, chairman, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Mills Swick and Mrs. Delta Croll are assisting at the Adrian Fair exhibit. They ask anyone who is able to take a turn sitting at the exhibit to please notify them.

One of the members, Mrs. Don Mueller and daughter, Penny, placed third in the State nongranger Sewing contest.

Mrs. Walter Prill reported that she purchased and sent a departing gift to Mrs. John Buckles, former secretary of the club and treasurer.

Mrs. Delta Croll told of her recent three-week trip to several interesting spots in the West.

A club tour is being planned for the group in August. No regular meeting will be held.

The next meeting will be Sept. 23 at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Don Mueller with Mrs. Percy Cadmus assisting.

Couple on Tour of the Old West

Recently home from a trip through the Northwest to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. Lawrence Gray and two daughters, Lisa and Sherry, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LeFevre would like to share their itinerary.

En route, a stop at the Badlands of South Dakota yielded a helicopter ride over the area. They passed through Yellowstone Park — surprised to see snow plows clearing the road from a recent snowfall, and glad it wasn't Tecumseh.

Nature lovers would revel at LoLo Springs, Mont., where they stayed in a National Forest Park. Following the Columbia River Valley, they marveled at the roadways carved right out of the valley walls.

Proceeding to Tacoma, Wash., they were present as the first servicemen arrived from Vietnam at McChord Air Base, where Lt. Gray is stationed.

Heights got a little daring as they visited Mt. Ranier then traveled down the Coastal Hwy. 101. Arriving at Gold Beach, Ore., they embarked on a jet-propelled boat and traveled up the Range River to Agnes, a ghost town, and an old-time family dinner.

Fresh salmon was on the menu after a tour through a salmon cannery. They passed through the Avenue of the Giants, delighted at the wonders of the huge redwoods.

The LeFevres were guests of former Tecumseh residents, Dr. and Mrs. Malcom Bagshaw and family, presently residing in Palo Alto, Calif. The Bagshaws are both members of the Stanford University medical school faculty. Malcom is a Professor of Radiology and Director of the Radiation Therapy Division there. He is one of the chief consultants on cancer treatment on the West coast.

The Golden Gate Bridge, Fisherman's Grotto, Alcatraz, Chinatown and the cable cars were visited. Traveling through Squaw Valley and past Lake Tahoe, they visited Virginia City, Nev., famous through the TV show, "Bonanza".

Rejoining the Gray's in Wyoming where they will be stationed for the coming two years —the Lieutenant will be in command of an Air Force installation there — the two families viewed the Moon Walk.

Having returned home, the log records 6,938 miles on the odometer of their Dodge house car and 9,340 feet above sea level while in the Big Horn Mountains of Wyoming. It might be called a long, high journey.

Recreation News

By JACKIE RODGERS AND LINDA YOUNG

If you drove by a playground last week, you probably noticed a lot of dogs, cats and other animals accompanying the children in their activities. This is not unusual as last week was pet week. The main events of the week were held on Wednesday and Thursday.

Wednesday was stuffed animal day. Everyone brought their favorite stuffed animal and participated in the contest where the following arose as winners:

Herrick Park — smallest, Joe Kitson; most talented, Joe Kitson; cutest, Sherry Fielder; most unusual, Sam Smith.

Patterson — smallest, Judy Brum; most talented, Johnny Prettyman; cutest, Phillip Wanzick and Shelly Kruger; most unusual, Jon Brooks; largest, Sherry Royal.

West Branch — smallest, Randy Gray; cutest, George Shaw; largest, Scott Winsterd; most unusual, Mark Pearson; most talented, Nena Murphy.

Tecumseh Acres — smallest, Mary Shorkey; cutest, Lori Brooks; largest, Kim Ryan; most unusual, Colleen Shorkey; most talented, Patty Shorkey.

The climax of the week was held Thursday when everyone brought their live pets. The following are the winners of the pet shows.

Tecumseh Acres — largest, Laura's dog; smallest, Mary Shorkey's fish; most talented, Lori Brooks' dog; most unusual, Dan Tilton's goose; cutest, Larry Hallenback's dog.

West Branch — most talented, Scott and Sandy Winsted; largest, Billy Gray; smallest, Sandy Pate; cutest, Nena Murphy; most unusual, Jo and Randy Gray.

Patterson — largest, Mike Young's "Duke"; smallest, Sarah Bick's "Kocan"; most talented, Greg Young's "Tammy"; most unusual, Greg Young's "Tammy"; cutest, Sarah Bick's "Kocan"; champion of show, Greg Young's "Tammy".

Herrick Park — smallest, Karen Humphres; cutest, Dawn Millimen; most unusual, Sam Smith; most talented, Tom Fielder; largest, Bob and Steve Cheers.

The week ended with their picnics Friday and games of Simon Says being played.

All children who signed up for the trip to the zoo are reminded that their dollar, which includes bus fees and admission, is due Friday.

The Craft Center, held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., has been having a large attendance. Last week most children were occupied by making popsickle stick crafts and mosaic ashtrays. All children are invited to come whenever they are able.

TENNIS

This week's activities centered around a singles tournament among the tennis students. Ina Kelly and Jim Ford emerged as champions of their respective divisions.

Play began with Ina Kelly challenging Nancy Warner. Although Nancy made several outstanding returns during the match, it was Ina's well-placed serves deciding the fate of the match as she felled Nancy, 6-1, 6-2.

Meanwhile Barb Radant and Terese Desmet squared off to provide a close match that Terese eventually won, 6-3, 7-5. Again the ability of each girl to deliver her serve proved to be the deciding factor.

The final match featured Terese Desmet against Ina Kelly. This match was the longest and hardest fought of all those played as Ina rallied to take the last set, 7-5, to upset Teresa, who had won the first set, 6-3, and lost the second, 6-8.

In the most significant and final match in the boys' division, Jim Ford battled Doug Eggleston. Jim's powerful serve overcame the clever, well-placed returns of Doug to beat him, 6-2, 6-1.

PEE WEE GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The Champs upset the Sluggers whom they had beaten twice before. The Champs led most of the way, due to their consistent hitting and errors made by the opposing team. Several girls hit home runs.

JUNIOR GIRLS' SOFTBALL

In recent action the Sluggers defeated the Miracle Workers, 11-6. The Sluggers established an early lead and the Miracle Workers were not able to catch up. Carol Rebottaro, Sue Brown and Ronda Hippard were the leading hitters.

In another game the Sluggers defeated the lollipops.

Diane Lake's Daredevils were double winners in softball action as they defeated both the Miracle Workers and the Lollipops. Cheryl Williams and Elaine Aebersold did most of the pitching, while Elaine, Lydia Torres and Michelle Tate provided the heavy hitting.

The playgrounds were a bit slow last week due to many families going on vacation. "Handicrafts Week" was held, during which time children made leathercrafts, popsicle crafts and sand art projects.

At Patterson School, though, it was a test of strength as the children competed in a realistic track meet as the highlight of their physical fitness week. Exercises were held each day with Lyn Beard leading. Wednesday, the day of the meet, the following athletes arose as champs:

Discus throw — Gloria Fosbender, Lyn Beard.

100-yd. dash — Gloria Fosbender, Jeff Rea.

Javelin throw — Gloria Fosbender, Lyn Beard.

Shoe shuttle relay — Jeff Rea, Gloria Fosbender, Debbie Hamilton.

Punt — Gloria Fosbender, Lyn Beard.

Pass — Gloria Fosbender, Lyn Beard.

Kick — Laurie Hite, Jeff Rea.

Second place —

Punt — Laurie Hite, Jeff Rea.

Pass — Barbie Barron, Lyn Beard.

Kick — Gloria Fosbender, Lyn Beard.

Friday they held a masquerade picnic with children dressed as a variety of things from Sonny and Cher to a quarterback for the Lions. Prizes were won by the following:

1st place — Debbie Hamilton, Gloria Fosbender (as gypsies).

2nd place — Lyn Beard (Lion's quarterback).

3rd place — Scott Gilpin (pirate).

Children who signed up to go to the zoo are reminded they must turn in their dollar by Friday, otherwise their names will be replaced by other children who missed the chance to sign up. The trip to the Toledo Zoo, is next Monday, Aug. 4. We are to meet at the Community Center at 9:00 a.m., and we will return around 4:00 p.m. Children are asked to bring a sack lunch and money for something to drink. The dollar includes the bus fee and admission into the zoo. So if you are planning to attend, be sure to get your dollar in, either at your playground or at the Craft Center.

In Thailand

U. S. Air Force Captain William C. Clary, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Clary, Jr., of 126 Glencrest Dr., Toccoa, Ga., is on duty at Takhli Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Captain Clary, a budget officer, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. He previously served at Robins AFB, Ga.

The captain, a graduate of Toccoa High School, received a B.B.A. degree from the University of Georgia and was commissioned there through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He is a member of Pi Kappa Phi.

His wife, Sarah, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wright of 810 Outer Dr.

Back at Base

Seaman Barry Seidel has returned to San Diego, Calif., after spending a 14-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Preston.

The Prestons flew to San Diego to surprise Barry on his return from West Pack on July 6. Seaman Seidel expects to be in San Diego until Sept. 1.

Inductee Begins Basic Training

Army Pvt. David J. Dustin is assigned to Company D, 12th Battalion, 5th Brigade, at Ft. Knox, Ky., in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA).

He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army — firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. Dustin, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard E. Dustin, 309 N. Union St., will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Wit and Wisdom Food For Thought

Wit and Wisdom clubbers are planning on food for thought as their annual picnic is scheduled for Monday, August 4, at Hidden Lake Gardens. The picnic will be potluck with meat provided. The chairman, Mrs. Herbert Munger, asks members and guests to be ready to dig in at 6 p.m. Please bring a dish to pass and table service.

Croswell Comedy is Funny Show

By BILL SANFORD

The Croswell Opera House rounded out their gamut of theatrics last Thursday with the opening of Woody Allen's satirical farce, "Don't Drink the Water". It was a funny lesson in diplomatic shenanigans with true love winding up in the arms of a bungling, bumbling bureaucracy. The ships of state passed in the night and the question remained: can a little white rabbit find happiness in the arms of a clergyman with diplomatic immunity?

The plot centers around a trio of visiting Americans to a country behind the Iron Curtain. The trio, mother, Marion Hollander (Lynn Miller), daughter, Susan Hollander (Susan Wentz) and Papa Walter Hollander (Paul Schierhorn), a caterer.

Papa Hollander is caught by the nasty Reds and one Mr. Krojack (Jeffry R. Wagner) taking photos of a missile site, a chase follows and the Hollanders and Co. scamper into the American Embassy which is being manned by Ambassador Magee (Craig Collicott) and his son, Axel (Dean Kyburz) around which revolves the funny situation.

The Hollanders, staying for a visit at the Embassy while American diplomacy attempts to exchange a noted Russian spy for the New Jersey caterer, his wife and daughter, come across a priest, Father Drobney, (Joe Balsanek) and a eager beaver in the state department, Kilroy, (Guy Miller).

The switch never comes as the spy kills himself and the Hollanders are left to Father Drobney's attempt at escape. The priest, who has lived at the embassy for six years, is constantly practicing his magic tricks.

An escape is finally effected with the help of a potted Sultan of Bashir and his first wife (Alan Rust and Marilyn Levine).

Susie stays behind to follow the Axel Magee of Totoland into a plague of locusts.

The entire cast had fun doing the performance necessary to carry off the spoof on the cold war. Schierhorn came across the footlights as Hollander like a mighty walrus parting the waves. He gave an extremely capable performance.

Lynn Miller as the mother and Susan Wentz as the daughter, both complimented the illustrious father. Miss Miller has an extremely adept voice for comedy and Miss Wentz oogled and wiggled her way through her role as the Little Red Riding Hood touring Russia with Mama and Papa Bear.

Dean Kyburz as the object of Susie's affection does an admirable job of under-acting. This balanced out the playing of some of the other actors in the production.

Over-acting and under-acting is necesary in comedy such as this and the actors worked or perhaps did it accidentally to achieve a perfect blend of the two.

Joe Balsanek as Father Drobney was exceptional. His scene where the chef (George Spelvin, Jr.) has taken his rabbit, used by the priest in magic tricks, for cooking purposes was one of the most hilarious of the show. A chase followed somewhat on the order of the Keystone Kops of Mack Sennet days.

Also a scene where Schierhorn is talking on the phone, the priest is caught in a straight jacket, Miss Miller attempt to free him and they both become entangled in a wrestling match on the floor.

Both scenes were well done visual comedy and gave the audience belly laughs galore.

Guy Miller gives one of the better performances of the year as Kilroy, a lesser role in a show with many. After falling on Mrs. Hollander's waxed floor, being shot by Hollander and hit on the head by a brick he assumes the dual personality of the Wright Brothers in a very funny scene. A series of humorous lines were lost in the opening night performances through failure to hold for laughter, the Yiddish dialect adopted by the Hollanders who threw away a few lines, but more than enough were saved to give opening nighters a chance to howl.

Wagner, Collicott, Rust, Miss Levine and Marianne Wagner, who appeared briefly, are members of the core company along with the main characters in the play, and performed ably to the tasks.

Others appearing were Robert Beadle, Dave Dossette, Lupe Flores.

The production was directed by George Spelvin, Jr., assisted by Glenn Harbaugh.

Scenic design was by Jeffrey Wagner and was some hindrance to the actors. Lighting was by Diane Frank.

Two more performances of the play will be August 7 and 8.

Anti-Submarine Warfare Studied

Sonar Technician 3/C Gregory A. Luce, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Luce, of Tipton, is attending Fleet Anti-Submarine Warfare School in San Diego, Calif.

The school provides students with a comprehensive education in the various weapons and electronics system used to track and destroy enemy submarines.

Navymen attending the school are furnished with the necessary academic background and practical experience to cope with the maintenance and operation of complex weapons and electronics equipment in use on modern Navy ships.

Linda Sinkey Weds Michael Wolf

Linda Carol Sinkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sinkey, of Tecumseh, became the bride of Michael James Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wolf, of Oak Park, in a ceremony performed by Rev. Paul Brantingham at 4 p.m., Saturday, July 26, in the new Tecumseh Friends Church.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She was wearing a floor length A-line gown of organza silhouette with a scalloped sabrina neckline of Alencon lace and short lace sleeves and pearl trim. The lace continued down the front of the dress and around the hem. Her veil was a chapel length imported illusion mantilla edged with lace.

MRS. MICHAEL JAMES WOLF

Janice J. Sinkey of New York, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor length turquoise empire sheath of chiffon over taffeta which had a round neckline with short pleated puffed sleeves and a flowing back. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with contrasting ribbons.

Jacklyn Beth Sinkey, sister of the bride, attired in a pink gown styled like maid of honor, Nancy Jo Sinkey, sister of the bride, wore a yellow gown and Janet Wolfe, sister of the groom, in a green gown were bridesmaids.

Gary Stokes of Ypsilanti, a friend of the couple, served as best man. Vincent Annichini of Dearborn Heights, Clifford Sehreiner of Ypsilanti and Bruce Cubbin of Detroit were the ushers.

Miss Kerri Lynn Donovan of Livonia, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a peach gown patterned after the bridesmaid gowns and carried a miniature bouquet like the bridesmaids.

Camron Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cook, of Tecumseh, was the ring bearer. Alice Van Wambeher of Ypsilanti played the organ and Dr. Oscar Henry, professor at Eastern Michigan University, was the soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. George Meads of Tecumseh were the host and hostess at a recention held immediately after the wedding in the basement of the church. The basement was decorated to carry out the colors of the bridal party. The cake table was especially decorated with white net and flowers by Mrs. Eloise Jannuzzi of Saline.

Mrs. James Danforth poured at the recention. Mrs. James Dart, Mrs. Michael Cook, Mrs. Kenneth Emery and Kathy Donovan assisted.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday night at Don's Beef Buffet by the groom's parents.

The bride is a senior at Eastern Michigan University, majoring in vocal music and is affiliated with Phi Mu Epsilon International Professional Music Sorority. The groom, also a senior at EMU is an instrumental music major and is affiliated with Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonio of America and Kappa Kappa Psi honorary band fraternity.

After a honeymoon in Michigan, the couple will live at F-9, Pine Grove Terrace in Ypsilanti, Michigan.

MRS. RAY HANDY

Elizabeth Schofield Is Wed To Ray Handy

Elizabeth Schofield, daughter of Mrs. Irene Schofield and the late Louis Schofield, and Ray Handy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Handy, 13606 Sharon Hollow Rd., Manchester, were united in marriage by the Rev. B. O. Bashore Saturday, July 26, at 7:30 p.m.

The First Baptist Church in Tecumseh was graced with bouquets of gladiolias centered around the altar with two candle operas. Pews were marked with green fern framing a large white bow.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her uncle, Donald Garden, in a floor length, white chantilly lace bouffant silhouette gown. A Basque bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline and long sleeves were featured on the gown. Four tiered ruffles cascaded down the back.

Miss Schofield's illusion veil was secured to lace petals sprinkled with seed pearls and crystals. She wore white pearls and carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Mrs. Larry Ziegler, sister of the bride from Maderia Beach, Fla., was matron of honor in an A-line empire yellow chiffon and lace gown. A yellow petal head piece accented with seed pearls and sequins secured a double tier of net which skimmed the bows on the shouilders of the gown.

Her aqua-tinted daisies were graced with aqua velvet streamers.

Mrs. Kenneth Poley, friend of the bride from Dundee, and Mrs. Ronald Andrews, friend of the bride, from Tipton, were bridesmaids in aqua gowns fashioned as the matron of honor. She carried yellow daisies with yellow velvet streamers.

Roger Handy served as his brother's best man. James Farden, cousin of the bride, from Clinton and Ellie Pepkins were ushers.

Reception was held at the IOOF Hall and dinner was served for guests numbering 250. The bride's table was white with blue and white streamers and bells and flowers.

Mrs. Ellie Pepkins, Mrs. Roger Handy and Mrs. Curtis Isom assisted at the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Teeumseh High School and is presently employed at Fisher Body. The groom, a Clinton High School graduate, is in the Marine Corps.

The couple is planning a delayed honeymoon for September. The bride will reside with her mother at 409 W. Cummins while her husband is stationed in California.

57 Racers Qualify

By NANCY MARTIN

Fifty-seven of the finest race cars around were qualified at Manchester Speedway Friday with Don Taylor's time of 19.08 the fastest. With half of our season remaining, the top five in point standings are:

1. Don Taylor, Brooklyn 3065
2. L. J. Stemen, Hillsdale ..2070
3. Jim Stemen, Hillsdale 1540
4. Bill Younkin, Jackson 1475
5. Dick Crup, Hudson 1220

Harold Reynolds led all the way to take the win in the first heat. Bill Younkin battled from the back of the pack for second place, followed by Howard Woodman and Taylor. In the second heat, Gary Rhoades started on the pole and stayed out in front to the checkered flag, followed closely by Don Lyons, Jerry Evilsizer and Bill Kopka.

The third heat saw Junior Gary do a fine job of driving, passing everyone for the win over Butch Moull, Jim Shook, and Allen Teubert. Winning the fourth heat was Paul Whitaker, with second place going to Larry Leidle; third and fourth to Larry Michaels and Dick Slagle. Art Call took the win in the fifth heat, chased by Art Kimball, Roger Boyer and Jack Wirth.

The pursuit was fast, with half the cars remaining at the finish. Reynolds again started on the pole and took the win over Woodman. Sam Henson and Jack Sharp.

Anything and everything happened in the semi: On the seventh lap the race was stopped as four cars got tangled up with Butch Moull rolling. He was not hurt but out of the race. Paul Whitaker from Tipton, in his red No. 104 was first with Jim Shook on his back bumper for second, Jim Martin, third; Buck LoPresto, fourth and Wirts, fifth.

The feature had its share of spins, but nothing serious. Taylor took the big win of the night, followed by Younkin, Sharp, Crup and Don Earles.

According to the men, women are good at wrecking cars; next Friday, Aug. 1, will show how good they are. Manchester Speedway announces the first "Ladies' Destruction Derby".

Class of '73 on Their Way

Half of Western Michigan University's class of 1973 has completed their three-day summer orientation. Included on the roster are three area students, Gary Rader, Staib Rd., Nancy Vreeland and Margaret Ruth Hagans, of Britton.

This program was instituted to get first-year students into the groove of hunting for classes, confronting professors, suffering through a battery of tests, and meeting with their counselors, and fall registration.

The students were housed in campus residence halls and were able to meet other new students. They also attended seminars given by upperclassmen about their views of college life.

The engagement of Bonnie Elaine Nichols to Wendell Wade Petty is announced by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cote, 4393 Comfort Rd. Both are 1969 graduates of Tecumseh High School. Miss Nichols is presently employed at Tempo Department Store. Mr. Petty is employed at Tecumseh Products. An August 29 wedding is planned.

She Completes Audubon Camp

Mrs. Thelma Frayer, of 5485 Palmer Hwy., Britton, last Friday completed a two-week course in field biology and conservation at the Audubon Camp of Wisconsin in Sarona, Wis.

Mrs. Frayer was among the more than 900 laymen, teachers and adult conservation leaders who, enrolled in an Environmental Education course at one of the National Audubon Society's workshops this summer.

Mrs. Frayer participated in studies this summer which included animal life, birds, plants and geology.

REACT Emergencies

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Lenawee Emergency Volunteers affiliated with REACT (Radio Emergency Associated Citizens Team) made themselves useful to the Adrian City Police during and after the July 4 storm.

"They were very helpful with directing traffic and cleaning the streets," Detective Jes Irish remarked as he told of the assistance the Department received from local C. B.'ers.

We really needed them with help at the city barns on strike or sick leave or whatever you call it,' he continued.

When asked, if in case of disaster, the LEV would be called, Detective Irish said, "They'll be here but I doubt that we will need to call them, they are strictly volunteer, you know, and they are on top of things all the time."

Jack Dillon, president of the "hard hats", worked with the police department, placing his car with citizens band base unit radio just outside the station and directing a head captain and two men in each area from there

The men wear yellow hard hats as they watch for severed or "hot" electric wires, falling tree limbs and clear roads with their chain saws.

The group became organized following the Palm Sunday tornado in 1965 and has approximately 150 members throughout Lenawee County.

Other officers besides Mr. Dillon, of Adrian, are:

Vice-president — Carl Fick, of Blissfield.

2nd vice-president — Wayne Carpenter, Tecumseh.

Secretary — Nancy Yoder, Adrian.

Treasurer — Roy Blaser, Tecumseh.

Membership chairman — Ken Beevers, Tecumseh.

Other members of the executive board include Max Brandt, Sye Dillon, Ralph Claytor, Richard Sayers, Earl Daniels, Wayne Wilson, Manitou Beach, Henry Houttekier and Carl Yoder.

The purpose of the organization as listed in the by-laws is — to provide emergency communications and make them available to the law enforcement agencies of the county, to promote public understanding regarding the purpose and availability of this Citizens Band service, to accept contributions of funds, equipment or services in developing and maintaining communications equipment to perform the above-stated services, to promote efficiency and cooperation among the C. B. operators of Lenawee County in performance of this service and to train operators in broadcasting procedures and Federal Communications Commission regulations.

The non-profit organization constantly monitors Channel 9, keeping clear of 17 as an emergency channel for surrounding police departments.

Women are as enthusiastic about CB as their husbands. Mr. Dillon was especially proud of his wife, saying she had laryngitis Saturday night but she was "pretty calm" during the emergency situation for the long hours from 2 p.m. Friday through Saturday at 6 p.m., with only two hours sleep.

Mr. Dillon expressed appreciation to all CB'ers who participated, probably 35 to 40.

The group held a meeting Saturday night on drugs and narcotics with the help of the Sheriff's Department. They learn rescue procedures such as resuscitation, etc. Mrs. Elmer Sliverson, Hudson, is presently editor of the monthly publication of the LEV.

The LEV is not to be confused with the AREC, Amateur Radio Emergency Corps, who is also working in communications in Lenawee County. These people are licensed ham radio operators whose sets project with more power than C. B.'ers use.

Residents of the area can be assured that their safety is a main concern of these two groups who enjoy using both base and mobile units.

EDITOR — MAXINE CALHOUN

Chairman Named To Macon WSCS

MACON — Mrs. Guy Zelluff opened the general meeting of the Macon Women's Society of Christian Service, by reading "He Leadeth Me".

Mrs. Paul Hover of the nominating committee, announced the resignation of Mrs. Eugene Hill as Spiritual Growth chairman. Mrs. Hover presented the name of Mrs. Donald Young to become the new Spiritual Growth chairman. The group voted in her favor.

Thank-you notes were read from Pamela and Robert Haines, for graduation gifts they had received from the society.

The group voted to purchase a cabinet from the Guy Zelluffs, for the parsonage.

The Credit Union annual banquet was discussed.

The Rev. Thomas Badley presented a program on Christian colors and their meaning. He used his liturgical stoles.

He told of purple being the Advent color, sign of distinction, preparation for Christmas and Easter and of green being used for Epiphany and Kingdom, referring to living things, abiding life, peace, rest and constancy and the common color of nature.

Red is used for the Pentecost season depicting the color of sin, blood and spirit of God.

White — stands for purity, used for Easter and Christmas season, and at weddings, communion and baptismals.

Black shows gloom, mourning, darkness and sorrow.

Pastor Badley closed with prayer.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by Mrs. Eugene Hill, Mrs. Charles Gorton, Sr., and Mrs. Myrtle Clark.

Visit to a Lost World

By DEBBIE PURKEY

Ancient, pre-historic life comes alive in authentic, life-size replicas at Prehistoric Forest.

Brave guides man the scout train for a tour through winding trails and deep undergrowth — the natural habitat of creatures who existed on this earth millions of years ago.

Once the train passes through the Time Tunnel, such danger lurks at every turn, that each passenger is armed with dinosaur guns. Even these guns often aren't enough protection against the tough-skinned, scaly monsters that passengers are likely to encounter.

As the 20th century is left behind, the hairy cavemen waving goodby is the last friendly face one is likely to see.

Monsters are ready to pounce on the safari train if it dares disturb their ancient peaceful composure.

A huge praying mantis guards the entrance, poised and menacingly guarding its home. Guides warn passengers against any wrong moves which might transform praying into preying, with people as its main dish.

Baring his teeth at the intrusion of the little red train, a sabre-tooth tiger paws the air furiously, just waiting for a wrong move.

Rumors of a wild cave woman waiting in ambush for scout trains are confirmed as passengers get a peek at a leopard skin-clad lady with spear ready and monster pets on guard lest that guide makes a wrong turn. Sue Dillon of Tipton, and Debbie Reed of Palmyra, as cave-women, take turns attacking the train.

The safari passes a number of other exhibits, a coiled monstrous snake, a baby brontoraurus and Blue Beast. Such terrible monsters are ready to defend themselves against visitors from the 20th century.

A stop in the forest allows passengers to get a glimpse of the Prehistoric Museum. A Neanderthal Man, standing 5'6" and weighing about 200 pounds when full grown, greets you, if it can be called a "greeting". Those deep-set eyes, framed by a sloping forehead, sure don't look friendly.

An interesting exhibit, a prehistoric bird, shows the Diatryma in all his glory. Standing 10' tall and weighing close to 800 pounds, the huge bird, since he was not jet-propelled, could only run. And run he did. His heavy, muscular legs could churn 40 miles per hour.

The most popular of the prehistoric creatures was the Stegasaurus. He is a plated lizard with two brains, one in his head and one in his tail, each controlling its own part of the body.

Resembling our present-day rhinoceros, the triceratops boasts three horns rather than one. He was one of the last creatures to become extinct.

The Anklyosaurus, looks like an elevated turtle, standing 5' high. Spikes protruded from his sides, his only protection against a menacing world for his vulnerable stomach.

Tryannosaurus Rex, king of the dinosaurs, guarded the exit. As he towered over onlookers at 45' tall, it was easy to see why he was called King. His deafening roar and 13' foot long stride could turn anyone chicken, even a dinosaur.

After a grand tour of the Museum, passengers boarded the train to return to the present. Before returning to safety, though, a last menace, the giant Mammoth who guards the entrance, had to be overcome.

Safari guests breathe a sigh of relief as they disembark from the train and exit through the Mammoth Gift Shop. Gifts are available of every kind, shape and color. Boasting moccasins, sweat shirts, pendants, cedar boxes, turquoise and wooden jewelry, surprise packages and nature books, all ages and interests will find something there.

The Forest, owned by Bud Rogers and Bill Pettit, is open each day from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Guests will enjoy an exciting 20 to 25-minute train tour and can browse in the gift shop for $1 for adults and 60c for kids under 12.

Through My Window

THE SUMMER SUNDAY

As far as we three Duncans and one Austin are concerned, summer arrived Sunday, July 13. Oh, I realize that calendars herald June 21st as the beginning of our hot weather season but for us, summer does not truly begin until we can spend a whole Sunday on the porch. This year I was beginning to despair of ever having such a day. Through the week some of the weather has been beautiful, come the weekend though and the floodgates were turned on. Did you ever see such a long stretch of cold and wet and windy and dark Sundays?!

When finally the mold was broken and we had a nice Sunday, it was truly nice. Absolutely beautiful, gorgeous, wonderful, and every other superlative you may like. Sunshine, blue sky, whipped cream clouds, and a lovely breeze — what could be more perfect for our summer Sunday!

As early as possible, the bed was pushed out on the porch and the fun started. The porch is on the north end of my room, has ceiling-to-floor screens on three sides, and the northwest corner is only about three feet from the top of the creek bank. With all of the rain we have had, our beloved Evans Creek is in good shape for this time of year.

It is respectably high and flows along at a merry clip. Our new neighbors, the Carmeans, built a little dam just about where Doctor's bridge used to be and so, in addition to the bubbling talk of our creek as it passes us, we hear its deeper voice as it tumbles over the dam. Such a nice background noise.

Being on the porch is like being in a tree house. Although several years ago we lost the beautiful big elms which lined the creek, there are still maples, mulberries and the lone oak.

These trees have planted their feet low enough on the bank so that, when their trunks are porch high, their leaf-growing branches start. Thus we truly do live in a tree house, a tree house with green, leafy wallpaper on the west end.

★

AFTER THE HUGE elm, which once stood sentinel at the corner of the porch, went, we were amazed at how quickly the gaping hole filled in. Mulberries and maples seemed to race with each other for the open spot and, as for who won, I would almost call it a tie.

Mulberry trees are not, I realize, the most desirable things in the whole world — they are not particularly beautiful, long lived, nor graceful; they do grow fast though and there is character in their gnarled trunks and branches. And the birds love them! For their sake we will gladly put up with a messy lawn, an occasional dirty window, and a few weeks of not hanging clothes on the line.

There is something about birds and mulberries — it cannot be verified but I sometimes think that, after eating their fill of the black colored berries, our birds take target practice to see who can come closest to hitting the center of my window. Their accuracy is amazing.

BUT GETTING back to our first Sunday on the porch. It was a long, leisurely wonderful day of good reading, nice listening to creek talk and bird songs, short visits with friends, and food.

One of the joys of porch living is having breakfast, lunch, and dinner outside. But not way outside — screens are marvelous, they let the outdoors in enough to flavor food but keep interested bugs out.

And, of course, after a full day on the porch there comes the unbeatable summer evening. The sunset on July 13th was, quite truthfully, nothing spectacular. The evening, however, was warm and the air soft.

A gentle breeze, which rustled through the trees, made them whisper as if in accompaniment to the creek talk and oh, how good it felt, too. As darkness fell, out came the fireflies. Thousands and thousands of them.

Their little white-green lights flashed everywhere. Before any of us could believe it, the hands of the clock had flown around and were pointing to 10 o'clock. Monday was a work day —

So it is that after a long, long wait, summer finally did arrive and we three Duncans and one Austin certainly made the most of our first summer Sunday.

"Down Beat" at Drive-In

The new film, "Down Beat", is being brought back to the screen at Devil's Lake for one more weekend, Aug. 2 and 3.

Many have voiced their opinion that this is the best picture ever shown at the Drive-In. "Down Beat" is a Ken Anderson film with original music by Ralph Carmichael. "Down Beat" is labeled a film for this kind of world — for young people wild-eyed in search of identity.

Saturday programs begin at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday programs at 9:15 p.m. The Devil's Lake Drive-In is located on the south end of Devil's Lake. There is no admission charge.

Air Medal Recipient

U. S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Leroy W. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Radant, 210 Iroquoise Dr., has received the Air Medal for air action in Vietnam.

Sgt. King, a flight engineer at Tuy Hoa Air Base, was cited for his outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions under hazardous conditions. He is in a unit of the Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service.

The sergeant is a graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHO AND WHAT AM I?

God's Word tells you that you are a Spiritual being who lives in a Physical body. You were created in the image of God which means the ability to think, to will and to choose. This gives great dignity to your life. See Genesis 1:27.

You are here because God has a purpose for you. His purpose is that you might Glorify Him. God is honored when you do His will, promote His Kingdom and enjoy with Thankfulness His Blessings.

Life is very full and meaningful when we are in harmony with His Plan. See I Corinthians 10: 31. Where you are going depends on how you have been living.

God could have made us in such a way that we could only do what is pleasing to Him. He pleased God in His wisdom to make us with a free choice.

If we had used the gift of free choice to choose for God, life on earth would have been a perfect existence. But we choose to rebel against God. We do not Glorify God. We prefer to promote self. We are inclined to evil.

Since God cannot tolerate evil, there is only one just result; continued existence (since we are spiritual beings) in a place of punishment. See II Thessalonians 1:8.

But God refuses to let His creation end in failure. He has provided a way through which man may regain his position of true manhood. This is by Faith in Jesus Christ. See John 3:16.

Choose the way of life. Read your Bible.

City Suggests Changing Plans for New Box Co. Construction

Unless Tecumseh Corrugated Box officials agree to alter their construction plans, a building permit to allow the company to expand as planned apparently will not be issued.

Council discussed the Tecumseh Box request for expansion Monday evening but only two — Councilmen William Holmes and Donald Sunderland — spoke in favor of the company's plans.

City Manager Cal Zorn told Council that he had met with Box officials Monday morning and was told by James Robideau, company president, that Tecumseh Box would not take its case to the Board of Appeals, last resort for a petitioner for a building permit and who has been turned down by the city.

The city manager told Council that a letter from him and some suggestions would be taken into consideration by the company. He said Box officials would reply within two weeks.

Council briefly discussed the company's expansion plans and suggested that the company could revise its plans.

Mr. Holmes remarked that the company undoubtedly know its own problems better than Council and questioned Council's intrusion into the company's building program without being aware of the needs.

Councilman Dr. Carlton Cook said allowing the company to front on another street to meet zoning requirements was a "poor solution" and supported the present city statute governing industrial expansions here.

Mr. Sunderland pointed out that the ordinance does have a loop hole and probably should be re-written. Dr. Cook inferred the ordinance was satisfactory and would object to any change.

City Clerk Vera Zornow read a letter from the city manager to the company. In his letter, Mr. Zorn said a building permit would be allowed for certain stages of the company's program, but that he would have to deny a permit for the initial stage.

Tecumseh Box's first stage would be [illegible] expansion to within a foot of its property line on S. Evans St. A second stage, which would probably be constructed at the same time, would be additional offices.

The company had hoped to start construction this fall. Dr. Cook said new construction there would not look pretty, and that we would have a "poor looking city if we allowed people to build as they please."

Several Councilmen objected to The Herald's printing of the company's plans before Council had a chance to review it. Mr. Zorn told the newspaper last week that he did not plan to bring the matter before the city fathers since the company's request for a building permit was in violation of an ordinance, and that the proper procedure was to deny the permit and ask the company if it wanted to take its case before the Board of Appeals.

City's Reply To Building Permit Request

August 4, 1969

Clarence Hanthorn
Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co.
P. O. Box 427
Tecumseh, Michigan 49286

Dear Mr. Hanthorn:

This is in reply to your request for a building permit covering several additions to your plant on Evans St.

We cannot issue a permit covering expansion areas to be started at a date further than a year in the future.

After checking over the layout plans you have furnished us, we see no reason why permits would not be issued in the future for area numbers 3, 4 and 5. Area number 2 would be permitted under Section 1500 Note (e) of our Zoning Ordinance dated September 7, 1965.

However, before we can issue any permit we must have in addition to the layout plans, working plans for the area involved.

We regret to advise you that we must deny a permit for the east 10 feet of area number 1, which is approximately 6% of the total area you have requested permits for, because it is not conforming to Section 1500 — Schedule of Regulations, Minimum Yard Setback (front) of our Zoning Ordinance.

However, we would like to suggest two alternate layouts shown on the enclosed print, that would comply with our Zoning Ordinance and still give you the same square feet of additional floor space.

(1) Add 60 feet to the south end of Revised Area No. 1, which would then be 45' x 324', a total of 14,580 sq. ft.

(2) Add 26 feet to the south end of Revised Area No. 1 and proposed area No. 3. Revised Area No. 1 would then be 45' x 290', a total of 13,050 sq. ft.; Area No. 3 would then be 58' x 125', a total of 7250 sq. ft.

By turning a key machine or the direction of flow of material 90° you should be able to utilize either of the above suggestions.

As you know, your recourse to our denial of your request for a building permit for Area No. 1 is to request a hearing from the Board of Appeals. We have enclosed appropriate forms for this purpose.

If you wish to discuss this matter further before going to the Board of Appeals, please feel free to contact us.

Respectfully yours,
CALVIN ZORN
City Manager.

NEW PRINCIPAL — Ralph Block, 36, of Warren, has been employed by the Tecumseh Public Schools as principal for Patterson and Tipton elementary schools. He succeeds Earl Greene, who died last month. Mrs. Block accompanied her husband here Tuesday. They have three youngsters.

Board Rejects Land Transfer

A request to transfer approximately 50 acres from the Clinton School District into the Tecumseh district was rejected by the Lenawee County Board of Education Monday evening.

Supt. James McDowell says the reason for turning the request down was because William Powell, owner of the property, did not attend the meeting. The school official said it was not necessary, however, for Mr. Powell, local real estate broker, to attend the meeting.

Tuesday, Mr. Powell said he would attend next month's session, and it is understood one or two other property owners just north of Tecumseh also will attend September's meeting and seek a transfer to the Tecumseh district.

Ned Swift, Sutton Rd. resident, asked the Board why it transferred the Martaloch property recently and not transfer Powell's? Answers were reportedly vague and evasive.

Supt. Richard Wegner and Don Geiger of Clinton attended the meeting and opposed the transfer of Powell's land, located just north of Meyers Airport.

A request to transfer the property of Harley G. and Marian L. Harris from the Tecumseh district to Britton was tabled.

Businessman Is Injured

Forest Abner, 54, of 808 Outer Dr., escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when he lost control of a motor bike on N. Van Buren.

The local businesman told Tecumseh police he was not sure how the accident occurred, but it's believed that he had been riding the bike, made by the Thomas Co., Clinton, in a field just west of the street.

He jumped the curb at the street and skidded about 30 feet before spilling. He suffered extensive facial and body lacerations and was held overnight at Herrick Hospital for observation.

His daughter, Jane Abner, also was riding a similar bike at the time but did not see the mishap. Mr. Abner was bleeding profusely when discovered and was practically unconscious in the street.

Other accidents checked last week by the local police were:

Aug. 1 — Maria Trevino, 8333 Ford Rd., reported her car damaged while parked at Fabricare. Other driver is unknown.

Aug. 4 — Gladys R. Rohweder, 408 Marlboro Ct., ran into the rear of an auto driven by G. Maxwell Smith, 1707 Wamplers Lake Rd., Brooklyn, at the intersection of E. Chicago and Ottawa St.

Fence Is Okayed for Nelson Field

Council authorized the purchase and installation of a cyclone fence on the south side of Nelson Field at a cost of $664.

The fence will be four feet high and will be bought from Tecumseh Fence Co.

City Manager Cal Zorn was asked to check with neighbors around Elliott Park — site of the Scout cabin — about sharing costs for a similar fence there.

Total cost for Elliott Park would be $795.

Zorn Reports 'Black' 1968-69

Cal Zorn, city manager, reported to Council Monday evening that the city finished the 1968-69 fiscal year with $37,000 in the general fund.

Approximately $22,000 is earmarked for a building fund, leaving $15,000 in reserve.

Praises Council

City Council was praised via letter Monday night by Robert D. Moore, Rogers Hwy. resident, who suffered from a fire loss recently.

He thanked officials here for their cooperation with Raisin Township and for attaining an agreement with the township's board for providing fire service to the northern portion of the township.

Teenagers Dedicating Club for 'Sam' Friday

By BILL WHITING

Several months ago, things looked pretty bleak for the Tecumseh Teen Club. The local youth group had no constitution, no leader, little support, and not much money.

The city's only sponsor of teenage recreation faced the possibility of calling it quits.

Today, the organization has even less money, but the efforts and determination of the young people, with adult encouragement, have improved the situation.

Ceremonies at the Community Center Friday evening at 8:00, Aug. 8, will mark the first big step in the Teen Club's bid for a new image. Civic and youth leaders will participate in dedicating the newly-redecorated hall in memory of Sam Brooks, last year's president, killed in a motorcycle accident in May.

The teens have been working on this project throughout the summer and have spent considerable time and money in its realization.

There's little doubt that the club has much to do before they get back on their feet, but the local youths have come a long way.

Participating in Friday evening's ceremonies will be the Rev. B. O. Bashore, Mayor Harold Easton, Harvey Schmidt, Bill Whiting and Monica Hoffman.

Local citizens are invited to attend, especially members of the service clubs, who have been instrumental in their support of the youths.

A special dance will be held at 8:30 following the dedication, featuring the "Ohio Power". Admission to the dance will be $1.00 for members and $1.50 for nonmembers. New membership cards will be on sale.

TEENS TURN ON — Monica Hoffman, president of the Teen Club, and Ruth Velandra are among the local youths currently engaged in remodeling the group's hall at the Community Center. The Teen Club is in the process of reorganization and has worked on the hall during the summer months. They're hustling to have it finished in time for a big dedication dance Friday night at 8 p.m.

Bauer Super Slide Grand Opening

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth VanDoren and Mr. and Mrs. James Spooner announce the Grand Opening of the Bauer Super Slide next to Bauer Manor on Evans Lake.

The picture of the Super Slide on the Irish Hills Page will entitle the holder to one ride on the gigantic slide Friday or Saturday, August 8 or 9.

Thousands of tourists in the Irish Hills enjoyed the big slide Sunday. It is open every day from 9 a.m. until 11 p.m.

Bids Are Let for $85,000

Low bids, amounting to about $85,000, were approved by Council Monday evening for the construction of a new well and water lines, just north of Tecumseh.

Contracts were offered to Dunbar Drilling of Swanton, O.; Bales Trucking, Adrian, and Ellis & Ford Mfg., Detroit.

John Seeley, city engineer from Ann Arbor, explained the bids to the Councilmen, and, along with City Manager Cal Zorn, recommended the acceptance of the low bids.

Mr. Seeley said work would start almost immediately and tests could be performed on the new well about two weeks later. He said an eight-inch test well has indicated a good source of water.

The water main will extend from the site just north of the new Friends Church, across the church property and land owned by the Russell Cheevers to a hookup point at Red Mill Dr. and N. Evans St.

Dallas Now Sole Owner

Final transfer of interest in Les Dallas, Inc., was completed last Friday when dealer Les Dallas purchased the final interest in the auto agency from Harvey Wilson.

The Dodge-Rambler agency was established here over two years ago when Mr. Dallas gained controlling interest in the business. At this time, the agency dropped the Plymouth line of Chrysler products and added Dodge.

Mr. Dallas says the agency will continue as in the past, and that Mr. Wilson's customers will continue to enjoy the same services and courtesies.

Meadows Named to Appeals Board

J. W. "Pat" Meadows, president of United Savings Bank, was appointed to the Board of Appeals by Council Monday night.

He succeeds Fred Dickinson, who, according to Mayor Harold Easton, wanted to be replaced on the board.

Robert Bonner, former councilman, was re-appointed to the board.

2 Fire Alarms

A burning mattress summoned Tecumseh firemen to 121 S. Ottawa St., Monday. Smoke and water damages were reported.

Tuesday, firemen extinguished a straw fire at the Lyle Riddell farm, Saline-Macon Rd. Damages were estimated at $550.

Jerry Coffey Hospitalized

Jerry Coffey, veteran grocer and owner of Jerry's Market on N. Evans St., was stricken with an apparent heart attack Monday evening while at work.

He is currently in the intensive care unit at Herrick Hospital.

Mr. Coffey has often been the sole owner-employee working at the market, putting in long hours, seven days a week. He recently took a week's vacation, but spent it painting his home on Iroquois St.

The market is being kept open during the day by his wife, daughter and son.

Teacher Resigns at Tecumseh Acres

Linda Kuney, fourth grade teacher at Tecumseh Acres Elementary School, has resigned, according to Supt. James McDowell.

She will be replaced by Mrs. James Springer.

Mrs. Karen Tonneberger has been granted a year's leave of absence. She taught second grade last year at Tecumseh Acres.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Fred Bartlett and Scott Fuhrman, with another of their friends, were surprised Monday to find a group of old photographs in a field near Sunset Drive as they sought to lay out a baseball field. The pictures carried no writing or identification of any kind other than the names of Tecumseh and Clinton. Anyone interested in obtaining more information could call Master Bartlett at 423-3379.

Roger Hoag, 310 North Maiden Lane, is the manager of Mystery Hill rather than Marvin Grigg as printed on last week's Irish Hills page. Mr. Grigg and his wife, Cory, live at Prehistoric Forest where he is the manager, presiding over the dinosaurs. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Merry, and daughter, Lisa, of Vassar, hosted the Griggs Sunday for dinner at the Country House on the occasion of their first wedding anniversary.

Perseid shower, the annual "downpour" of meteors, will reach its peak around Aug. 10. The annual Perseid shower provides as many as one shooting star every minute, compared with perhaps one per hour on an ordinary night. The best time to watch them is from midnight to dawn. Although they may be seen in any part of the sky, their paths, when traced back, seem to intersect in the northeast where the constellation of Perseus rises around 10 p.m.

At the beginning of August, the planet Mars and Antares are found directly toward the south as darkness comes. August 11, Mars will pass a little more than a degree north of Antares, the planet being about six times brighter than the star. One should locate and become acquainted with Mars, as it is the next target after the moon for space exploration by man. Pictures of Mars were recently sent to earth by Mariner 6, along with measurements of temperature and atmosphere of the planet.

The nationally-famous California RaceStoppers, a corps of top professional models and beauty queens, will appear at the Yankee 600 stock car race in Michigan International Speedway Sunday, Aug. 17. They will also make an appearance during the Aug. 16 Grand Touring race here.

"Three Men On A Horse," one of the merriest and maddest comedies in the annals of the American stage has been chosen by the Clark Lake Players as their next attraction. Opening at the Playhouse for six performances starting Aug. 7, it will continue through that weekend and the following weekend. The story is of a meek writer of greeting card verse whose canny ability to pick winning horses results in his adoption by three race track touts — and one frenzied farcial sequence after another.

"I saw it in The Herald." Mrs. Don Hannah, of the Chicken Basket, was generous with praise Tuesday as she stated that she thought she had heard this statement more than 20 times the past week in connection with the cooperative advertisement of Tecumseh merchants showing a map of the Irish Hills area. "I think it's a wonderful way to advertise," she said.

Two Pauls Go to Conference

Paul Marks, Britton High School, and Paul F. Burns, Tecumseh High School, participated in the program of the 50th annual conference for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture July 28-31 at Michigan State University.

Theme of this year's event was "Teaching for Agricultural Careers".

The conference, attended by 200, was designed to improve and develop new agricultural experience programs and to acquaint teachers with new instructional aids. It also presented new developments in agribusiness and offered the latest information on technical agriculture.

RECEPTIONIST WINNIE SCHWARTZ AT NEW R-BON'S

New R-Bon's Is Open

Spain has become deeply lodged in Tecumseh in the decor of R-Bon's beauty salon.

Building upon the original Beland farm house at 904 W. Chicago Blvd., owners and operators, Ramond Green and Ron Sweezey, completely redecorated the home with a Spanish accent.

So completely have the details been observed, one expects operators Kathy Harrison, Dee Cook, Cherryl Smith, Sue Hoch and receptionist and manicurist, Winnie Schwartz, to appear "mantilla and vestido" clad. Such Spanish garb is hard to work in, so they say.

Open house during the afternoon August 3 marked the celebration of its birth and champagne punch served to the guests.

Ramond, who took his training in California and operated at the R-Bon's shop next to the A&P, and Ron, a former Napoleon denizen who operated R-Bon's in Clinton, state that they tried to use all the original features of the charming old house in their six-week spree of designing and decorating with the exception of a few walls and a bit of plaster.

Deep olive green carpet and crushed velvet drapes are accented with black, Spanish wrought iron.

Basins are completely separated by wrought iron. Stations for the six operators are in triangular formation. This, explained Ramond, facilitates more individual attention for the customers. Such a design allows more privacy and quiet.

An open stairway graces the front entrance and will be fully carpeted in the near future. It leads to an apartment in which one of the operators will reside.

The barn siding which is used throughout the shop was originally an old granary on the property. Several rustic wooden beams came from the barn also.

Old plaster walls, over an inch thick, when chipped away revealed a few surprises — an old fireplace to be exact. R-Bon's is the only beauty salon complete with fireplace in the area.

Ousterhout's Flower Shop boasts the original mantle and is on display in their front window.

Orange carpet and an antique mirror accent the powder room area which features an antique chandelier that came with the old home.

Rooms yet to be completed include a Color room in which a customer may obtain a complete hair color change and never leave the room. An added attraction will be TV.

Also under construction is a wig room, transformed from the original kitchen and a lounge for the operators. At the present time, the shop offers mini-stretch wigs of real hair.

Ramond offered that their one display wig had been tried by at least 40 ladies — and combed again and again into exquisite coifs. The attraction is — the wig had never been set. Imagine what a good set might do for for that wig!

The walk won't always be planked. An old chimney found inside will provide bricks for a curving entrance.

Plans yet to emerge into reality from the heads of the talented duo, include a screened-in dryer area on a side porch which will eventually overlook a rock garden. A water fountain is also in the plans.

A figure salon is contemplated for approximately two years hence and will serve to create a most complete coiffure and figure retreat.

Appointments may be obtained by calling 423-4511.

Open House for Mrs. Rennie

Ireland, the emerald isle, sent one of its daughters, Mrs. Sarah Rennie of Balleymena, County Antrim, Northern Ireland, for a visit to her sister, Mrs. Thomas Hamilton. A reunion of the families of four of Mrs. Rennie's siblings who had come to this continent some years ago was held Aug. 3.

Relatives numbering 65 gathered at the Hamilton home on N. Maumee St., for a festive picnic dinner.

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Putze and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, Jr., and family; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hamilton and family of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rose and daughters, of Clinton; and former Tecumseh residents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton of Worthington, O.

Guests also came from New Market, Horning Mills and London, Ontario, Toronto and Detroit.

Mrs. Rennie and Mrs. Samuel Hanna, who have been visiting here since July 13, accompanied the Hamiltons to the William Hanna summer home on Georgian Bay July 29 for the remainder of Mrs. Rennie's visit. She will fly home August 19.

Tuttle Company Names Schwartz

Harold W. Tuttle, president of H. W. Tuttle & Co., has announced the appointment of Thomas G. Schwartz as production superintendent. He replaces Vale Venia, who has been appointed as superintendent, tooling and maintenance.

Mr. Schwartz resides in Adrian with his wife, Eileen, and their four children. He completed his tool and die apprenticeship in 1949. Since 1961, he has served as assistant machine shop foreman at Faraday's, Inc.

The appointments are the result of the continued growth of the H. W. Tuttle & Co., a leading manufacturer in the electrical heating element field.

BIG WINNER — Award presentation, held at the Fisher Body-Tecumseh Plant were (left) Sharon and Regina Fox, daughter and wife of Clyde E. Fox. Presenting the $10,000 maximum, Suggestions Award was Plant Manager, F. W. vanWestrenen and right, Mr. James Gillespie, quality standards dept. head.

Fox's Idea Is Worth $10,000

Clyde E. Fox, of Toledo, a resourceful Fisher Body-Tecumseh Plant employee received a $10,000 award Monday, the maximum award attainable under the General Motors Suggestion Plan program.

The maximum award, which was raised from $6,000 to $10,000 in October, 1968, also represents the first such award to be paid by the Tecumseh plant since the program was put into effect at the trim facility in February, 1966.

Mr. Fox, an inspector in quality standards department, submitted a suggestion to reduce the number of parts used to build the head restraint, trim assembly, from six to two parts. Now a single piece collar is joined to a cover material in one sewing operation, thereby eliminating multiple tooling, sewing, material handling and labor cost.

In addition to the material, direct and indirect labor costs saved as a result of this "idea" quality, the hallmark of "Body by Fisher" is more fully assured in the production of this trim component.

It is the eighth suggestion plan award for Mr. Fox, who has been with the Fisher Body-Tecumseh plant since production start-up in April of 1965, and his fifth winning suggestion which reflects material and time savings. He has, at this time, several more suggestions under investigation in the area of material and time savings.

During 1968, the Tecumseh Plant paid a total of $17,294 to employees under the GM Suggestion Plan. So far in 1969, the 27th year of operation of the Suggestion Plan in General Motors Corp., the plant has paid over $20,000 in awards for adopted suggestions.

READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITOR:

As mothers of girls who participated in the Girls' Pee Wee and Junior Softball programs this summer we would like everyone to know about the outstanding job the coaches did. They showed patience and consideration to each and every player in helping them learn the basic rules of softball and in teaching the girls good sportsmanship.

Too often we read about juvenile delinquency and the trouble teenagers get in, rather than a good job, such as these girls did.

We would like to say, "Thanks a million, Diane Lake, Sylvia Steele, Linda Wheeler, Jackie Rodgers, Linda Young, and Betsey Bock. The time and effort each of you put into the program helped to make it so successful."

VOICE of THE HERALD

Box Company Knows

We regret, and feel that many others feel the same way, that Council failed to waive, alter or relax a city zoning ordinance which prohibits City Manager Cal Zorn from giving Tecumseh Corrugated Box a requested building permit.

We feel that such a permit was desirable, not only for the company but for the community. The Box company is a tremendous asset to the community, the officials and employees there are friends and neighbors.

Whether our city officials can come to an agreement or settlement with the company, only time will tell. If not, time will probably tell whether poor judgment was exercised.

A couple Councilmen appeared favorable in helping Tecumseh Box. A couple seemed reluctant in making any concessions which would be in opposition to the ordinance. One official, and perhaps he was right, suggested that they wait until there's a response from the company in regards to the city manager's letter.

If this were a case of a company building or expanding on a vacant piece of land, a factor which is entirely different from the present situation, there would be no doubt that the city would be perfectly right in abiding by the zoning ordinance.

However, this is not the case. This situation entails an old industrial plant that was vacant at the time Tecumseh Box was founded here. It was the only industrial plant available.

Such a plant, not built to specifications for Tecumseh Box, and certainly one constructed long before zoning ordinances were in effect, inevitably would have to be remodeled or expanded for industrial needs.

Since the Box Company's plans for expansion will not interfere with S. Evans St., the traffic thereon, or interfere with others in the neighborhood, why is it terribly wrong to relax the ordinance and allow the company to expand as needs require.

It's a simple case of cooperating by local government and local industry, and in this situation, we feel that the company is fully aware of its needs and plant requirements — not the city — and that permission should be granted for the first expansion as requested.

Hustlers Prepare For County Fair

Final preparations for the Lenawee County Fair exhibits and a tour of 12 farms of the North Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club was held Sunday with 60 members and parents attending.

The group met at the home of Jeff Young and ended the tour at the home of Jim and Jane Woodward with a picnic.

Announcements were made concerning the fair projects. Clothing and knitting will be judged Saturday, Aug. 9, from 11 a.m. until noon. All club mothers are scheduled to help with the chicken barbecue or furnish pies beginning Sunday at 10 a.m.

There will be a pre-fair clean-up of both dormitories on Aug. 7. The 14 members (parents invited) who will be staying during fair week are required to help with the cleaning which will begin in the morning and continue until the buildings are clean.

Club mothers will serve supper and do dishes on Tuesday of fair week. They will meet at the Project Building at 5 p.m.

All project exhibits will be in place at 4 p.m., Aug. 10. None are to be removed before 4 p.m., Saturday of that week. Members are reminded that they are to be present with their exhibits as they are judged.

Pre-registration entries were completed by Teen and Apprentice Leaders Pat Aebersold, Barbara Vincent, Lynn Winzler, Greg Williams, Sherry Richardson, Cathy Hartung and Joyce Richardson and leader, Mrs. Claude Creger, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Tom Adams, on Aug. 29.

Jim Woodward and Miss Vincent will serve as junior superintendents during the fair week and younger members are urged to contact their project teen leader with any problems arising.

Reunion Moves to Gallants'

Thomas Gallant, Sr., and his wife were surprised Sunday as the family reunion, an annual event held the first Sunday in August at Island Park, Adrian, for the past 10 years, came to their home.

Mr. Gallant is bedridden and was one of the instigators of the family reunion held by 15 children of his parents. Only two others could attend.

After gathering at the park, the group decided to move their picnic to the Gallant home here at 415 W. Pottawatamie St.

Among those coming were Mrs. Sadie Gallant and two grandsons, of Mt. Pleasant; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Handy, Manchester; Mrs. Kate Terpenning, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Foster and two sons, of Jackson; Henry Gallant, Maple Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gallant and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gallant, Jr., of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Moore and two children, of Saline; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howard, Jr., and son and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howard, Sr.

Merritts Host the 'Old Gang'

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Chester Merritt entertained the "old gang" at their Wamplers Lake home this week for a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. William Moeller who are moving to Sun City, Ariz.

Mr. Moeller will retire at the Tecumseh Products Co. Aug. 30.

Twelve friends from Clinton and Manchester gathered for dinner and the evening and presented the Moellers with a gift. The Moellers were previously Tecumseh residents before going to Clinton.

YOU TOLD US

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Herald Society Editor

Those who enjoyed "The Girl of the Limberlost," "Freckles" and others of Gene Stratton Porter's books would find her Limberlost Cabin at Geneva, Ind., interesting. It shows that she was not only a writer but a true artist, designing the home for she and her banker-pharmacist husband with magnificent detailing in the plaster walls of the dining room and especially the music room.

"Cabin" hardly suits the 14-room mansion located near the famed Limberlost Swamp where Mrs. Porter, an avid nature enthusiast, gleaned so much material for her books.

Only a few miles from the Cabin, now a state memorial, is Amishville, at Berne, Ind., where one can take a guided tour of "where the plain people work and live." Kiddies will enjoy the farm animals, fishing, buggy rides and a swim while the adults appreciate the nostalgia of the past in the farm house, milk, kettle and smoke houses.

With the exception of Mr. Strack's family of 10, the 30 Amish families have moved to Missouri where land was more easily obtained for the main interest, farming. Even though one feels as though he is peeking into someone else's affair, still Amishville is operated as a tourist attraction and is most enlightening as to their way of life.

Just a day's drive from this area, we highly recommend the trip.

Britton Rockets No. 1

Foreign Deerfield Pony-Tail sluggers slipped by the Britton Rockets July 28 in a play-off game for first place, 10-7.

Rockets still remain first on home ground, followed by Britton's other distaff teams, Torrets and Yellow Jackets.

The Rockets were led to their number one spot by Kym Banks and Lori Monagin on the mound surmounting any number of challengers during the season, having only to bow in their last onset.

Miss Banks also led her teammates in home runs for the season with five roundtrippers. Sharon Schroeder was next with three.

Triple titles went to Kym, Sandy Sommers and Sharon in that order. Dynamic doubles were slugged by Sharon Rowe, Kym, Lori Monagin, Sharon Schroeder and Sandy.

Behind the scenes, Meredyth Lorenz and Eloise Judkins coached the Yellow Jackets. Janet Furgason and Sandy Bortel the Torrets and Arylene Banks and Eleanor Price coached the Rockets.

All-Stars Defeat Their Coaches

The Junior Girls All-Star team consisting of three girls from each Junior girls' softball team, defeated their coaches in a close game last Thursday night, 14-11.

The "Coaches" were ahead throughout most of the game, until the sixth inning when the All-Stars tied it up. In the seventh, the All-Stags turned on their power, with Michele Tate hitting a home run, moving the All-Stars three runs ahead. The "Coaches" got up, but being completely exhausted, were unable to score.

The leading sluggers of the All-Stars were Sue Brown, Julie Murphy and Michele Tate who were 3 for 5 at bat. For the "Coaches" Marsha Perrin led the way with a home run. Jackie Rodgers, pitcher for the Coaches, took the loss, while Peggy and Elaine Aebersold shared the win. Other members of the All-Star team were Carol Rebottaro, Paula Packard, Janet Young, Becky Storms, Vickie Camfield and Rhonda Hippert.

Playgrounds

"Theatre Week" was held last week at the playgrounds, with the children making puppets and practicing plays. A puppet show was planned to be held at each playground on Friday but due to lack of participation and interest none were held, except at West Branch.

West Branch chose "Cinderella" as their theme. Instead of puppets, the children preferred to act it out themselves. Sylvia Steele acted as narrator, telling the story as the children acted it out. Billy Gray, as Prince Charming, and Jo Gray as Cinderella, had the lead parts.

Dawn Johnson, Rita Sprague and Lisa Sprague, the step-sisters; Sandy Winsted, the mother-in-law; Scott Winstead, the king; Sandy Dunn, the queen; Randy Gray, the messenger; and Jeff Wright, the fairy godfather, had supporting roles. Linda Wheeler acted as stage manager and prop man.

The play was well performed and the children were very attractive in their costumes. The audience, mostly made up of mothers, seemed pleased with the production and proud of their children.

Monday all the playground and Craft Center children enjoyed a fun-filled day at the zoo. Transportation was provided by two school buses. The trip was supervised by the playground girls who accompanied the children to the zoo.

Kiwanis	12
Exchange	4

Kiwanis came out on top in Major League action Monday as they KO'ed Exchange, 12-4.

Brad Sisson pitched his way to a 4 and 2 over-all record as he fanned 11 opposing batters and scored three runs on two walks and a fielder's choice.

Dave Spelman took the loss for Exchange as he downed six plate opponents.

Ed Clark led the winning team with two hits, while Ken Biscupski picked up two runs for Kiwanis on a walk and a hit.

Sisson proved to be the key figure in disposing of a fourth inning threat as he covered first base for one out and then threw to the plate for a double play.

Kiwanis scored 8 runs on 4 hits and 4 walks in the sixth inning to wrap it up.

TPW	13
G & J	8

Tecumseh Products Workers walloped G & J in Pony League baseball Monday, 13-8.

Dave Bishop pitched the winning game for TPW, while Van Riper threw for the loss. Both succeeded in fanning 13 batters.

Leading hitters were Fred Morley and Danny Buhannan with 2 for 5 records at the plate.

The game broke wide open in the bottom of the third inning as 14 TWP players accounted for 10 runs on only two hits.

Manchester Speedway Promises Action

By NANCY MARTIN

August 1 was another super action-packed show at Manchester Speedway, topped off by our first Ladies' Destruction Derby. They did a good job of it with Bev Gersiter the last one running, thereby declared the winner. The first five happy girls received beautiful trophies, including this reporter. It was fun! Hope we can have more!!

The weather man finally cooperated and the crowd was one of our best. Fifty-four cars qualified, with Don Taylor the fastest, as is his habit.

Before the races started, "Speedy", the clown presented Sam Henson with a towel for being in our "Lake Manchester" (the puddle in the infield) so often. Sam promptly went out and won the first heat. Duane Valentine finished second, followed by Bill Kopka and Dick Slade.

The boys in the second heat didn't want to be outdone by the women, so they had a destruction of their own. With several spin-outs and crashes, the worst of which happened on the seventh lap, Cal Byrd hit the wall on the front stretch and bounded into Gary Rhoades, who spun down into the retainer in front of the timing stand. Byrd was taken to the hospital for a leg injury. Both cars were extensively damaged. After a restart we got one more lap in when Bill Seckler and Larry Liedel tangled with Liedel rolling once over. He was able to continue the race. With only six cars remaining, Howard Woodman took the win over Jim Drumhiller, Bill Heeney and Jerry Evilsizer.

Paul Whittaker picked off the third heat win, chased by Jim Shook, Butch Moull and Dave Marcum. Buck LoPresto took the checker in the fourth heat, with second going to Roscoe Stetton, third to Dan Finfrock and fourth to Butch Wilbur.

The pursuit was very fast with Valentine quickly taking command and holding on for the checkered flag, followed by Don Earles, Dick Crup and Dick Slade.

The leader in the semi was disqualified for running more than one second faster than he timed in. That left the track wide open for Shook to take the win, trailed by Link Hall, Moull, Mike Havens and Mel Shroufe.

The black flag fell again on one of the early leaders of the feature. Don Taylor worked his way expertly through traffic to take the win by a big lead over Billy Younkin, Jim Stemen, Slade and Earles.

Next week the heats will all be "Crack-the-Whip" races, the last man across the line each lap is eliminated. Also it will be "Kiddies Night", when all the "kids" can ride in their favorite cars.

Hosting WCTU at Sand Lake

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron will host the WCTU for a picnic supper Tuesday, Aug. 12, at 6:30 p.m. at the Waldron cottage on Sand Lake.

The hostess suggests that anyone who would enjoy the lake would be welcome to come in the afternoon.

Those attending for supper will bring their own table service and food to pass.

Hear "Whoppers"

Due to so many vacationing, only 14 members of the Wit and Wisdom Club attended the picnic at Hidden Lake Gardens Monday evening, however this did not dampen the spirits of the group.

An unannounced program of "Whoppers" was presented with some most amusing and although they were supposed to be true stories, many were unbelievable.

The Club recessed until the first Monday evening in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw, honorary members since their home is in Florida, were present to greet members.

Mrs. Herbert Munger, chairman of the arrangements, was assisted by Mrs. H. B. Willmott and Mr. and Mrs. John Lott.

Mrs. Clarence Damon is the president for the ensuing year.

OWNERS — TECUMSEH

Carolyn N. Mills and Richard D. Kaiser Wed

The Presbyterian Church of Lakewood, O., was the setting for the Saturday wedding of Carolyn Nancy Mills of Lakewood and Richard D. Kaiser with Dr. J. S. Hart performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mills of Lakewood. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne F. Kaiser, 204 N. Wyandotte St.

MRS. RICHARD D. KAISER

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of white organza with long sleeves, a wedding ring neckline, A-line skirt and Venice lace. Her veil was a chapel length mantilla edged with lace.

She carried a bouquet of white Phaelanoosis, pink roses and stephanotis.

Her attendants, all in pink gowns, were Marilyn Mills, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, Martha Rose Mills and Mary Louise Mills, cousins of the bride, of Beaver Falls, Pa., the bridesmaids.

The junior bridesmaid was the groom's sister, Joanne Susan Kaiser of Tecumseh. Each carried a topiary bouquet of pink carnations and ivy.

Wayne F. Kaiser, father of the groom, was best man. Ushers were William Mills of Beaver Falls, Pa., and Robert Mills and Donald Mills of Lakewood, O., cousins of the bride, and Michael Dean Schneirla, cousin of the groom.

A reception was held in Lawther Hall for 250 guests with a wedding dinner given by the bride's parents at Stouffers, Westgate. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday evening at the Dover Chalet, Westlake, O.

The bride is a graduate of the School of Nursing, Indiana University.

The groom is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, recently returned from Vietnam. He is presently assigned to a missile base in White Sands, N. M.

Pamela Sue Beckey Marries Wayne D. Sisty

Pamela Sue Beckey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beckey, 412 E. Logan, and Wayne Fredrick Sisty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sisty, 3941 Kaiser Rd., were united in marriage by the Rev. K. W. Strack Aug. 2. The ceremony took place in the Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church.

William Whiting was soloist, accompanied by Candy Chrisman on the organ.

Miss Beckey approached the altar on the arm of her father and wore a floor length chantilly lace gown with bouffant skirt and long sleeves. The bodice, trimmed in sequins, graced a sabrina neckline.

Her shoulder length veil was secured to a rose petal head piece and she wore pearl earrings, a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade of daisies.

Sharon Meyers, Tecumseh, was maid of honor in a mint green floor length, sleeveless, empire waist gown.

Terri Komon, of Holloway, Debbie Cain, and Connie Bater, cousin of the bride, of Tecumseh, were bridesmaids in yellow chiffon gowns fashioned after that of the maid of honor.

P. K. Limes of Tecumseh, served as best man. Mike Bater, cousin of the bride, Ron Oliver of Tecumseh and Larry Harsh of Adrian, were ushers.

Tiny Judy Summers, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, escorted by her brother, Jimmy, ring bearer.

The recention was held at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall and featured a cake made by Nancy Crest.

Miss Beckey is a 1969 Tecumseh High School graduate. Mr. Sisty graduated from Clinton High School and is employed at the Ford plant in Rawsonville.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at their home.

Following a wedding trip through the eastern states for two weeks, the new Mr. and Mrs. Sisty will be at home at 3600 Westgate Place, Tecumseh.

MRS. WAYNE D. SISTY

Marrianne Weir, Larry L. Graham Nuptials Spoken

Marrianne Weir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Weir, Ann Arbor, and Larry L. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Graham, of 130 College St., Britton, recited vows of marriage in a ceremony performed by the Rev. D. C. Warner.

The wedding took place in the Ridgeway Nazarene Church, Saturday, Aug. 2.

Miss Weir chose a street length gown of white nylon over taffeta with a high neck and full cuffed sleeves which were trimmed with daisies.

The bridal bouquet was daisies and white carnations graced by a ribbon leaf trim.

Carol Weir was her sister's matron of honor. Michael Jordan, Britton, served as best man.

Following a wedding trip through northern Canada, the new Mr. and Mrs. Graham will reside in Britton.

To Honor Couple at Open House

The marriage of Mrs. Garth Hall to John R. Doughty of Petersburg took place July 27 and was performed by the Rev. Max Bailey at the Tipton Community Church.

The couple was attended by Mrs. John Strahl of Midland and Lewis Doughty from Wayne.

Guests included Kathleen Hall, Joel Jaffe of Kalamazoo; John Strahl and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doughty and daughter, Tania, of Brooklyn.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Doughty will reside at 5305 Clinton-Macon Rd., Clinton, and invite family and friends to an open house at their home Sunday, Aug. 17, from 2-6 p.m.

Shower Honors August Bride

Carolyn Sebring was the honored guest at a bridal shower July 31 for which Mrs. Fred C. Dickinson and Mrs. Frederick F. Dickinson were co-hostesses. The 24 guests were served dessert as they arrived from Tecumseh, Monroe, East Lansing and London, England.

An evening followed of Court Whist with prizes going to Miss Sebring and her respective partner after each hand. Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge received the evening prize.

Following the games the bride-elect was presented with many lovely gifts. Her marriage to Ronald George of East Lansing, will take place Aug. 22.

MRS. JAMES B. KOPAS

Fawn Theresa Choske and James Bernard Kopas Wed

Fawn Theresa Choske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Choske, 707 Wenonah, became the bride of James Bernard Kopas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kopas, Redford Township, in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Father Handley with the Rev. Herald Hendricks, maternal grandfather of the bride, assisting.

The ceremony was held in the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church Aug. 2, with Mrs. Donald Johnson accompanying on the organ.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father and wore a high fitted, A-line, floor length gown of heavy white crepe. The gown, made by the bride, featured a jewel neckline, full length shaped sleeves and a chapel length train. The neckline was graced with sculptured braid trim with hand beading.

Miss Choske wore a floor length veil with a bow headpiece and carried a classic cascade of white orchids, white sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Karen Kopas, sister of the groom, was maid of honor in a floor length lavender dotted swiss, empire waist gown. It featured a full skirt and sheer long sleeves.

She wore a shoulder length veil with lavender leaves and sprinkled with seed pearls and carried a colonial bouquet in various shades of lavender.

Judi Chinoski, cousin of the groom from Plymouth, was bridesmaid. Her gown, headdress and flowers were the same as the maid's of honor.

James Dargurz, of Detroit, served as best man. Ushers were Frank and Fred Choske, brothers of the bride, and Dan Gdowski, of Redford Township.

The reception was held in St. Elizabeth school for 225 guests. Karen, Pat, Pam, Janice and Beverly Hendricks and Susan Gale assisted at the reception.

Miss Choske, a 1964 Tecumseh High School graduate, and a 1968 graduate of Michigan State University, will teach physics at Lakeview High School in St. Clair Shores in the fall. Mr. Kopas, a 1964 Thurston High School graduate, and a 1969 graduate from Michigan State University, will teach mathematics at Ottawa Junior High in St. Clair Shores.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents Friday evening at the Country House.

Following a wedding trip along the east coast for 10 days, the new Mr. and Mrs. Kopas will be at home at Rivercrest Arms Apts., Denton St., Mt. Clemens.

Robison - Eaton Vows Are Spoken

Judy Christine Robison and Meryl Eaton were united in marriage Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. William Winch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Adrian, performed the 6:30 ceremony.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Robison, 611 Adrian St., and Meryl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eaton, Monroe Rd.

Mrs. Fred C. Dickinson was the organist.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father and wore a floor length, empire, A-line gown of organza over taffeta with chantilly lace trim on the bodice and down the skirt front. Her gown featured a high lace neckline and long Bishop sleeves trimmed with sequins.

Her headpiece was a matching lace camelot cap. It secured the chapel length veil edged with rows of lace and sequins. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis.

Beverly Robison was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diane Seager and Sharyl Gartee, friends of the bride. They carried bouquets of Fuji and Pompon mums.

Kenneth Wright served as best man. Ushers were Philip Van-Valkenburg and Louis Wagner.

Shelly Robison was her sister's flower girl and Steve Rumler escorted her as ring bearer.

A reception was held at the Odd Fellow Lodge for 150 guests.

The bride attended Cleary College last year. Meryl will be a sophomore at Michigan State University this year.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Eaton will reside in East Lansing after a wedding trip through the Upper Peninsula.

BIG, BLACK, UGLY, BUT BENEFICIAL

Since they keep working themselves into conversations lately — Betty Flanders and I were talking about them the other day and several weeks ago John Raymond featured them on his 10:35 a.m. Bird Watchers' program — I decided to do some bird-book reading about turkey vultures. I was pleasantly surprised, these are interesting birds. Yes, I am serious.

These are big birds, averaging about 29 inches in length and with a wing span which may be in excess of 70 inches. When seen close up, they are almost unbelievably ugly. Most of this is due, of course, to the vulture's incredible head. It is small and completely naked.

The skin is reddish and "deeply corrugated". (Isn't that a marvelous way to describe deep wrinkles? I thank "Birds of America" for it.) By the way, there is a very sound reason for this featherless head, the birds are not just vying for top prize in an ugly contest. They are carrion eaters and the bare head is a sanitary precaution — can you imagine how filthy feathers would become?

★

IT IS AS members of Mother Nature's clean-up brigade that these black colored birds serve mankind. It is an invaluable service, too. As they soar high, using air currents with an efficiency which beats the best glider pilot, they are ever on the alert for dead animals.

Their eyesight is superb and they spot "kills" from great distances. Once a turkey vulture starts his descent, his [illegible] are noticed by others and soon, even though minutes before the sky looked clear of birds, the crowd starts gathering. With the slaughter which takes place on our highways each day, just think what would happen if the dead animals were not removed.

There are many misconceptions about turkey vultures, but this is true about most of the big birds of prey. They are all criticized, condemned, and maligned unjustly. Practically never does a turkey vulture kill an animal. They are not equipped for it, their feet are far too weak to act as death traps. In fact, they are not even good for "carrying dinner home". Therefore, no turkey vulture sweeps down to steal and make off with a farmer's chicken.

If sometimes these birds let a dead animal "season"; it is now known that they do it because their hooked bills are not strong enough to tear apart a large carcass until the breakdown of decay has progressed to an advanced stage. They are truly designed for just one job, ridding the countryside of dead bodies.

★

ALTHOUGH TECHNICALLY they spend their days hunting alone, these birds do congregate together at night. A suitable woodlot will become a vulture nest. There is such a spot to the west and slightly north of Tecumseh.

Not only do the birds return to this area every evening but it is also where they raise their families. They build no nest but will, instead, lay their two creamy white eggs, which are heavily marked with brown or even lavendar streaks, in a sheltered spot on the ground or a hollow stump. The young turkey vultures must be grotesque — naked upon hatching, they soon grow a covering of long white down. Ugh.

It is in the air that these birds come into their own. They are phenomenal soarers. They know how to pick air currents and ride them. In the morning, they wait until the sun's warmth has started the air moving and when the thermals, columns of rapidly-rising air, appear so do the vultures.

They pick out one of these "invisible chimneys" and circle in it until they are high in the sky. It is an effortless flight, just a few wingbeats now and then.

So it is that on these nice summer days when you see a tiny speck in the sky it may be a turkey vulture, when you see a soaring bird with a small head, a relatively long, narrow tail, and the wings held in a slightly higher than horizontal position, it is a turkey vulture and please remember that it is big, black, ugly, but beneficial.

NEXT WEEK: "Half-Baked."

Croswell Enters Final Weekend

The last chance for area theatre-goers to see the 1969 summer season of music and mirth at the Croswell in Adrian is approaching this weekend.

The Croswell, launching its season July 3 with "Gypsy" will close on Saturday and Sunday with the same production. Due to a cancellation of the July 4 performance of the Jule Styne-Arthur Laurent-Stephen Sondheim musical a matinee will be held on Sunday at 2 p.m.

Thursday and Friday the summer theatre will present the two final performances of Woody Allen's hilarious farce, "Don't Drink the Water".

The evening performances begin at 8:30 p.m. and both are commendable fare for the local patrons of theatre arts.

Troop 17 Returns from Canada Trip

TIPTON — The members of Troop 17 and their adult leaders returned Sunday from a fishing trip to Missanabie, Ont., Canada, where they spent a week fishing and camping at Fletcher and Souliere's Camp on Murry Lake.

En route the troop toured the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, where they saw the new Poe Lock in operation. The lock lifts boats 21 feet from Lake Michigan into Lake Superior.

The trip north along Highway 17 was spectacular and the troop was impressed by the beauty of the Agawa Canyon country.

Honors for the largest fish caught went to James Karle, a northern pike, and for the largest walleye to Donald Heistand. Every boy caught at least one fish.

Requirements for the trip were that every boy had advanced one rank in the past year.

Boys making the trip were James Karle, James Manley, Donald Heistand, Marc Hall, Cory Cox and Roger Cook. Adults were Charles Manley, in charge of photography and recreation; Robert Karle, boats, motors and fishing; Guy Cox, tents and cooking. The trip was under the direction of Scoutmaster Dean Cook.

Highlight of the last night out was "Dads' Treat" with the troop dad buying the boys' dinner and presenting each boy making the trip with a shoulder patch commemorative of the trip. The trip traveled over 1160 miles.

Troop 17 is sponsored by the Tipton Community Congregational Church.

Platts Entertain at Bridal Shower

TIPTON — Bride-elect Marilyn McKay, of Ann Arbor, was the guest of honor at a bridal shower Wednesday evening at the Richard Platt residence.

Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Platt and Mrs. Raymond Platt.

The evening was spent playing Bride Bingo.

Miss McKay opened many useful gifts for her new home.

A hostess gift was awarded to Mrs. Harold Radant.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the 25 guests present.

Marilyn will be married to Larry Shea Aug. 9.

—o—

Sharon Beebe of Ypsilanti arrived Friday to spend a few days here with her grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Hoagland. Mrs. Robert Beebe and the rest of the family joined them Sunday to take her daughter home again.

The engagement of Joyce Evelyn Thompson to George W. Cox is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson, 505 Herrick Park Dr. Mr. Cox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Cox of Onsted. Miss Thompson is a 1969 Tecumseh High School graduate and has been attending Elite Academy of Beauty. Mr. Cox is a 1966 Onsted High School graduate and is employed at Tecumseh Products. An October wedding is planned.

Pvt. E/2 Gary H. Spillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spillman, 301 Herrick Park Dr., is spending a 19-day leave with his parents and visiting relatives and friends. He completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and recently completed advanced Infantry training at Ft. Polk, La. He will report August 13 at Ft. Lewis, Wash., for assignment to Vietnam. Pvt. Spillman is a 1967 graduate of Tecumseh High School and before entering the service was employed at Faraday, Inc., in Tecumseh.

Moms Cheer As Dads Bow

Pack 73 held their July meeting at the home of Cubmaster, Walt Wonderly. The cubs did not leave their appetites home as nearly fifty pounds of hot dogs were devoured.

After dinner, the cubs played their fathers in an action-packed baseball game. Gregg Wonderly and Brian Bird were the battery for the cubs, performing admirably as they faced the determined fathers. Rae and Wonderly pitched for the fathers (their record for the three innings was 33 walks, 2 balks, and 1 unassisted double play — which didn't count).

The third inning opened with the score tied, 5-5, and because of the cheering of the mothers, the cubs scored 10 runs in their half of the third. (The fathers later decided that the hysterical shouting of the mothers and cubs must have been the reason the fathers had seven errors in the third inning.)

The three runs scored by the fathers in their half of the third were driven in by four visiting Girl Scouts who were trying to help the dads.

The game was called at the end of the third with the score at 15-5, Cubs ahead. The game ended as the father who brought the ball refused to let the Cubs hit his baseball unless they batted on one leg.

The Cubs will try to make things up to their dads when they meet at the Presbyterian Church at 5 p.m., Aug. 9. The cubs are going to take the dads to a Toledo Mudhens' game and show them that not all men get irate when they play ball.

Last Story Hour Will Be Aug. 13

Last story hour for the summer, 1969, will be held at the Tecumseh Public Library August 13, at 1:30 p.m. This time is for all children of the Tecumseh area who are in the elementary grades and also pre-school age.

Also, the library wishes to remind those who joined the "Mighty Dragons" to finish their summer reading and have their booklets checked in order for them to qualify for a certificate and their name to be placed on the roll of "Mighty Dragons". August 13 will also be the last date for them to qualify. Booklets may be brought in any day that the library is open.

Friday Night Thrills at

Thrills and spills, excitement plus is available every Friday at Manchester Speedway, just off of M-52, north of US-12.

Owned and operated by Veryl Schill, the popular speedway is in its eighth year with drivers coming from Lansing, Detroit, Coldwater, Kalamazoo and other surrounding areas to join the local drivers including Paul Whitaker of Tipton; Dennis Mastie and Bill Kopka, Britton; Joe Weaver and Richard Beasley, Tecumseh and David Markham, Clinton.

Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey of Washtenaw County was a regular at the clay bank track until the recent coed killings in his area required his time.

A Tecumseh Products employee since January, 1937, Schill started the Speedway as a hobby with three other men, neighbors who were interested in providing a place for their young sons to safely indulge in speeding without endangering their own lives and others.

He gradually bought out his co-partners and set off on an adventure that has paid off royally but also involved his own son, Harold, in a near fatal accident, the most serious the track has ever had.

Harold is recovering slowly from the accident which occurred June 2, 1967. Not embittered, Schill states, "We have quite a few roll-overs, but no one is usually seriously injured. We are quite rigid on the safety rules. All cars must have safety belts and drivers must use them, also shoulder harnesses, head rests, and crash helmets. Brakes are thoroughly checked before a driver is allowed to race."

Time trials begin at 7 p.m. each Friday evening with racing at 8:30 and Sunday racing is promised if the Friday night schedule is cancelled due to inclement weather.

From 20 cars entering competition when the track was new, now 80 sometimes enter the race with nearly 60 qualifying each week.

Super stocks have been dropped from the agenda and just the modified sportsman models are run. Last week, however, a ladies' demolition was held with the gals wrecking autos as their husbands cheered them on.

"Racing is one of our nation's biggest sports, next to football, baseball, etc.," the track owner commented.

"We have a clean sport here. Oh, occasionally someone gets hurt, but there are injuries in other sports, too. The drivers here are mostly real nice guys, ranging from 21 to 50 years of age. Drivers under 21 can compete with their parent's consent."

"Although there is much competition, the type of guys that race here are the kind that will help his competitor even at the risk of losing to them."

"The fellows will loan their co-racers auto parts and very few are the bitter poor-loser type, although we occasionally get one like that," remarked the speedway buff.

After each racing evening, the dirt is graded back onto the banked track until it looks like blacktop. Cars run in two qualifying laps then run in position with the times earned during qualification.

A parking ramp where people may watch the races from their cars was added this year.

Approximately 38 are employed on race night including four security guards.

Mrs. Wynne Matteson of Tecumseh is managing the concessions in the pit area. She came by this weekly job in a rather interesting way when her two sons, Mike and Mark, decided that the Speedway was just the place to be on Friday nights and their Dad works nights at The Tecumseh Products Co.

If she could just work at something, Mrs. Matteson thought, she wouldn't mind taking the boys and it was a good healthy place for them to learn about speed. Mike has the opportunity once in a while to drive one of the cars in the pit area, thus enhancing his driver training.

Mr. Matteson conveyed his wife's thought to Schill at the Products Co. one day and now boys and Mom enjoy the racing game together, proving there are ways to work out different interests within a family.

Admission at the Speedway is $2 for regular nights.

SCS Will Aid in Drainage Planning

Conservation planning in the Lenawee Soil Conservation District is the first step to get conservation practices installed. Of the 895 cooperators in the district, 630 have completed basic conservation plans. A recently-developed basic plan was for the Harley VanEtten farm in Jasper. Assistance for the development of the plan was given by Soil Conservation Service Technicians.

The "Soil Loss Equation" method was used to determine the cropping system. This equation indicates how the land can be protected so that top soil will not be lost faster than it is formed.

Water flows off a field in natural water courses. The natural tendency of these water courses is to erode readily when an intensive cropping system is used. Deep cuts hazardous for machinery to cross, can easily develop. Cutting back into the field is common.

Grade stabilization structures, if properly located and constructed, will help to control erosion. The grassed waterways, to be installed above the structures, are an added measure to help control soil erosion in this natural water course.

Information may be obtained at the Lenawee SCS office (soil conservation) in Adrian. Ask for the pamphlet, "What Is A Conservation Plan?"

HELPS INNER CITY KIDS — Tecumseh Basketball Coach Victor Lawson tells his swimming class from the Camp Grayling Boy's Camp-to "stay out of the deep water, and use the buddy system." Lawson is a National Guard Major.

Lawson Aide at NG Camp

By DEBBIE PURKEY

Second bunch of kids have left the second annual National Guard Youth Camp which was held this month at Camp Grayling, reports Vic Lawson, a Guard Major, second in command at the boys' camp and a familiar figure at Tecumseh's Joyce Andrews swimming pool and high school.

Four one-week sessions were sponsored by donations given by officers and enlisted men of the National Guard. The money was collected during a regular training session at Ypsilanti.

This program, which began last summer, allows a vacation for approximately 200 inner city kids aged 8 to 14 years from major cities of Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Pontiac.

Turnout was as large as expected as a last summer incident might reveal. Major Lawson remarked to a youth during the second session that he looked familiar. The reply was, "Yea, I was here last week". He'd sneaked in for the return hitch.

This year's figure boasted 11 returnees.

The boys are guests for parade day, an awesome sight as the guard artillery array is presented. Special guests include the governor, William Milliken.

Hiking excursions — testing compass skill, trips to Hartwick Pines, Mackinac Bridge, archery lessons from the nearby Fred Bear Museum and softball, basketball and swimming are all on the agenda.

Proceeds from a public parking lot in downtown Detroit yielded last year's donation from the Light Guard Armory to the camp plus sweatshirts and walking shorts.

It was obvious that the Bermudas weren't tailor-fit onlookers remarked through apparent stares. They had never seen so many kids with baggy shorts at one time. Despite the unfit of the outfits, they couldn't have done without them either year.

Tonight's Meeting at YMCA

An open meeting to answer any and all questions concerning foster home care for court wards will be held this Thursday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m., at the Adrian YMCA on West Maumee St.

The free seminar will be conducted by workers from the Lenawee County Juvenile Court and from the Lenawee Department of Social Services. Attendance will incur no obligation, according to Paul Diller, Director of Court Services.

Foster homes are needed for all ages but critically for boys and girls in the 10-16 age bracket, Mr. Diller says. A special need exists for Spanish-American foster homes, and there is occasional need for Negro foster parents.

Some youngsters needing homes have become involved in delinquent acts such as school truancy, or running away from home. However, no child is placed in a foster home unless child welfare workers feel a good home atmosphere and understanding foster parents will correct the misbehavior.

Other court wards needing homes are "neglected or dependent" children — that is, they have no relative suitable to care for them. Occasionally, neglected or dependent children are also mildly delinquent; but in such cases, the delinquency vanishes when good living conditions are established, Mr. Diller says.

A child may need a foster home for as short as a few weeks, or as long as he or she remains under-age.

Child welfare workers try to place a child in a home where there seems a good chance that child and family will accept and enjoy each other. This can be, and often is, an interesting and rewarding experiences on both sides.

The great satisfaction of seeing a confused, unhappy child become a more confident human being who feels wanted, needed, and has a place in the world, cannot be imagined but must be experienced.

Most workers believe that good foster parents, carefully chosen for the individual child, are the most important factor in this transformation.

Foster parents are partially compensated for board and care at a fixed rate. In addition, a child's medical, dental, clothing and school expenses are paid by the court on a cost basis.

Persons who think they might want to be foster parents if they knew more about it, or who have been curious about the foster home program for a long time, will find Thursday's meeting most informative, Mr. Diller says.

If unable to attend, phone Jean Bailey of the Juvenile Division, 265-7136 for more information.

Golfers Clinic Offered Free

4-H members and other youngsters who would like some free professional golf instruction are invited to attend a golf clinic-exhibition, August 20, at Michigan State University, according to William D. Walter, Extension 4-H Youth Agent.

The golf activity is being added as another opportunity through the Michigan 4-H youth program Walter indicated. He noted that adults are especially encouraged to work with youth in the golfing project. Dr. Richard Gordin, golf coach at Ohio Wesleyan University, and Lorraine Abbott, both National Golf Foundation consultants, will provide free instruction for non-players as well as beginning golfers.

Michigan State University golf coach Bruce Fossum also will assist with the golf clinic and demonstrate for the junior golfers. The golf clinic and exhibition are planned as one of the many scheduled events at the 1969 4-H State Show.

The activity is open to any youth ages 9-19 and adults interested in attending the clinic. Additional information is available, please call the Cooperative Extension Service, phone 265-5108 and ask for Bill Walter.

Tecumseh Box Expansion Hopes Are Now Dim After Council's 3-3 Vote at Special Meeting

Hopes that relief would be granted Tecumseh Corrugated Box in the company's plan to expand its local facility were all but doomed Tuesday evening at a special meeting of Council.

A motion which would have put the industrial plant expansion within the law of a city ordinance, and thereby allowing a building permit, ended in a 3-3 tie vote and defeat.

After the vote, Council unanimously voted to table the matter until next Monday night's meeting.

Tuesday's special session was called Monday when the city received a reply from the company, stating in effect that it was shelving its construction plans here and would develop additional facilities at its other plants.

The Board of Appeals also had been invited to the meeting and members Donald Brazee, John Thompson, Robert Bonner and J. W. "Pat" Meadows attended.

After City Manager Cal Zorn read the company's letter, Mr. Brazee, who is chairman of the appeals board, told officials that the request for expansion is the same as before when in 1966 the Board denied relief to the company. He indicated that his position had not changed and pointed out that the company had ample room to expand in other directions.

Mr. Meadows, president of the United Savings Bank and recently appointed to the Board; appealed to Council to give Tecumseh Box relief.

His remarks asked city officials not to harm the image of Tecumseh and that sometimes people in responsible positions have to bend. He said the old macaroni plant could be an eyesore and would like to see the old plant improved.

He added that new construction there would improve the old structure. His final remarks to Council were, "don't change the employment opportunities of Tecumseh".

Mr. Thompson, former president of the bank and community leader here for over 30 years, told Council that a principal factor in the Board's decision three years ago in denying the permit was the possibility of interferring with future development of S. Evans St. in the industrial area. This, apparently, is no longer a factor.

He told officials that the community should not lose industry and saw no harm in allowing the company to expand to within a foot of its property line at the street.

Mr. Bonner's remarks were against granting relief to the company.

FATAL SCENE — Four-month-old Mark Jones suffered injuries here last Thursday morning and died later at an Ann Arbor hospital. His grandmother and driver of the car, Pansy Jones, was seriously injured in the accident on Adrian St.

Councilmen Donald Sunderland, William Holmes and Wallace Whiting were in favor of taking action which would allow the company to expand. They voted in favor of dedicating a new street, which would allow the company to front this street, and via the ordinance, would let Tecumseh Box to expand to its side property lines.

Mayor Harold Easton, Dr. Carlos Knisely and Ray Puffer voted against the proposal, which lost in the 3-3 tie vote. Councilman Carlton Cook, who had objected to granting relief earlier in the meeting, was absent when the vote was taken.

Mayor Easton said that the Board of Appeals must make the concession, not Council, and that Council should not re-write the ordinance since the Board had already ruled on it.

A couple Councilmen discussed re-aligning the company's expansion plans, and Councilman Ray Puffer said it looks like the company "is trying to see what it can get out of the town." He said that "if we bend for one, we would have to bend for all."

Councilman Cook indicated he felt the same way, and both he and Mr. Puffer stood firm behind the ordinance.

Dr. Knisely, former president of the Planning Commission and elected to Council in April, said the city hires a professional to do its planning and local zoning ordinances were just not patched together by the "local yokel" Planning Commission.

Mr. Whiting said he had toured the plant and explained the need for expansion. He pointed out that it sometimes is not easy to knock out walls and turn equipment around, and in effect, change operating procedures.

Both Mr. Holmes and Mr. Sunderland spoke at length for the company, and when the arguments included the desirability of a grass strip between the city's right-of-way and the industrial plant, Mr. Holmes added, "What's the company supposed to do, put cows out there?"

Some discussion centered on the possibility that the city could have a vacant industrial plant, which was answered in part by Councilman Cook's statement, "that someone else will take their place."

Mr. Thompson stated later that the old plant had been vacant for some time, and it had been difficult to sell and to obtain another industry.

Robert Hamden, city assessor and building inspector, observed that "it would be cheaper if they (referring to Tecumseh Box) would just move out of town."

PILOT FOR UNITED — Dean P. Eddy, veteran Naval Air Force pilot and jet instructor, has graduated from United Air Line's flight training center in Denver. He has been asigned to Boeing 737 aircraft, originating at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport. Dean is a graduate of Tecumseh High and attended Michigan State and University of Michigan. He and his wife, Kitty, former employee at United Savings Bank, are now living at Rolling Meadows, Ill. He's shown here inside an electronic flight simulator, which duplicates all flight maneuvers of the aircraft.

Young Baby Killed in Car-Tree Crash

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for Mark Eric Jones, four-month-old son of Ronald and Reba Jones, who was killed last Thursday morning on Adrian St.

The young baby was a passenger in an automobile driven by his grandmother, Pansy V. Jones, 48, of 901 Murray Dr. Also riding with Mrs. Jones was the baby's brother, Clinton, 23 months old. He was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment and released.

Although the accident is still under investigation, Tecumseh police believe that Mrs. Jones was driving east on Murray Dr., and then turned left or north on Adrian St.

At this point, after making the turn, she apparently lost control of her car, jumped the curb on the west side of the street and crashed head-on into a tree in front of the Glen Work residence.

Tecumseh firemen were called to free Mrs. Jones, who was pinned in the car. Both the baby and Mrs. Jones were rushed to Ann Arbor, where Mark died.

Mrs. Jones, who suffered multiple injuries, was last reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Hospital. Clinton was in a car seat and escaped serious injury.

Police report shows that the automobile first struck the curb about 65 feet from the tree. The car just missed another tree before crashing, hitting the second tree between the middle of the hood and right headlight. It was totaled in the wreck.

Mark was born on April 15, 1969, and lived at 901 Murray.

Survivors, besides his parents, brother and grandmother are: grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Liford, and great-grandmother, Mrs. Ada Williams, all of Tecumseh.

The Rev. Seal Janeway officiated at services held at the Missionary Baptist Church. Dunn Funeral Home was in charge of burial at Lenawee Hills Memorial Park.

New Budget Up

Tecumseh Public School budgets continue to climb with the 1969-70 budget estimated at $2,605,000, Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent, reports.

The new budget is $320,000 more than a year ago when expenditures were estimated at $2,285,000.

Income for 1969-70 has been estimated at $2,557,000, making it necessary to draw about $48,000 from reserves, Mr. Duhan states. Officials are awaiting the final audit report before attaining final income figures.

The annual public hearing for the budget will be held next Monday evening at 7:30 at the Board of Education office on W. Chicago Blvd.

Faces Charge On Release

Douglas Miller, 26, of 406½ W. Chicago Blvd., reportedly attempted suicide about 12:30 last Thursday morning when he shot himself in the chest with a revolver.

He was taken to Herrick Hospital and then transferred to Ann Arbor. His condition is reportedly improved and expects to be released within a few days.

The shooting took place at 703 S. Evans, where his wife lives. The Millers are reportedly separated.

Police Chief Murell Clark says a charge of reckless use of a firearm will be filed against Miller on his release from the hospital.

City Construction Nears Completion

Construction work on S. Evans St. and Burt St. is expected to be completed by next week, according to Cal Zorn, city manager.

He says Wes Haeussler is expected to complete curb and gutter installations this week on S. Evans, and then install approximately 600 feet of curb and gutter on Burt.

Chamber Is Backing Box

Board of Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously last Thursday to support Tecumseh Corrugated Box in its attempt to secure a building permit for company expansion.

The Board also agreed to attend next Monday night's Council meeting. Others, including members of the Tecumseh Area Industrial Association, also are expected to attend the session in support of the company.

Board members also approved investigating the city's zoning ordinances for older sections of the community. Remarks indicated that the zoning was fair for new areas but some concessions should be made in older districts.

Dad, 29, Hangs Self in Barn

A 29-year-old father of five was found hanging in a barn at his residence at 10547 Sutton Rd., Sunday. Dead is Alton Joseph Sims, Sr., the body was discovered by his wife at 2 p.m.

Britton Police were summoned and in turn notified the Sheriff's Department Coroner Donald Dunsmore pronounced him dead by strangulation and ruled the death a suicide.

He had recently been employed at the Ford Motor Company in Saline. He and his family have resided at the Sutton Rd. address for about a year and a half.

Mr. Sims was born May 31, 1940, in Adrian and attended Adrian schools. He was married to Mary Kemp, Dec. 8, 1961, in Lansing.

In addition to his wife, surviving are two sons, Alton, Jr., and Martin; three daughters, SuAnn, Christine Marie and Trina Rae, all at home; parents, Raymond and Frieda Malosh Sims of Fowlerville; three brothers, Allen and Cletus of Adrian and Manard of Reynolds Corner, O.; two sisters, Mrs. Monica McClure of Fowlerville and Mrs. Dean Evans of Bath.

A funeral Mass was celebrated Wednesday morning at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Robert Handley officiated. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery in Williamston.

Roe Suffers 2nd Attack at Hospital

Earldean Roe, veteran Tecumseh barber and presently serving as Clinton Township Supervisor, suffered a heart attack Sunday morning and apparently another Tuesday.

He is in serious condition at Herrick Hospital.

Mr. Roe, who has been in a partnership with Russ Garno in downtown Tecumseh since 1941, suffered his first attack while at his home on Taylor Rd.

He is the second local businessman to suffer such an attack within a week. Jerry Coffey, owner of Jerry's Market, is reportedly doing well at the hospital after an attack the week before.

A former resident, G. Maxwell Smith, retired Tecumseh Products executive, reportedly suffered a heart attack Sunday and is in Bixby Hospital.

Mrs. Dick James didn't realize that she is a VIP (very important person) until she got home and read the Spokane Daily Chronicle. She had received a personal note from Ruby Samuelson inviting the scoutmaster's wife to a tea and boat ride while she was visiting the Boy Scout Jamboree. In reading the Washington paper, Mrs. James realized that her note had been from Mrs. Donald Samuelson, wife of the governor of the state.

Two Britton boys were grateful to Mrs. Richard James, who acted as a scout ma and carried birthday cake for 40 of them at the National Boy Scout Jamboree from 50 miles away. Jim Raeburn of Britton and Allen Breckel, Adrian, were the happy recipients. If they hadn't been such big fellows they might have kissed her for her thoughtfulness.

Would you believe . . . Tecumseh isn't even on the map? We mean the map provided by Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Mich. 48926, for the "close to home" tour promotion sponsored by American Petroleum Institute. Their suggested tour triangle swings from Detroit's Greenfield Village, along US-12 through Clinton to Somerset, Adrian and Toledo, and includes a side trip to Hidden Lake Gardens, without so much as a flyspeck to mark this fair city. How about that?

NEWCOMERS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hicks have moved from Clinton to their home at 1001 W. Russell Rd. Charles is employed at the Ford plant in Saline, his wife, Alma, at Chrysler in Scio. Of five children, only Kenneth Sutherland remains at home. He will be 15 in August and attends Tecumseh High School as a sophomore in the fall. Other children include Wayne and Daniel Sutherland, both in the Army; Stephen Hicks, Clinton, and Deborah, who is a freshman at Indiana Extension. The family enjoys camping, bowling and stock car races.

ACCIDENTS

Tecumseh police handled five other accidents during the past week besides the one which claimed the life of a four-month-old baby.

Two of the drivers were cited. A resume is:

Aug. 5 — Wallace MacGeorge informed police that a fence and gate post had been damaged at Moore Lumber. A truck driver, George H. Briggs, 28, Standish, denied running into the gate and fence, although paint scrapings from his trailer and gate post were similar.

Aug. 7 — Lela M. Colson, 63, of 815 Outer Dr., was cited for failure to have her car under control after running into the rear of Harold E. Speer, 43, of 321 N. Pearl. Mishap occurred on E. Pottawatamie St. Mrs. Colson was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

Aug. 7 — William K. Christie, 40, Jackson, was cited for running a red light and driving on an expired operator's license after a collision with Michael C. Herbert, 18, of 513 N. Union, at the intersection of N. Evans St. and Brown.

Aug. 8 — William L. Petty, 20, E. Valley Rd., damaged his auto after running into a construction hole on S. Evans St. Damages reported include left front wheel and windshield.

It's A Big Day For MIS Races

Sunday will be a big day for Michigan International Speedway when the Yankee 600 makes the scene. With the number of Rebel drivers from the southern tracks wheeling the Fords, Plymouths and Dodges, Confederate money may make a comeback after all.

Among those in the cockpits of the superstocks will be Yankees Benny Parsons, Iggy Katona, Ron Grana all of Michigan, along with the super-stars of the southland, Carl Yarborough, Lee Roy Yarbrough, Richard Petty, David Pearson and Paul Goldsmith.

Somewhat of local interest will be Iggy Katona's appearance in Lenawee. Katona drove on the old ¾-mile oval at the Lenawee Fairgrounds some years ago when modified stocks were all the rage for local fans.

On Saturday a 250-mile race will be held for NASCAR grand touring stocks on the two-mile oval at MIS.

The 600-miler, the third race this year and the fourth for the new track, begins at 1 p.m., Sunday.

The engagement of Deanna Morton Cook to Larry Henning is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morrie Morton, 8536 Forrister Rd., Adrian. The bride-elect is employed at R-Bon's Beauty Salon. Mr. Henning is the son of Mrs. Gladwin Henning, 6565 N. County Line Hwy., Britton, and the late Mr. Henning. He is a Britton High School graduate and is serving with the Navy. A fall wedding is planned.

Gridder Exams At High School

One of the first signs of fall occurs here each year when football prospects undergo physical examinations at the high school.

Such examinations will take place this Friday at 10 a.m. for Tecumseh and Britton gridders, Junior High prospects and candidates for the cross country team.

Dr. M. R. Blanden, chief of staff at Herrick Hospital, will be in charge.

Tecumseh Coach Tom Fagan announces football camp will open next Monday for approximately 35 candidates at the Girl Scout camp at Wamplers Lake.

He will be assisted at the conditioning camp by Pat Connors, high school assistant, and Henry Mensing, former Tecumseh player. Glen Work has again volunteered to do the cooking for the boys.

Ted Todd is expected to bus freshmen and sophomores to the camp each morning.

Regular practice for the 1969 Indians will not start until Aug. 25.

Crash Victim Succumbs Friday

A Toledo woman died Friday of injuries suffered in a two-car collision at Hoagland Hwy. on M-50, near Britton, Thursday.

She was taken to Bixby Hospital by Sheriff's patrol and admitted to the intensive care unit where she succumbed the next day.

Mrs. Edna Y. Tucker, 62, of Toledo, had been in Brooklyn visiting friends and was returning home when the mishap occurred.

According to witnesses, Mrs. Tucker, headed east, swerved to miss a vehicle stopped waiting to make a left turn. In doing so her car struck that of one being driven by James Hill, 39, of Marion, O. The Tucker vehicle immediately caught fire and was extinguished by Barry Brablec, into whose front yard the vehicle had careened after the impact.

Mr. Hill and his wife, Ann, who was traveling with him, were taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises and later released.

Both vehicles were totally demolished in the crash.

The death of Mrs. Tucker was the 22nd in Lenawee County this year.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Evelsizer

CLINTON — Funeral services were held Monday at Jenter Funeral Home, Manchester, for Mrs. Fay Evelsizer, 31105 Willow Rd., who died of head injuries in a three-car collision at 7:20 p.m., Friday, in Clinton.

She was born July 6, 1930, in Bridgewater, the daughter of Harry and Gertrude Sturdevant. Maxine Sturdevant married Fay Evelsizer, Sept. 11, 1948.

She was employed at Ford Motor Co., Rawsonville.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two brothers, Dale, in California, Harry of Manchester, and a sister, Mrs. Erving Gill, Manchester, and her grandfather.

The Rev. O. W. Cooper, Jr., officiated and burial was in Lenawee Hills Memorial Gardens.

Just prior to the accident, Mr. and Mrs. Evelsizer had returned to their home after vacationing in Illinois. Mrs. Evelsizer told her husband she was going into Clinton to get some ice cream, and she was eastbound, waiting to make a left turn from W. Michigan Ave. to Lee's Farm Pantry, when her red Mustang was struck in the rear by an eastbound automobile driven by John Eugene Bauer, 28, of 11660 Clinton-Manchester Rd.

The impact spun the Bauer Thunderbird into the path of a third car, a Valiant, driven by Ralph Klanke, 36, 13180 Neblo Rd.

The resounding crash was heard throughout the village, and traffic was backed up on the [illegible] for some time.

Klanke was admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital for treatment of facial cuts and possible leg injuries, and was released Saturday. His passengers, Mrs. Klanke, and children, Dawn, 3, Timothy, 8, and Sherri, 1, were treated for minor cuts and released.

Troopers Van Til and Daily of the Clinton State Police were parked in a marked patrol vehicle, westbound, approximately 150 yards west of the collision, and reported that a cloud of dust obscured their view of the actual impact.

John Bauer, who received minor cuts, was not held, pending further investigation by State Police.

Band Camp Is On Director or Not

CLINTON — With a prospective band director considering an offer by Clinton Community Schools, Wednesday afternoon, the administration announced band members will be going to Band Camp at Camp Kohahna, Glen Lake, Sunday, even if a temporary director is hired for the week of camp.

Band members will be notified of time for leaving, Sunday, and time for having all luggage at the school, Saturday afternoon, to be packed on the buses.

With Seabees In Vietnam

Construction Mechanic 3/c John G. Miller, USN, son of Mrs. Cryscilda H. Miller, 5247 Palmer Hwy., Britton, is serving with the Seabees of Naval Construction Battalion Maintenance Unit 302 in Vietnam. There are only two such units in Vietnam.

The unit provides maintenance and construction support for floating Navy combat patrol units and their advanced bases at Cam Ranh Bay and 12 other sites throughout Vietnam.

The 300-man unit has its headquarters at the Naval Support Facility in Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam.

City Receives Safety Citation

Tecumseh received an AAA Pedestrian Safety Citation Aug. 5 for its outstanding record of four years without a pedestrian fatality.

Tecumseh was among 23 Michigan cities in its population class to be so cited in the 1969 AAA National Pedestrian Safety Award competition.

Presentation of a plaque by John Trellay of the Automobile Club of Michigan's Safety and Traffic Engineering Division symbolized the award. The presentation was made to Mayor Warold Easton in ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at City Hall.

Playgrounds

Last week brought the summer program of the playgrounds to a close. It began with a trip to the zoo on Monday and ended with a hot dog roast on Friday. It was a busy and exciting week for the children as well as for the directors of the playgrounds. Special events were held at various playgrounds.

West Branch constructed pinatas filled with candy and broke them in a true Spanish fashion. On Thursday, Nena Murphy became a Bubble Gum Blowing Champ by blowing a bubble six inches in diameter. Sandy Sprague came in second and Jo Gray, third, in the contest.

Tecumseh Acres and Herrick Park each held a scavenger hunt on Thursday. At Tecumseh Acres the winners were — first, Mary and Patty Shorkey, Linda Pace; second, Colleen Shorkey and Ann Hella; third, Dawn Johnson and Sue Schadwald. The following arose as winners at Herrick Park: Tim Smith and Bob Montgomery, first, a tie for second between Sam Smith and Steve Jensen, Dale Carpenter and Tom Fiddler, third were Kay and Nancy Kitson. Diane and Barb Lemanski won the Booby Prize.

On Wednesday, a hot kickball game was found in action at Herrick Park School. Herrick Park challenged Patterson playground to the game. Doug Gilpin acted as manager for the Patterson gang while the Herrick Park team coached itself. It was a tough game until about the fourth inning when Herrick Park moved ahead. The Patterson team was defeated 17 to 10.

An unusual contest was held at Shady Lane playground. Under the guidance of Rosanne Gerten and Diane Lake the children competed in a spinach eating contest. Many faces were made but all were brave enough to try a little. Joe Gittings was declared the winner, though the Bagby boys, Jim and Jack gave him a close race.

Softball

The final standings of the Junior Girls Softball Teams placed Diane Lake's Daredevils far i front of the other teams. Th Daredevils were defeated onl once during the season. Thei record is due to their determina tion and ability to play as a team

Diane Lake can also be credit ed for part of the honor, she ha showed her team how to win an yet enjoy playing softball fo the fun of it.

The following girls are th players of the first place Dar devils: Michele Tate, Jan Young, Marcia Canfield, Elaij Aebersold, Jana Upel, Sue Kan Lydia Torres, Mary Lay, Ved Yoder, Nancy Lay, Cindy Bohar non, Cheryl Williams, Jod Fielder, Sue Fraser and Conni Hormon.

Letters to the Editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:
Council of Tecumseh
Tecumseh, Michigan 49286
Gentlemen:

For a number of years the Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Corporation has worked to help our city bring in new industry to provide more jobs and a bigger tax base.

At the present time the Corporation is providing land at cost for the establishment of new buildings for General Telephone Company, R. S. Brown Mfg. Company, which are now under construction, and also land for the expansion of Tecumseh Woodworking.

It appears that Council's decision to disallow Tecumseh Corrugated Box to expand is in direct contrast to what the TAIDA has been trying to do. Not only does this hurt Tecumseh, it also hurts all the people of Tecumseh and creates a poor image for any prospective industrial expansion in our city.

Poor zoning laws should be changed, not only to allow the expansion of Tecumseh Corrugated Box, but to allow for future industrial expansion in our city.

Very truly yours,
Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Corp.

God Is My Landlord

Roy Battles, Farm Program Director of WLW, Cincinnati, gave a graphic account of a trip he had made throughout Europe with a farmer, a merchant and a housewife, to get the "common man's" first hand impression of actual conditions following the war.

Clarence C. Pickett, Executive Secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, of Philadelphia, thanked the crowd for the mountain of wheat which they had given for famine relief. He then explained how the wheat would be processed into Ralston Relief Cereal and then distributed through their own organization in countries where it was needed most.

Mr. Pickett explained the unusual story behind the Ralston Relief Cereal. Mrs. Arthur E. Morgan, whose husband was President of Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio, had a dream about a "perfect cereal" which would provide all of the nourishing food necessary to bridge the danger of starvation, yet be easy to transport. It contained wheat, oats and soy beans in certain proportions. She told the committee about her dream. They sent the formula to William H. Danforth, chairman of the Board of the Ralston Purina Company, in St. Louis, who had it tested. He later reported that it was a rough and coarse cereal, but comprised a complete and perfect diet which would sustain life for a long time.

"This is the food," concluded Mr. Pickett, pointing to a hundred-pound sample bag of the cereal on the platform, "that your wheat will provide for those unfortunate people."

William H. Danforth, of the Ralston Purina Mills, came from the American Youth Foundation Camp, "Miniwanca," at Shelby, Michigan, to see the Dynamic Kernels festivities. It was Mr. Danforth's mill which made the Ralston Relief Cereal. Mr. Danforth has been a tither all through his business years. He was especially interested in obtaining as many pictures of this event as possible for use in magazine articles, to tell the story to others.

John Nicholson, who had just returned from Poland, gave a vivid picture of the real need in many of the stricken countries.

At this point there was a break in the program for several radio broadcasts. WJR, of Detroit, was first on the air for a half hour program. Edgar "Bud" Guest, Jr., was the narrator. He explained the event and described the activities. Then calling Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hayden to the microphone to answer questions, he had them relate some of their experiences during the past six years of the project. Many of the prominent guests who were present for the program were also called upon for short statements. "Bud" Guest was assisted by Marshall Wells, the Farm Program Director.

Following this, the American Broadcasting Company put on a coast-to-coast broadcast, which was conducted in very much the same manner. It was very realistic, with many unrehearsed sound effects coming from the field back of the platform. The old-fashioned steam thresher blew its whistle and let off steam . . . some of the trucks pulled away with loads of the wheat bound for the mill . . . the jeeps dashed across the field . . . and an airplane roared overhead. The radio engineers liked the sound effects and motioned for them to continue.

The Adrian Grain Company took charge of the wheat at the close of the day — weighing and handling it free of charge.

Rev. Russell Ford of the Cadle Tabernacle in Indianapolis, special soloist, rendered numbers at various times on the program. He was called back again and again for encores.

Dr. Charles Vickrey, President of the Golden Rule Foundation in New York City, then introduced Mrs. Emma Clarissa Clement, of Louisville, Kentucky, who was elected as the outstanding American Mother for 1946. This 72-year-old negro mother was a bundle of energy as she stepped to the microphone and electrified the audience with her personal testimony. Born the granddaughter of a slave, later the wife of a minister, and mother of seven children, she told how God had blessed her as she tithed their meager family income. She was literally a "Dynamic Kernel" herself—a striking example of what Perry Hayden meant when he said, "Tithe, and God will bless you for it."

Mrs. Clement proudly related the successes of each of her seven children, now doctors, ministers, college presidents, officers in the U. S. Army and leaders in their communities.

"I am sure that my seven children would never have been graduated from colleges, nor would I have had the courage or strength to accomplish such a task, had it not been for the blessings, happiness, and satisfaction that came from tithing," said Mrs. Clement.

At the close of her talk she was given a tremendous ovation — which itself was another recognition on the part of the audience, of "tithing."

While in Adrian, "The American Mother of 1946" was the guest of Mrs. Aneta Truman, Superintendent of the Girls Training School. She also was a guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Council of Church Women. Before leaving Adrian, Mrs. Clement spoke to the negro girls of the Training School.

Rev. Clifton Robinson, who preached the original sermon that inspired Perry Hayden to undertake this experiment six years before, brought portions of the same message to a radio audience of millions. A few months later, this energetic, resourceful, and consecrated young man embarked with his wife and children as a Missionary to India. There he put into practice John 12:24 with his own life, himself to become a "Dynamic Kernel." "Cliff" Robinson was no ordinary missionary. Although he was going to work with the humble natives of India, still he was prepared to meet the Viceroy too, if called upon — a dress suit was tucked away in his trunk among other things.

"Verily, verily, I say unto you that if a seed be planted in the ground to bring forth fruit, it must first die . . . and that is a pattern for our living," said Cliff Robinson. "The Apostle Paul said, 'I am crucified with Christ.' . . . We must have the death of sin, the death of greed, the death of selfishness and the death of everything that is against Christ. We can make our lives what we please — either meaningless, or we can make of them something important."

Clifton Robinson with his family were sent as missionaries to India for the Ohio Yearly Meeting Of Friends. Returning for his Sabbatical year in 1953, he is currently pastor of the First Friends Church of Cleveland.

Kim Sigler, later elected Governor of Michigan and who was killed in a plane crash in 1953, gave a short talk on what this project meant to the state. Murray Van Wagoner, the Democratic candidate for governor also spoke highly of the project's merits.

Dr. Don R. Falkenberg, International President of the Bible Meditation League, with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, gave detailed Biblical references to prove that the "tithe" should by rights be 15%, instead of 10%, and explained later that the blessings and benefits would be more than proportionately greater.

Dr. Falkenberg's message was based on the revelation of a commonly overlooked letter of the alphabet in Malachi 3:10. He told how he had been an ordinary 10% tither for many years, and had enjoyed the ordinary blessings from God's hand. Then he went on to tell how in the year 1932 he had been led to make an analytic study of Malachi 3:10 in the original Hebrew. The result of his investigation was the discovery that the real Biblical Tithe was 15%!

Dr. Falkenberg climaxed his message by saying, "After Mrs. Falkenberg and I began giving 15 per cent of our income, the gifts from God increased from the common everyday blessings, until we experienced 'the open windows of heaven,' with overwhelming blessings showering down."

"The government of the United States recognizes FIFTEEN PER CENT as a reasonable portion of one's income to be given for church and charity. It has been so recorded in the statute books of our nation," explained Dr. Falkenberg.

"When the Federal Income Tax Bill was being drafted, one of the major points of discussion was concerning the amount of charitable gifts which might be deducted from the reported income as non-taxable. It was recommended that not to exceed fifty per cent of the income might be deducted as non-taxable, if it had been given during the fiscal year."

"But," Mr. Falkenberg continued, "the ten per cent did not raise the standard high enough to include the Bible-obeying orthodox Jews who give not less than fifteen per cent. Therefore, when the Law was finally submitted and passed, it provided for a deduction of fifteen per cent. Thus our United States government placed its stamp of approval on the fifteen per cent tithe.

"The fifteen per cent, is based on a clear analysis of Malachi 3:10, but introduced by Malachi 3.8. Note in this verse that the accusation was not that the people had robbed God of 'the tithe' (singular), but of 'the tithes' (plural) and 'offerings' (plural). And then note in the tenth verse that God's remedy for the curse of the depression upon the land was in bringing 'the tithes' (plural, or more than the ten per cent tithe) into the storehouse.

"This fifteen per cent standard is the combination of three great stewardship offerings: the first fruits, based on Exodus 23:19: 'The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the Lord thy God'; then the regular 'tithe', based on Leviticus 27:30: 'And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's: it is holy unto the Lord'; and finally the extra tithe every third year for the care of the poor, an alternate arrangement being the payment of one-third of an extra tith- year, based on Deuteronomy 14: 28, 29: 'At the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithes of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates: And the Levite, (because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee) and the stranger, the fatherless and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come and shall eat and be satisfied; that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest.'

"The word, firstfruits,' is a mathematical word meaning 'one-sixtieth,' or 'one and two-thirds per cent.' One-third of a three years 'full tithe' is three and one-third per cent. Thus we add one and two-thirds, ten, and three and one-third, and the sum is exactly fifteen, the very percentage allowed by the U. S. Government, the very amount which the orthodox Jew gives as his minimum, and the very amount recommended by God to those who would claim the blessings of Malachi 3:10.

"This standard followed by the Christian, not because of the legal aspects, but because of the overwhelming love in his heart for the Lord, will result in spiritual, material and physical blessings beyond the Christian's capacity to receive them. I do not recommend fifteen per cent stewardship because the Law so orders, but because it is God's divine plan," Dr. Falkenberg concluded. . . .

Starting with 1953 the U.S.A. Treasury Dept. allowed not 15%, but 20% deduction if the tax payer could prove he had given that portion of his income to "good works."

Dr. Denzil G. Ridout of the United Church of Canada, from Toronto, and President of the United Stewardship Council of Canada and the United States, was one of the most interested observers, as he watched Stewardship being demonstrated in a practical way.

A dynamic individual, again on hand for the Dynamic Kernels festivities, was Mrs. Charles Cowman, President of the Oriental Missionary Society, with headquarters in Los Angeles, California.

Among the many other prominent guests of honor were: Stanley Hamilton, Secretary of the Rural Life Association, from Richmond, Indiana; Rev. J. Edgar Williams of Detroit, pastor of the Tecumseh Friends Church fifty years before; Dr. V. R. Edman, President of Wheaton College; Martin Loop of Adrian, 103-year-old Civil War Veteran; Carroll Michener, Editor of the Northwestern Miller; Charles Culver, of the Oriental Missionary Society from Winona Lake, Indiana; Mrs. Billy Sunday, affectionately known as "Ma" Sunday and Homer Coppock, Friends Service Committee, from Chicago.

There was a recess of about an hour for supper. Many who came from great distances left at this time and others from nearby refilled the stands for the evening meeting.

A number of the county Granges had set up refreshment stands in the Exhibit Buildings throughout the grounds, so there was plenty to eat during the whole day. Clarence Kleidinst, Master of the Pomona Grange, was in charge of this work.

CHAPTER 21

Great Spiritual Climax

The climax of the day and a fitting ending for the great world renowned Biblical Wheat demonstration, was an outstanding evangelical address in the evening, by Dr. Walter A. Maier of "The Lutheran Hour." (Now deceased)

A "Youth for Christ" program was held in the early part of the evening. By the time this was over, the grounds were packed again to hear Dr. Maier. The platform was brilliantly illuminated with huge floodlights. A public address system carried the voices of the speakers all through the grounds. There was a slight breeze which unfurled the hundreds of flags, making an impressive setting.

At the close of the Youth Rally, Rev. E. F. Manske of Adrian stepped forward and introduced Dr. Eugene Bettermann, Director of "The Lutheran Hour." who presented Dr. Maier.

Dr. Maier took as his text, Psalms 68-19 — "Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits."

"We cannot conclude a great day like this without praising God for what He has shown us in this demonstration, and without being reminded that He will bless everyone of us as He has these Dynamic Kernels," Dr. Maier stated in his opening comments.

"This is a day that will go down in the annals of Christian History. What Perry Hayden started six years ago, will go on and on through the expanded work of Christianity, made possible by increased tithing.

"The United States Government allows a 15% deduction from our income taxes for 'giving,' but as a nation we are not giving 2%. The average is only from .8% to 1%. The Old Testament tithing was 10%. Many people today should give from 20 to 30 per cent according to the blessings that they have received.

"Education is not the way out of our problems today, although it helps. Legislation alone is not the solution. Emotional surges are not the answer. There is just one hope and one assurance . . . GOD is our salvation, and He will bless us as He blessed these kernels of wheat."

Dr. Maier held that vast audience spellbound for over an hour with an inspiring evangelical message. No one could have given a finer "cap sheaf" for this world-famous Tithing Festival.

Dr. Maier had one of the largest radio audiences of its kind in the world. He was heard over a thousand stations in his network, and an estimated audience of more than four million people in seventy countries.

At the close of Dr. Maier's masterful address, Rev. Howard Western called attention to ten barrels furnished by Don Nixon of the Quaker Oats Company. They had been prepared and placed by Menno Neuhauser of Napoleon, Ohio, at various convenient locations throughout the grounds, with the following sign tacked on the side: "Drop contributions here for Famine Relief Fund and Biblical Wheat Day expenses." These barrels were all gathered together in front of the grandstand and emptied into one barrel. A police cruiser then took the "barrel of money" to the Adrian State Savings Bank for the night. The next day the contents was counted by Howard Western, Harry Hungerford and Russell McAfee. Everything above the actual approved bills for the celebration was added to the Famine Relief Fund.

Thus the "curtain went down" on a memorable day of vivid Biblical lessons. There were lessons of abundance and productivity. Those tiny grains had been rightly called "Dynamic Kernels." Earth's soil can feed its inhabitants if the right encouragement can be found to foster production. No one should ever starve or go hungry in a world where God has blessed us with plenty of everything — except sense enough to use what we have.

There was the lesson of the tithe. The thousands who looked on, as well as the millions who listened to the radio or read the stories in the newspapers, heard emphatic testimony from those who had positively proved that it pays to share with God.

The lesson of benevolence was strongly illustrated. The entire final crop was generously given for processing into the specially prepared Famine Relief Cereal to feed the children and invalids in countries which were suffering from lack of food. There were also the illustrations of "rebirth," "reaping what you sow," "community cooperation," "faith" and many other Biblical lessons.

Several days following the celebration Forrest Smith asked Perry, at a Gideon Meeting in Adrian, whether he had seen the cross in the field on the day after the celebration. . . .

Allen Hayford of Tecumseh, Mr. Smith and Perry went out to the field the next morning, and sure enough, there it was — like a great seal of approval placed on the project . . . A golden cross 30 feet long and 11 feet across, formed by the wheat stubbles on the ground . . . There probably was a piece of equipment there and it was necessary to cut around it. When the portion in the shape of a cross was left and cut later, it was not cut as close to the ground as the other, which left the conspicuous cross. . . .

Perry looked at the cross at his feet, "I hope that we did honor to our heavenly Father and He was really pleased enough with our efforts to place His seal of approval on our attempt to visually demonstrate tithing, so the whole world can see what tithing will do for them individually."

CHAPTER 22

Does Tithing Pay?

"Does tithing pay?" Ask any of the thousands of people who had a part in helping make this phenominal experiment a success.

In almost every instance the tithing farmer reported that in the long run his remaining 90%, after paying the tithe, when replanted usually produced as much or more than his non-tithing neighbors who replanted the entire 100% of their crops. Christian work also received the financial help.

But this is only part of the story. The Biblical tither receives a benefit in spiritual happiness and satisfaction which he had never dreamed possible. These cannot be measured by the yardstick of "dollars" alone. Some men struggle all their lives to amass huge fortunes, with hope of buying happiness and contentment in their retiring years — only to discover that they are worn-out, broken in health and too old to enjoy it. God will repay us in some form, more than we give: in health, opportunities, success, prosperity, or a thousand other ways that I know nothing about.

"Does tithing pay?" . . . Let the records speak for themselves in the personal and business life of Perry Hayden. He has a happy and ideal family life and a successful business.

The Hayden mill was in the hands of its creditors in 1936, but Perry kept on tithing and even increased his tithe from 10% to 15%. By the end of 1937 the business was out of trouble. In 1938 a new warehouse had to be erected. In 1943 it was necessary to build a new grain tank. In 1944 a second grain tank was built and in 1945 the third tank had to be added. In 1947 a new feed warehouse was built. The sale of Hayden flour and feed has increased about ten times since the first cubic inch of wheat was planted in 1940.

"Does tithing pay?" . . . Read what some of the world's greatest manufacturers say: . . .

R. G. LeTourneau, the world's largest manufacturer of road and grading machinery, really took God into partnership in his business. Ninety percent of the stock of his company was actually placed in the Lord's name, under the legal title, "The Lord's Treasury." He did not give the Lord the 10% tithe, but kept the 10% and gave the Lord the 90%, and his business prospered so fast that he could hardly keep up with it.

Here are his own words:

"The minute I started my partnership with God business boomed. The next year my sales were over $100,000. The second year over $150,000. The third year over $200,000. Then we hit $400,000. It kept going like that, in leaps and bounds until it reached $7,000,000; later $40,000,000.

"God's dividends have amounted to more than $10,000,000. I have established a Foundation which supports a number of foreign missions and employs twelve evangelists, who travel over the country and speak in churches. We send out 1,500,000 pamphlets every month. We have a publication called Now, which is mailed free for the asking, to 300,000 people weekly.

(To be continued)

VOICE of THE HERALD

Much to Gain

In any controversy, opinions of others and their convictions must be respected.

With this in mind, we respect the convictions of four Councilmen who have objected and prevented an expansion of Tecumseh Corrugated Box. Their position is certainly not a popular one, but not all popular decisions are the right one either.

Their position to protect the interests of the community is a justifiable one — if their position is in the best interests of the community. We simply don't feel that it is.

If, per chance, Tecumseh would lose the company, the community would be losing part of its tax base, a $1 million payroll, employment, and friends and neighbors.

To say that the company is asking too much, or that some other industrial firm will come along and move in, is nothing but conjecture and wishful thinking.

Tecumseh has much to gain in an expanding Tecumseh Box. It could have more employment, more payroll and more tax base to operate our city and schools. Isn't this worthwhile and making a small strip of grass, which the city ordinance requires for a setback, seem rather ridiculous?

Losing or even crippling the operations here of the company by the city certainly does not enhance a good image of the community's relations to industry — new or old.

The company is in an old plant and in an industrial neighborhood which will never be a "Red Mill Drive." New construction should not be considered a detriment to the neighborhood, but an asset.

Tecumseh Box was founded here just a few years ago. It's young, and so are babies. They do outgrow their cribs.

It's time to let this "baby" out of its crib and grow.

● LESTER C. TUCKER

Services will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Niblack Home For Funerals for Lester C. Tucker, 64, who died Aug. 12 at Herrick Memorial Hospital. He had been ill for about five months and hospitalized about seven weeks.

The Tucker residence is at 14010 Wamplers Lake Rd.

Born May 26, 1905, in Britton, he married Marie Stubbins May 7, 1926, in Wauseon, O.

He was the son of Reuben and Alvira Lister Tucker and was employed in production at the Tecumseh Products Co. for 25 years.

Mr. Tucker was a member of the Brooklyn IOOF No. 440, the Tecumseh Chapter, F & AM and the Golden Rod Chapter, OES, Clinton.

Survivors include his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Harold (Betty) Jeffers, Britton, and Mrs. Floyd (Alvira) Graham, 6917 Colonial Dr., and three grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Walter (Pansy) Love of Blissfield and Mrs. Enos (Erma) Butler of Yuma, Ariz., and one brother, Merland Tucker, of Blissfield also survive.

He was preceded in death by one grandchild, one brother and his parents.

The Rev. Earl Habecker and the Rev. Russell Cooper will officiate and burial will be in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHAT KIND OF FAITH SAVES?

There are four examples in the Bible of Faith. These are given to show us that God's Salvation is available only to those who come for Salvation in God's Way.

One example is in John 2:22 and 24 where we see people believed Jesus' words. We are told also that Jesus did not believe them. They may have known of Heaven, Hell, Sin, Satan and other Biblical Teachings but did not have Saving Faith.

A second illustration is found in James 2:19. Here is a declaration of the belief of Devils. They believe what is to be known about God. They shake, fear, shudder and are unconverted. This is simple head belief.

A third declartion is also found in James 2:19. Thou believest there is one God, thou doest well. This position would fit the majority of men. They believe only in a Creator and a historical Christ who lived and died and rose again.

Saving Faith is indicated in Ephesians 2:8 "By Grace are ye saved through Faith". This Faith believes the Word of God, Believes about God and Believes in God. This Faith then responds to God in action. The response sought from us by God is found in Romans 10:9, confession with the mouth of our sinfulness and desire to accept the Savior, along with a belief of His Sacrifice for us. This Faith works. This Faith Saves.

Mr. Sebring's 94 Summers

Pearl Sebring celebrated his 94th birthday anniversary Sunday with members of his family dropping in to greet him at the home of his son, Claude.

Guests at the open house were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Bruce, Blissfield, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Sebring and Tim Sebring, Sylvania, O., Mr. and Mrs. Avery Bruce and four daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Sebring and Eric.

Mrs. Claude Sebring remarked Tuesday that not too many people reach the age of 94 and have a four-year-old grandson, Eric's age.

Mrs. Gary Crawford and children were house guests last week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sebring, while the children's father was in Chicago on business.

YOU TOLD US

by Dorothy Grigg

"How's the backyard banquet coming?" remarked our neighbor, Red Stephenson, Tuesday night when his inwards began to do his talking for him. We were all hungry and the food, mostly leftovers, tasted good.

Nothing, but nothing, beats good company and good food in the out-of-doors on a warm summer evening after a busy day. Neighbors and friends can drive away the exasperation and concern of "the way things are going" in a hurry.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Dermyer were the happy recipients of a backyard banquet recently, too, to welcome her home after a lengthy trip to the hospital. Twenty-one from around the W. Cummins, S. Union and Van Buren block gathered at the Dermyer home under the gentle direction of Mrs. Lawrence Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. John Kopka for a potluck chicken dinner.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pospisil, Roberta, Linda nd Debbie Coleman, daughters of Mrs. Pospisil, Kim Hammang, their friend, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stratton and Christin, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Skinner and Amy and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Weakly. They had such a good time, they hope to make it an annual affair.

Hope they do. We are convinced it makes this old world a better place in which to live. If you had had dinner with our neighborhood at Helen Jahns' last week, you would know it. My, that gal is a charming hostess and Red's daughter, Carolyn, knows the in's and out's of a barbecue grill. Chicken and steak, yum.

√

Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley and daughter, Helen, left Thursday afternoon for Brookfield, Ill., where Helen was maid of honor at her sister, Sandra's wedding, Saturday afternoon to Leon Zaffer of Chicago. Diane, Helen's sister, has been caring for her niece there this past two months. Diane played the nuptial music, assisted by her uncle, Gerald Berry. The Schooleys' two sons, Frank, of Grand Rapids, and Dan, of Holton, and their wives, and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hoffmeyer, of Muskegon were also present. In the evening a wedding supper was served to the wedding party and immediate Zaffer and Schooley families at the Como Inn in the Chicago Loop. Friday evening Mr. Zaffer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zaffer, entertained at a rehearsal buffet at their home in Chicago. The Schooleys returned Sunday evening bringing Diane and their granddaughter, Rene, home with them. Mr. and Mrs. Zaffer left on a honeymoon trip and will return here to pick up Rene in a couple of weeks.

√

Mrs. George Green is recuperating in her home after eight weeks' hospitalization. Mrs. Burt Warren is staying with Mrs. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Allen and family of Murray Hill, N. J., were in town last week for the Dickinson-Swaney wedding and to visit her mother, Mrs. Mae Dickinson, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen. Weekend guests in the latter's home were another daughter and husband. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boussum of Bay City.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Renwick of Reese, were Saturday visitors of Mrs. William Grigg, a patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital. They were dinner guests with Mrs. Horace Aten and Mrs. Hazelle Eaton of Jackson at the Lyle Grigg residence.

√

Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Jr., were in the city Aug. 4 to help his mother, Carrie Green, get settled at home after her hospitalization. They were in Trenton to visit the Rev. and Mrs. Allan Ramsey one evening for dinner.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weatherwax and daughters returned Saturday to their home in Largo, Fla., after visiting friends and relatives here.

Douglas Beasley, SN, has returned to Norfolk, Va., after spending a 21-day leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beasley. Seaman Beasley recently returned to the states from his third six-months' tour of duty in the Mediterranean area on the USS Columbus.

√

Kerry and Susan DeFoe of Maine are spending some time with their grandmother, Mrs. Earl Lindsley.

You Told Us

Families are another mighty fine "institution". The family of Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey were all home last week for the first time in 14 years. Gathered in the city over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Weber and four children of Frankenmuth, Joel Bailey, Ann Arbor, Mrs. W. C. Graham of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. James Nichols and three children and Mrs. Hilda Krebs to see and visit with Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Bailey and seven children of Lakeside, Arnz., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey and Carla Marie of Rochester, N. H., and Walter E. Bailey of Ketchum, Idaho.

The George Baileys would have been more pleased if the family of children and grandchildren could have been entirely complete. All were there except Timothy Weber who is still a patient at Saginaw Osteopathic Hospital with serious injuries, following an accident when he was run over by a lift truck. His condition is improving following surgery Aug. 5. The Donald Baileys visited the Webers on Wednesday and the George Baileys, Carl and family, Walter and Joel, on Friday.

Carol Lee Allen, Robert Smith Are Married

Carol Lee Allen became the bride of Robert Harvey Smith, III, in a one o'clock wedding August 2 at St. Elizabeth Church performed by the Rev. Fr. Robert J. Handley.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, 802 W. Pottawatamie and Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Smith, Jr., of St. Helen, formerly of Jackson.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She was wearing a floor length empire gown of peau de soie with A-line skirt and detachable train.

Chantilly lace enhanced the scalloped sabrina neckline, bodice and long sleeves and lace appliques trimmed the skirt, train and her floor length veil.

She carried roses, orchids, snowdrift pompons, stephanotis and ivy in a triangular cascade design.

Susan Allen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Roberta Hutton, Hudson, O., cousin of the groom; Jo Ann Biscupski, Virginia Dollison, Janet Goebel, Oscoda and Carol Zemoyan of Royal Oak.

They were attired alike in empire gowns of salt air green with puffed sleeves, wide white trim, bow and streamers. They carried baskets of yellow daisies.

Richard Smith, brother of the groom, John Allen, brother of the bride, James MacLean of Grand Rapids; James Menkiewicz, Ypsilanti, and Stephen LeFaive, St. Helen, were the ushers.

Karen Sch[illegible]spoleon, O., cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and Thomas Munson, cousin of the bride, of Leroy, O., served as ring bearer.

Kenneth Baxter of Jackson, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tangler and Mr. and Mrs. John Krueger were the hosts at a reception held at the home of the bride's parents.

Melissa and Anne Sage served the cake, Deborah Schwab, Yvonne and Juli Munson, cousins of the bride, registered the guests.

The bride attended Eastern Michigan University for two years. The groom is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and is employed by the General Motors Co. at Flint.

The couple will live at 4534 Raubinger Rd., Swartz Creek, following a wedding trip to Virginia.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at Don's Beef Buffet.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT HARVEY SMITH, III

The engagement of Pamela A. Williams to Richard L. Bevak is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Williams, 702 W. Pottawatamie. The bride-elect is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and a 1969 graduate of Kendall School of Design, Grand Rapids. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dom[illegible]nic Bevak of Dearbo[illegible]. He is employed by Time-Life Broadcasting, Inc., Grand Rapids. A Dec. 6 wedding is planned.

Marilyn McKay, Larry Shea Are United In Marriage

TIPTON — St. Thomas Catholic Church, Ann Arbor, was the setting for the marrige of Marilyn McKay and Larry Shea, Saturdy afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Patrick Jackson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McKay of Ann Arbor, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Shea, 8970 Tipton Hwy., Tipton.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza and carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid corsage.

Gowned alike in pink, the bride's attendants were Mrs. Enoch Fellenburger, of Ann Arbor, matron of honor, sister of the bride; and bridesmaids, Mrs. Gary Sanch, of Milan; Jill Kruse, of Ann Arbor; and Kathie Blewitt, of Glen Ridge, N. J.

The best man was Richard Van Sickle, and the ushers were Danny Van Sickle, of Tipton; Gary Sanch of Milan; and Enoch Fellenburger, of Ann Arbor.

The wedding party attended a dinner at the Statler-Hilton, Ann Arbor, and a reception was held at the American Legion Hall, Saline, Saturday evening.

The bride is a graduate of Ann Arbor High School. The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School in 1963, and is employed at Hoyt E. Whelan Co., Tecumseh.

The couple will reside in Tecumseh upon their return from a two weeks' trip to the East Coast and Bermuda.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at Leutheusers, Saline.

Dianne Ivan Is Guest at Shower

BRITTON — Dianne Ivan was the guest of honor at a pantry shower held at the Tony Ivan home Saturday afternoon.

Her bridesmaids, Dennise Ivan, Lois Lutton, JoanSmetka and Karen Ivan were co-hostesses and served refreshments to the 14 classmates and guests attending.

The group enjoyed games in which the prizes were awarded to the bride-to-be.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Bob Kruger and Mrs. James Conrad.

Dianne opened many useful pantry items.

Miss Ivan and David Csokasy will be married Saturday.

Swaney-Dickinson Nuptials Saturday Evening

Nancy Lee Swaney and F. Thomas Dickinson were united in marriage Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Leslie W. Miller of the Adrian First United Presbyterian Church.

Pews were marked with aisle candelabra, decorated with fresh flowers and bows for the double ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Swaney, 202 N. Wyandotte St., are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Dickinson, 514 W. Pottawatamie, are parents of the groom.

Grandfather of the groom, Fred C. Dickinson, sang, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Dickinson.

The bride wore a semi-fitted gown of rayon organza, edged at neckline, bodice, elbow length sleeves and hem line with re-embroidered Alencon lace, seed perls and crystals. The panel back was gathered at an empire height and accented with a bow. Her mantilla veil covered the cotillion sweep gown and was edged with the same lace.

She carried a crescent bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and yellow miniature carnations, as she was escorted to the altar by her father.

Kay Swaney was maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Louise Kennedy of Milwaukee, Wis., Barbara Istuan, New Boston; Chris Nelson, Grosse Pointe; all sorority sisters of the bride, and Carolyn Sebring, cousin of the groom.

Kathy Dunbar and Tina Roe, [illegible] of the bride, were junior bridesmids.

They were attired in A-line dresses of Avocado green imported silk-like polyester, each accented with a satin Obi bow and long chiffon sleeves with satin cuffs.

Clusters of mtching ribbon loops held their veils and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow daisies and white miniature carnations with yellow streamers.

Timothy Dickinson, brother of the groom, of Ann Arbor, was best man and the 375 guests were seated by Kent Naugle, Paul Campbell, Berkley; Greg Sebring, cousin of the groom, and Richard Herbert of Chicago. Master Eric Sebring was ring bearer.

A buffet dinner was served in the Tecumseh Products Co. Union Hall with Linda Easton, Mrs. Jeffrey Osburn, Mrs. Michael Blumerick, Linda Sickles, Jean Betzer and Mrs. Tim Dickinson assisting.

Beverly Laws of London, England, was a special guest.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Eastern Michigan University. She is affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and will teach this fall in a Chicago suburb.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School, Michigan State University and will enter his third year in medical school in Chicago.

Following a trip to Cape Cod, the couple will reside at 7520 S. Coles Ave., in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Dickinson were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Leutheuser's Restaurant in Saline.

Through My Window

HALF-BAKED

Awnings are nice sometimes. On these beautiful sunny and hot summer days, it is most helpful to have some protection over our big windows. The happy old sun seems to take special delight in "heating up" picture windows, and so, in the morning, we pull the awning for our south-facing window and, in the afternoon, the covering for the creek-facing one gets into the act. There is just one trouble — the awnings block out the sun but they also block out the view.

Lately this problem has been particularly difficult — each day Gertie T. and I ponder, to pull the awnings or not to pull the awnings! One Friday was especially bothersome. On both radio and TV, the weatherman persisted in talking about fair skies, no wind, and temperature readings in the low 90's. Just when Gertie T. should have started preparations to thwart the sun's window-peeking fun, the birds started appearing. What to do — should we watch birds or should we keep our cool.

The first bit of action was simply a replay of the usual summer goings-on. But they are such fun, we decided to watch just a little while and then pull the awnings.

There were grubby little downy woodpeckers and their bigger cousins, the hairys; the newest crop of robins was old enough to have respectably long tails but their breasts were still speckled; a couple of squirrels were playing a fast and furious game of tag; and the whole bluejay clan was noisily engaged in a screaming and hollering contest. Now I ask you, who would want to shut out these sights?

★

PLEASE DO NOT laugh at my use of the word "sight" immediately after the screaming and hollering contest. Of course, it was a loud affair but it was also funny to see. When bluejays make that much noise, they put their whole selves into it — they jump up and down, they continually move from one screeching perch to "a better one", they practically become carried away with their efforts.

Just as things were beginning to settle down, the titmice and nuthatches arrived on the scene. One particular rough - feathered little gray tufted tithouse was in a bad way, somewhere along the line he had lost his tail. It didn't seem to bother him, though, he flew to and from the feeder with ease.

The long-billed nuthatch was apparently possessed by a "saving" urge. He made trip after trip from the feeder to the walnut tree. The ridges in the bark must be stuffed full of sunflower seeds.

By ... it was lunch time and the sun had traveled far enough so that there was no need to think about the south awning. Soon, however, it would be boiling through the west window and we really should forestall this.

Such were our thoughts when, without the slightest warning, the big sprawling elm exploded into action. It was a big bird we saw, great areas of white showed on the body and the wings were a dark bluish black. Good gracious!

All summer we had worried about where the red-headed woodpeckers were and now, finally — no, there was not just one, there were two! As Gertie T. and I watched, the adult, with a beautiful red satiny head, was joined by a youngster, with a ridiculous brown head.

They were using the elm tree as a picnic table. It was only a short flight to the mulberry tree and, after each berry-picking expedition, they would go back to the picnic table to eat the fruit.

★

WE CERTAINLY could not pull the awning and cut out the read-headed woodpeckers — especially since one of them was a brown-headed red-head. As the hands on the clock flew round and the sun continued to stream through the window, the woodpeckers kept at their berry picking. It was apparently an all-afternoon picnic.

Suddenly though, something else attracted Gertie T.'s attention. What was clinging to the stalk of the tallest bergemot? Bergemot means hummingbirds to me and I was just about to kid her about "clinging hummingbirds" when I saw what she was looking at.

We could hardly believe our eyes but a quick check of the bird book and yes, it truly was a young Baltimore oriole. He was handsome; bold white markings on his wings, head and back a rich cinnamon brown, and bright yellowish orange on the underside of his wing when he flew away. Juvenile exploring is the only answer we can give as to why, late on a hot summer afternoon, a young oriole would perch himself on a stalk of bergemot.

So it is that the awnings never did get pulled but there were no complaints. Gertie T. and I were well satisfied with the day, it was great fun seeing the birds even though in the process we were half-baked.

Color Feature At Drive-In

"The Power of Resurrection," a full length color feature, is returning to the Devil's Lake Drive-In this weekend, Aug. 16 - 17.

This is a moving story of the Apostle Peter, as he awaits death at the hands of the Romans. Peter relates his life, his relationship with Christ, and his successes and failures just before his execution.

It will be shown at the Devil's Lake Drive-In, Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday at 9:15.

On July 20, 1969, electric heat was installed on the moon.

It sat smack in a spot called the Sea of Tranquility.

Although the information is classified, we assume that electric heat was chosen to ride 240,000 miles into outer space aboard the Apollo 11 because it's compact and unbelievably efficient.

And since the temperature on the moon can dip to −250° on a clear night, you know the most modern and reliable system our best brains could put together, was needed.

Actually, the electric heat system our men on the moon used to keep warm is very much like the ones you'll find in millions of apartments and homes right here on Mother Earth. Of course, because of the size of the spaceship and the length of time they spent on the moon, we're sure our space agency didn't care that electric heat can save many hours on house cleaning, offers room-to-room temperature control and can actually boost the value of your home. But you probably do.

The next in line were six groups depicting the landmarks in the "evolution" of wheat harvesting. Each group also figuratively represented one of each of the six years of the Dynamic Kernels project. Beautifully dressed girls carried banners explaining each year's group . . . First, "The sickle year," C. D. Finkbeiner carried a sickle representing how the wheat was cut during the Biblical Days . . . Second, "The cradle year," B. F. Allen of Cement City carried a cradle . . . Third, "The self-rake reaper year," Leroy Matthews drove an old reaper furnished by Andrew Leutheuser of Somerset. . . . Fourth, "The binder year," Fred Hanke of Adrian furnished a tractor-drawn binder for this demonstration . . . Fifth, "The combine year," Herbert Gilmore of Britton drove a tractor pulling a John Deere combine . . . Sixth, "The self-propelled combine year," an I-H-C self-propelled combine furnished by the Neuroth Brothers of Blissfield completed this interesting and unique "harvest pageant."

Following the pageant, there was more than a mile of trucks, trailers and cars, carrying thousands of bushels of the tithed wheat and donations from the public spirited farmers who added their gifts to the harvest for overseas famine relief. This section of the parade was headed by Isabelle Tripp, who drove a truck loaned by the Partridge Implement Company carrying 61 bushels of wheat as the tithe from her own farm.

It was an impressive [illegible] long line of cars with wheat rolling through town to the Fair Grounds. Some trucks were piled high with bags, while others carried the grain loose in special beds with high sideboards. Passenger cars were loaded inside and out. Many automobiles were even pulling trailers. It was an outpouring of the spirit of this inspired community which would be difficult to fully appreciate without seeing it. The observers on the streets watched with mixed emotions as the religious soul of America, the big hearts of her people and their faith in God were publicly demonstrated in this united effort of all races, colors, creeds and nationalities.

The last group in this unique parade was about fifty gayly dressed men and women of Bill Sherman's Flying "W" Ranch riding their western ponies.

Amid flying flags, a riot of color, music filling the air and joyful enthusiasm of the crowds, the parade moved through town to the Fair Grounds. The cars with the wheat were detoured around to the north gate of the race track from where they were led into the field in the center of the track. Cliff Robinson, Pastor Escolme, Dalton Van Valkenburg and John Nicholson made official records of each farmer's load of wheat. They were then directed to the south end of the field, where the bags were stacked into a great mountain in front of the grandstand. While other events were taking place in the field, a constant stream of trucks and cars poured wheat into this great pile.

By noon, the grandstands and bleachers were packed. Bert Thomas, the soundman from Detroit, estimated that another 10,000 people were on the grounds watching the various demonstrations.

Cameras were flashing everywhere as the crowds stood around in groups watching portions of the wheat being cut by the various methods in the center of the race track. The first wheat cut was flailed by hand and then taken to an old stone grinding mill which had been set up in the field where it was ground into graham flour.

Two old-time stone mills were brought to the Fair Grounds for the occasion. One was a 42-inch Buhr stone loaned by J. W. Russell of Pioneer, Ohio, and taken from his old abandoned mill in Bryan. The other was a 20-inch stone loaned by George Gilmore of the Genesee Mills in Jonesville, Michigan. These were powered alternately by a diesel engine, a jeep and a tractor engine.

Albert Marsh came from Milwaukee to assist in the operation of the small mill. He had helped his father, Joe Marsh, run this mill near Springville, Michigan, when he was a boy.

Some of the first wheat cut was also threshed by a Port Huron 33-[illegible] operated by Herbert Roff, and driven by an old steam Port Huron Longfellow engine owned by Louis David of Northville. Every boy who was raised on a farm or in a small town will remember how he envied the man who drove these picturesque engines. Art Brockman of Detroit donated men and trucks to move the big machinery to the field.

The first flour to come through the mills was put in 25-pound bags and flown to Toledo in an army helicopter, where the Lakeside Biscuit Company was waiting to bake it into graham crackers.

The helicopter was brought from Dayton, Ohio, through the efforts of Major Dale Jensen. It was flown to Adrian by Major Ernest Cassel. Major Jensen heard Perry speak at a Bible Meditation League dinner in Columbus where he mentioned his desire to have a helicopter at his Biblical Wheat celebration in Adrian. Major Jensen was a devout Christian soldier and promptly volunteered to secure a helicopter for the celebration and land it on the field inside the race track. Perry explained that he would like to rush some of the Tithing Wheat flour to Toledo and bring it back as quickly as possible, baked into graham crackers, to feed "the multitudes." Major Jensen liked the idea and went to General N. F. Twinning, Commanding General of the Air Material Command at Wright Field, who "cut all of the Army red tape" to have a helicopter on the job.

It was a thrilling sight to see the bright yellow helicopter arrive, circle the field, hover over the crowd as the pilot talked with people on the ground and then settle to the field as gently as a baby buggy. As soon as the flour was ready, 100 pounds was loaded into the helicopter. It rose straight up and took off for Toledo . . .

Another high spot in the afternoon, was a race between a man and a horse. Gil Dodds, the "Parson runner," champion indoor miler of the world and athletic coach from Wheaton College, was there to race against a horse for this special occasion. Perry announced, "The horse will have to make two trips around the track to Dodds' one because the horse has twice as many legs."

It was an exciting race and brought the crowd in the stands to their feet as Dodds nosed out the horse by several lengths.

L. K. Wood, from Mendon, Utah, brought the world's smallest working thresher to the celebration. He set it up on a platform on the race track, between the stage and the grandstands, where the people could see him actually threshing the heads of wheat. The machine was so small that he carried it in a suit case. It was a miniature Dingee Woodbury, powered with an electric motor. Mr. Wood was a conscientious faithful tither. He read about the Biblical Wheat celebration and volunteered to bring his tiny thresher as his contribution to this great visual and concrete proof of the blessings of tithing.

A number of brightly painted jeeps, furnished by The Collins Motor Sales Company of Adrian, were very much in evidence all day. They added fun for the "kids" and service to the "show," as they rushed messages and material from one place to the other, chauffeured by Charles Manley and Bill Hayden.

One of the most colorful characters, who had hoped to attend the celebration, was General Thomas Campbell of Hardin, Montana. Gen. Campbell, recognized as the biggest wheat grower in the world, wrote Perry:

"I first heard your story when I was in Egypt and was captivated with it. I have followed it ever since. You have done a most unusual thing and I respect such an original idea. We need more men like you to link our modern ideas with the past. I am going to make every effort to be with you, although this is our busy season and my foreman is in the Mayo Hospital."

A wire was received from General Campbell at the last minute saying, "Impossible to go to Adrian for your celebration. Am being made an honorary Indian Chief today and couldn't even reach your celebration by air, after the services here."

An interesting Allis-Chalmers experimental mill, mounted on a truck in front of the grandstand, attracted a great deal of attention throughout the day. It was operated by Larry Leudemann of the F. W. Stock Flour Mill in Hillsdale who loaned it for the occasion. Some of the white flour ground by this mill was baked into biscuits while the crowd looked on. Mrs. Edith Riffenberg Rockwell, the "Michigan Mother," from Three Rivers, Michigan, was in charge of the baking. These were sold at auction and the proceeds were added to the Famine Relief Fund.

The last feature, before the religious portion of the program started, was a sensational riding exhibition by Bill Sherman's Flying "W" Ranch. About fifty men and women dressed in bright "cowboy clothes," put on a fast, exciting and spectacular rodeo, as the closing activities in the field for the day.

Just as the program was about to start on the colorfully decorated and flag bedecked platform, someone yelled, "Here comes the helicopter from Toledo!"

Everything stopped while the helicopter circled the field, hovered overhead and then gracefully settled to the ground like an elevator. The pilot unloaded a number of large boxes of the fresh graham crackers, which were "Wheat in the field" a few hours before. They were stuffed into colorful bags or boxes and distributed for souvenirs by fifty 4H girls. They lasted only a few minutes.

Art Woodgate, Bill Brinley, Bill Boos and William Bettridge had everything ready at the Lakeside Bakery, awaiting the arrival of the graham flour . . . In 55 minutes the crackers were on their way back to Adrian.

All during the afternoon, between announcements, speeches, and introductions of prominent guests, the program was interspersed with excellent music. Three of the outstanding contributions were the Detroit Trumpeters from the Voice of Christian Youth, brought by Ed Darling, Director; Wilmos and Gladys Csehy of New York, two popular musicians who drove down from the Marantha Bible Conference at Muskegon, to play for this special occasion; and Mary Jane Hayden, who sang a number of "old favorites."

CHAPTER 20

The Proof of God's Word

Starting with a tiny cubic inch of wheat six years before, Perry Hayden took God at His Word, and was now mounting the platform to make a report at the culmination of his six-year experiment. When the final reports from the 276 farmers were compiled, the wheat totaled 72,150 bushels, grown on 2,666 acres of land. Piled before the eyes of this great throng was a mountain of wheat for Famine Relief . . . a trainload of life-giving food for hungry people around the world — all because one man believed . . . "Prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

If the experiment could have continued for nine years, the Dynamic Kernels wheat would have covered an area equal to the whole state of West Virginia. . . . In ten years it would have covered the entire United States . . . and in thirteen years it could have covered the whole globe — all starting from a little plot 4x8 feet, and the promise of God that He would "cover the world with His blessings" for those who give and share with Him.

The project was not spared any of the hardships in our everyday struggle for existence. It endured all of the same difficulties faced by all men or women, in every walk of life. Because of their faith, Perry Hayden and his loyal supporters came through victoriously, as God promises that everyone will, who takes Him at His word and follows His guidance.

The program for the afternoon was a living testimony by those who took part in this great six-year project, and who helped make the world-famous experiment a reality and a triumphant success. . . .

It was an inspiring experience to see the religious zeal and fervor of this great throng, after they had enjoyed the gala pageant of the morning. They were seated in the grandstand and bleachers, looking across the homestretch of the race track to a large gayly decorated platform on the opposite side, with all of the colorful machinery and equipment of the day's activities in the background. The stage was bedecked with the Allied Flags of the world, bunting and Biblical Wheat signs, and was covered with a huge tent for protection from the hot sun. One could sense an atmosphere of reverence, as the crowd silently waited for the sacred part of this history-making event to begin.

Dr. Samuel Harrison, President of Adrian College, stepped to the microphones and opened the religious services.

The Adrian "Barbar Shop Chorus" led in singing "America," and "All Through the Night."

Frank Kessler, a prominent Jewish leader and popular District Chaplain of the American Legion, read a Memorial to the War Dead. He followed this with an impressive prayer.

An address of welcome was given by Hon. Clarke W. Baldwin, Mayor of the city of Adrian. The response was made by Hon. Edward J. Jeffries, serving his fourth term as Mayor of Detroit.

Mom and Dad On Vacation, Have Big Day

A special highlight of the vacation visit of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Steele, Sr., with their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Steele, Jr., 307 Miami Court, will be the celebration of the 40th wedding anniversary of the elder couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele were united in holy matrimony on August 14, 1929, in the Asbury Methodist Church in Altoona, Pa. They have lived all their lives in that area.

Mr. Steele is a retired employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. with more than 40 years' service.

They have another son, Donald, who lives in Altoona; and there are six grandchildren.

A special family celebration will be held here at their son's home.

As soon as we met, I knew Rosie was special. She has an air that says she knows who she is and where she is going. I like the way she paints, too—she's quiet and businesslike.

Everything about her appeals to me. She dances like a dream, plays tennis well enough to keep me on my toes and loves painting as I do. She's my kind of girl.

In a world that seems mad, her outlook is refreshing. Maybe it's because her church and her God are important to her! And she isn't afraid to say so.

We'll be married next month—on a shoestring, but, whatever the future holds, we know God and His Church are the source of all goodness.

Your church has the key to real happiness. It is eager to help you.

BAUER MANOR FEATURES HOME COOKED FOOD — A visit to the Irish Hills is not complete without at least one meal taken at the historic old Bauer Manor. Located overlooking Evans Lake on US-12, the old stagecoach stop abounds in interesting atmosphere and antiques.

Past and Present Meet In Old Bauer Manor's "That Evening" Setting

Historic Bauer Manor, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Doren, has become the meeting place for many officials of the Michigan International Speedway, just to the west of Cambridge Junction.

When US-12 is just too busy with traffic, they commute by helicopter, taking meals and completing arrangements in the Coach Room, added to the rear of the old stagecoach stop just last year. Race days, lunches are flown to the executives and the Associated Press, Good Boys of Dodge Bros., Ford Motor Co. executives, the Hot Rodders and others all find the hospitality at the Bauer just fine during their busy time.

Anyone who enjoys good food in air conditioned comfort and a pleasant atmosphere of the old and new mixed, will appreciate a dinner at the 130-year-old stagecoach inn.

Home cooked meals are served daily under the careful guidance of Mary Van Doren with chicken supreme, breasts stouffed with dressing and baked in wine and mushroom sauce, topped off with Bauer Delite angel food cake highlighting the menu.

Steaks, ham, shrimp, roast beef are all served with homemade noodles, biscuits or tiny crusty loaves of fresh bread, soups, corn relish, a sauerkraut relish with creamy dressing and lots of caraway seeds, baked potatoes, plump green beans, etc., and lots of pie, all of it made in the Bauer kitchen.

Bauer Manor, located on beautiful Evans Lake on US-12, was built in 1839 on the Great Saulk Indian Trail from Detroit to Chicago. Still in the original building, many of the antique furnishings of yesterdays, including an 1859 square Steinway piano, enhance the atmosphere for diners.

In 1833 the journey by stagecoach from Detroit to Chicago took eight days. In 1825 Congress authorized a survey, the object being to turn the Trail into a turnpike.

The Commissioners rode to the top of the highest hill and blew a horn to guide the surveyor in the direction in which he was to run a line. There were many delays and an Indian scare, connected with the Black Hawk uprising and an epidemic of Asiatic Cholera took the lives of many Michigan settlers before the turnpike was completed.

Touch of Past

By MAXINE CALHOUN

1879

The highest temperature, during July was 94 — the lowest, 60.

P. W. Adams, John R. Clark and J. H. Osborn are the state delegates to the State Temperance convention.

Jehiel Davidson has put up a lemonade stand at the hall grounds.

The long continued dry spell has affected a great many wells.

1889

George Kempf and his carpenters have begun a new house for C. B. Sutton in Ridgeway.

Uncle Billy Nixon was 82 Aug. 1.

Whitenack Bordine & Co. are agents for Northville Gold Fish Hatchery.

The merry-go-round located north of the council building is doing a rushing business.

The Baptist Sunday School library has added 100 new singing books.

Tecumseh was well nigh depopulated Sunday due to State encampment at Battle Creek; the Devils Lake camp meeting and the Free Methodist camp meeting in Ridgeway.

John Nyland narrowly escaped fatal injuries when he was knocked down by a horse and bugey driven from the alley by Slayton's warehouseman, Saturday night. He was unconscious for some time.

1899

There are only 788 prisoners in Jackson prison, the smallest number in eight years.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Florence Spencer of Detroit and Hoyt Whelan of Tipton on the 16th last.

Stores closed early here about 7 o'clock last night on account of the crickets.

Friday night's rain developed into a severe hail storm, seriously injuring fruit and corn.

The village council has awarded the contract for a new bridge on Maumee St. to Toledo parties.

The village of Onsted is to have a new town hall, ground being broken last Friday.

1909

The village council has awarded the contract for a new bridge on Maumee St. to Toledo parties.

H. L. Jones has sold his interest in the jewelry business to C. R. Church of Homer. The firm will continue to be known as the E. J. Peters & Co.

Tom Birdsall has sold his interest in the Tecumseh Butter Co. to Charles Ruthruff of Willis.

1919

A meeting was held here Monday preliminary to paving the highway from Britton to the Jackson county line.

H. W. McClure has been appointed postmaster after 18 years of service. He has been in charge of the office since the death of Postmaster E. C. Brown last October.

1929

Duncan Oliphant of Jackson has opened an electric shop here.

1939

On Aug. 9, 1838, just 101 years ago, the first railroad train entered Tecumseh. The appearance of a train would cause almost as much excitement today here, which was serviced by 16 daily passenger trains and today is without passenger service.

1949

J. Harold Anderson has the distinction, in all probability, of owning the oldest grocery store, in point of service, in the state of Michigan. It has been in his family for 100 years, serving generation after generation of "satisfied customers".

Tuesday an official 96 degree temperature was recorded after a sizzling Sunday and Monday, also in the 90's.

Dial operated telephones in Britton are to become a reality—and soon.

1959

Mrs. Ben Hammack, Sr., and her son, Ben Hammack, Jr., have sold Ben's Market, 807 W. Chicago, to Melvin and Josephine Wegner, who will reopen soon with a line of groceries and meats. Mrs. Ethel Hammack is now manager of the local branch of the Secretary of State's office located in her home at 805 W. Chicago.

Edwin A. Griswold is moving from Sycamore, O., next week to assume duties as Lay-Reader-in-charge of St. John's Episcopal Church, Clinton.

John R. Keeney's farm in Franklin Twp., just west of Tipton, has been designated a "Centennial Farm" by the Michigan Historical Commission. The house was built in 1862, where Mr. Keeney, 77, and his wife, Dorothy, reside. Sons, John and Frank, now operate the 260 acres, growing apples, peaches and cherries.

Senior Citizens Dining Today

Weather permitting, Senior Citizens will picnic this Thursday noon at 12:30 at the Community Center. In case of inclement weather, a potluck dinner is planned there.

Committee in charge includes Mable Young, Venus Sell, John Stephens and Perl Ash.

Last Thursday, 50 seniors attended the drop-in session . Coffee, doughnuts and iced tea were served.

David Lips Is Assigned Air Cav.

Army Sgt. David A. Lips, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lips, 10124 Ford Highway, was assigned July 13 to the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) in Vietnam as a squad leader.

East African Princess Visits Friends Church

A real princess is coming to Tecumseh August 17. She will speak in the new Tecumseh Friends Church at 9500 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. at 7:30 p.m.

Princess Alice Siwundhla from Malamie in East Africa, will tell the astonishing story of how Christianity changed an unkempt child of the African bush into a national heroine of Malawi and that country's best and most broadly-educated woman.

Born into the grim unrest of "apartheid" Johannesburg and then raised in a jungle hut in black Africa, young Alice was taught to distrust the white man.

But the lure of mission bells and the kindness of American misionaries triumphed over superstitious fear, bringing Alice to the United States and a university education.

The story of her life is one of interest and courage, and was originally presented before 40,000,000 television viewers on the Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" program.

This story bubbles with the effervescent charm and good humor of its heroine. It contains pathos and humor, tragedy and comedy.

Mrs. Siwundhla is a mother of three, a lecturer, an authoress, and she is now working on her Ph.D. degree in San Diego, California.

While living in a world of speeches made by so many people of different nationalities, stirring up strife and hatred, Princess Alice is building bridges of friendshiup and understanding through her public appearances all over the United States.

"She is a dramatic, living vibrant testimony that 'Missions Do Pay'. We are most fortunate to secure her appearance in our church," said the Rev. Paul Brantingham.

Letters To the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I recently returned from a 5,535-mile motor trip to the National Jamboree in the Farragut State Park in Idaho. It was one of the most impressive sights any of us had ever seen. My companions were my five sons, Rick, Mike, Dennis, Steve and Bob. Also along were Clifford Pifer, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 32, and Carter Johnson, fellow scout and friend of the family.

We went by way of Glacier National Park and arrived in time for the opening show. What a sight to see 40,000 men and boys dressed in summer uniforms and bright red jackets with the golden Jambore emblem on their backs!

Former track star and Olympic medal winner, Jesse Owens, thrilled the crowd with his stirring speech and brought a standing ovation from the huge crowd in the vast amphitheater. At the conclusion of the show the hilltop was lit with a fireworks display of the Jamboree emblem replica and the entire sky was bright for 20 to 30 minutes of pyrotechnics.

Prior to this was a breathtaking example of how one small candle per man and boy was lit until the entire area was aglow with tiny golden lights. The pine trees behind the stage were lit by means of flashlights held at their base by scouts and over flew the largest nylon American flag I have ever seen.

Visitors were permitted daily from 1 to 6 p.m., and we met and spoke with Japanese and Indian Scoutmasters, got autographs and addresses from many places. The Japanese are holding the next World Jamboree in 1971 and many were on hand to learn from us.

We came home by way of Yellowstone National Park and saw 19 bears in two days' time and beautiful Mt. Rushmore.

Mr. James was Assistant Scoutmaster for Troop 7 of the Wolverine Council out at Idaho and our son, John, attended the Jamboree with him as a Scout and is earning his money for the trip. Allen Breckel and Robert Cisney of Adrian, also members of Troop 32, were there. Breckel served as quartermaster for the entire Wolverine District.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Richard James
3815 N. Adrian Hwy.

TO THE EDITOR:

Mr. Swain has been my coach on the Exchange Team for the past two years and he resigned recently.

Mr. Swain taught us the fundamentals of Baseball. He told us to play together and not as individuals. He was strict, but we know that it was for our own good and he was always fair.

All of the players on the team were sad to lose a good coach.

Paul Lemanski.

Promoted

Marine Lance Corporal Richard R. Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor B. Sweet, Ives Rd., has been promoted to his present rank while serving with the Second Battalion, Fifth Marine Regiment, First Marine Division in Vietnam.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

2 Teachers Needed In Clinton Schools

CLINTON — Only two teaching positions remain to be filled, instrumental music and a social studies-coaching position, at Clinton Community Schools.

It is expected that the instrumental music position may be filled this week. Plans for Band Camp beginning Aug. 17 hinge on the hiring of a band director this week.

Recently accepted for teaching positions are:

Mrs. Dale (June) Harvey, who will teach in the commercial department and one junior high English-social studies block.

Mrs. Harvey attended Olivet and Siena Heights Colleges and is a graduate of Western Michigan University. She has taught, in the commercial department at Orangeville Public Schools, Ill. She is moving to this area because her husband has accepted a position as a teacher in Tecumseh. They have three grown children. She has had many years' experience as a secretary.

Mrs. Randall (Jean Ann) McCune has been accepted for the position of homemaking teacher. She is a June graduate of Adrian College with a major in home economics and minor in business administration. She is married and has no children.

Hodley Cox will assume his duties Aug. 18, as the new high school principal. He was here during July to get acquainted with the office staff. Mr. Cox is a graduate from Moorehead State University, Ky., where he received his BA and MA degrees, and he has a PhD at the University of Michigan, where he is presently com[illegible] his do[illegible]

Mr. Cox has had teaching experience and other administrative exper[illegible] to Clinton. He was last employed as an assistant principal of Ypsilanti High School. He resides with his wife in Ypsilanti, but hopes to move to Clinton soon.

Center Board Hire Couple, Raise Rent

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Coffelt, 113 Bartlett Rd., have been engaged by the Smith-Kimball Community Center Board, to be caretakers at the Center. They plan to move into the apartment there in a few weeks.

The board approved plans to install air-conditioning units in the center, where all necessary preliminary work was done for it at the time of restoration recently. Also a new sidewalk will be laid from present sidewalk to the street.

Because of the numerous non-village residents and groups who are using the center, who pay no taxes for its upkeep, the board decided to increase the rates for use by non-residents.

Effective immediately, the rate will be double the local residents' rate or $4 per room, or $30 for the entire building, with a deposit of $10, which is returned if all is left in good order.

Folding doors have been ordered for the downstairs room, so rooms may be used individually. Additional chairs and tables have been provided.

The Woman's Club is now having the Kimball piano refinished and it has been moved back into the center after several months of storage since the fire.

The board plans to have an open house when all these improvements are completed.

Activities Plan Outlined

CLINTON — An effort will be made, insofar as is possible, by school officials to schedule local activities so that Wednesday evenings will be free of school activities, the board of education decided at a special meeting last Tuesday.

The action came in response to a request originated last spring by the Rev. David Liscomb, former pastor of the Clinton Methodist Church; the Rev. Charles Sturm of St. John's Episcopal Church; the Rev. Leon Kennedy, of St. Dominic's Church, and of a recent communication by Mrs. Richard Sharpe.

School activities will be scheduled according to a policy guideline, so that elementary children will be free immediately after school on Wednesdays and high school children will be free Wednesday evenings during the school year, to permit participation in church activities without conflicting school schedules. It was noted, however, that the local school has little control over the scheduling of inter-mural athletic events.

Since there was no acceptable bid received for the removal of the Schmidt house from the new school site property, the board decided to establish a temporary superintendent's and school board office there, with practically no remodeling necessary. The move will be made from the present office in the high school before school begins.

Dr. E. V. Wight was named a voting member and Richard Wegner, a non-voting member, representing the administration, on the Lenawee County Vocational-Technical Education Center Administrative Advisory Committee.

The resignation of Paul Gilliland, social studies and athletics teacher, was accepted with regret.

At the regular meeting of the board, to be held Aug. 19, the Jahr-Anderson architects will present their completed plans of the new high school building. If approved at that time, contracts will be let immediately for bids on the building.

New Manager At LuAnn's

CLINTON — LuAnn Rhoades will be the new manager of LuAnn's Beauty Salon, formerly R-Bon's Salon, owned by Mrs. Robert Scheytt and Ronald Sweezey, and recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. John Truesdale.

Miss Rhoades resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoades, 6589 Clinton-Macon Rd. She is a 1966 graduate of Clinton High School and a graduate of Lois School of Cosmetology, Adrian. She has had two years' experience as a beauty operator.

Completely redecorated and furnished about two years ago, the salon provides the most modern appointments for hair styling convenience and lounge comfort.

The staff includes Mrs. Tony (Shirley) Caruso and Mrs. Robert (Bonnie) Scheytt, who originally opened the salon several years ago as Shur-Bon's Salon, and then took time off to have their babies, while Ronald Sweezey operated the salon as R-Bon's.

Other operators will be Mrs. George (Laura) Jones and Mrs. David (Carol) Hunt.

LuAnn's Beauty Salon will be open daily except Mondays, from 9 to 5, Saturdays 9 to 3 and Thursday evenings by appointment.

Patient Released From Hospital

Mrs. Linn Weaver has returned home from Bixby Hospital where she underwent eye surgery last week. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver of Greeley, Colo., will remain with her until Friday.

Hosts Will Feast On Oriental Meal

CLINTON — The five Japanese high school girls who are spending a month as guests of families in Clinton, will prepare a typically Japanese meal for their host families, Thursday night at the United Church of Christ at 7 p.m.

The sukiyaki main dish is made with beef, mushrooms, onions, green beans and soy sauce and is eaten with rice.

The American hosts have promised to eat with chopsticks.

The girls will be assisted by Mrs. David Simpson, 4130 Allen Rd., a native of Japan, who has lived in this area for several years.

All from Tokyo, the girls are having a great time getting used to a rural community and they are rapidly learning to speak English.

Saturday, the five Clinton visitors and their hosts were joined by the other six Japanese girls who are visiting families around Adrian, and a caravan trip was made to Greenfield Village.

Tomoko Honma, who is visiting with the George Heimerdinger family, dairy farmers, couldn't be persuaded to drink milk, although she is very fond of ice cream, according to Mrs. Heimerdinger. Neither did she like beef or pork, tasting only a little of each. However, she was looking forward to a tuna-noodle casserole, which is apparently a more familiar food.

The other Japanese visitors are: Michiko Sakahi at the home of Mrs. Francis Faulhaber and family; Chizuko Kajiwara at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKenna; Kumiko Akao at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hawkins and Setsuko Ito, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Woodward.

The Japanese girls will leave at 10 a.m., Aug. 23, for a bus trip to California, before flying home to Japan.

Batter Up . . . Takes The Cake

CLINTON — Manager Ron McKeever and Mrs. McKeever hosted the members of Clinton's championship Airport Bowl Little League team, their families and sponsor's wife, Mrs. Tom Cunningham, of the Airport Bowl, Tecumseh, at a cook-out and pool party, Friday night at their home on Clinton-Macon Rd.

A feature of the refreshments was a large congratulatory cake made by Mrs. Clyde Greenfield, Jr. It was decorated with an individual figure of each ball player and his name on his own piece of cake.

Afterwards the McKeevers tok the team members to the Manchester Speedway races.

The champs were scheduled for a tournament game Aug. 15, at the Lenawee County Fair.

Your Blood Is Needed

CLINTON — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Clinton High School, old gymnasium, Tuesday, Aug. 19, from noon until 6 p.m. Baby sitting and transportation will be available by calling the school, 456-4602. Anyone who can volunteer their assistance may call Mrs. Archie O'Connor, 456-4195.

School Schedule For Coming Year

BRITTON — School will officially open at the Britton Macon Area School on September 2, 1969. There will be a Teachers' Conference and Organizational Meeting at 9 a.m., in the school cafeteria on Tuesday, September 2, 1969.

School will start for pupils on Wednesday, September 3, except for the kindergarten. School will be dismissed at noon on the first day.

Parents of kindergarten children who did not register their child last spring will be able to register them on Wednesday, Sept. 2.

Regular classes for the kindergarten will start Thursday, Sept. 4. All children living northwest of the Wabash Railroad tracks will attend classes in the morning, and those living southeast of the tracks will attend in the afternoon.

It is suggested that mothers of kindergarten children put them on the buses the first day. Those who bring their children Thursday are requested to leave them in the room with the teacher and not remain. It is believed that this method makes it easier for the child to adjust to school on the first day.

New students are asked to enroll at the Principal's office the week of Aug. 18-22. The time for registering will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. in the afternoon.

Cafeteria lunches will be served beginning Thursday, Sept. 4 for all pupils and teachers.

Pupils who carry lunches are expected to eat in the school cafeteria.

The driving of automobiles or motor vehicles by students during the noon hour will not be permitted. If a student wishes to drive his or her car, they must obtain permission from the high school principal.

The staff for the 1969-1970 school year:

High School

William Saxton, superintendent.

Donald W. Bussler, principal; Mrs. Wayne Jackson, bookkeeper and secretary; Mrs. Charles Hagans, secretary; Marilyn Alexander, Spanish and English; Anthony Bandurski, library; Mrs. Nelson Berry, home economics; Mrs. Donald Bush, vocal music; Edgar Ericsson, English; Sam Hamilton, history.

Larry Jacobsen, history; James Landfair, science and coaching; Mark Lewis, mathematics; Mrs. Fred Long, commercial; William Osak, government and civics.

Paul Palka, junior high and coaching; Mrs. William Preston, English and mathematics; Mrs. William Raeburn, physical education.

Elementary Staff

Mrs. Lorene Edelbrock, kindergarten; Mrs. Kenneth Smith, first grade; Mrs. Clarence Schroeder, first grade.

Ruth Davis, second grade; Mrs. Anthony Bandurski, second grade.

Ann Creger, third grade; Mrs. Hubert VanCamp, third grade.

Mrs. Rosemary Niblack, fourth grade; Mrs. Jean Ziogas, fourth grade.

Mrs. William Gorton, fifth grade.

Mrs. George Forsyth, sixth grade; Tom Hicks, sixth grade.

The school is still in need of the following teachers: instrumental music, high school English, fifth grade.

Merchants End Season

BRITTON — The Britton Merchants ended their slo-pitch season with a 6-8 record and tied for fourth place. They split a pair of games in final action against Dave's Sunoco.

The Merchants took advantage of a six-run inning in the first to wrap up the contest, 7-2.

Bill Prochaska, Tom Cadmus and Larry Ivan led the 11-hit attack with two hits each.

In the second game, Dave's Sunoco came out on top, 4-2, in a well-played defensive battle. Gordie Henning collected two singles for the Britton team.

John Korican pitched both games.

Larry Ivan led the team in hitting during the season with a .511 average. He also had the most hits and 13 RBI's.

Tom Komon was second in the hitting department with a .437 average, 21 hits and 11 RBI's.

Tom Cadmus and Tom Short each scored 15 runs to share the lead in that department.

Gordie Henning powered out three homers for the team high; Tom Komon hit two.

On the mound, Ken Ivan held a record of 4-3 and John Korican's, 2-5.

Township Board Answers Roll

BRITTON — All members of Ridgeway Township Board answered roll call when the August meeting was held Aug. 5 in the Township Hall.

The Board voted to continue their membership in the Michigan Township Association and a check for $150 was written for the dues.

Members also voted to pay the monthly bills totaling $904.39.

The next regular meeting is set for Sept. 2 at the Township Hall.

Shower Fetes Bride-to-be

BRITTON — Bride-elect Donna Tiede was guest of honor at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in the church parlor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of North Blisfield.

The afternoon was spent playing several games in which prizes were awarded to the winners.

Mrs. Michael June won the door prize.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ronald Maschino, Mrs. Wesley Tiede and Mrs. Carl Tiede serving a buffet supper to the 40 guests present.

Miss Tiede opened many beautiful and useful gifts for her future home.

Guests were present from McClure, O., Lincoln Park, Ypsilanti, Clayton, Adrian, Blissfield, Deerfield and Britton.

Miss Tiede will become the bride of Paul Griffin of Adrian on Sept. 19.

Housewarming For Martolocks

BRITTON — Forty friends and relatives surprised Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martolock with a housewarming at their new home on South Ridge Hwy., Saturday evening.

Hosts for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bowman and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bower.

Guests came toting a floral arrangement stuffed with "real green" bills as a gift from the group.

The evening was spent playing cards. Sandwiches, snacks and dessert topped off the activities.

Ooomp Pa Pa In 1st Chair

BRITTON — Jim Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bush, 9381 Pennington Rd., won first chair tuba at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Jim is playing with the high school orchestra this year. Last year he played with the intermediate orchestra.

A scholarship was given to the musician by the Tecumseh Music Club.

Little League Round-up

BRITTON — Pony League finals tournament between the winners of games earlier in the week will be played at 2:30 Sunday in Britton Park. As of Thursday the teams still in the running were Walpers and Merchants who face each other and Deerfield and Summerfield which will also meet in an earlier tilt.

In other Little League action the Bears copped the top rung in the seven-team league. The Lions, Falcons, Hawks, Wildcats, Colts and Eagles finished in that order.

On August 21 at 7:30 p.m. an All-Star game will be played at Britton Park against Blissfield. In case of rain August 22 has been set aside as the play date.

Boys chosen from Britton were Mike Servoss, Sam Bates, Steve Gilmore, Dan Forgacs, Gene Bachtol, Mike Saxton, Mike Taylor, Doug Shiels, Dan Exelby, Alan Reau, Mark Smetka, Dave Weilfeart, Joe Cabla, Bob McNeil and Todd Studnicka.

Summer recreation director Jim Shiels offered praise and thanks to the coaches and umpires who volunteered their time to the summer program for youngsters in Britton.

Coaches for the respective teams were, Bears, Tom Judkins and Les Gilmore; Lions, Henry Childs, Kenny Smith and Curtis Banks. Falcons, Al Wagonschutz and Ivan Olds; Hawks, Jim Shiels and Lynn Harriott. Wildcats, Bill Bearinger and Don Maschino; Colts, Louis Loesch and Don Benham. Eagles, Dick Bruce and Lee Benedict.

Over in the Girls' Little League, the three teams there were coached by: The Rockets, Arlyne Banks and Eleanor Price. Yellow Jackets, Meredyth Lorenz and Eloise Judkins. Torrets, Janet Furgason and Sandy Bortel.

Pee Wee League coaches were Marvin Stotler and Gary Judkins.

Pony League coaches were Terry Fauset and Lynn Palmer of the Merchants' team and Jerry Korican and K. Crutchfield for Walpers.

Peggy Jo Raeburn and Kay Mastie coached the older girls.

Gail Lister Honored At Bridal Shower

BRITTON — Gail Lister was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower at the Harold Rohrback home on Milwaukee Rd., last Saturday afternoon.

Hostess, Mrs. Rohrback, Mrs. Duane Robertson, Mrs. Cal Rohrback and Mrs. Phil Benedict had planned a lovely garden party.

The front of the home was decorated with blue and white streamers centered in the entranceway with large silver double wedding rings.

A blue organza table cover edged with white lace, graced the gift table which was centered with a blue and white umbrella.

Lovely floral arrangements flanked the punch bowl on the refreshment table.

Seconds before the shower was scheduled to begin, the real showers of Mother Nature started and everyone joined in moving all of the preparations inside.

Guests enjoyed playing a game called "snoop" and each ended with a prize.

Mrs. Douglas Palmer was the "Grand Snoop" which entitled her to snoop in all the gifts and take her choice.

The door prize was won by Garna Gove of Tecumseh.

The bride-to-be was assisted in opening her gifts by her sisters, Bonnie and Lana.

Miss Lister and Larry Ash will be married Saturday, Sept. 6.

Among the 50 guests attending the affair was Larry's grandmother, Mrs. Carl Johnson, of Bradenton, Fla.

SAFETY AWARD — Police Chief Murell Clark, right, receives what has almost become an annual affair — a safety award from the Automobile Association of America. Presentation was made last week at city hall.

Troop Camps At Camp Kanesatake

Troop 32 spent an enjoyable and successful week recently at Camp Kanesatake under the direction of Joe Sprow of Adrian. Each night one or more of the fathers and committeemen spent the day and night with the troop.

The men who volunteered their time for the week were John Porter, Glen Richard, Bob Cissney, Cliff Pifer, Chuck Skinner.

Scoutmaster Dick James, who just returned from the Boy Scout National Jamboree in Idaho, joined the troop Friday and Saturday.

Wednesday night the parents brought a potluck meal and joined the Scouts at retreat. At dark the boys entertained their guests with skits and campfire back at Camp Art Lesow.

Those advancing in rank were Life Scout, Danny Sprow; Star rank, Steven James, Doug Schneider, Kevin Skinner; Second class rank, Mike Marsh, Karl Schamberger and Joe Kauffman.

The First Class Scouts were Kerry Skinner and George Gartee. Nature merit badges were earned by Kerry Skinner, Steve James, Kevin Skinner, Doug Schneider and Danny Sprow and Bob Frank earned the rowing merit badge.

Friday evening the parents were again on hand to witness the award campfire and the impressive Order of the Arrow tapping out ceremony conducted by the Tecumseh Lodge.

Richard Rayburn told of the Lenni Lanape Indian tribe and the origin of the elite group of scouts. Nominated and chosen by their fellow scouts, the boys tapped out from Troop 32 were Danny Sprow, Steve James and Carter Johnson, the first Negro member of the Order of the Arrow in the Tecumseh Lodge.

Future activities of the Troop include a Freedom Trail hike and a Steak Fry for parents in the fall.

3 New Babies

CLINTON—A daughter, Stacy Ann, was born July 30, to Mr. and Mrs. James Hoyt of Ann Arbor. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoyt, 319 Clark St.

A son was born Aug. 2, to Mr. and Mrs. James Gass of Marshall. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Miller, 12560 Tipton Hwy.

A daughter was born Aug. 1, at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kiebler of Wamplers Lake. Mr. Kiebler is a teacher at the Tecumseh Public Schools and Mrs. Kiebler also taught there. Mrs. Harold Kiebler, W. Michigan Ave., is the grandmother.

Permit Granted Frank Gignac Machine Shop

CLINTON — Permission was granted to Frank Gignac for construction of a building on Tecumseh Rd. to be used for a machine shop, at the Aug. 4 meeting of the Clinton Township Board.

Two derelict buildings were considered and two property owners will be given another 30 days in which to comply with township ordinances, before penalties are invoked.

Supervisor Earl Roe reported progress in negotiating a final contract for the cooperative township dump. Clerk Ben Mahrle reported the dump is in operation. Identification cards are available at no charge at his office at 308 W. Michigan Ave., for all residents of the township, village or rural.

The board is endeavoring to complete an agreement where all the fees at the dump will be eliminated.

Charles Wilson presented seven building permits for review, covering $30,077.92 in new construction.

Calhouns Have Nice Vacation

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Calhoun and son, Terry, returned home August 5, from a 10-day vacation in the Western States. They attended [illegible] can Landrace Conference, Cedar Rapids, Ia., for two days, then toured Rocky Mountain National Park, and Pike's Peak in Colorado.

Poodles Win In Show

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kiebler entered their silver poodles, Haze, nine years old, and Haze's son, one-year-old Simon, in the Fun Trial held at the Roller Dome in Detroit, Sunday.

Young Simon scored 199½, highest in trial, and left poor Dad Haze to come in second.

Just one week ago, Simon entered his first competition and placed 198½ in Novice B class at the Mahoning-Shenang Kennel Club show at Youngstown, O., and Haze scored 199 in the open B class, rated highest in trial, and scampered off with the prize of a TV set. Both poodles won $50 prizes and several trophies.

Their next scheduled event will be the Western Reserve Poodle Show, Aug. 22, at Cleveland, O., and the Ravenna Kennel Show at Chagrin Falls, O., Aug. 23 and 24.

Clinton Chatter

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sharpe hosted a picnic attended by 12 village employees and their families, Sunday, at the Wamplers Lake cottage, where the Sharpes are vacationing for two weeks.

Mrs. Kenneth Carswell, nee Nancy Marsh, is expected this week from Otis Air Force Base, where her husband, Airman 2/c Kenneth Carswell, is stationed. She will visit here until after their baby is born in September. She will stay in the area with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carswell, Shepherd Rd., Tecumseh, and her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Marsh, Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. Airman Carswell is expected home in October before asignment to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zick were vacationing at Canadian Lake, near Mt. Pleasant, for the past two weeks, at the summer home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger.

Joanne Sharpe Is Chosen For Honors Band

CLINTON — Joanne Sharpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sharpe, has been selected as a member of the Michigan State Fair Honors band, to play her clarinet.

She will leave Aug. 20, to spend five days, all expenses paid, at Wayne State University campus, and will practice two days, then appear in concert at the State Fair, with the band which will be directed by the conductor of the Air Force band, Lt. Col. Arnold Gabriel.

Michigan's outstanding high school musicians are selected for this honor.

Band concerts will be p[illegible] 6:30 p.m. on Aug. 22, 23, and 24, in the band shell.

Miss Sharpe is a June graduate of Clinton High School and she will attend Michigan State University in September.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Amiel Teske who was taken from us one year ago, Aug. 13, 1968.
Memories are treasures no one can steal.
Death is a headache no one can heal.
Some may forget him, now that he's gone.
But we will remember no matter how long.
Greatly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren. 8-14c

Kiddies Night At Speedway

By NANCY MARTIN

"Kiddies' Night" was a big success at Manchester Speedway last week with a record number of "kids" riding in their favorite cars. With good weather and a good crowd, Don Taylor was fastest qualifier.

With the heats all being "Crack-the-Whip" races, the boys really pushed it to keep from being last across the line and thereby eliminated.

The first heat went to Duane Valentine, followed by Dick Crup. Third place went to Dick Theide and fourth to Taylor. In the second heat, Larry Liedel started on the pole and stayed there for the win over Jim Shook, Junior Gary, and Don Macey.

Dick Slagle zipped through the pack to take first place in the third heat, trailed by Art Call, Mike Shaw, and Buck Lopresto. The fourth heat saw Barney Dixon do a good job of driving for his win over L. J. Bumpus, Roger Ruff and Dick Beazley.

Don Taylor picked off the pursuit and with it a special traveling trophy that goes to the winner of two pursuits. Taylor is the first to receive this trophy, and he keeps it until someone else wins two. Second place went to Jim Stemen, third to Don Earles and fourth to Dick Crup.

The semi was fast with little trouble. Art Call led for 10 laps, with Mike Shaw taking over and holding on for the win. Slagle finished a close second over Allen Teubert, Call and Lincoln Hall.

Most of the trouble took place in the feature with the red flag stopping it on the 19th lap as Don Mastie blew a radiator hose, spraying hot water on his legs. He was not badly injured. After the restart it was as close as a race could be, with three cars battling it out and finishing under a blanket. Duane Valentine, in his maroon No. 97, held off a last lap surge by Taylor and won by a wheel. Taylor took second with Dick Crup right on their bumpers for third. Dick Slade was fourth and Junior Gary fifth.

Friday is our "Tri-State Championship" trophy races. There will be a 50-lap feature, plus the regular program. Time trials are at 7 p.m.; racing at 8:30 p.m.

Len. Fuels 12
Tec. Police 7

Last [illegible] Lenawee Fuels romped off to a 9-0 lead after two innings of Little League play [illegible] over Tecumseh Police.

David Bohannon started and picked up the win for the Fuels but needed relief help from Gary Humphres and Rick Vealey, who was credited with a save.

Bill Warner took the loss for the Policemen.

Greg Williams and Mike Connors were both three for three at the plate, with Connors blasting a home run. Vealey picked up two hits also for the winners.

Doug Clement, Frank Bock and John Frownfelder each collected two safeties for the losers.

The game was marked with good fielding by Lenawee Fuels players Mike Sievert, Chris Stanifer and Greg Williams.

Jaycees 11
Cr. Union 0

The Jaycees bombarded the Tecumseh Credit Union in Little League action last week, 11-0. Mike Corley and Kent Jacoby hurled a one-hitter in wrapping up the win.

Gordon Whelan took the loss on the mound for the Credit Union.

Kent Jacoby had three singles and drove in seven runs to lead the winners. Mike Duhan singled and doubled. Doug Bunch picked up the only hit for the losers.

Corley hurled three hitless innings and Jacoby gave up the lone single.

Jaycees picked up a run in the first inning that proved to be the winning margin on a single and three walks.

Len. Fuels 15
Union 1

Lenawee Fuels chased 15 runs across the plate and pulled off a "laffer" in downing the Union, 15-1. Paul Royal hurled the first four innings, being relieved by Rick Vealy.

Pete Mitchell started for the losers and had relief help from Linvel Lisenbee.

Mike Connors and Chris Stanifer each had three hits and Gary Humphres two to lead the winners.

Linvel Lisenbee collected a pair of singles to lead the losers.

Each team pitchers struck out 10.

Mike Connors slammed a home run over the fence and Gary Humphres banged out an "inside the park" homer to provide the excitement for the winners.

Union played a good game in spite of illness and several players missing on vacation.

125 Attend Operation "W"

Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Mrs. Ellsworth Robison, Mrs. Elmer Wilt and Mrs. Ed Stoelt were among those who attended Operation "W" recently.

This was a mystery trip planned for members of the Lenawee County Extension Clubs by the Lenawee County Soil Conservation Committee, the county board of supervisors and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The theme this year was "Water Management". A group of 125 or more people went by caravan to the Amos Wilson farm for a study of their pond and its uses. Then to the LaPointe farm to see a tiling project including the use of plastic tile. From there the group went to the Tecumseh Grange for lunch and the showing of a film by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Following this, they visited the George Bower farm on Ridge Rd., to learn about a "drop-inlet" and finally toured the Comfort Tile Yard.

Jaycees 3
Tec. Police 1

Kent Jacoby and Mike Corley combined to hurl a no-hitter as the Jaycees downed the Tecumseh Police, 3-1. A home run by Jacoby in the third inning knotted the score as the Policemen were able to tally without the aid of a hit in the top of the frame.

Mike Corley walked in the fifth and Jacoby came through with a triple to put the Jaycees ahead for god. Mark Hunter added a double for the winners.

Jeff Bryant pitched a good game for the losers, fanning 12. Jacoby whiffed nine and Corley, two.

70 WATCH AS OFFICIALS SAY 'NO REQUEST'

Council Tables Expansion Plans

Motion Whiting and seconded Sunderland, discussion of Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. be tabled until we have a request from Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. As there was not an unanimous vote, the roll call was taken as follows

Ayes: Cook, Easton, Knisely, Puffer, Sunderland, Whiting.

Nay: Holmes.

This motion and action in the Council minutes summed up Monday night's action as to the expansion planned by the local Company.

Apparently no further action is contemplated by the Company, which has been rejected twice in expanding its plant here. Both Fred Attwood and James Robideau, top company officers, have stated in the past that they will not carry their problem to the Board of Appeals.

In January 1966, the Company was turned down by the Board after seeking relief from the Council. Although two members of the Board, John Thompson and J. W. "Pat" Meadows, have recently stated publicly that they approve expansion plans, two other members, Donald Brazee and Robert Bonner, have spoken against it. Third member, Dr. Richard Coak, voted against it in 1966 but has not expressed himself this time.

Monday night's session resulted in some surprises.

Councilman Wallace Whiting said that Council does not have a request, and therefore there is no issue before Council. He was questioned by William Holmes, councilman, as to what he considered the request for a building permit.

Mr. Whiting said that the Company's letter did not ask Council for a variance of the ordinance.

After Mr. Whiting made his motion, John Saling, one of some 70 folks present for the meeting, inquired why did Council vote 3-3 last week on a motion which would have allowed Tecumseh Box to expand as the Company wished, if the Box officials had not made a request.

(Tuesday evening of last week at a special meeting for the Box Company, Council voted 3-3 on a motion by William Holmes to dedicate a new street, which would place the company's expansion plans within the ordinance).

Merlyn Downing, local resident, stated that perhaps the Company was not aware of the proper procedures after the permit was turned down. He also touched upon the street dedication solution.

City Manager Cal Zorn said the Company had been sent forms to file for a hearing before the Board of Appeals, and that Company officials were aware of the procedure.

Resident David Schoonover inquired why Council could not make an exception since this was an old building. He spoke after Mayor Harold Easton had implied that variances should come from the Board.

City attorney James Beardsley confirmed Mr. Schoonover's statement that Council could make changes, but called it spot zoning and personally was against it.

Questions were raised as to what was considered old, and James Barton said any building constructed prior to 1965 could now be considered old, since the 1965 ordinances would now regulate them.

The zoning which restricts Tecumseh Box was approved by Council in the fall of 1965.

When William Powell cited the image which was being created, Councilman Carlton Cook said the image was created by the newspaper, presumably The Herald. He also blamed the newspaper for "bringing you fellows down here and on our backs."

Invited to the meeting and speaking for the city was a planning consultant from Ann Arbor. This representative, reportedly hired by the city at $25 per hour, reviewed the history of planning and necessity of industrial planning.

He cited the many industrial parks now being developed and said that proper zoning gives a community like Tecumseh a prestige area for [illegible]

Prior to the vote on Whiting's motion, Holmes proposed dedicating a street, providing the Company gives the necessary land to the city. His proposal was never voted on as Council voted 6-1 in favor of Whiting's motion.

Over an hour elapsed between the time that his motion was made and action taken. During that time, many questions were raised by both Council and residents present at the meeting.

Practically all of the residents supported the Box Company's position, and applauded Mr. Schoonover for his statements in favor of relief for expansion.

Attendance at the session was the largest in many years.

COUNCILMEN WHITING, SUNDERLAND, PUFFER, EASTON, KNISELY, HOLMES AND COOK DECIDED A CONTROVERSIAL ISSUE.

SOME 70 RESIDENTS, MAJORITY SUPPORTING TE CUMSEH BOX, WERE NOT HAPPY WITH DECISION.

Council had no easy task Monday evening, facing some 70 residents who were there to lend support to Tecumseh Corrugated Box and hopefully attending to hear a favorable verdict. Both Council and residents were somewhat glum during the lengthy discussion. Biggest applause went to Dave Schoonover who pointed out that city officials could make an exception to a zoning ordinance, if they wanted to. Council did not want to and tabled the problem on the basis that the Company had made no request. An attempt by Councilman Holmes to dedicate a street and thereby place the Company within regulations came too late. Tecumseh Corrugated's expansion plans here in the city undoubtedly will be scrapped, as the issue now appears dead.

DAVID SCHOONOVER

Summer Vacation Nears End for 3,400 Local Youngsters

Summer's just about over and school is just around the corner, a situation which creeps upon us each year.

Tecumseh schools will open here Tuesday, Sept. 2, for the teachers, and students in grades one through 12 will enroll the following day, Wednesday, Sept. 3. Classes will not begin until Thursday, when kindergartners also will start.

Officials are anticipating a school-wide enrollment of 3,400, about the same as last year. High school is anticipating 1,075; junior high, 550; elementary, 1,175; and special education 50.

Elementary principals will be in their offices, starting next Monday. Secondary principals have been in their offices since last Monday. All teachers will first meet on Sept. 2 at the high school cafeteria, and then assemble later for conferences and meetings with their principals.

School Board plans to have all children except kindergartners who will come Thursday) start school on Wednesday, Sept. 3, 1969, at 10 locations: high school, junior high, Patterson, Herrick Park, Tecumseh Acres, Tipton, Sutton, Ridgeway, West Branch and Macon.

A hot lunch program will begin Sept. 4 in the high school. Milk will be available in all other buildings, and children will be expected to bring their own lunches.

Junior high pupils may purchase luncheons at the high school if they prefer. Eligibility of elementary children to remain at school for lunches will be determined by the same rules as last year. Children living within .7 mile of school will be expected to walk home for lunch.

Special arrangements may be made if both parents work away from home. Such parents should contact the principal of the school that their child attends.

Hot lunch program and the milk program will both be operated this year. The fee at the cafeteria for pupils will be 45c again this year. Milk will be available through the Federal Program at reduced prices as usual in all the elementary schools. Pupils bringing lunches may buy milk at 5c per carton for white, and when available, chocolate milk, except in the junior high, which uses vending machines, and the charge is 5c.

The administrative council of the schools consisting of the superintendent, assistant superintendent, curriculum director, building principals, and bus supervisor met to discuss methods of scheduling various schools so that every child in the district will have approximately the same program and so that the school days will start and end at the same time.

After much discussion and planning, the Council presented the following plans to the Board of Education, which approved same for the new year, although some minor changes may be necessary yet this fall.

All secondary schools will open and close at the same time. The early elementary programs will all start and end together.

Bus service for pupils will again be on a "safety first" basis. The state law, stating that pupils in the grades kindergarten through sixth. may be required to walk up to one-half mile to scheduled bus routes, and pupils in grades seven through 12, up to one mile, is used to determine the length of bus routes as well as to group pupils so that fewer stops may be made.

Backtracking has been eliminated, unless absolutely necessary. Parents of pupils requested to join groups at pick-up points are again asked to give their cooperation.

This year the state will again pay for the transportation of parochial school children to parochial schools on public school buses. All parochial school children who meet the requirements of the state for transportation, will be bused by the Tecumseh Public Schools.

Two Named to Tec. Fund Board

Two unexpired terms were filled on the Tecumseh Community Fund Board at the regular meeting Aug. 12.

Dr. George Burkhard was elected vice-president to replace Jim Merritt, who resigned and Earl Mason was appointed to the unexpired term of Hugh Walter, who also resigned.

A goal of $58,831 for the current drive was announced. Another meeting will be held in October.

Sanford Joining Newspaper Staff in Pennsylvania

Bill Sanford, writer, photographer and editor for The Herald for the past year and a half, has accepted an editorial position with the Chambersburg, Pa., newspaper, just east of Gettysburg.

He will begin his new job next Monday.

School Budget Ok'd by Board

Tecumseh School Board approved a $2,685,000 budget Monday night, the largest budget ever for the local schools.

The budget is approximately $400,000 higher than a year ago, with the major increase coming from salary increases granted to teachers and school personnel. Instruction cost alone is expected to reach $1,827,770.

Other major cost items are transportation, $174,880, and operation of the school buildings, $203,783. Administration salaries will total $90,168.

Two sources will provide most of the revenue. Property tax income is expected to furnish $1,269,335, and state aid, $1,083,471.

The Board is anticipating a fund equity reserve at the end of the school year of $60,290.

City Awaiting Township Action

Council tabled a request from Harvey Wilson for annexation of his property on W. Chicago Blvd., until after Tecumseh Township officials act on it.

It was reported at Monday night's meeting that the request to be released from the township and annexed to the city was before the township board.

Jane McConnel Feted with Bridal Shower

Jane McConnell was feted at a bridal shower Monday evening given by Mrs. William Bale and Mrs. Elmer Burleson at the Bale residence near Tipton.

Twenty-one friends and relatives of the bride-elect played appropriate games with prizes awarded to the winners and Miss McConnell.

Gifts were arranged on the open stairway decorated with bridal bells.

Gelatin desserts and decorated cakes were served from a lace covered table by the hostesses.

Marsha Bale and her mother provided organ music for the pleasure of the guests as they gathered and during the refreshment hour.

Jane's sister, Mrs. Jerry Munger, assisted the honored guest in opening her gifts as they were given to her by Mrs. Burleson.

Miss McConnell will become the bride of John Scibelli of New York City in a chapel ceremony on the University of Michigan campus Aug. 30.

Contract Ok'd

Approval of a master contract was made by the School Board Monday night. The Tecumseh Education Association is expected to ratify it in September, after school starts.

The engagement of Mary Alice Penney to Michael James Hierholzer is announced by her mother, Mrs. Eva M. Shaw, 201 Burt St. The bride-elect is a June graduate of Tecumseh High School. Mr. Hierholzer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hierholzer, 9271 Macon Hwy. He is a 1968 graduate of Clinton High School and is employed at Ford Motor Company, Saline. An Oct. 4 wedding is being planned by the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Kotlarczyk, 11846 Clinton-Macon Rd., announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne Marie, to Dennis Dean Brablec, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brablec of Britton. Suzanne is a graduate of Britton-Macon High School and is employed as a secretary at the Ford Motor Company in Saline. Dennis, also a graduate of Britton-Macon High School, is a student at Eastern Michigan University. The couple is planning a wedding next summer.

Ceremony In Memoriam

During the regular Sunday morning worship services Aug. 17, at the Tipton Community Church, a new nylon flag set was presented in memory of Grover Swarts in an impressive memorial dedication service.

Pastor Max Bailey called attention to the appropriateness of presenting an American flag in memory of Mr. Swarts who had for many years served the community as a civic leader. He also stated that the memory of an active church member might well be perpetuated through "the beauty of a beautiful Christian flag".

Parochial children riding public school buses must also meet the regular bus schedules of the Tecumseh Public Schools.

Children who were enrolled in our schools last spring have already received tentative notice of the grade and school in which they will be located this fall. However, some changes must be made due to the rapid growth of the community and overcrowding in the grades.

Parents of children, who are new to the community who have not yet enrolled, should see the counselor of the high school (John Pobuda) in the case of pupils in the 9th through 12th grades; the junior high principal (David Dick) in the case of pupils in the 7th and 8th grades; and Mrs. Rose Anne Vollmar at the Board of Education office in the case of children in indergarten through the 6th grades.

The secondary people will all be in their respective offices August 28 and 29 expressly for this purpose and may be contacted on those dates. Please register new pupils at this time.

Enrollment of kindergarten through Grade 6 children should be made immediately with Mrs. Vollmar.

Textbook rental plan, which was started in 1947, was revised by the Board of Education for the 1967-63 school year, will be the same this year. Fees include textbooks, workbooks, and art materials except in special classes where additional supplies are necessary.

Kindergarten — $4.00.
First through Sixth — $7.00.
Seventh and Eighth — $8.00.
Ninth through 12th — $9.00.

All textbooks are the property of the Board of Education. Students should use the books with care to avoid paying fines. All lost books must be paid for in full. Principals and their appointed teachers are to be in charge of the collecting of the money. Receipts must be issued to all pupils paying fees of any kind on official Board of Education forms.

Elementary pupils should be prepared to pay the book rental fee to the teacher or representative on the opening day of school, and parents should expect their children to bring a receipt for same home after the initial enrollment.

High school pupils report to the gym at 7:35 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. on Sept. 3, 1969, for the payment of book fees of $9.00 and a lock fee of 50c. They will then secure their class schedule cards from their class advisor. Regular classes will begin Thursday, Sept. 4, at 7:35 a.m.

Pupils enrolled in physical education should be prepared to pay a $1.50 fee for towels and locker at the first meeting of their physical education class on Thursday.

Chemistry and biology students should be prepared to pay a laboratory fee of $1.50 and chemistry students an additional fee of $1.50 for equipment which will be refunded if there is no breakage.

Junior High pupils are to report at 7:40 a.m., Sept. 3, the seventh grade to the boys' gym on the 1st floor, and the eighth grade to the girls' gym on the 3rd floor. Book fees of $8.00 will be collected and schedule cards handed out.

Pupils may leave for the morning after obtaining their schedule cards.

All Junior High pupils must be prepared to pay a $1.50 towel and locker fee at the first meeting of their physical education class. This fee will not be required to be paid on Sept. 3rd.

Regular classes will begin on Thursday, Sept. 4, at 7:40 a.m.

Pupils in Junior High who do not [illegible] prepared to pay their book fees must report directly to the principal's office before receiving permission to enroll.

Children starting kindergarten will not meet until Thursday, Sept. 4, at scheduled times. On that date the parents of the kindergarten children are requested to pin a note on the child, giving the child's name and address.

These parents are requested to meet the child's teacher Wednesday, Sept. 3, and pay the $4 book fee at this time.

Wherever possible, rural kindergarten pupils have been placed in the morning sections to facilitate bus schedules.

Kindergarten bus drivers will make home calls sometime Tuesday, Sept. 2, to acquaint parents of their school bus routines.

Sutton School will be open again this fall. The building houses two classrooms which will provide for a first and second grade and a storage room for cots, lunches, etc., and will be used for lunches for four grades.

The mobile building will house a third and fourth grade.

The new Sutton elementary school is expected to be completed by the start of the second semester, January 16, 1970.

Tecumseh schools will also operate an elementary orthopedic and an elementary deaf room at the Lenawee School Services building at Sutton, as well as a secondary orthopedic room at the High School and a secondary deaf room at the Junior High. A facility for the slow learners has been added to the High School to serve pupils from the 7th through the 12th grades.

These special programs are in cooperation with the Intermediate School Superintendent and his staff.

Two programs of study new to the Tecumseh High School last year will again be used this fall.

One will be taught by a three-member group of teachers who will work together with a group of ninth grade pupils in a combined curriculum of English, Mathematics, and Social Studies. These pupils were specially chosen through Intelligence Quotient Ratings, achievement test scores in the elementary and Junior High Schools, and their desire to go to college. This program will be extended into the 10th grade this fall.

The second program will be a four-year English program for pupils who do not choose to take a college preparatory course but who, nevertheless, must take at least three years of English.

It is hoped that the program will meet the needs of the pupils for everyday use in the field of English and be interesting enough that the pupils will desire a fourth year. Most pupils elect only three years of English.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Free men are not equal and equal men are not free." Ever hear that? We think it deserves a little thought. Certainly many a marveious invention of one kind or another would have been squelched if Americans had not been free to carry out their own enterprises and on the other hand, if required to stay equal, man's freedom is curtailed.

Freedom doesn't mean we should avoid taking part in self-government but that we may participate in the way we choose. The free man or woman who takes no active part isn't free at all, in fact, they are the captives of those who do participate.

Let's think about that and then do all that we can to help our elected officials know what we expect of them, watching their voting record and letting them know it.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Last fall before leaving for Florida, I loaned two old Brownville School pictures to a friend. He wanted them for exhibit at a homecoming Sunday given by the Gloria Dei congregation. Miss Carrie Millspaugh was the teacher in each picture. In one picture, the late S. Henry Smith held a slate on which was written, "Brownville School, 1892". The other picture was almost as old.

Once when D. L. Moody was holding meetings in Winnepeg, his Bible was stolen. This was a great loss to him as the margin of the Bible was filled with his own personal notes. I had my name on the back of the pictures, so the one who took them knew whom the owner was. To me the pictures were priceless and I would appreciate their return. I bear no ill will toward anyone. The lost pictures are not worth that much to me.

Alvin C. Brazee.

Easton's Loss Set at $440

Mayor Harold Easton of 701 Center Ct., reported to the Tecumseh police Saturday that a harness set, valued at $250; a tac set for a pony, $110; and a bike, valued at $80 had been stolen from his garage.

He told officers that the larceny occurred sometime between Monday and Saturday. Total loss is $440.

JUNIOR CHAMPION — Jill Feight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Feight of Russell Rd., won junior champion honors on her Holstein heifer at the county fair, held in Adrian last week. Tipton Jets is the 4-H Club of which Jill is a member. The leader of the Club is Norman Ries.

Accidents Up Again

Accidents continued to run high in Tecumseh last week, but fortunately there were no fatalities like last week.

Most serious mishap occurred Monday afternoon on S. Evans St. at Kibbe, when a semi-trailer turned in front of Richard L. McKenzie, 24, Eccles Rd., Clinton. He miraculously escaped death or serious injury.

McKenzie was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment of lacerations and bruises and was released Tuesday. According to the family, x-rays at the hospital showed no broken bones.

McKenzie was traveling south on Evans when a truck, driven by Lawrence H. Bennett, 48, Manitou Beach, turned west and in front of McKenzie's auto.

Bennett told police that he stopped for a stop sign and did not see the car approaching from the north. Police cited him for failure to yield the right of way.

The car was completely totaled in the mishap, and the cab of the semi sustained damages to the front end.

A resume of other accidents is:

Aug. 14 — Edward S. Dluzen, 18, Petersburg, was cited for failure to have his car under control after he passed a tractor on E. Chicago Blvd., near Rogers Hwy., and then ran into Antonio Lopez, 19, of Ridgeway.

Aug. 16 — Maxine E. Henry, 51, Saline, ran into the rear of an auto driven by Robert E. Marlatt, 27, Adrian, on W. Chicago Blvd., and in front of Bud's A&W. She slid on wet pavement. Mrs. Marlatt suffered minor injuries.

Aug. 16 — James C. DeLisle, 17, of 5231 Osborne Rd., bumped into the rear of a car operated by Pamela B. Poucher, 16, of Brooklyn, in front of McCarty's Market on W. Chicago. Miss Poucher suffered minor injuries. Young DeLisle was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance.

Aug. 16 — A three-car accident, occurring on E. Chicago Blvd., in downtown Tecumseh, involved Walter D. Bradshaw, 20, Cincinnati, I.; Judith E. Prochaska, 17, of 10124 Pennington Rd.; and John A. Dale, Jr., 22, Toledo, O. Bradshaw was cited for driving left of center.

Aug. 16 — Gregory R. Miller, 20, of 305 W. Russell Rd., was charged with failure to stop within an assured distance after running into Robert J. McKee, 45, of 2631 E. Monroe Rd. Accident occurred on W. Chicago at Cairns St.

Aug. 18 — Peter J. Forgacs, 17, Britton, was headed west on W. Chicago when he changed lanes and forced Michael L. Frye, 26, Britton, off the street, where his car struck a small tree.

Three Students To Enter WMU

Gary Lee Rader, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rader, Staib Rd., and Margaret Ruth Hagans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hagans, 12761 Teufel Hwy., and Nancy E. Vreeland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam P. Vreeland, 10521 Milwaukee Rd., have completed their three-day summer orientation at Western Michigan University campus.

Students take a battery of tests, meet with their counselors and register for the fall semester.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Residents Hear Taps

Council is often accused of passing the buck, blaming someone else for its problems. Sometimes this is justified, sometimes it is not.

Monday evening before some 70 residents, Council did little to alter its image— and habit — of placing the blame on someone else. Council is not perfect and neither is city government. We feel it is time some admissions are confessed.

When Tecumseh Corrugated Box asked for a building permit, Company officials — and city officials — knew the request was in violation. Both parties knew there would have to be a variance, or relief and one approved by Council before the Company would be allowed to expand, according to its plans.

This was not a question, it was a matter of fact. If this were not true, why did the city manager call for a special meeting last week? Why did Council vote 3-3 against a motion which would have benefited the Company — and we might add, also benefit the entire community?

Simply because we have the power to say yes or no and determine the future of our community, it does not give us the right to thwart and be dictatorial in the growth of our community.

We must realize that without industry and employment and payrolls that Tecumseh cannot prosper. We need industry, employment and payrolls — and some common sense in directing the destiny of our community.

Snide remarks that the local newspaper is at fault in placing a burden on Council is another example of slipping the blame on someone else. If it had not been for The Herald, the citizens of Tecumseh would not have known of the Company's attempt to expand. This issue was not destined to be placed before our city fathers, and therefore, how would Council — and you — have known about it.

We sincerely hope that The Herald has not done Tecumseh an injustice by painting a poor industrial image — as we've been accused. We sincerely hope that your home newspaper can continue to print all the news, and not just approved news from Council.

We, like many others, including Council, would like to see our town grow properly and everyone benefit generously for the welfare of our families. We want to better ourselves, better our community, and better our image. We want to work together to make Tecumseh an even finer community in which to live.

Council staged a show Monday evening, one which may have been pre-planned, in shackling Tecumseh Corrugated Box. Our officials employed a technicality and one on the verge of increditability.

Council had to know what was being asked and why it was being asked. Councilmen had all the information, but some insisted that Company officials appear personally and make their plea.

For what? Four Councilmen already had stated publicly that they would vote against changing or altering a zoning ordinance, one more fitted for an open industrial park and not for an existing industrial building. If they believe thusly, why did they harp on the fact that a Company official had not made an appearance?

If such an official had appeared, what questions would Council ask? What didn't they already know? And, if their minds had already been made up, why would they want a personal appearance?

"Taps" may have been played for Tecumseh Corrugated Box in Tecumseh Monday evening, but at least the Company should enjoy the satisfaction that a vast majority in the community supports its position.

We don't need a high-priced planning consultant to make a special trip here at taxpayers' expense to lecture us on planning. We approve planning, but not the kind that he and some of our local officials are advocating.

Jaycees Offer Dale Carnegie Course Here

Tecumseh JC President Ron Albert has appointed Charles Robinson and Dave Schoonover, co-chairmen of the project to offer the Dale Carnegie Course in "Communications and Human Relations".

Since the Dale Carnegie Courses were started in 1912, they have become world famous and have graduated two million students.

The course will be explained in a demonstration meeting, Monday, Aug. 25, beginning at 7:59 p.m. in the Tecumseh Community Center.

Besides benefiting the Jaycees, in their community improvement efforts, the courses help to develop community leadership of individuals and provide a comprehensive educational program.

There are several local graduates of the classes which were offered here three years ago.

For further information phone, evenings, Charles Robinson, 423-2246 or daytimes, Mrs. Donald Escott, 423-4652.

What makes them happy?

In our experience there is one place where you can be sure of seeing happy faces.

It isn't the bank—though certainly we have great respect for our banks. There people look intent, busy, serious with the financial responsibilities of life.

Nor is it at the ball game. There is no joy in Mudville when mighty Casey strikes out.

But when you go to church you see so many happy faces! It is as though people had left their troubles behind them . . . their fears . . . their worries . . . their little sadnesses and great sorrows.

Yet we know that no one can really leave these behind him. They are part of our life—and our life goes with us wherever we go.

But church is a place where men come to share their burdens with Someone Else . . . someone who cares . . . who helps . . . who strengthens.

And this kind of sharing—between man and God — has always been the root of true happiness.

Friends Churches Observe Centennial Affiliation

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following is a paper prepared by the Rev. Dan Frost, of Raisin Center Friends Church, observing the centennial of the Adrian Quarterly Meeting of the Friends Church with the Ohio Yearly Meeting.)

By THE REV. DAN FROST

It was as early as the late 1700's that many Quakers moved from New York State to the Northwest Territory, settling in lower Michigan.

By 1843, Michigan Quakers were sufficient in size and organization to become established as a Quarterly Meeting by New York Yearly Meeting. Th original churches of Adrian Quarterly Meeting were: Adrian (Raisin Valley) Rollin, Raisin Center, and Ypsilanti. These churches had become Monthly Meetings in 1831, 1835, 1842 and 1855 respectively.

In 1866, a delegation, sent by Adrian Quarterly Meeting, visited the sessions of Ohio Yearly Meeting. Having previously visited Friends in Canada, the delegation recommended to Adrian Quarterly Meeting that it unite with Ohio Yearly Meeting, with headquarters at Damascus, O.

On Sept. 7, 1868, a committee appointed by Adrian Quarterly Meeting reported in at the Ohio Yearly Meeting sessions. Ohio Yearly Meeting appointed a committee to meet with the Michigan group. On Sept. 11, the Yearly Meeting committee reported to the sessions that they felt "mutual benefit might result from such a union and the cause of Truth be promoted thereby".

In the following year, permission was received from New York Yearly Meeting by Adrian Quarterly Meeting to leave its affiliation to become a part of Ohio Yearly Meeting.

On Sept. 6, 1869, the matter was again laid before the Ohio Yearly Meeting sessions, as a first order of business. "After which the meeting dipped into a precious feeling of near unity with our dear friends of Adrian Quarterly Meeting. There was a large expression of unity with the proposition. And a cordial welcome into religious fellowship with us as a Yearly Meeting was freely extended to them, under a lively hope and belief that it will tend by the blessing of our Heavenly Father to our mutual edification and the advancement of the cause of our Holy Redeemer. Women's meeting having also fully united with the proposition, Adrian Quarterly Meeting is now incorporated as a branch of Ohio Yearly Meeting". "From the 1869 Ohio Yearly Meeting Minutes." It was done. Adrian Quarterly Meeting was a part of Ohio Yearly Meeting.

Following this union, Adrian Quarterly Meeting has significantly grown. Lupton, Tecumseh, Adrian City, Selkirk, Olive Street, Jackson and Lansing churches have been estabished. Selkirk, however, has recently been discontinued.

Ohio Yearly Meeting soon after took on the added responsibilities of foreign missions, Cleveland Bible Institute, and the Friends Rescue Home. And we were there to help.

Adrian Quarter has significantly contributed to Ohio Yearly Meeting. She has sent capable laymen to serve on her various boards and committees, missionaries to her fields, ministers to her pulpits, and finances to her coffers.

In return, we have profited from the Yearly Meeting's wisdom, finances, leadership, pastoral supply, camps and fellowship.

It seems fitting that we should be meeting 100 years after our Ohio Yearly Meeting affiliation began at the Jackson-Westchester Friends Church. In the cooperative effort of Ohio Yearly Meeting and Adrian Quarterly Meeting, this church is a symbol of the progressive, evangelistic, and co-operative effort we still enjoy. This 100 years has seen considerable growth in both Adrian Quarterly Meeting and Ohio Yearly Meeting.

Surely we can look forward to our continued Ohio Yearly Meeting association "under a lively hope and belief that it will tend by the blessing of our Heavenly Father to our mutual edification and the advancement of the cause of our Holy Redeemer". (from 1869 Ohio Yearly Meeting Minutes, page 4).

JOHN C. KNIGHT

Big Year For Lumbermen Co-op

The R. S. Moore & Son Lumber Company has just been notified that Progressive Affiliated Lumbermen Cooperative, Inc., a buying organization they belong to, has just completed the largest year in their 32 years of operation.

P.A.L. is a group of 170 lumber dealers located throughout Michigan, Northern Indiana and Northern Ohio, with headquarters in Grand Rapids, Michigan, who have united their purchasing power, thereby enabling their member dealers to take advantage of quantity purchases.

It is through this association that the Moore Lumber Company is able to take advantage of purchases that normally an individual dealer could not buy.

Housing-Apartment Project is Boosted

A new multi-million dollar housing-apartment project was given a boost Monday evening when Council approved a general concept of plans for an addition to Goodacre Gardens, just north of Burt St.

The plans, submitted by Ernest Oliver and Joseph Conklin, owners, were explained to city officials by Robert M. Darvas, professor of architecture at the University of Michigan, and Steven Janick, an associate of the professor.

Plans call for a three-phase development, with the first stage comprising approximately 18 acres of the total 46 acres in the project.

Council's approval is subject to recommendations and comments of the Planning Commission, which will hold a special session next Monday night. Developers are hoping to install sewer and water lines this year, and rough in the streets.

In phase one, 66 apartments are planned and 29 single family units.

Phase two will have 82 apartments and 17 single family units.

Phase three calls for 66 apartments and 24 single units for families.

The complex will, when finished, have 30 one-bedroom apartments, and 16 three-bedroom units. The houses total 70, and they are planned on the perimeter with the apartments in the center. Extensive recreation facilities also are included.

Prof. Darvas explained the three phases in detail to Council and answered several questions from the officials. A city planning consultant also remarked favorably about the project.

Children are Home

Mrs. Herman Titley has had all of her children and grandchildren home over the past two-week period. Her daughter, Marian, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hittenrauch, and three children of Colorado, spent an extended visit due to a bicycle accident that son, Eric, had, making him a hospital patient for a time. The family was visiting Mr. Hittenrauch's parents in Jackson and the youngster was taken to a Jackson hospital.

Other guests of Mrs. Titley were Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Titley and two children of Winter Park, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Titley and two sons of Mattoon, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Peck (Ruth) and three children of Birmingham.

God Is My Landlord

"My philosophy is very simple. I like to design machinery, turn on the power, and see it work. I also like to tell people about the power of the gospel and see it work in their lives. Jesus was willing to become poor, that we through His poverty, might become rich. I don't feel that my brain made this money. I believe that the Lord made it possible for me to earn it, and I'm only returning to God what belongs to Him. My motto is: 'Not how much of my money do I give God, but how much of God's money do I keep for myself'."

This certainly is a living proof of the [illegible] Scripture text, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Harvey Fruehauf, the world's largest manufacturer of truck trailers, says:

"All my life I've found that the more I have given — of myself, my time and my money — the more I have been rewarded. Truly, what a person gives to others comes back to him severalfold: Nothing bears so great a harvest as a kind deed or a generous act."

Grove Patterson, Editor-in-Chief of the Toledo Blade, one of America's top newspapers, says:

"I watched the amazing tithing experiment conducted over several years by my friend, Perry Hayden. His demonstration of the power and importance of the translation into reality of the Biblical injunction concerning tithing, proved to be immensely impressive, and it is not astonishing to find that the experiment had not only nation-wide, but world-wide attention. Perry Hayden, a man with big ideas, put them to work with wide and impressive gestures. To millions, I suppose, tithing will mean something it could never have meant before."

Rev. Edward Escolme, Perry's pastor, says: "I tithe for the following reasons: (1) The practice of tithing is a recognition of God's absolute ownership of all things. (2) Tithing is a recognition of man's stewardship of the whole life. (3) Whenever the practice of tithing springs from the right motives it brings enrichment of life. Sometimes this enrichment is in material things, but not necessarily so. If God is glorified, and Christ our Lord exalted, there will be spiritual enrichment." . . .

Dr. Denzil Ridout of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, President of the United Stewardship Council of United States and Canada, says:

"I recall that the first time I met Perry Hayden was at a meeting of the United Stewardship Council, when he told us of his experiment in Christian tithing, through the sowing of that first cubic inch of wheat. He had just reaped his first 'crop'. During the years following, I watched with real interest the development of his partnership-with-God-program. I saw the crops and the tithes appear so bountifully each year.

"Then came the final reaping. I was privileged to ride with Mr. Hayden and the 'American Mother,' in that remarkable procession along the flag bedecked streets of Adrian. It was a fitting culmination to an enterprising endeavor in the Master's name. Returning to my home in Toronto, I brought a supply of the wheat with me. Some of it has already been planted by Canadians who are now following in the 'Wheat-way," as Tithers for the Kingdom.

"It is certain that everybody cannot start growing wheat as Perry Hayden did — but as Christian Stewards, we can all be as fruitful in our lives as the grains of wheat.

"The United Stewardship Council is composed of representatives of twenty - eight Protestant Churches, and has for its purpose the promotion of fuller acceptance of the principles of Stewardship. A new interest in this vital phase of the Christian life is appearing in all of the churches of North America. It is evident that the enlistment of our church members as Christian tithers, would more than supply all the needs for workers, and for financial support, to meet the amazing opportunities that confront the Church of the Living Christ in these transient and formative years.

Bunge-Finnegan Nuptial Rites

The United Methodist Church was the setting for a double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Eunice Ann Bunge and Christopher Steven Finnegan.

The Rev. Donald C. Porteous performed the ceremony Friday.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bunge of 411 Center Dr., and Mr. and Mrs. ElRay Finnegan, 4385 Comfort Rd.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a street-length white lace dress, empire styled with a scoop neckline and long, tapered sleeves, and the back bodice featured a satin bow. A bow of satin held her bouffant illusion veil.

The bride wore a heart-shaped locket, a gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Michael C. Herbert was the matron of honor, attired in pink, with a corsage of white carnations trimmed in pink.

Michael C. Herbert was the best man.

A reception at the home of the groom's parents, was attended by 25 guests.

The bride and groom are graduates of Tecumseh High School, and Mr. Finnegan is employed at Ed's Standard Service. They will reside at 531 N. McKenzie St., Adrian.

Betty Chormann Weds Robert Hoekstra

In a candlelight service Saturday evening, Betty Jane Chormann and Robert Eldon Hoekstra were united in marriage by the Rev. G. P. Dobberfuhl at St. John's Lutheran Church in Adrian.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Chormann of Adrian, and the late Mr. Chormann. Parents of the bridegroom are Frank Hoekstra, 505 N. Pearl St., and the late Mrs. Marjorie Hoekstra.

Preceding the ceremony, Everett Waugh of Adrian sang "O Perfect Love"; and as the couple knelt at the altar, "The Wedding Benediction" and "The Lord's Prayer". Offering the organ nuptials was Mark Kieswetter of Adrian.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Chester Chormann, of Dunedin, Fla., the bride approached the altar in a floor length fitted gown of Cluny lace designed with a scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves.

The satin train flowed from the shoulders into chapel length, and was accented with self-rose-buds. Her cathedral length illusion veil was held by a crown of imported silk covered petals, adorned with mother-of-pearl sequins and lace orange blossoms.

She carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias and ivy.

Mrs. Otis DeLine of Adrian was her sister's matron of honor. The attendants were Mrs. Robert Tittle of Tarzana, Calif., sister of the bride; Mrs. Wallace Rinehart of Adrian, Mrs. John Penterics, and her niece, Mrs. Richard Beasley.

The bride chose Grecian styled gowns for her attendants of white chiffon with a full flowing chiffon cape. The fitted gowns were sleeveless fashioned with scoop neckline, and a band of white beading accented the empire waist and the shouldering of the cape.

Their headpieces were crowns of silk-covered petals accented with Venice lace and baby pearls.

The matron of honor wore a crown that held a bouffant illusion veil. The attendants all wore opera-length gloves and carried cascade arrangements of white glamelias intertwined with gold tinted roses.

Lisa Henfling was the flower girl, and her gown, made by Mrs. Doris VanSickle was almost identical to the attendants.

LaVerne Easter of Swartz Creek, served as best man. The groomsmen were Charles Hensen, William Chormann of Adrian and Richard Chormann of Kalamazoo, brothers of the bride, and John Penterics.

Junior ushers were Jeffrey Block and Douglas Dillon. The ring bearer was Roger Etter, Jr., of Adrian.

The wedding reception was held at the Tecumseh Country Club with 200 guests attending. The bride's mother entertained at a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening.

Mrs. Hoekstra is a 1946 graduate of Adrian High School and is employed as secretary to the Plant Manager at the Fisher Body plant.

Mr. Hoekstra graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1944, attended Michigan State University and is Assistant Manager of the Wholesale Division of Tecumseh Products.

The couple are taking a Nassau honeymoon and upon their return will reside at 901 River Acres Dr.

MRS. ROBERT E. HOEKSTRA

MRS. JAMES C. LAWSON

James C. Lawsons Honeymoon in East

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Lawson are honeymooning in the East following their marriage Saturday, in the United Methodist Church.

Deborah Lynne Purkey and James Craig Lawson were married in a ceremony performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Donald C. Porteous, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Julian Gresham, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The altar setting was decorated with two Doric columns, entwined with fresh greens.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Purkey, 525 N. Occidental, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lawson, Jr., 508 Cairns St.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of organza and Venice lace, featuring full Juliet sleeves of organza and a high-necked bodice of lace. The organza skirt and detachable chapel train were trimmed in matching lace.

The bride's fingertip blusher and floor-length veil were secured by a tiara of lace and she carried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

The bridal attendants were Joanne Hall, of Ypsilanti, maid of honor; and bridesmaids, Susan Gresham, Donna Purkey, sister of the bride; junior bridesmaids, Pamela and Betsy Purkey, sisters of the bride, and flower girl, Shelley Purkey, cousin of the bride.

The attendants were gowned alike in floor-length voile, yellow and white striped and printed with tiny orange flowers and lime green stems. They were styled with double-puffed sleeves, and lace-edged stand-up collars and sashed in yellow or lime green.

Fresh daisies formed their headdresses and each carried a parasol, of material matching her dress, with orange century lilies and daisies cascading down the handle.

The attendants' gowns and parasols and the bride's veil were made by Mrs. George Halberstadt.

The best man was Drake Serges, of Flint, a college friend of the groom and the ushers were James McClain, Muskegon; John Bancroft, Holt; Henry Mensing and Robert Lawson, brother of the groom.

The ring bearer was Greg Shafer, of Saline, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held at the church Fellowship hall, immediately after the ceremony, where light desserts were served. Later a buffet dinner, hosted by the bride's parents, and catered by Mr. and Mrs. David Simpson, was attended by members of the wedding party.

Those assisting at the afternoon reception, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baldwin, were Mrs. Jerry Forsyth, Diane Lake, Dee Ellis, Linda Oberlin, Mrs. Robert Williamson and Mrs. John Bancroft.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is a junior at Michigan State University. She has been employed for the summer at The Herald.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School, a 1969 graduate of Alma College. He will teach in Perry Public Schools and assistant coach in football and JV basketball.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson will reside at Spartan Village, E. Lansing.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Rock Inn, Friday evening.

Couple Are Wed by Candlelight

Sharon Kay Dicks and Charles Trickey, III, exchanged nuptial vows in a candlelight ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church, Saturday evening, before the Rev. Leslie W. Miller.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan L. Dicks, 4460 Macon Rd., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trickey, Jr., 9431 Tonnebergeg Dr.

Mrs. Fred Oberlin was the organist and W. Edward Lape, Jr., of Hillsdale, was the soloist.

As she approached the altar with her father, the bride wore an empire gown of white dotted swiss, styled with long bishop sleeves. A ruffled lace jabot trimmed the bodice, and high neckline. A chapel train was attached by small bows at the back.

Matching lace and organza petals, trimmed with rhinestones and pearls held the bride's elbow-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of yellow rosettes.

Mrs. Jan Radke, of Dearborn, was her sister's matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Gary Peterson, Pamela Pryor, Lincoln Park; and April Trickey, sister of the groom.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in yellow dotted swiss over taffeta, empire styled with high neckline, long sleeves and lace-trimmed cuffs.

Donald Esterline, of Adrian, was the best man and the ushers were Kevin Trickey, brother of the groom, William Rumsey, of Hillsdale, and Michael Wall, of Ann Arbor.

A reception at the IOOF Hall was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beeston and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fielder.

The bride will be a senior at Eastern Michigan University this fall, and the groom is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, and will enter Wayne State University Law School this fall.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Trickey, III, will reside at H-10 Pinegrove Terrace, Ypsilanti.

The groom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner at their home Friday evening.

Cheryl Natterstad - Lincoln Lloyd Wed

Cheryl Ann Natterstad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Natterstad, Occidental Hwy., and Lincoln F. Lloyd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln F. Lloyd, Sr., Dundee, were united in marriage Saturday at Grace Evangelical Lutheran by the Rev. Kenneth Strack.

Mrs. Arthur Dunham of Dundee was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Mason.

Mr. Natterstad gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a slipper length gown of delustered satin with iridescent motif and large puffed sleeves to the cuff. Her chapel train was embossed with mother-of-pearl.

Her chapel length veil was secured to a petal cluster of aurora crystals. Her gown and headpiece were made by Mrs. George Halberstadt.

She carried a white Bible with Rubrum lilies and tangerine rosebuds and ivy on top and wore a necklace of aurora crystals.

Vicki Natterstad was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Kathy Hall, cousin of the bride and Linda Lloyd, sister of the groom.

Junior bridesmaid was Tamara Downing, the bride's cousin, in a gown of nile green, fashioned as the bridesmaids'.

They were attired in floor length sleeveless princess styled gowns of avocado rose patterned brocade, also made by Mrs. Halberstadt.

They wore fabric-covered petals with blusher veils attached, made by Mrs. Halberstadt and carried mid-century lilies and tangerine rosebuds in cascade arrangements.

Dana Marlow, the groom's niece, was flower girl and Jeff Marlow, the groom's nephew, was the ring bearer. Richard Lloyd, the groom's brother, Dundee, was a junior usher.

Also assisting in seating the 200 guests were David Natterstad, the bride's brother and Richard Schultz.

A reception was held in the church social rooms before the couple left for Higgins and Houghton Lake resort area for 10 days.

The bride, a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School, will receive her degree from Eastern Michigan University in January and expects to be a teacher.

The groom, a 1963 graduate of Dundee High School, is assistant cashier and branch manager with the United Savings Bank.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Downing.

Recreational Girls Laugh It Up

A skit impersonating the Lawrence Welk show, by the girls from the Parks and Recreation Department, provided "lots of fun and laughs" and made the Senior Citizens' day more pleasant, last Thursday, according to Mrs. Verdi Skinner.

There were 80 present including eight guests from Coldwater and Bradenton, Fla., for the business meeting and potluck dinner.

Cards and Bingo games were played and prizes awarded.

Mrs. William Hotrum and Mrs. Sally Wheeler are named to the committee to arrange the Aug. 21 meeting.

THE FRESHEST IN THE HILLS — The freshest fruit and vegetables in the Irish Hills are found at the Farm Market on US-12 just west of the Wee Tee Golf course and the entrance to Hayes State Park. Roland Wilson is the owner and operator of the new produce center, carefully supervising each ear of corn, peach or tomato sold to be sure it is of the finest quality. Chilled melons and pop are readily available for a picnic or dinner, maybe just an afternoon snack.

New Farm Produce Mart in Heart of the Irish Hills

New in the Irish Hills this year to please the cooks whether camping or not is the Farm Market located just west of the Wee Tee Golf Course.

Fresh produce in abundance is brought in each day and unusual items may be ordered and picked up the following day.

Sweet corn, fresh from the field, is available at present in small quantities or plenty for canning or freezing. Little Johnny, Jim and Mary may have their fill of fresh fruit while Mom and Dad are looking for juicy, red tomatoes, peaches or plums or finding some okra or dill for pickles just like Mom used to make.

Recently the Michigan International Speedway people wanted 100 pounds of peanuts and sure enough they had 'em next day.

Roland Wilson, owner of the market, has been in the produce business for 16 years and has learned the ways to find and secure the best quality products available.

He has been assisted since the opening of the market this spring by Ruth Copi in partnership. Recently she left due to poor health.

She said that adjustments are always made if anything purchased at the market is found unsatisfactory.

Fresh eggs, milks and bread are available along with picnic supplies, charcoal, lighter, cold pop and melons.

Next year, Mr. Wilson hopes to handle cold meats and perennial plants. They did a good business in plants this spring and now people who purchased plants are bringing in the tomatoes, peppers, etc., that they have grown from them.

Closing day at the market will be after Halloween when pumpkins and cider will be found at the latest roadside vegetable stand in the Hills.

Towers Offer Best View

"It is like the grasslands and commons in Ireland," from the old sod remarked as she viewed the country from the top of the Irish Hills Towers on US-12 re-

[illegible] come from far and near to climb the stairs in the [illegible] buildings and look out [illegible] seven miles distance [illegible] day. Numerous lakes and the green hillsides are [illegible] been selected by settlers for homesteading, com[illegible] reland years ago because it looked so much like [illegible] land.

[illegible] riginal Irish Hills Towers were built in 1924 by [illegible] an Observation Co. atop Brighton Hill.

[illegible] ver, at the peak was the property line, and the [illegible] ortion was owned by Edward Kelley. Mr. Kelley [illegible] nt to see the area commercialized.

[illegible] terly opposed the building of the tower that would [illegible] t up to the edge of his property line. But the [illegible] Observation Company went ahead with the con[illegible] of the tower, making it 50 feet high. Mr. Kelley [illegible] e, built a tower of his own right next to the MOC [illegible] y he went 10 feet higher.

[illegible] riginal tower owner then added 14 feet to his tower. Mr. Kelley, not to be outdone, went four feet higher, thus making both towers an even 64 feet high.

The two towers were in keen competition (for the tourist trade) until 1944 when Frank Lamping bought the original Irish Hills tower from the Michigan Observation Company, and in 1955 bought the [illegible] tower from a Kelley heir.

They are now joined together on the first floor to provide a larger display of gifts and souvenirs. The top of the towers is 1400 feet above sea level, the highest point in southeastern Michigan.

Mario Franco, present owner, has hired Barbara Gearig of Adrian as manager. She said that on Sundays some 1,000 persons climb the stairs to the top for a look, including one gentleman en route to New Hampshire from California. He had heard of the Towers way out in California and came especially to see them.

Mr. Franco is completing an additional room at the west end to be used as a penny arcade. He also plans to have some amusement rides in operation before the summer is out.

Miss Gearig, 22, is an Adrian College graduate with a major in speech and theatre. She said that it is possible the towers may be kept open through the winter. What a sight from the top of the Towers after a fresh snowfall.

THOUSANDS CLIMB THE TOWERS — Each summer thousands of tourists climb the stairs inside the Irish Hills Towers to look out at many lakes and green hills so like old Erin surrounding the twin buildings. The 64-foot structures provide an excellent view and a gif shop on the main floor is filled with items of interest for the visitor to see and purchase.

Show "Flip-Side" At Lake Theatre

The color film "Flip Side" will be returning to the Devil's Lake Drive-In this weekend. "Flip Side" is based on the Look Magazine publication "Youth Quake". The setting of the film is a coffee house called "The Flip", revealing the drug-twisted psychedelic world of the "hippie".

"Flip Side" gives answers to some of the hang-ups of modern youth with the songs of folksinger, Ray Hilderbrand, underscoring the film.

Saturday programs begin at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday programs begin at 9:15 p.m.

Armstrong

DECORATIVE

This Armstrong Ceiling has been created to add design interest to any room in your home. When installed, the embossed surface highlights the unique ceiling design, adding dramatic interest to the room's decor.

EASY TO INSTALL

Larkwood can be stapled to furring strips or cemented directly to sound, existing ceilings with a minimum of mess and bother. The tongue-and-groove joints hide the staples and make it easy to keep your installation straight and level.

WASHABLE

Like all Armstrong Ceilings, Larkwood will stay bright and new looking for years. When occasional cleaning is necessary, you can go over it with a damp sponge, using a mild detergent and lukewarm water.

LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS

CHOPSTICKS FEAST — Five oriental visitors, high school girls from Japan, who are spending two months with Clinton families, entertained their hosts by preparing a sukiyaki dinner at the United Church of Christ, last Thursday. The greatest fun was had, as the Americans tried their hands at eating with chopsticks. From left, Tomoko Honma, Michiko Sakahi, Setsuko Ito, Kumiko Akao and Chizuko Kujiwara. They'll leave Aug. 23 for a bus trip to California before flying home to Japan.

Greenhorn Becomes A Pro

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Sixteen-year-old Steve Shelley was just a greenhorn at this year's county fair, but the record he achieved with his first steer project would be the envy of any experienced farm lad.

Steve's 935-lb. Angus steer placed third in a stiff class of 25 lightweight Angus steers, right behind the grand and reserve champions, also Angus, all originating from the Kitty Kurtis Farms, Tecumseh.

Steve's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Shelley, 109 Gibson St., have always lived in town and his mother admits, they had never even watched a steer-judging event until this year.

Steve developed his love for animals more than four years ago, when he started visiting the farm home of a school chum, Terry Calhoun, a half mile away. Almost all of his spare time was spent there at the Calhoun Farm, sometimes just sitting on the fence, watching the feeder cattle — even when there was no one with time to be with him.

He was interested in everything to do with the hogs, too, and he often gave a hand to Terry when there were little pigs to be carefully tended, while a sow was farrowing.

That's when he started talking about becoming a veterinary, his mother said.

As soon as Steve became a freshman last year, he joined the Clinton Chapter FFA and he could hardly wait to get a livestock project started.

Last fall, Steve and Barry Heimerdinger, a classmate, bought a pair of Angus calves at the Kitty Kurtis club calf sale, and room was made to house the calves at the home farm of Barry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger.

Every evening since he bought his calf and named him "Sassafras", Steve has biked or gone afoot the 1½ miles to the Heimerdinger farm to feed his steer, after school. Many a cold winter evening, in rain or snow, Steve could be seen trudging down the road to do his "steer chores".

Right from the start, he began leading about the frisky little calf and he soon was able to manage the animal on a halter.

"For the first time in his life, he really had something to take an interest in," Mrs. Shelley said.

She recalled how Steve had started school with a serious speech defect. Unable to say a recognizable word, he was held back a year before entering first grade, while he underwent extensive speech correction with the special education teacher at Clinton Community Schools.

Those speech problems are all over now, as everyone knows who heard Steve flawlessly read a lengthy farm news report on Radio WPAG last spring, when the Clinton FFA boys assisted Ted Heath with his farm show.

In fact, he even started singing in the choir at the United Church of Christ, last winter.

The shy, nearly-six-footer, with the engaging grin, hasn't had much interest in studying, until now, according to his mother. But, this interest in his steer has changed his whole life, it seems. Steve even made it on the honor roll one marking period last winter — a promise for the future.

Steve spent most of the summer helping with the haying at the Heimerdinger farm — to pay for the feed for his steer.

The big day came last Monday, and just as Steve and Barry got their steers and all their show gear moved onto the fairgrounds, it was learned that there ..... a mixup on the health papers for Steve's steer. It could be sold at the Friday sale — but, just couldn't appear in competition.

A decided blow — there was nothing to do but pack up and go home — a long 16-mile trek for a boy who had put so much of himself into his livestock project.

While the clock was relentlessly ticking off the hours until the 4 p.m. closing deadline for fair entries, friends pitched in to make a great many calls to the Kitty Kurtis farm and their veterinarian and then — fitting climax to the cliff-hanger sequence of events — the whole thing was cleared up and Sassafras was packed off to the fair again — just in the nick of time!

Perhaps, there was an understandable tear or two shed as the gavel fell and Sassafras was sold at the Junior Livestock sale, Friday. He brought a good price — 36c a lb. for a total of over $300.

"The dollars don't mean much, but the tremendous education in responsibility, pride and self-reliance, are priceless for Steve," his mother declared.

"Next year, I guess I'll feed out two steers," announced the young cattleman — no longer a greenhorn.

Changes Made Around Schools

CLINTON — A new bus parking lot will be among the changes and improvements which will be noticed as school resumes. By moving the buses to the new area, blacktopped during the summer, located just north of the elementary school, a much larger parking area will remain for faculty and student parking.

School grounds have been enhanced by the planting of many shrubs.

The elementary playground has been partially blacktopped and the classrooms have been cleaned and painted.

Village Council Appoints Member

CLINTON — Richard Peterson, a local barber, has been appointed to the Village Council to serve for one year to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Richard Tarske, who has moved from the village.

Also discussed at the Aug. 13 meeting by the council, was the use of the village dump, and recommendation will be made to be acted upon at the next regular meeting.

Approval was made for the installation of air-conditioning in the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

It was reported that some minor items remain to be finished in the new fire barn and it is expected it can be put into use by September.

Bauer Charged Negligent In Traffic Death

CLINTON — John Bauer, 28, of 11660 Clinton-Macon Rd., was arraigned in Lenawee County District Court, Friday, on a charge of negligent homicide as the result of a traffic accident in Clinton, Aug. 15, in which Mrs. Fay Evelsizer of Manchester died.

Bauer's car struck the rear of the Evelsizer vehicle, which was stopped on the highway for a left turn, and then Bauer's car struck another automobile driven by Ralph Klanke, of Clinton.

Bauer demanded a hearing and was ordered to appear in District Court at 1:30 p.m., Sept. 5.

PERHAPS THEY ARE BUSY ELSEWHERE

For the second year in a row we must count this an indigo buntingless spring and summer. Oh, of course, at the height of what would be their migration time, Gertie T. caught a flash of vivid blue in the fence row across the creek, but that hardly constituted a real, genuine, first class sighting. In order to qualify for a calendar notation, a bird must show himself well enough and long enough so as to afford us a truly good look. This the indigo buntings have not seen fit to do.

Although some books speak of them as being plentiful and all agree that, in general, the indigo bunting population is on the increase, they have never been common birds in the neighborhood.

We used to see them once or twice a season, they would be in the company of a flock of sparrows who were grabbing a quick lunch of scratch feed which had been scattered along the top of the creek bank.

Granted that these visits were never long enough, they were at least visits and not merely glimpses.

One thing which can be said for an indigo bunting, however, is that even the scantiest look is enough for identification. The male indigo is simply unmistakable, there isn't another bird which even begins to resemble him. He is small, slightly over five inches long, and blue. All over he is blue. And it is a unique blue at that.

The indigo owes his spectacular color to light, as light rays pass through the microscopic cells of his feathers they are refracted or broken. Thus the light in which we see the bird determines whether he is a bright blue, an iridescent blue, turquoise, aquamarine, cobalt, azure, oliveish-blue or even black. As for the female, she is perhaps the dowdiest of any of the gals who attract brilliant mates.

She is a mousey brown, sparrow-type bird who, if noticed at all, would prompt a remark something like, "My, what a dull, nothing-looking bird!"

★

IN THIS DAY and age when so many of our birds are on the decline — there are well-grounded fears that the bald-headed eagle is on the verge of extinction, the ospreys are in serious trouble, and even many of our songbirds are suffering — anyway, it is a rare thing to read that the buntings are actually more numerous now than they were in the days of the Pilgrims.

The indiscriminate use of insecticides may reverse the trend, they conceivably could wipe out all of our birds as well as the bird watchers but that is for another article, Marda.

What I started to say was that unlike some birds who are suffering from loss of habitat, the buntings have thrived as the forests were cut or burned and then allowed to grow up again, as orchards have been planted, and as fields have been abandoned and let go back into a state of thick tangles of underbrush.

We have a jungle across the creek which the buntings should like, the other birds who call it home, I'm sure, would, I am sure, be most happy to share it with them.

★

OF COURSE, if the indigo buntings are going to find themselves on the pages of Dick Carmean's Sky and Telescope, July issue, I suppose that perhaps they really haven't had time to visit us. No, seriously, there was an article in the magazine which details a study made by a Cornell University scientist and our absentee indigo bunting may help solve one of the mysteries of bird migration.

In a formidably titled article, "The Celestial System of a Migrating Bird", which turned out to be not too 'un-understandably' technical and most interesting, Stephen T. Emlen explains his work. A possible answer as to how birds stay on course during their long migration flights is that they use the stars for navigation aids. To check the theory, indigo buntings, who are night fliers on their migration treks, are taken into a planetarium where the start positions of various times of year can be produced.

This is grossly oversimplifying the experiment but, when the birds were in 'migratory' condition in the springtime, they were taken into the planetarium, where everything they might see except the sky was blocked out by specially designed cages, and, when shown the spring sky, they unerringly aimed themselves northward.

In the autumn, they showed the same tendency only, of course, this time they headed south. When the stars were 'shut off', the birds became confused and wandered at random. There are still many questions to be answered but at least the mystery is beginning to unravel, the clues are starting to add up, and eventually dedicated men will know the hows and whys of bird migration.

So it is that bowing to scientific study I shall no longer bemoan the lack of indigo buntings in the yard because, good gracious, perhaps they are busy elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley and daughters, Diane and Helen, and granddaughter Renee Thornberry, attended the annual Berry family reunion held at Twin Lake, northeast of Muskegon, on Sunday. They returned home Sunday evening.

FIRST PLACE WINNER — Gregg Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams of 2505 Russell Rd., won first place on his garden project of string beans at the Lenawee County Fair.

Pastor's Son Is Speaker

The Rev. Paul Brantingham of Tecumseh Friends Church traveled to Canton, O., and the campus of Malone College to attend the 157th annual session of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends Church.

Of a local interest and especially to the Rev. Brantingham is that his son, the Rev. John Brantingham, of Winona, O., a missionary on furlough from Taiwan, was one of the featured speakers at the annual session.

More than 300 guests and delegates are being housed in Maline College residence halls.

Serves Aboard Attack Carrier

Airman Larry E. Hartwig, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hartwig, 115 W. Pottawatamie, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

The ship, homeported in San Diego, Calif., is receiving final maintenance work at the Naval Air Station, North Island, before deployment to the Western Pacific for a fifth combat cruise.

The Constellation provides the fleet with a mobile landing field for fighter, attack, patrol and reconnaissance aircraft.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pennington, of Hessel, formerly of Ridgeway, will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary, Sunday, Aug. 24, with a family gathering at their home. The couple farmed in the Ridgeway area all their lives and moved to their present home three years ago. Four children and their spouses plan to attend, including Mr. and Mrs. Mac (Marian) Tennant, of Deerfield; Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Zoe Ann) Ragsdale, of Flint; Dr. and Mrs. Howard Pennington, of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Louise) Hessel of Gladwin. Another son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Pennington, of Louisiana, Mo., were recent guests of his parents. There are 13 grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Faye Van Valkenburg, 8153 N. Adrian Hwy., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Aug. 31, from 2:45 to 5 p.m., at Grace Baptist Church, 1144 W. Michigan Ave., Adrian. Relatives and friends are invited to attend. A short program is planned for 3 p.m. in the auditorium. Florence Waldron and Faye Van Valkenburg were married Sept. 17, 1919, by the late Rev. W. R. Curtis, of the Tecumseh Baptist Church, at the Tecumseh home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Waldron. The Van Valkenburgs have three sons, Ernest of Ann Arbor; Dalton of Canton, O.; and Gerald of New Jersey, who will leave soon for South America, as a highway engineer consultant. They have 10 grandchildren. The couple request that gifts be omitted.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

It appears to me that City Council has taken a negative attitude, concerning the problems of Tecumseh Corrugated Box Company. I don't say that the Council is wrong in their statements. They have apparently followed the ordinance to the letter.

However, as was pointed out on Monday night, the ordinance can be unjust in certain cases and particularly when applied to buildings constructed, or other uses made of properties, prior to the adoption of the zoning ordinances in 1965.

The turnout of citizens at the Council meeting on Monday evening, shows a great interest in and concern for, the solution of this problem.

It was pointed out by the City Council, that Tecumseh Corrugated Box had been properly informed of the procedure to follow in their attempt to obtain approval for the proposed building addition. It was also pointed out by the City Manager, that Tecumseh Corrugated had thanked the city for its attention, but had no intention of proceeding with the matter, by making another request to the Appeals Board, as was done in 1966.

I believe that Tecumseh Corrugated has failed to exhaust all avenues in their quest for approval, but I think they are disheartened after having gone this route before.

It could be that Tecumseh Corrugated will begin to phase more and more of their production through their other plants, and eventually leave the city. With this possibility existing, it would appear that Council could take the initiative and proceed to some solution of the problem, rather than let it lie now and possibly lose an industry.

I can see Council's problem, that acting against the established zoning ordinance may be precedent setting, and cause more problems in the future, but each case must be acted upon as the circumstances dictate.

J. W. Barton.

TO THE PEOPLE OF TECUMSEH:

For almost three months we have found it almost impossible to find the words that would fully express our thanks and appreciation to the people of Tecumseh for the thoughtfulness and kindness that have been shown to us since Sam's death.

We want to especially mention how wonderful the teen-agers have been. It is beyond description the pride and gratefulness we feel toward them for the great tribute they have given our son. We humbly thank them for loving our son.

No one can ever know what the calls, cards, and visits have done for us. This little note can never really show how we feel, but it is a try.

We can only say, "THANK YOU" and hope you can understand how we feel.

Tom, Betty and Pam Brooks.

—o—

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to extend my sincere thanks for the effort and time you took to send me a weekly copy of The Herald for the time I spent here in Korea. Since I was born and raised around Tecumseh and Onsted, I found it very interesting to read all the local news.

I think it only appropriate that I send my thanks and also let you know that I will soon be home; please don't go to the extra trouble to send any more copies, because I wouldn't be able to receive them.

The way the APO system works, things like newspapers and literature cannot be forwarded. I felt that by letting you know about my return home, some other serviceman might get the opportunity to receive your paper and realize your thoughtfulness.

Thank you again for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Sgt. David A. Hunt.

Buffet Dinner Honor Birthdays

A buffet dinner was served Sunday in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Welch on Kaiser Rd., honoring the birthday anniversaries of the Welches and Harold Kuder, Sr., of Saline and Jack Tonneberger.

The table was centered with three decorated birthday cake, made by Cynthia Welch, Mrs. Gerald Fugate and Mrs. Lawrence Welch.

Guests were from Saline, Ypsilanti, Lansing, Livonia, Clinton, Monroe and Tecumseh; Colorado and California. Those coming the greatest distance for the occasion was the Welchs' grandson, Lt. Harold G. Kuder, from Fort Carson, Colo., and another grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Figy and daughter, Kelly, of Berkley, Calif.

The engagement of Rosa S. Torres to Robert S. Perez is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Torres, 108 Hiawatha. Mr. Perez's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Caterino Perez, 110 Muscody St. Both are graduates of Tecumseh High School. An October wedding is being planned.

The Chamberlain School of Retailing, of Boston, Mass., announces that Cynthia Jane Roll has been accepted as a first year student for the school year commencing in September. Chamberlain is a two-year merchandising school designed to provide young women with the background necessary for a position at the junior executive and executive level in retailing and other related fields. Youngsters Invite Parents

The children of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church are inviting their parents and friends to a closing program of the Vacation Bible School Friday evening.

The youngsters have had a wonderful time at the school beside Lake Killarney, the pastor said.

Each class will present some achievement about their study of "Jesus and His Church" in the program to be preceded by a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m.

A musical program will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Earl Mason and offerings will be donated to the organ fund.

Parents are asked by the school staff to bring a dish to pass and table service. Mrs. Ted Todd is the superintendent, assisted by Mrs. Dean Sheldon.

Ten teachers and four teenage girls participated in the school.

Directions to the camp are: take M-50 to Springville Hwy. and make a right turn, go to Chisholm Rd., and turn left to the Camp.

Morning services at the church will begin at 9 a.m. for two more Sundays, Aug. 24 and 31. In September, services will again be held at 10:30 a.m. and Sunday School will resume classes for the year.

Donald Scott, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poley, was baptized last Sunday in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church. Mrs. Don Nettleman and Mrs. Joseph Poley, Sr., the two grandmothers were the godparents of little Donald Scott.

Hansel, No Gretel To Call Dances

Ron Hansel will be the caller for the western style square dance Aug. 23 from 8 to 11 p.m., at the Community Center.

All western style dancers are welcome to the dance with refreshments to be served afterwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook moved here from Ann Arbor nearly a year ago, and purchased a home at 512 N. Pearl St. Mr. Cook is salesman for Norwich Pharmacy Co., and often called on Tecumseh pharmacies before they moved here. He is also a builder and has sold real estate. There is a son, Steven, 19, who attends Eastern Michigan University, and daughter, Kitty, 8, who is in third grade at Patterson School. Lynn Cook mentioned that she and her husband were just on a leisurely jaunt through the Irish Hills area, when they saw a house for sale in Tecumseh. Although that one was already sold, they soon found one to their liking. Mrs. Cook said, "We've already gotten acquainted with a lot of folks and really love this town." She was previously a student at the Art Institute in Chicago, and promptly found a kindred soul in Mrs. Robert Holmers, another newcomer, who shares her interest in working with cathedral glass. She also does a little sculptering, and has joined the Little Garden Club and Herrick Hospital Auxiliary. The family attends St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Tiede moved from Adrian, when they purchased a home at 728 S. Union, recently. Mr. Tiede is employed at Fisher Body plant and his wife, Brynn, is a third grade teacher in the Madison Schools. They attend the First Baptist Church. Both enjoy gardening and Mr. Tiede likes to tinker with cars.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baran moved from Detroit and purchased a home at 209 N. Wyandotte. Mr. Baran is a teacher at the Lenawee County Youth Center, Adrian. Their sons are Ricky 12, in 7th grade at Tecumseh Junior High, and Jimmy, 11, in 6th grade at Herrick Park School. The family attends St. Elizabeth Church.

Former Addison residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Craft, have purchased a home at 410 E. Logan. Mr. Craft is employed at Ford Motor Co., Saline. There are three children, Randy, 10, in fifth grade, Sharon, 8, in third grade and Marty, 5, in first grade, all at Herrick Park School. The family attends the Assembly of God. Mr. Craft likes to bowl and attend ball games.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril George Desmet moved from Ann Arbor to their home at 212 E. Kilbuck. Mr. Desmet is employed at Tecumseh Products. There are seven children, Tom, 21, a senior and Mary, 20, a junior, both at Eastern Michigan University; Chris, 17, a senior and Julia, 15, a junior, both at Tecumseh High School; Teresa, 11, in seventh grade at Junior High; Dan, 8, in fourth grade and John, 5½, in first grade, both at St. Elizabeth School. Mr. and Mrs. Desmet are gardening enthusiasts and the whole family swims a lot. They're members of St. Elizabeth Church.

Mrs. Eleanor Loughry has moved from Ann Arbor, with her four children, and rented a home at 605 W. Pottawatamie. The children are Frances, 11, in seventh grade at Junior High; Patricia, 9, in fifth grade at Patterson School; Howard, 8, in third grade at Patterson School and Richard, 18 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McLeod of Sand Lake have moved to their home at 100 S. Occidental. Mr. McLLeod is a teacher in the Manchester school system. Daughter, Jeanne, is 3½ and son, Steve, is 2. The family attends the Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn.

Formerly of Saline, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams have moved to their home at 609 Murray Dr. Mr. Williams is employed at Ford Motor Co., Rawsonville, and his wife, Dorothy, is employed at Fisher Body. Their two sons are Raymond, 6, in first grade at Tecumseh Acres School, and Charles, 3. They attend St. Elizabeth School. Mr. Williams likes motorcycling.

Former Addison residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barker have moved to an apartment at 216 S. Union. Mr. Barker is employed at Goodwill Industries, Inc., Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Orsdol moved from Dearborn when they purchased a home at 505 W. Kilbuck. Mr. Van Orsdol is employed at the Chrysler Proving Grounds, Chelsea. Their children are Jeffery, 5½, in first grade at Patterson School and Susan, eight months. They attend the First Methodist Church, Dearborn. Mr. Van Orsdol plays golf, and his wife, Judy, is interested in decorating and ceramics, and she plays bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kujda, formerly oof Adrian, have moved to their home at 2067 Coachlight Dr. Mr. Kujda is a pharmacist in Ypsilanti. They have one daughter, Frances Marie, 7½, in third grade at St. Elizabeth School.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carmean moved from Deerfield and purchased a home at 610 W. Logan recently. Mr. Carmean is the district manager for Cambridge Wire Cloth Company, in Detroit. Their children are Frederick, 11, who'll be in seventh grade in junior sigh, and Carolyn, 9, in fourth grade at Patterson School. The family attends St. Elizabeth Church. Mr. Carmean, a railroad buff, is a member of the Michigan Railroad Club, Detroit. Members from all over southeastern Michigan take about five trips a year on trains and the club owns its own steam locomotive. He is also a member of the Toledo Astronomical Association, and is interested in amateur photography. His wife, Wanda, has joined the Little Garden Club. Frederick and his dad are camping enthusiasts.

Guidelines on Sex Education

Mrs. Mary Hammond, director of the Lenawee County Library, announced this week that a single copy of the Recommended Guidelines for Sex Education and Family Planning Information Programs in Michigan Schools, June, 1969, is now available at the Headquarters Library, US-223, Adrian. Since the library has a single copy and it is unbound, patrons wishing to study the guidelines must request them at the circulation desk. The report may be used in the library, but may not be borrowed for home use.

The Guidelines make up a 54-page report which was submitted to the Michigan Board of Education by the Advisory Committee on Sex Education in June. These guidelines have been the topic of discussion at five public hearings through the state, and additional hearings are being planned.

Also included in the report are the minority reports of Mrs. Susanne Talt and James F. O'Neil. The Guidelines themselves include an 11-page bibliography of books, pamphlets, periodical articles, and audiovisual aids that may be used in sex education programs. Many of these materials are now available at the Lenawee County Library, while others may be requested from State Library.
